AUSTRALIA, EAST COAST—CLAREMONT ISLES

McDonald reef—Helms shoals

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No 362 of 1899) of the existence of a coral shoal (known as McDonald reef) north eastward of Pea reef, and of an unsuccessful search for the Helms shoal Claremont group, as follows

- a* McDonald reef is 3 cables long NNE and SSW and half a cable wide it has a least depth of 24 feet on it at its south extreme from which the centre of Pea reef bears S 32° W, distant 5 cables, and Red cliff N 78° W

Approximate position, lat $13^{\circ} 32' 20''$ S, long $143^{\circ} 39' 40''$ E

- b* A very careful search was made for Helms shoal originally reported in 1890, by Mr Helms of the SS Tannadice without any indication of shoal water being found, nor any ripple observed near its supposed position, although the Sullivan shoal was at times clearly indicated and as Mr Helms is of opinion that his vessel may have struck the Sullivan shoal, the Helms shoal has been erased from the Charts

The mean pressure temperature &c, are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain gauge is one foot above the ground.

() It extends to the whole of British India inclusive of British Baluchistan the Santal Parganas and the Parganas of Sibi and

(3) It shall come into force at once

2 In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context —
Definitions

(a) "Court" includes a Coroner and any officer lawfully exercising civil criminal or revenue jurisdiction and

(b) "prison" includes any place which has been declared by the Local Government by general or special order, to be a subsidiary jail

GENERAL

3 The officer in charge of a prison shall receive and detain all persons duly committed to his custody under this Act or otherwise by any Court according to the exigency of any writ warrant or order by which such person has been committed or until such person is discharged or removed in due course of law

4 The officer in charge of a prison shall forthwith, after the execution of every such writ order or warrant as aforesaid other than a warrant of commitment for trial or after the discharge of the person committed thereby return such writ, order or warrant to the Court by which the same was issued or made together with a certificate endorsed thereon and signed by him, showing how the same has been executed or why the person committed thereby has been discharged from custody before the execution thereof

PRISONERS IN THE PRESIDENCY TOWNS

5 Every writ or warrant for the arrest of any person issued by the High Court in the exercise of its ordinary extra-ordinary or other criminal jurisdiction shall be directed to and executed by a Police officer within the local limits of such jurisdiction
Warrant etc to be directed to Police officers

[Ibid s 4] 6 The Local Government may appoint officers who shall have authority to receive and detain prisoners committed to their custody under this Part Explanation—Any officer so appointed by whatever designation he may be styled, is hereinafter referred to as the Superintendent.

[Ibid s 7] 7 Where any person is sentenced by the High Court in the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction to imprisonment or to death the Court shall cause him to be delivered to the Superintendent together with its warrant and such warrant shall be executed by the Superintendent and returned by him to the High Court when executed.

[Ibid s 8] 8 Where any person is sentenced by the High Court in the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction to transportation or penal servitude, the Court shall cause him to be delivered for intermediate custody to the Superintendent, and the transportation or penal servitude of such person shall be deemed to commence from such delivery.

[Ibid s 10] 9 Where any person is committed by the High Court whether in execution of a decree or for contempt of Court or for any other cause the Court shall cause him to be delivered to the Superintendent together with its warrant of commitment.

[Ibid s 11] 10 Where any person is sentenced by a Presidency Magistrate to imprisonment or is committed to prison for failure to find security to keep the peace or to be of good behaviour the Magistrate shall cause him to be delivered to the Superintendent together with his warrant.

[Ibid s 12] 11 Every person committed by a Magistrate Justice of the Peace, or Coroner for trial by the High Court in the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction shall be delivered to the Superintendent, together with a warrant of commitment directing the Superintendent to produce such person before the Court for trial and the Superintendent shall as soon as practicable cause such person to be taken before the Court at a criminal session thereof together with the warrant of commitment in order that he may be dealt with according to law.

[Ibid s 13 as amended by XII of 1882] 12 The High Court may pending the hearing under section 350 of the Code of Civil Procedure of any application for a declaration of insolvency cause the judgment debtor concerned to be delivered to the Superintendent subject to the provisions as to release on security of section 349 of the said Code and the Superintendent shall detain the said judgment debtor in safe custody until he is released to an officer of the High Court for the purpose of being taken before it in pursuance of its order, or until he is released in due course of law.

13 (1) Every person arrested in pursuance of a writ warrant or order of the High Court in the exercise of its original civil jurisdiction or in pursuance of a warrant of any Civil Court established in a Presidency town under any law or enactment for the time being in force, or in pursuance of a warrant issued under section 5 shall be brought without delay before the Court by which or by a Judge of which the writ warrant or order was issued awarded or made, or before a Judge thereof if the said Court, or a Judge thereof is then sitting for the exercise of original jurisdiction.

(2) If the said Court or a Judge thereof is not then sitting for the exercise of original jurisdiction, such person arrested as aforesaid shall unless a Judge of the said Court otherwise directs be delivered to the Superintendent for intermediate custody and shall be brought before the said Court or a Judge thereof at the next sitting of the said Court or of a Judge thereof for the exercise of original jurisdiction in order that such person may be dealt with according to law and the said Court or Judge shall have power to make or award all necessary orders or warrants for that purpose.

PART IV

PRISONERS OUTSIDE THE PRESIDENCY TOWNS

14 In this Part all references to prisons or to imprisonment or confinement shall be construed as referring also to Reformatory Schools or to detention therein.

15 (1) Officers in charge of prisons outside the Presidency towns may give effect to any sentence or order or warrant for the detention of any person passed or issued by any Court or tribunal acting, whether within or without British India under the general or special authority of Her Majesty or of the Governor General in Council or of any Local Government or with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council in each case, to any sentence or order or warrant for the detention of any person passed or issued by any Court or tribunal of any Native Prince or State in India.

(2) Where a Court or tribunal of such a Native Prince or State has passed a sentence which cannot be executed without the concurrence of an officer of the British Government, and such sentence has been judicially considered on the merits and confirmed by any such officer specially authorised in that behalf such sentence and any order or warrant issued in pursuance thereof shall be deemed to be the sentence order or warrant of a Court or tribunal acting under the authority of the Governor General in Council.

[Ibid s 17] 16 A warrant under the official signature of an officer of such Court or tribunal is referred to in section 15 shall be sufficient authority for holding any person in confinement or for sending any person for transportation in pursuance of the sentence passed upon him

[Ibid s 18] 17 (1) Where an officer in charge of a prison doubts the legality of a warrant or order sent to him for execution under this Part or the competency of the person whose official seal and signature are affixed thereto to pass the sentence and issue the warrant or order he shall refer the matter to the Local Government by whose order on the case he and all other public officers shall be guided as to the future disposal of the prisoner

(2) Pending a reference made under sub-section (1) the prisoner shall be detained in such manner and with such restrictions or mitigations as may be specified in the warrant or order

[Ibid s 19 as amended by VII of 1894 s 5] 18 The Governor General in Council or the Local Government may by general or special order, authorize the reception, detention or imprisonment in any place in British India or in any place under such Government as the case may be for any period not exceeding the periods specified in their respective sentences of persons sentenced within the territories of any Prince or State in India to imprisonment or transportation for any act which would, if done in British India, have constituted—

(a) an offence under any of the sections or Chapters of the Indian Penal Code specified in the first schedule or

(b) an attempt to commit any such offence as aforesaid or

(c) abetment of the commission of any such offence as aforesaid or

(2) any other offence which the Governor General in Council may by notification in the Gazette of India specify in this behalf

Provided that such sentences have been pronounced after trial before a tribunal of which the President, Judge or if the Court consisted of more than one Judge at least one of such Judges was an officer of the British Government authorized to act as such Judge by the Native Prince or State or by the Governor General in Council

[Ibid s 20] 19 The officer of the British Government so authorized as aforesaid shall forward with every prison proceedings or a certificate of his conviction and a copy of the proceedings held at the trial, that the same may be forthcoming for reference at the place where the sentence of imprisonment or transportation is carried into effect

20 (1) Where a British Court exercising jurisdiction in or with respect to territory beyond the limits of British India jurisdiction which the Governor General in Council has in such territory—

(1) has sentenced any person to death and

(b) being of opinion that such sentence should, by reason of there being in such territory no secure place for the confinement of such person or no suitable appliances for his execution in a decent and humane manner be executed in British India his issued its warrant for the execution of such sentence to the officer in charge of a prison in British India, such officer shall on receipt of the warrant, cause the execution to be carried out at such place as may be prescribed therein in the same manner and subject to the same conditions in all respects as if it were a warrant duly issued under the provisions of section 381 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898

(2) The prisons of which the officers in charge are to execute sentences under any such warrants as aforesaid shall be such as the Governor General in Council or a Local Government authorized by the Governor General in Council in this behalf may, by general or special order direct

(3) Every such tribunal as is referred to in the proviso to section 18 shall be deemed to be a British Court for the purposes of this section

Provided that every warrant issued under this section by any such tribunal shall if the tribunal consists of more than one Judge be signed by a Judge who is an officer of the British Government authorized in the manner provided by the said section

PERSONS UNDER SENTENCE OF PENAL SERVITUDE

21 (1) Every person under sentence of penal servitude may be confined in such prison within British India as the Governor General in Council, by general order, directs and may during such time be kept to hard labour and until he can conveniently be removed to such prison be imprisoned with or without hard labour and dealt with in all other respects as persons under sentence of rigorous imprisonment may, for the time being by law be dealt with

(2) The time of such intermediate imprisonment and the time of removal from one prison to another shall be taken and reckoned in discharge or part discharge of the term of the sentence

22 Every enactment now in force in British India with respect to persons under sentence of transportation or imprisonment with hard labour shall, so far as is consistent with this Act, be construed to apply to persons under sentence of penal servitude

Enactments respecting persons under sentence of transportation or imprisonment with hard labour applied to persons under sentence of penal servitude

[Ibid s 23] 23 (1) The Governor General in Council may grant to any person under sentence of penal servitude a license to be at large with in British India or in such part thereof as is in such license expressed during such portion of his term of penal servitude and upon such conditions as the Governor General in Council may think fit

(2) The Governor General in Council may revoke or alter any license granted under sub section (1)

[Ibid s 24] 24 So long as any license granted under section 23 sub section (1) continues in force and unrevoked the licensee shall not be liable to imprisonment or penal servitude by reason of his sentence but shall be allowed to go and remain at large according to the terms of the license

[Ibid s 25] 25 In case of the revocation of any such license as aforesaid any Secretary to the Government of India may by order in writing signify to any Justice of the Peace or Magistrate that the license has been revoked and require him to issue a warrant for the arrest of the licensee and such Justice or Magistrate shall issue his warrant accordingly

[Ibid s 26] 26 A warrant issued under section 25 may be executed by any officer to whom it is directed or delivered for that purpose in any part of British India and shall have the same force in any place within British India as if it had been originally issued or subsequently endorsed by the Justice of the Peace or Magistrate or other authority having jurisdiction in the place where it is executed

[Ibid s 27] 27 (1) When the licensee for whose arrest a warrant has been issued under section 25 is arrested thereunder, he shall be brought as soon as is conveniently may be, before the Justice or Magistrate by whom the warrant was issued or before some other Justice or Magistrate of the same place or before a Justice or Magistrate having jurisdiction in the district in which the licensee has been arrested

(2) Such Justice or Magistrate as aforesaid shall thereupon make out a warrant under his hand and seal for the recommitment of the licensee to the prison from which he was released under the license

[Ibid s 28] 28 When a warrant has been issued under section 27 sub section (2) the licensee shall be re-committed accordingly and shall thereupon be liable to be kept in penal servitude for such further term as with the time during which he may have been imprisoned under the original sentence and the time during which he may have been at large under an unrevoked license is equal to the term mentioned in the original sentence

[Ibid s 29] 29 If a license is granted under section 23 upon any condition specified therein and the licensee

(a) violates any condition so specified, or

(b) goes beyond the limits so specified or

(c) knowing of the revocation of the license neglects forthwith to surrender himself or conceal himself, or endeavours to avoid arrest

he shall be liable upon conviction to be sentenced to penal servitude for a term not exceeding the full term of penal servitude mentioned in the original sentence

REMOVAL OF PRISONERS

30 In this Part all references to prisons or to imprisonment or confinement shall be construed as referring also to Reformatories Schools or to detention therein

31 Where any person is or has been, sentenced to imprisonment or transportation by any Court or in default of giving security for keeping the peace or maintaining good behaviour has been committed to or is detained in prison under section 123 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 the Local Government or (subject to its orders and under its control) the Inspector General of Prisons may order his removal during the period for which he has been sentenced to imprisonment or transportation or the security has been ordered to be given as the case may be, from the prison in which he is confined to any other prison within the Province

32 (1) Where it appears to the Local Government that any person detained or imprisoned under any order or sentence of any Court is of unsound mind the Local Government may by a warrant setting forth the grounds of belief that the person is of unsound mind order his removal to a lunatic asylum or other place of safe custody within the Province there to be kept and treated and the Local Government directs during the remainder of the term for which he has been ordered or sentenced to be detained or imprisoned or, if on the expiration of that term it is certified by a medical officer that it is necessary for the safety of the prisoner or others that he should be further detained under medical care or treatment, then until he is discharged according to law

(2) Where it appears to the Local Government that the prisoner has become of sound mind the Local Government shall by a warrant directed to the person having charge of the prisoner if still liable to be kept in custody remand him to the prison from which he was removed or to another prison within the Province or if the prisoner is no longer liable to be kept in custody, order him to be discharged

(3) The provisions of section 9 of the Lunatic Asylums Act 1858 shall apply to every person confined in a lunatic asylum under sub section 1858 (1) after the expiration of the term for which he was ordered or sentenced to be detained or imprisoned and the time during which a prisoner is confined in a lunatic asylum under that sub section shall be reckoned as part of the term of detention or imprisonment which he may have been ordered or sentenced by the Court to undergo

(4) In any case in which a Local Government is competent under sub section (1) to order the removal of a prisoner to a lunatic asylum or other place of safe custody within the Province the Governor General in Council may order his removal to any lunatic asylum or other place of safe custody in any part of British India and the provisions of this section respecting the custody, detention remand and discharge of a prisoner removed by order of a Local Government shall so far as they can be made applicable apply to a prisoner removed by order of the Governor General in Council

[Ibid s 32 substituted by VII of 1894 s 7] 33 When any person is or has been sentenced to imprisonment or transportation by any Court, or in default of giving security for maintaining good behaviour has been committed to or is detained in prison under section 13 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 the Governor General in Council may order his removal during the period for which he has been sentenced to imprisonment or transportation or the security has been ordered to be given as the case may be from the prison in which he is confined to any other prison in British India

PART VII

PERSONS UNDER SENTENCE OF TRANSPORTATION

[Ibid s 33 substituted by IX of 1882 s 2] 34 The Governor General in Council may appoint places within British India to which persons under sentence of transportation shall be sent and the Local Government, or some officer duly authorized in this behalf by the Local Government, shall give orders for the removal of such persons to the places so appointed except when sentence of transportation is passed on a person already undergoing transportation under a sentence previously passed for another offence

DISCHARGE OF PRISONERS

[Ibid s 35 substituted by 24 & 25 Vict c 104] 35 Any Court established under the Indian High Courts Act 1861, may in any case in which it has recommended to Her Majesty the granting of a free pardon to any prisoner, permit him to be at liberty on his own recognizance

PART IX

PROVISIONS FOR REQUIRING THE ATTENDANCE OF PRISONERS AND OBTAINING THEIR EVIDENCE

Attendance of Prisoners in Court

36 In this Part, all references to prisoners or to imprisonment or confinement shall be construed as referring also to Reformatory Schools or to detention therein

37 Subject to the provisions of section 41 any Civil Court may if it thinks that the evidence of any person confined in any prison within the local limits of its appellate jurisdiction, if it is a High Court or if it is not a High Court then within the local limits of the appellate jurisdiction of the High Court to which it is subordinate is material in any matter pending before it make an order in the form set forth in the second schedule directed to the officer in charge of the prison

38 (1) Where an order under section 37 is made in any civil matter pending—
(a) in a Court subordinate to the District Judge or
(2) in a Court of Small Causes outside a Presidency town it shall not be forwarded to the officer to whom it is directed or acted upon by him until it has been submitted to and countersigned by—

(i) the District Judge to which the Court is subordinate or
(ii) the District Judge within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the Court of Small Causes is situated

(3) Every order submitted to the District Judge under sub section (1) shall be accompanied by a statement under the hand of the Judge of the subordinate Court or Court of Small Causes as the case may be, of the facts which in his opinion render the order necessary and the District Judge may after considering such statement decline to countersign the order

39 Subject to the provisions of section 41, any Criminal Court not inferior to the Court of a Magistrate of the first class, may if it thinks that the evidence of any person confined in any prison within the local limits of its appellate jurisdiction, if it is a High Court or if it is not a High Court then within the local limits of the appellate jurisdiction of the High Court to which it is subordinate is material in any matter pending before it or if a charge of an offence against such person is made or pending make an order in the form set forth in the second or third schedule as the case may be directed to the officer in charge of the prison

[1899] 6] 40 Where any person for whose attendance an order is made in this Part is confined in any prison within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the District or Subdivisional Magistrate, the District or Subdivisional Magistrate shall cause it to be delivered to the officer in charge of the prison in which the person is confined.

[1899] 7] 41 (1) Where a person is confined in a prison within a district town or in a prison more than one hundred miles distant from the place where the Court is situate, the District or Subdivisional Magistrate shall cause it to be delivered to the officer in charge of the prison in which the person is confined.

(2) The District or Subdivisional Magistrate shall cause it to be delivered to the officer in charge of the prison in which the person is confined.

[1899] 8] 42 Where a person is confined in a prison beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of the District or Subdivisional Magistrate, the District or Subdivisional Magistrate shall cause it to be delivered to the officer in charge of the prison in which the person is confined.

[1899] 9] 43 Upon delivery of any order under this Part to the officer in charge of the prison in which the person named therein is confined, that officer shall cause him to be taken to the Court in which his attendance is required or to be represented in the Court at the time in such order mentioned, and shall cause him to be detained in custody in or near the Court until he has been examined or until the Judge or presiding officer of the Court authorizes him to be taken back to the prison in which he was confined.

44 The Governor General in Council or the Local Government may, by notification in the Gazette of India or the local official Gazette as the case may be, direct that any person or any class of persons shall not be removed from the prison in which he or they may be confined, and thereupon and so long as such notification remains in force the provisions of this Part, other than those contained in sections 46 to 48 shall not apply to such person or class of persons.

45 In any of the following cases, that is to say,—

- where the person named in any order made under section 37, section 39 or section 41 appears to be from sickness or other infirmity unfit to be removed, the officer in charge of the prison in which he is confined shall apply to the District or Subdivisional Magistrate within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the prison is situate and if such Magistrate by writing under his hand declares him to be of opinion that the person named in the order is from sickness or other infirmity, unfit to be removed or
- where the person named in any such order is under committal for trial or
- where the person named in any such order is under a remand pending trial or pending a preliminary investigation or
- where the person named in any such order is in custody for a period which would expire before the expiration of the time required for removing him under this Part and for taking him back to the prison in which he is confined the officer in charge of the prison shall abstain from carrying out the order, and shall send to the Court from which the order has been issued a statement of the reasons for so abstaining.

Provided that such officer as aforesaid shall not so abstain where—

- the order has been made under section 27 and
- the person named in the order is confined under committal for trial or under a remand pending trial or pending a preliminary investigation, and does not appear to be from sickness or other infirmity, unfit to be removed and
- the place, where the evidence of the person named in the order is required is not more than five miles distant from the prison in which he is confined

Commissions for Examination of Prisoners

46 In any of the following cases, that is to say,—

- where it appears to any Civil Court that the evidence of a person confined in any prison within the local limits of the appellate jurisdiction of such Court, if it is a High Court or if it is not a High Court then within the local limits of the appellate jurisdiction of the High Court to which it is subordinate who for any of the reasons mentioned in section 44 or section 45 cannot be removed is material in any matter pending before it or

(b) where it appears to any such Court as aforesaid that the evidence of a person confined in any prison so situated and more than ten miles distant from the place at which such Court is held, is material in any such matter, or

(c) where the District Judge declines, under section 38 to countersign an order for removal

XIV of 1882 the Court may if it thinks fit issue a commission under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure for the examination of the person in the prison in which he is confined [Ibid s 13] 47 Where it appears to a High Court that the evidence of a person confined in a prison beyond the local limits of its appellate jurisdiction is material in any civil matter pending before it or before any Court subordinate to it the High Court may if it thinks fit issue a commission under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure for the examination of the person in the prison in which he is confined

XIV of 1882 [Ibid s 14] 48 Every commission for the examination of a person issued under section 46 or section 47 shall be directed to the District Judge within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the prison in which the person is confined is situate and the District Judge shall commit the execution of the commission to the officer in charge of the prison or to such other person as he may think fit

Service of Process on Prisoners

[Ibid s 15] 49 When any process directed to any person as partially confined in any prison is served by the process server used from any Criminal or Revenue Court it may be served by exhibiting to the officer in charge of the prison the original of the process and depositing with him a copy thereof

[Ibid s 16] 50 (1) Every officer in charge of a prison Process served to be upon whom service is transacted at prison made under section 49 shall as soon as may be, cause the copy of the process deposited with him to be shown and explained to the person to whom it is directed and shall thereupon endorse upon the process and sign a certificate to the effect that such person as aforesaid is confined in the prison under his charge and has been shown and had explained to him a copy of the process

(2) Such certificate as aforesaid shall be prima facie evidence of the service of the process and if the person to whom the process is directed requests that the copy shown and explained to him be sent to any other person and provides the cost of sending it by post the officer in charge of the prison shall cause it to be so sent

1893	V	The Foreign Jurisdiction (Capital Sentences) Act 1893	The whole Act
1894	VII	The Prisoners Act (1871) Amendment Act 1894	The whole Act
1897	VIII	The Reformatory Schools Act 1897	Section 30

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

THE object of this Bill is merely to consolidate the several Acts relating to prisoners confined by order of a Court which are now to be found in different parts of the Statute book, and so to replace a number of separate enactments by a single Act, expressed more simply and intelligibly. Only a few explanatory remarks seem to be called for, and these will be found in the Notes on Clauses annexed.

The 27th June 1899

T RALEIGH

Notes on Clauses

The first seven Parts reproduce Act V of 1871 and the Acts relating to the confinement of prisoners and the remaining Part contains the provisions of Act XV of 1869 which deal with the production of prisoners in Court for the purpose of giving evidence and the service of process upon them while in confinement.

Clause 2—Act V of 1871 refers somewhat indiscriminately to “prisons” and “jails.” The former word has been adhered to throughout the Bill.

Clause 18—The wording of section 19 of Act V of 1871 is somewhat equivocal, and doubts have in practice been felt as to whether it requires a special order in the case of each prisoner. The necessity for this is not apparent and the opportunity has been taken to remove all doubt on the point by making it clear that a general order is admissible.

The original section has, it will be observed, been considerably shortened and, it is thought, simplified. All the offences specifically described in the earlier part of the section are covered by the sections mentioned in the schedule to the Foreign Jurisdiction and Extradition Act 1879 (XXI of 1879), to which reference is made in a later part of it, and this tautology has been avoided in the Bill. It is believed that with one exception, the clause now proposed exactly reproduces the law contained in the old section. The exception consists in the circumstance that, while section 19 refers to the abetment of suicide by burning or burying alive only, clause 18 of the Bill read with the first schedule, refers instead to sections 305 and 306 of the Indian Penal Code, i.e. to the abetment of suicide in any form.

Section 34 of Act V of 1871 giving power to make rules as to convicts, has not been reproduced, as power has been already taken in the Prisons Act, 1894 (IX of 1894), to make rules providing for all matters referred to in that section.

Clause 44—The reference to ‘the Gazette’ in section 10 of Act XV of 1869 has here been amplified. Where the Government of India is concerned it is the Gazette of India that should be alluded to; where a Local Government, the local official Gazette.

Clause 53—It is altogether supererogatory to declare, as does section 19 of Act XV of 1869, that rules made thereunder shall be deemed to have the force of law. The language has therefore here been altered so as to provide that all rules duly made under the proposed Act “shall have the same force as if enacted thereby.” The effect of the provision so expressed will be apparent if the decision of the House of Lords in Institute of Patent Agents v Lockwood (1894), L. R. App. Cas. 347, be referred to.

READ—

The Annual Report of the Civil Veterinary Department, Bengal, for the year ending 31st March 1899

Letter No 55T A, dated the 19th June 1899, from the Director of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal, submitting the above

THE Annual Report of the Civil Veterinary Department, Bengal, for the year ending 31st March 1899, which was due on the 1st of June reached this Government 23 days after the date fixed for its submission, or two months earlier than was the case last year. The Lieutenant Governor hopes that the Director of Land Records will find it possible to submit the report still more punctually in future. The report affords a clear and short account of the important matters with which the Department has to deal, and the Statistical tables appended to it contain much valuable information in a convenient form

2 The Veterinary College—In the year under report the status of the Bengal Veterinary School was raised to that of a College, and the course of instruction was extended from two to three years. The institution has fairly earned this promotion by good work in the past, and the Lieutenant Governor has every confidence that its future will justify the action of Government. Revised rules for the admission of the students, the regulation of their studies, and the admission of animals into the hospital attached to the college have, since the close of the year, been published under Government Notification No 523T—R, dated the 14th June 1899.

Though the number of students attending the college throughout the year under report was smaller than in previous years, the results of the annual examinations of the institution were most satisfactory. All the six students of the first year class, and the 15 students of the second year class passed creditably and were promoted to the respective higher classes. At the prize distribution made by the Lieutenant Governor at the college premises on the 25th March last, he had the pleasure of expressing his satisfaction at the excellence of the arrangements of the institution, the thoroughness of the instruction imparted to the students and the rapid advance made by it within the short space of five years from the commencement of its existence.

3 Stipends—Out of the 30 monthly stipends of Rs 5 each annually allotted by Government, only four were awarded in class A, and 10 in class B of the college during the year under report. The remaining students were assisted, six by District Board Stipends, one by the Burdwan Raj Stipend, and one by the Shew Buksh Bagla Scholarship.

4 The Managing Committee—The Managing Committee was strengthened by the addition of Mr C L S Russell, c s, and Mr Abdur Rahman, Khan Bahadur, and after the prize distribution, at which the Lieutenant Governor commented on the small amount of interest shown in the college by Muhammadans, two other members, viz, the Hon'ble Nawab Syed Amir Hossein, c i e, and Maulvi Budruddin Haidar Khan Bahadur, were appointed. It is hoped that the addition of these gentlemen will induce the community to which they belong to turn their minds to a form of employment, which in other provinces has proved very attractive to them.

5 The Veterinary Infirmary—There has been a large increase in the number of sick animals treated in the infirmary and in the income from fees for treatment and shoeing. There is still, however, much room for development, and the Lieutenant Governor hopes that as further knowledge is gained of the advantages offered by the institution the public generally, and official bodies especially, will resort to it with increasing frequency and confidence.

6 Veterinary Assistants—Of the 35 students who passed out of the institution as Veterinary Assistants from March 1896 to March 1898, 19 have obtained permanent appointments, 3 are in temporary employment, 10 have started private practice, 2 are studying medicine, and 1 only is out of employ at present. It is clear from these figures that there is a considerable demand for veterinary assistants, which is likely to still further increase in the near future, and the students have the great encouragement of a practical certainty of immediate employment on completion of their curriculum.

7 Veterinary Dispensaries—Altogether nine veterinary dispensaries were at work in this Province during the year under report. Those at Sitamarhi, Patna and Dumraon were established during 1897-98, and the remaining six at Gaya, Muzaffarpur, Cuttack, Balasore, Burdwan and Tippera were newly opened during the year. Preparations were also made for the opening of two more dispensaries at Dumka and Kanti, but these could not commence regular operations until after the close of the year. From the accounts given in the report of the working of these nine dispensaries, it appears that the Sitamarhi, Patna and Dumraon dispensaries were in good order, each of them showing a surplus of income over expenditure. The working of the Balasore and Cuttack dispensaries was also satisfactory, though their financial condition was not so sound as those of the three mentioned above. The Gaya and the Muzaffarpur dispensaries were established too late in the year to make much progress. Considering that Burdwan was one of the few districts in Bengal which suffered very severely from the outbreak of cattle disease during the year, the amount of work done by the Veterinary Assistant, appointed by the District Board of that district, was very small. The arrangements of the Lippura dispensary are not satisfactory, and the attention of the District Board is invited to the matter.

In the letter with which this report was forwarded, the Director of Land Records emphasised the need these infant institutions are in, of the care of the Commissioners and District Magistrates. The Lieutenant Governor fully agrees with him that the hearty help of those officers should be given, especially in the early years of the dispensaries.

8 Outbreaks of contagious disease among cattle—Reports of the outbreaks of cattle disease in epidemic form were received from 29 districts during the year under report, but the services of Veterinary Assistants were required only in the districts noted on the margin. Their services clearly saved the peasantry much loss. The largest number of deaths was reported from

Burdwan	Champanan
Midnapore	Shahabad
24 Parganas	Darbhanga.
Darjeeling	Purnea
Rangpur	Monghyr
Chittagong	Puri
Saran	Ranchi
Palamau

Cuttack, where, out of 5,425 total deaths, 2,586 or 48 per cent were from rinderpest alone. The disease, however, was most fatal in Chittagong where, out of 3,422 animals attacked with the disease, 3,253 or 95 per cent are said to have died. Burdwan and Puri also suffered severely from the disease, and the latter from foot and mouth disease as well.

During the year the Director of Land Records arranged with the Inspector General of Police, that in order to give earlier intimation of the outbreak of cattle disease, the officers in charge of police stations should send post cards direct to the Superintendent, Civil Veterinary Department, Bengal. This was done for two or three months towards the end of the year and the arrangement was found to work well.

9 Rinderpest experiments—Successful experiments were conducted during the year by Veterinary Major Raymond, to demonstrate the value of serum injection as a preventive and a cure for rinderpest. Experiments were also conducted by him with rinderpest hides and hides of animals, which had died of malignant sorethroat, from which it appeared to be certain that no danger could arise from the exportation of such hides into foreign countries. The enquiries made in the previous year into the value of Koch's system of bile injection were also continued with favourable results.

10 Operations under the Glanders and Farcy Act in North Bihar—The operations under the Glanders and Farcy Act, which were commenced in the three districts of Saran, Champaran and Muzaffarpur in the latter part of the year 1897-98, were continued throughout the year under report. The Superintendent, Civil Veterinary Department, has promised to submit a report when they are completed.

11 Cattle fairs, shows, &c—The Lieutenant Governor observes that the Superintendent could not manage to visit personally more than two cattle fairs in the Province, as compared with five in the previous year. This was due to his pressing duties in connection with the numerous scientific experiments carried on by him, and the high pressure at which both he and his college staff had to work throughout the year. Veterinary Major Raymond recognises, however, the importance of this branch of his work, and will no doubt be able to devote more time to it in the present year.

12 Horse and pony breeding in Bengal—The enquiries which were instituted at the desire of Sir Alexander Mackenzie into the possibility of improving the breed of country ponies in Bengal, were conducted by Veterinary Major Raymond throughout the year, and after its close he submitted to Government a report, in which he suggested that the operations should, in the first instance, be confined to the Bihar districts, Darjeeling and Sikkim, as being the most promising localities in the Province, and might then if desired be gradually extended to the districts of Lower Bengal, where the necessity for such operations is not so great at present. It has been decided to confine present experiments to two districts of Bihar.

13 Cattle breeding —Appendix XXIII to the report furnishes an interesting synopsis of the results of the attempts made during recent years to improve the breed of cattle in this Province. Though the results of the experiments have hitherto been generally successful, Veterinary Major Raymond considers the methods which have been adopted to be of doubtful expediency. The Hissar bulls introduced into Bihar were not a success and the number of really good bulls of the local breed in Bihar is limited. Hence, if their exportation to Bengal is persisted in, there is a danger of permanently injuring the stock. He, therefore, adheres to the opinion he has previously expressed that the best way to improve the breed of local cattle is to rear bulls for breeding purposes under the immediate supervision of the Bengal Civil Veterinary Department. The advisability of establishing farms where this could be done, at Pusa and at Sirpur in the Hatwa Raj, is engaging the attention of Government.

14 Financial and General —The receipts from fees and the Provincial share of the expenditure of the Civil Veterinary Department, Bengal, during the year 1898-99 were Rs 6,046 12 9 and Rs 37,011 6 10 respectively, as against Rs 4,988 and Rs 27,310 3 11 during 1897-98.

Veterinary Major Raymond was on tour for a period of 119 days, during the year under report. The Government of India having declined to meet the expenditure on account of the entertainment of a Personal Assistant for the Superintendent to carry on a portion of his duties during his absence on tour from Calcutta, this Government has been compelled to abandon the proposal for the present, or till the Provincial finances admit of the requisite expenditure.

The Lieutenant Governor's thanks are due to Veterinary Major Raymond for the ability with which he has conducted the affairs of this Department during the year, and he congratulates him and his staff on the success which has attended them in developing the Veterinary College.

FIRST FORECAST OF THE SUGARCANE CROP IN BENGAL 1899

THE following is published for general information
REVENUE DEPT, F A STACK,
The 7th August 1899 Offg Secy to the Govt of Bengal

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL

FIRST FORECAST OF THE SUGARCANE CROP IN BENGAL 1899

Explanatory —The following preliminary forecast of the area and outturn of the sugarcane crop in Bengal is issued under the recent orders of Government directing that two forecasts of this crop should in future be submitted in the place of the note on the crop that has hitherto been incorporated in the final note on the rabi harvest. This is the first separate note on the sugarcane crop published by this Department.

Estimates of the sugar produced from other sources than cane will be included in the final forecast of sugarcane to be issued in December next, as the juice of the date palm, which is the only other source of sugar in Bengal, is usually extracted in the winter, and no reliable estimate of the outturn can at present be made.

2 Character of the season —Frequent showers fell in the early and latter parts of January, and the total rainfall for the month was above the average in all Divisions, except Orissa, where it was only half the normal. Rain fell in scattered showers at the beginning of February in most parts of the Province, and after a short spell of fine weather, again fell in heavy showers towards the close of the month in the south eastern districts. The total rainfall for the month was, however, much below the normal in all parts of the Province, except East Bengal. In March the rainfall was less than the normal in all parts, except North Bengal. In April more than the average rain fell in all districts, excepting North Bengal, where it was slightly in defect. The rainfall in May was, on the average, below the normal in North Bengal and in the Bhagalpur and Chota Nagpur Divisions, normal in the rest of Bihar, but much above the normal in Orissa and Lower Bengal. In June the rainfall was general, and largely above the normal in all parts of the Province, except Orissa, while the rainfall in July has also been unusually heavy. On the whole, the season has been favourable for the cultivation and growth of sugarcane, except in some of the districts of Lower Bengal, especially in Nadia, Khulna, Pabna, Bogra, and Noakhali, where the crop appears to have suffered from excessive rain. In Dacca the crop has been partially damaged by sugarcane disease.

3 Area sown—In the note on the outturn of the rahi crops in Bengal, published in April last, the normal area under sugarcane in the Province was shown as 996,100 acres. The normal area has since been revised by some District Officers, in consequence of which the provincial total stands at 896,700 acres, showing a reduction of about 100,000 acres. Even this figure appears to be high, and the figures returned by some of the District Officers appear to represent maxima rather than normal areas.

The total area under sugarcane this year is estimated at 868,300 acres against 868,900 acres cultivated in 1898. These figures do not, however, illustrate the general extension of cultivation since last year, observable from a detailed examination of the district returns. This extension would have shown an increase of nearly 18,000 acres since 1898, had it not been counteracted by a reduction due to climatic causes alone in Nadia and Pabna, and to an unexplained drop of 6,900 acres in Manbhum. The figures for this district appear open to doubt.

4 Outturn—From the statement appended to this note, it will be seen that an outturn above the normal is expected in 6 districts, while in 19 districts the outturn is estimated at the normal. In 7 other districts the estimate varies between 90 and 100 per cent, in 6 others between 80 and 90, and in the remaining 8 districts it falls below 80. Generally speaking, it would appear that the prospects of the sugarcane crop are good in the comparatively dry districts of Bihar, Orissa and Chota Nagpur, and indifferent in the damper districts of Lower Bengal.

According to the returns of the District Officers, the outturn of the sugarcane crop in Bengal should be estimated at 96 per cent of a normal crop against 90 per cent estimated in 1898, but as there appears to be a tendency on the part of some District Officers to underestimate the outturn, it may be safely anticipated that the sugarcane crop for the Province will, as far as can be at present foreseen, yield about a normal outturn in the current year.

Preliminary forecast of the Sugarcane crop of Bengal, 1899

Division	District	Approximate normal area in acres	Approximate area sown last year (1898) in acres	Estimated area sown this year (1899) in acres	Taking 100 to represent the normal return in 1898	Taking 100 to represent the normal return in 1899	Remark by District Officers.	Remark by the Department of and Records and Agriculture, Bengal
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Burdwan	Burdwan	27 400	27 400	27 400	100	100	Owing to seasonable rainfall a normal outturn is anticipated.
	Birbhum	9 000	6,000	7 000	40	90	The outturn is expected to be better than that of last year owing to favourable weather. Sugar is not produced from other sources in this district.
	Bankura	15 000	17 000	17 500	87	180	It is too early to make an accurate estimate of the outturn of the sugarcane crop now sown. The outturn may however be estimated at 100 per cent.	The Collector states that the estimates of sugar produced from the date-palm will be submitted later on.
	Medinipur	20 400	18,300	15, 00	73	97	Owing to seasonable rainfall the area brought under cultivation this year has been greater than that of last year and from the growth of the plant generally a normal outturn may be expected provided no accident occurs in the meantime.	The Collector estimates 800 acres as the area covered by sugar crop other than cane and this year's outturn as 85 per cent.
	Hooghly	4,500	12 300	13 300	86	83	On account of seasonable rainfall a large area has been covered with crops in the previous year. Prospects are fair for the present. The crop will be damaged by the recent excessive rains. Information regarding the sugar produced from the sources will be furnished in the final report.

Division	District	Approximate normal area in acres.	Approximate area sown last year (1898) in acres	Return of area sown this year (1899) in acres	Yield per acre of the normal crop (1898)	Yield per acre of the crop of this year (1899)	Remarks by District Officers	Remarks by the Department of Land Revenue and Agriculture Bengal
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Presidency	24 Parganas	4,500	4,000	4,000	107	107	Owing to the favourable rainfall, the output is expected to be above the average. The decrease in the area sown is compared with the normal is ascribed to the fall in the price of sugar commenced. Accurate estimates of sugar produced from the date palm and other sources cannot be furnished now.
	Nadia	14,000	14,000	10,500	50	75	The decrease in the area sown as well as in the output is due to the unfavourable state of the weather during the sowing season and to excessive rainfall. The estimate of sugar produced from the date palm will follow.
	Murshidabad	17,000	16,800	17,000	76	100	The increase in area and output is due to the seasonable rainfall and to a efficient sowing. The sugar produced in any other sugar in this district, but molasses, are manufactured in some places from date palm and other trees. There is no regular cultivation of garden fruit trees.
	Jessore	15,000	11,500	14,300	67	82		The Collector estimates that a year's area under sugar is probably more than 20,000 acres and the output as 100 per cent.
	Khulna	3,160	3,300	3,100	83	81	The crop has been slightly damaged by rains in the last two months.	The Collector takes that the estimates of sugar produced from other sources will follow.

WORKING OF THE INDIAN FACTORIES ACT IN BENGAL DURING 1898

No 2466 —The 7th August 1899 —The following is published for general information

F A SLACK,

Offg Secretary to the Government of Bengal

No 2250, dated Calcutta, the 26th July 1899

From—F A SLACK, Esq, Offg Secy to the Govt of Bengal, General Dept
To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department

I AM directed to submit the Report on the working of the Indian Factories Act, XV of 1881, as amended by Act XI of 1891, in Bengal, during the year 1898 The prescribed statements, Forms I and II, are appended

2 Number of factories and system of work —The total number of factories actually at work at the end of the year 1897 was 167 Sixteen factories were brought under the Act during the year under report, viz, 3 in the 24 Parganas, 1 in Hooghly, 1 in Howrah, 8 in Dacca, 2 in Purnea, and 1 in Cuttack At the same time 2 factories in Howrah were removed from the list, and 1 in Jessore remained closed during the year The total number of factories actually at work at the close of the year 1898 was therefore 180 In 88 factories work was carried on by shifts or sets, in 73 by midday stoppages, in 4 by a combination of shifts and midday stoppages, and in 14 by other means There is one factory in Dacca, not at work at the close of the year, for which no return was received The number of factories exempted from the rule requiring a Sunday or weekly holiday was 33 as against 28 in the previous year The average daily number of operatives in the mills aggregated, men, women and children, 165,027 against 166 828 in 1897 The details for both years are given in the table below To it have been added, for the purposes of illustrating the growth of factories in Bengal, the figures for 1893 —

A large factory at Sorajganj was destroyed by the recent earthquake and the business was re opened on new premises erected near Calcutta

If the returns have been accurately furnished, the plague scare of 1898 produced no serious diminution of labour at the factories except in the city of Calcutta Proper The managers had just cause for anxiety, but the effects seem to have been much smaller than was at the time believed

The Special Inspector of Factories reports that electricity as an illuminant has become quite general in the large mills and in a few workshops, but that as a motive power it is little used.

The question of the closing of jute mills early on Saturdays was considered during the year, and a special report was submitted to the Government of India on the subject. The mill owners agreed to close their mills entirely on Saturdays for six months, commencing from the 1st April 1899, an arrangement which happily obviated the necessity of future consideration of the conflicting proposals on the subject. Subsequently, however, to the great regret of all concerned, this agreement was abandoned by the contracting parties, and the matter stands exactly where it did. * * *

3 Inspections — Ten factories were inspected once, 12 factories twice, 41 thrice, and 114 more than three times. Three factories in the district of Dacca, viz., the jute presses of Mr J Nicholas, Panbazar, and of Messrs Alexander and Company, Sital Lakhya, and the jute factory of Messrs Watt Brothers and Company, Madanganj, were not inspected. An explanation of the omission to inspect these factories will be called for. It is reported that the results of inspections were generally satisfactory, and that the suggestions of the inspecting officers as regards sanitary arrangements, fencing of machinery, and other matters were, as a rule, readily attended to by the mill managers.

4 Sanitary arrangements and ventilation — The sanitary condition of the factories and the sanitary arrangements in them continued to be generally satisfactory. Factories were, as a rule, well ventilated, and proper steps were taken by mill managers to keep them clean.

5 Quarters for operatives — There is still much that is unsatisfactory in the reports received this year. The Superintendent, Campbell Hospital, made certain remarks with regard to the overcrowded and insanitary condition of the bustis in Cossipore Chitpur. The Magistrate of the 24 Parganas, to whom the matter was referred, reports, however, that he visited some of these bustis where cases of plague had occurred, and was generally satisfied with their cleanliness. The Civil Medical Officer of Serampore states that the mill hands there are mostly low class up country people who habitually neglect all rules of sanitation, with the result that their bustis become hot beds of disease. Similarly, the Magistrate of Howrah writes that the mill operatives, chiefly from Bihar and the North Western Provinces, live in ill ventilated huts specially set apart for them. They cluster in hundreds on undrained sites, and are a source of danger to others. These men are for the most part drawn from country villages where rules of sanitation are unknown, and it is not strange that they should keep to the rustic methods to which alone they are accustomed. On the other hand, all the best mills in the neighbourhood of Calcutta have constructed excellent quarters for their coolies. They find it profitable to do so. Even rustics of the Upper Provinces prefer clean, tidy, healthy dwellings, if they can get them, and the mill which provides these will always command the best supply of the best labour. For this reason, that good housing of the mill hands is to the true interest and advantage of the mills themselves, the Lieutenant Governor has the hope that the example of the better mills will quickly spread. Meanwhile the Magistrates of Howrah and Serampore will use all their influence to that end.

6 Vaccination of operatives — As a rule no one is admitted into a factory unless he has been vaccinated. Why the practice is not invariably insisted on appears from the following remarks of the Magistrate of Howrah —

“The up country part of the population is, however, averse to vaccination, and unprotected persons are everywhere sufficiently numerous to be a great source of danger when small pox appears. Attempts to get managers of factories to use their influence in this matter have not as a rule been successful. It appears to me that there is a great and, I think, excessive tenderness on the part of managers in doing anything to arouse the prejudices of their employes, and this has undoubtedly been increased by the scares involving a temporary loss of labour which have occurred in recent years. In some respects it seems to me that this is pushed beyond the limits of real prudence. I mean that the employes learn to count on getting their own way and that future trouble is thereby stored up.”

7 Water supply — The water supply in most factories, though drawn from various sources was, as reported last year, generally satisfactory.

8 General health of the operatives—The general health of the operatives was good during the year. A few cases of cholera occurred at the Pottery Works of Messrs Burn and Company at Rangaj, and in the Narayanganj cooly lines in the district of Dacca, but these occurrences were not due to any negligence on the part of the managers to adopt precautionary steps. The Commissioner of the Presidency Division has made the following observations on this subject —

“The general health of the operatives was, on the whole, good. During the latter half year, malarial fever prevailed in some quarters. There was an outbreak of low malarial fever at the Budge Budge and the Olive Jute Mills. Dr Comley, who was especially appointed to report about this, considered that the prevalence of the disease was for the most part due to the insanitary condition of the bustis near those mills. He suggested certain remedies and steps are now being taken for the improvement of the bustis on the lines suggested.”

9 Wages and general condition of the operatives—There was no material change during the year under review in the rates of wages paid to different classes of operatives, which are generally higher than those prevailing for agricultural labour in the neighbourhood. It is, however, to be borne in mind that the coolies recruited from the North Western Provinces and Bihar come here to save the greatest sum of money in the shortest time. They rigidly limit their expenditure to the lowest sum necessary to support, not health, but life. They live in the meanest huts, and eat the worst food, because these are the cheapest. Hence there is no necessary connection between the wages received by them, and their physical condition. Last year it was stated that the condition of the operatives in the Kajla Silk Filature was poor, though the rate of wages paid was fair. The Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division reports that during the year under report the operatives in this factory received good wages in comparison with those received by labourers employed on other works. Their condition is reported to have been tolerable.

10 Employment of women and children—The rules regarding the employment of women and children were duly observed. Light work such as spinning, weaving, &c, was given to them. Women and children were employed in large numbers in jute and cotton mills and presses, where the system of work was carried on mainly by shifts or sets, with intervals of rest and general and occasional holidays. Special care was taken not to admit children of doubtful ages until they were examined and passed by the certifying surgeons. Accidents to children in cleaning the machinery when it was in motion were very few, and these were due to disobedience of the factory rules.

With regard to the improper employment of children Mr Duke, Magistrate of Howrah, on two or three occasions detected children under age working in certain jute mills. The excuse invariably was that their presence was unauthorised, that they had come with food for their parents. He remarks that it is against the interest of the managers to enrol children in their books as workers until they are worth the pay of their class, hence there is a strong temptation to let them hang about the mills and pick up the necessary knowledge beforehand. He suggests as the best remedy the absolute prohibition of the presence of such children in rooms in which work is going on—a prohibition perhaps hardly required by the present dimensions of the evil.

The Special Inspector has made the following remarks on this subject —

“As several fatal accidents have happened in jute mills to women working at the softeners, I think it would not unduly hamper the managers if women were forbidden to work at these machines, at least at the feed-end. The work is decidedly arduous and bangles on their arms and wrists, and anklets on the feet, have on several occasions been the direct cause of fatal accidents. In the majority of mills only men are employed for this work.

The fatal accidents to women in jute mills were this year very numerous, and these remarks will be commended to the managers of all jute mills.

11 Fencing of machinery—The machinery in the factories is generally reported to have been properly fenced. The following remarks are quoted from the report of the Special Inspector of Factories — and thus avoid the necessity of placing the jute by hand near the rollers I inquired into the cause of the last accident at this machine, which occurred at the Sibpur Jute Mill, and it appears that the woman allowed jute to become entangled with her foot I calculate that six or eight seconds must have elapsed before her foot entered the rollers, and had any of the workers about (and there were numbers of them) thrown over the lever to stop the machine no accident would have happened, but it transpired that many hearing her screams rushed away, and those that came to her assistance simply pulled at her not one having the sense to throw over the lever I do not think anything further can be done to guard the machine, but, as already suggested, women might be forbidden to work at the 'softener'

“It will be seen from the list of fatal accidents that several have occurred again at the jute softener. I have always considered this machine one of the most dangerous to work at, and years ago recommended that automatic travelling tables should be fitted at both ends.

'A fatal accident occurred at the Bengal Spinning and Weaving Mill, whereby the oil man lost his life when oiling the bearings of the first motion pulley I regret that I did not specially specify a guard to be placed near this bearing, as I had always considered such places dangerous I note from my back inspection report the following passage, with reference to this factory, dated 12th May 1896 —

* 'Nothing has been done to place a hand rail from the engine room to the first and second motion pulleys, the bearings of which have to be oiled and examined by walking along a narrow plank saturated with oil any slip might result fatally

'At my subsequent inspections hand rails had been erected but an additional guard in this place would have been some help when oiling although in large steamers the engineers are compelled to oil the engines with less guards than mill engines are provided with, and frequently in very rough weather'

12 Accidents — The number of accidents that occurred during the year was 553 as against 651 and 493 during the two preceding years Two hundred and seventy nine were of a serious nature, and 246 were of a slight nature, and 28 proved fatal, nine more than in any previous year

The following is a list of the more notable of the fatal accidents —

- (1) One man was killed by being jammed when shunting wagons on the East Indian Railway workshop
- (2) A girl (four years of age) was found dead under a bundle of twist yarn at the Baranagore Mill (North)
- (3) A man was killed at the Khardah Mill working at the jute softener his arm was torn out at the shoulder
- (4) A woman was killed at the jute softener in the Clive Jute Mill the jute became entangled in a bracelet she wore, and drew her arm into the rollers
- (5) One man was killed at the softener machine in the Shamnagore Jute Mill
- (6) A man was killed at the Victoria Jute Mill, jute having lapped his body, he was drawn into the jute softener
- (7) A woman engaged in feeding the softener at the Sibpur Jute Mill got some jute entangled round her foot, and the leg was drawn into the rollers
- (8) One man died at the Bally Mills from scalds he received by opening the man hole of a boiler (for boiling grass or rags) before all the steam had been exhausted
- (9) An oil man was killed at the Sibpur Jute Mill when engaged in oiling the mill engine he was knocked over by the crank and crushed
- (10) One man (a prisoner) in the Bhagalpur Jail was killed in endeavouring to replace a belt on the pulley he was caught by the belt and carried round the shaft
- (11) One man was killed at the Dunbar Cotton Mill by replacing a belt he was carried round the shaft and received injuries, from which he died
- (12) The oil man at the Bengal Spinning and Weaving Company was killed when oiling the first-motion pulley shaft the ropes must have caught some loose clothing and severed the legs from the body
- (13) One man was killed by a fall when oiling a shaft at the Ganges Jute Mill
- (14) A woman was killed in the Howrah Mill by a trolley accidentally knocking her down and running over her,

- (15) These men were killed at the Mathematical Instrument Department on 16th February 1898, by an explosion of gas. The men were
 (16) searching for an escape of gas, and finding a small locked godown smelling strongly of gas, went inside and struck a light
 (17) causing the explosion Ventilators have since been put in.

13. Prosecutions—There were three prosecutions under the Factory Act during the year under report. The proprietors of the Jheel Press at Cossimpoore in the 24 Parganas were prosecuted under section 15 (g) of the Factories Act for neglecting to keep their latrine in a cleanly state and on conviction, they were fined Rs 50. The Manager of the Sura Jute Mill in the same district was prosecuted under section 15 (i) of the Act for neglecting to send notice of an accident either to the Magistrate or to the Police. On conviction, he was fined Rs 32. The Manager of the Magra Bone Factory in the district of Hooghly was prosecuted for neglecting to give the notice required by section 14 of the Factories Act, and on conviction was fined Rs 40.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE GOVERNMENT CINCHONA PLANTATION AND FACTORY IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1898-99

THE rainfall for the year was normal. The low temperature which prevailed in January 1899, did considerable injury to the nursery beds of the Mungpoo Division, and the mortality among the seedling plants was so great that the proposed extension of the plantation for the coming year will have to be considerably curtailed. The number of trees uprooted at the plantation for their bark was 469,440 against 245,109 in the previous year, while 170,136 young trees were planted out. The result of the year's operations was that the total number of living plants (excluding the nursery stock, which amounted to 138,080) at the close of the year was 2,179,245.

2. The crop of the year amounted to 236,098 lbs of dry bark, all of which was obtained from the trees uprooted in the Government plantations in Sikkim. The bulk of the bark was of the quinine producing sort, and, with the exception of 1,00½ lbs supplied to medical depôts or sold to Government officers and to the public, the whole crop was, as usual, made over to the cinchona factory for manufacture into quinine and febrifuge. Besides the bark obtained from cropping, 131,615 lbs of bark were purchased from private plantations in Sikkim and Southern India. The Superintendents of Cinchona Cultivation, Bengal and Madras, met at a conference to consider the question of the relationship of the Bengal and Madras factories, respectively, towards the bark market in Southern India, and a definite understanding was come to regarding future purchases of bark in that locality.

3. The outturn of the factory was 10,335 lbs of sulphate of quinine and 3,921 lbs of cinchona febrifuge against 10,149 and 4,075 lbs, respectively, in 1897-98 The following statement compares the issues of the year with those of the preceding year —

Total	10,939 2½	8 398 4	8 766 8½	2 91 12

The decrease in the issues of sulphate of quinine is due to a diminished demand on the part of the medical depôts in the Bengal and Punjab Commands, to the transfer to the Madras factory of the obligation to supply the North Western Provinces with the drug, and to the falling off in the demand by Government officers and medical missions for distribution to the poor. The decrease of 404½ lbs. in the issues of cinchona febrifuge is attributed to the fact that Government officers took smaller supplies than in the previous year. The stock of sulphate of quinine in hand at the close of the year was greater by 1,569 lbs. than it was at the close of the year 1897-98.

4. The following statement compares the receipts from the sale of sulphate of quinine, cinchona febrifuge, cinchona bark, and other products of the plantation during the last two years —

	Rs	Rs

By credit from the Inspector General of Civil Hospitals, North Western Provinces and Oudh.	11,200	725
Total	1,76,798	1,59,518

5 The expenditure on the plantation amounted to Rs 58,472 against Rs. 68,509 in the previous year, the decrease being chiefly in the temporary establishment and in the salaries of European assistants. The amount spent on account of the factory fell from Rs 89,278 to Rs 65,468. Of this reduction however, Rs 25,756 was due to smaller purchases of bark in Madras, and the Superintendent points out that this cannot be regarded as a true saving as it would have been to the advantage of the factory to spend the full allotment of half a lakh.

6 The cash receipts show a surplus over cash expenditure of Rs 35,579, but, owing to the fall in the price of bark, there has been a large decrease in the value of the stock in hand, and Dr Prain estimates the net profits at Rs 10,879 as against Rs 11,632 last year. Under the circumstances this must be held to be satisfactory.

7 The Lieutenant Governor desires to thank Major Prain, and also Mr B. Pantling, the Deputy Superintendent of the Cinchona Plantations, for their efficient management of the plantation and factory during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal,

F A SLACK,

RESOLUTION ON THE TRIENNIAL REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE CHARITABLE DISPENSARIES IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MEDICAL

READ—

The Triennial Report on the working of the Charitable Dispensaries in Bengal for the years 1896, 1897 and 1898

Read also—

The Triennial Report for the years 1893, 1894 and 1895 and the annual returns for 1896 and 1897 and the Resolutions recorded upon them

The Triennial Report was due to Government on the 1st of May and was submitted on the 3rd of July. It is explained that the delay is due to the necessarily large volume of statistics required and the difficulty of obtaining correct figures from the local officers.

2 Number of Dispensaries—The number of dispensaries rose from 450 in 1895 to 492 in 1898. There is a gratifying increase in the number of Local Fund dispensaries, which have increased from 215 to 289 during the period under review. To this total the District Board of Backergunge contributed no less than 14 new dispensaries. In the same district a system of medical relief was inaugurated which Colonel Hendley rightly regards as being almost as important as the opening of new dispensaries. This is the bringing of medical aid to the homes of the people by entrusting simple medicine chests to the headmen of villages remote from dispensaries. Another system favourably noticed by Colonel Hendley is that by which a medical officer visits certain centres at short fixed intervals. This system has been worked with success in Ranaghat by private agency, and is said to be employed extensively in the more sparsely populated parts of Russia. Both systems seem well suited to Bengal, and the Lieutenant Governor will be glad if the Inspector General of Civil Hospitals can arrange to give them a more extended trial.

3 Administration—An unsatisfactory feature of the administration noticed in the last report was the inferiority of the subordinate medical staff relatively to that of other provinces. During the past three years important steps have been taken towards remedying this, both by improving supervision and by the introduction of several necessary reforms. Of these the most noticeable is the improvement in the position and prospects of Civil Assistant Surgeons. Seven Civil Surgeoncies have recently been allotted to this class of medical officers, and a senior grade on Rs 300 per mensem has been created. Unemployed pay, which was felt as a serious hardship, has also been abolished. These changes should go far towards increasing the attractiveness of this branch of the service.

In the matter of the medical education of Hospital Assistants an important advance has been made by extending the course of instruction in vernacular medical schools from three to four years, with the special object of including medico legal work in the curriculum.

It was noted in the last resolution as a serious defect in medical administration that the power given to the supporters of private dispensaries of engaging any medical men they chose often led to the appointment of unsatisfactory persons. This has since been remedied by making all such appointments subject to the approval of the Inspector General of Civil Hospitals. Colonel Hendley is now of opinion that still more power in this respect should be put into the hands of the Inspector General of Civil Hospitals, and that he should be given authority to remove any man whom he considers incompetent, and to veto the removal of any incumbent. It may, however, be doubted whether the advantages to be gained by a more efficient and centralised control would not be more than counterbalanced by the alienation of sympathy and interest of those who support the institutions, and who would feel that their powers and rights had been impaired. Another change which has been made is the fixing of an average rate of contribution from local bodies for the loan of Government Medical Officers. Instead of paying the actual grade pay of the officer appointed—a charge which often weighed heavily on their resources when a senior officer was appointed to a poor dispensary or was promoted while in charge of it—they are now required to pay a fixed contribution irrespective of the grade of the officer in charge. The advantages of this change are obvious, and the system has worked excellently in practice.

4 Inspections—The number of inspections of outlying dispensaries by Civil Surgeons rose from 391 in 1896 to 409 in 1897 and 420 in 1898. Colonel Hendley has paid particular attention to the question of inspections and has treated the subject in a thoroughly practical manner. While reducing where necessary the number of inspections previously prescribed, he has taken great pains to ensure that inspections shall in all cases be thorough, and such as will be of practical assistance to the Civil Surgeons' subordinates. Since his appointment in April 1898, Colonel Hendley has himself visited nearly all the important civil stations in Bengal, and subsequently to the amalgamation of the Sanitary Commissioner's office with that of the Inspector General of Civil Hospitals, he has had the benefit of Major Dyson's assistance in this branch of work.

5 Management by local bodies—The number of dispensaries managed by local bodies during the last three years was as follows—

Municipalities	122	123	125
District Boards	138	153	157
Joint	1	2	3

In the last Triennial Report the Inspector General of Civil Hospitals had to complain that local bodies generally showed a want of interest with regard to the management of dispensaries. Colonel Hendley now reports an improvement in this respect. He has, however, still some complaints to make, of which the most important is given as follows in his own words—

"Municipal contribution towards the maintenance of dispensaries is fitful, and is regulated in accordance with the amount of private subscriptions, &c, that is to say, if the income of a dispensary from these and other sources is sufficient just to meet its bare requirements the Municipality expends nothing from municipal funds upon it. No great improvement or reform can be hoped for unless it is laid down that no matter whatever the income from local sources may be, the municipalities must contribute a certain percentage of their income towards the maintenance, improvement, etc, of the medical charities under their care or that they must meet all ordinary charges, leaving most extensions and all those extra expenses which go to make up the success of a medical institution to the charity of the public."

The Inspector General has already submitted proposals to Government on this point, and the matter has been separately considered and orders passed. While fully sympathising with Colonel Hendley's laudable desire to remove the deficiencies in dispensary administration which do no doubt exist, the view of the Lieutenant Governor is that the proper remedy is to be found, not in fixing a minimum for all municipalities, whose needs and resources must vary according to their circumstances, but in watching individual cases of neglect, and in stimulating expenditure in such cases by bringing them to the notice of the local officers. To adopt Colonel Hendley's proposal would be to check the flow of private charity by declaring that it shall in no case whatever suffice. It is to be observed that additional motive power in this matter has been given to municipal expenditure on medical charities by the amendment in 1896 of section 69 of the Municipal Act, under which medical expenditure is now under the control of the Commissioner. That municipalities are on the whole not backward relatively in contributing to dispensaries is shown by the fact that in 1897-98 the municipalities of the North-Western Provinces with a total income of nearly 45 lakhs contributed Rs. 60,000 to dispensaries, while in Bengal out of an income of 38 lakhs municipalities contributed Rs. 1,86,000. Moreover, the figures given in paragraph 12 of Colonel Hendley's report show that the proportion of patients treated in municipal dispensaries to the population of the municipalities themselves is 48.61 per cent—a fact which clearly indicates that the area of municipal charity extends far beyond municipal limits. The Lieutenant Governor observes with pleasure that municipalities are on the whole fully sensible of their obligations in the matter of medical charity, and has no doubt that, as opportunity serves, there will be still further advancement in this important duty.

6 Patients—The number of indoor and outdoor patients treated in dispensaries during the period under review as compared with the figures of the three previous years is as follows—

YEAR	PATIENTS			Population excluding Calcutta	Ratio per cent. of total treated to population.
	Indoor	Out door	Total treated
1	2	3	4	5	6
1896	47 109	2 637 601	2 684 610	70 665 428	3.79
1897	55 644	2 718 468	2 894 112		4.01
1898	42 086	2 837 759	2 879 845		4.07

The increase in the number of outdoor patients in 1898 is particularly satisfactory inasmuch as it occurred in an exceptionally healthy year and one in which the fear of plague measures might have been expected to deter the people from having recourse to Government dispensaries. In other provinces the attendance shows a large falling off, which is ascribed mainly to this cause, and the fact that the contrary was the case in Bengal is testimony to the increasing popularity of the dispensaries and to the confidence felt by the people in their administration.

The following table shows the comparative attendance in Bengal and other provinces—

PROVINCE	N mber of dispensaries.	Area of the provinces in square miles	Square miles per dispensary	P ulation of the province	Pop ulation per dispensary	Number of patients treated	Number of patients per dispensary
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
Bengal	487	151 543	311	70 665 427	145 103	2,879 845	5 913
Bombay	337	125 144	371	18 901 123	56 086	1 710 219	5,074
Madras	496	141 189	280	35 630 440	71 835	4 048,329	8 161
Central Provinces	12	71 582	591	9 501 401	79 524	1 512 489	12 499
Punjab	265	110 667	417	20 880 918	78 720	3 241 543	12 232
North Western Provinces	331	107 507	324	46 905 086	141 701	8 6 5 480	10 988
Burma	99	171 430	1 731	7 695 560	76 820	754 458	7 620

As has been noted in previous reports, a principal cause of the comparatively low attendance in Bengal is the number and popularity of the local kobirajes and hakims, whose paid service are largely preferred by the people to the gratuitous services of the dispensaries. So far as this is evidence of the prosperity and independence of the population of Bengal, and of their reluctance to avail themselves of charitable assistance when they are able to help themselves, it is a matter for satisfaction rather than regret. Colonel Hendley expresses himself as not unmindful of the claims of private practitioners, and rightly disclaims all idea of competing with them. At the same time he considers that the charitable dispensaries have not yet reached all those for whom they are intended and ascribes the reluctance to attend of those who would otherwise do so as in part due to the low standard of accommodation and the want of additional comforts in them. The Inspector General of Civil Hospitals does not lose sight of the fact that the proportionate expenditure on patients is considerably higher in Bengal than in most other provinces, and his remarks on this subject contained in a circular addressed by him to all Civil Surgeons deserve quotation. They are as follows:—

In nine cases out of ten it is not so much to want of money as to want of persistence and ingenuity that the bad condition of our hospitals is to be attributed. A good Surgeon who is possessed of tact, skill and enthusiasm as a rule, will soon be able to indoctrinate others with some of his zeal, and at all events be able to make a number of small improvements which will add to the popularity of his dispensary and increase the comfort of the people under his care. It does not take much money to put up a few pictures in a ward, to whitewash the lower panes of a window so as to prevent passers by from looking into the room, to make a pathway across a swampy compound to erect screens so that women may be seen in privacy, to cleanse walls and floors, nor does it lower the Hospital Assistant's dignity or even his influence to be courteous to all and polite to women and to children.

There can be no question as to the soundness of these eminently practical remarks, and no doubt that the method suggested in them must do much towards raising the attendance in the Bengal dispensaries to its proper level. The Lieutenant Governor earnestly commends them to the officers in charge of dispensaries and hospitals throughout the province. These may seem small matters, but it is these little acts of consideration and thoughtfulness for the comfort of the patient, that add, out of all proportion to their apparent value, to the attractiveness of a hospital.

	Dispensaries for indoor patients	Number of beds provided	Daily average of indoor patients
1	2	3	4
1896	192	3,057	1,898
1897	201	3,247	2,227
1898	203	3,314	1,868

The decrease in 1898 was due to the plague scare. The reasons noted by Colonel Hendley for the comparatively low general attendance at dispensaries have particular force as regards indoor attendance. Special attention has been given to the questions of providing pauper wards and of attaching to dispensaries free quarters for the relatives of patients, both of which were noted on in the last triennial Resolution. In accordance with the remarks therein contained, enquiries have been made into both matters. As regards the provision of pauper and moribund wards, it is pleasant to note that great advances have been made, and that all the improvements of which finances would permit have been provided. Want of funds, however, has prevented much being done towards providing accommodation for relatives of patients. Until much more has been effected to increase the comforts of the patients themselves, those of their relatives must for the present remain in the background. The question of abolishing indoor treatment in outlying dispensaries where in-patients cannot be treated as they should be, has been considered and rejected, on the ground that any indoor accommodation is better than none, and that where defects exist, the defects them selves, and not the boon conferred by indoor treatment, should be got rid of.

8 Diseases treated—The following table shows the number of cases of the principal diseases treated at dispensaries during the three years under review, with the corresponding total mortality among the general population—

	Small pox	Cholera	Dysentery and diarrhoea	Malarial fevers	Diseases of the spleen	Skin diseases	Eyes and ear diseases
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
Cases treated 1896—8	516	87,659	4,58,201	15,70,880	31,563	11,751	1,38,566
Total mortality among general population during 1896—98	47,812	4,88,691	1,38,912	48,58,810

These statistics have been obtained from the collation of figures in the now amalgamated offices of the Inspector General of Civil Hospitals and the Sanitary Commissioner, and have been corrected from the later figures received in the separate report of the latter on sanitation. It will be seen that only a very small percentage of cholera and small pox cases are taken to dispensaries for treatment. The largest number of admissions, as is natural, is due to malarial fevers. In this connection it is noticeable that during the period under review the quantity of quinine sold at post offices fell from 31,867 packets in 1896 to 27,905 in 1897 and 24,295 in 1898. This subject is engaging the special attention of the Inspector General of Civil Hospitals.

9 Surgical operations—The division of operations into “major” and “minor” which was followed in previous reports has now been abolished under the orders of the Government of India. The consensus of professional opinion in the province is that the present system of classification is in several ways defective, and that opinion is now being considered by the Government of India. The progress made during the last three years is shown by the following statement—

	Number of operations
1896	124,067
1897	135,500
Average 1893 to 1895	105,740

Large as has been the increase in the number of operations during the present period it still remains far below that in the North Western Provinces and the Punjab. Colonel Hendley does not accept the explanation which is frequently given that the inhabitants of Bengal are averse to surgical operations, and ascribes the comparatively low figures in Bengal to lack of attention on the part of medical subordinates to this branch of work. The remarks contained in his circulars and inspection notes which are annexed to the report show that he has given special attention to this subject, and the Lieutenant Governor will await the results with interest.

In the selected list of surgical operations performed by individual officers, the list is headed among Civil Surgeons by Major F. R. Macdonald, I.M.S., with 419 operations, Lieutenant Colonel A. Tomes, I.M.S., with 413, and Lieutenant Colonel Macrae, I.M.S., with 406. Among Civil Assistant Surgeons Babu Bopin Vohary Gupta stands first with 482, and among Civil Hospital Assistants Babu Nibaran Chunder Sen and Babu Basanta Kumar Chakrabarti performed 136 and 101 respectively.

10 Class and sex of patients—The sexes of patients treated during the period under review are given as follows—

	Men	Women	Children	Total
1896	1,603,533	423,238	6,57,839	2,684,610
1897	1,711,742	458,670	6,63,700	2,834,112
1898	1,762,033	462,412	6,55,400	2,879,845
Total	5,077,308	1,344,320	1,976,939	8,398,567
Total for 1893, 1894, and 1895	3,901,382	1,060,813	1,729,562	6,691,757

The continuous rise in the number of females is particularly satisfactory, and shows clearly the increasing confidence of the people in the dispensaries. The proportion of females is slightly lower in 1898 than in the previous year, owing to the credence given to rumours that Government plague measures in some way affected the honour and safety of women. Even in this year, however, there is an increase in the total numbers treated. The number of Hindus treated in 1898 was 1,735,605 as against 1,059,108 Musalmans.

11 Finance—The following table compares the income and expenditure of the dispensaries for the last three years —

The main sources of income are of course contributions from local funds and private subscriptions. Of these, the former has already been noticed. As regards subscriptions, Colonel Hendley now renews a suggestion previously made by Dr Harvey in 1894, that subscriptions for special objects tending to the improvement of comfort in dispensaries should be kept distinct from the fund administered by the local managing authorities, and should be administered solely by the Civil Surgeons

He bases this proposal on the fact that in many cases private subscriptions to a dispensary show a falling off after it has been taken over by a Municipality, the reason given being that people are unwilling to pay twice, once in the form of subscriptions, and once in the form of taxation, for the same charity, and that they consider that their subscriptions, intended by them for a special charitable purpose, are merely applied to the relief of local taxation. Colonel Hendley's proposal has been separately submitted, and is now engaging the attention of Government.

In the meantime it may be remarked that though in some cases there has undoubtedly been a falling off in subscriptions of the nature indicated, still their total amount in 1898 was higher than it has ever been before, and aggregated in that year over 2½ lakhs. The income derived from subscriptions in the North Western Provinces is slightly over 1 lakh, and after making all due allowances for the difference that exists between the two provinces in wealth and population, it cannot be said that the standard of charity in Bengal is unduly low. On one point in this connection the Lieutenant Governor is altogether unable to agree with the Inspector General. Referring to the maintenance of private dispensaries by wealthy individuals Colonel Hendley says—

"Those are not charitable institutions but such as it is either incumbent on such persons from their position to maintain for their tenants servants or employees or which they desire to keep up for their own convenience. In all these cases the individual is under the same obligation on us and takes the place of Government. The inclusion of such expenditure under the heading of Subscriptions is likely to lead to a false impression of the amount of charity which prevails in the province.

The Lieutenant Governor cannot share this view. He has frequently had much pleasure in publicly acknowledging the munificence of the landed nobility and wealthy classes in this respect, and would on no account wish to convey to them the impression that their generous donations are not received in the spirit in which they are offered. Charity is, it is true, an obligation incumbent upon all alike but all do not equally appreciate the obligation, and the greater credit is due to those who do.

Delecting the amount invested there was an increase of expenditure of Rs 66,903 in 1896 and of Rs 78,435 in 1897, and a decrease of Rs 27,558 in 1898. Under the head of "Diet" there was an increase of Rs 9,494 in 1896 and of Rs 28,458 in 1897, and a decrease of Rs 26,094 in 1898. The variations are accounted for by the famine of 1896-97.

The amount spent on European medicines rose by Rs 1,743 in 1896, by Rs 4,902 in 1897 and by Rs 10,094 in 1898. The large increase in 1898 was due to the purchase of new surgical implements and appliances. The system introduced in 1894 of obtaining the supply of medical stores from Messrs Burgoyne, Burbridge and Company, of London, and tinctures and other preparations from Calcutta has been generally approved by Civil Surgeons, but has not led to the decrease in expenditure which was anticipated in the last Resolution.

12. The office of Inspector General of Civil Hospitals was held during the three years by Colonel G. C. Ross, from 1st to 27th January 1896 and from 9th May 1896 to 2nd February 1897, by Colonel G. Hutcheson, from 28th January 1896 to 8th May 1896, by Colonel B. Franklin, from 3rd February 1897 to 27th March 1897, by Colonel J. H. Newman, from 30th March 1897 to 9th April 1898, and by Colonel T. H. Hendley from 10th May 1898 to date.

The thanks of the Lieutenant Governor are due to Colonel Hendley and his predecessors for the care and attention that they have bestowed upon the administration of dispensaries, and to Colonel Hendley in particular for the present very interesting report. The Lieutenant Governor also wishes to express his appreciation of the work done by the Civil Surgeons and the subordinate medical staff, whose skill and energy have led to the general improvement which has been made in the period under review, and on whom Sir John Woodburn relies for its continuance in the future.

By order of the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal,

Offg Secy to the Govt of Bengal

Abstract of the Results of Meteorological Observations taken at the Alipore Observatory in the month of July 1899

	Inches	Date	Hour
The mean pressure of the month	29 543
The average pressure of July from 24 years' registers	29 537
The highest pressure in the month	29 789	31st	10
The lowest pressure in the month	29 353	6th	16
The range of pressure	0 436
	Hours
The total number of hours of bright sunshine during the month	57 3
The maximum possible number of hours of sunshine	413 1
The mean temperature of the month	83 5
The average temperature of July from 24 years registers	83 5
The highest temperature in the month	93 2	1st
The lowest temperature in the month	75 6	27th
The range of temperature during the month	17 6
The mean daily range of temperature	10 2
The greatest range of temperature in one day	14 9	29th
	Per cent
The mean humidity of the month	89
The average humidity of July from 24 years' registers	85
	Inches
The mean vapour tension of the month	1 018
The average vapour tension of July from 9 years' registers	1 002
The mean cloud proportion of the month	8 32
The average cloud proportion of July from 22 years' registers	7 94
	Inches
The total rainfall of the month	21 47
The total rainfall indicated by a Beckley's self registering rain gauge (mouth of the gauge about 52 feet above the ground)	20 13
The average fall of July from 48 years' registers	12 84
	Days
The number of rainy days in the month	28
The average number of rainy days in July from 24 years registers	25
The mean maximum equilibrium temperature of solar radiation during the month	136 0
The mean difference of sun and air temperatures	47 4
The greatest sun temperature	152 7	4th and 5th
The greatest excess of sun over air temperature	60 3	4th
The mean temperature of the nocturnal radiation thermometer on woollen cloth	78 2
The mean depression of the nocturnal radiation thermometer below the minimum air temperature at 4 feet above the ground	0 5
The greatest depression of the nocturnal radiation thermometer below the minimum air temperature	2 4	1st and 18th Miles.
The mean movement of the wind per day	100 7
The greatest movement of the wind in one day	208 0	14th
The greatest movement of the wind in one hour	15 0	14th, 11 to noon and 4 to 5 P M
The number of hours with winds from each of the 8 points—
N 17, N E 19 E 22, S E 37, S 151, S W 271, W 142, N W 31, Calm 54

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory) The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore 003 lower The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0 6 higher, and finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0 6 higher than the Kew Standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory

The mean pressure, temperature &c, are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain gauge is one foot above the ground.

- (a) The increase is toward traffic chiefly from stations in A and B districts on account of Oolta Bath Jatra and movements of pilgrims and merchandise.
 (b) Deducted Rs 28 756 being the estimated amount of rebate on coal for the week.
 (c) The decrease is chiefly in upward coal from Giridih and a grain and seed traffic to Calcutta stations.
 (d) Payments on account of mileage and demurrage being more than the receipts nothing is included.

NOTIFICATION—No 4107Med

The 11th August 1899—It is hereby notified that the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal, in the exercise of the powers conferred by sections 4 and 5 of the Charitable Endowments Act, 1890, and upon the application and with the concurrence of the administrators to the estate of the late Brigade Surgeon Rajendra Chandra Chandra, formerly a Professor of the Medical College Calcutta, and Officiating Inspector General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal, doth hereby order that the Government Promissory notes to the nominal value of Rs 21,000 of which particulars are contained in the first schedule hereunder written, shall as from the date of the first publication of this notification vest and be henceforth vested in the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments for the territories subject to the Government of Bengal, to be held by him and his successors (subject to the provisions of the said Charitable Endowments Act, 1890, and the rules from time to time framed thereunder by the Governor General in Council) upon trust for ever hereafter, to receive the interest of the said securities when and as the same shall become due and payable, and from time to time to apply the same in terms of the scheme for the creation of an endowment for the purpose of founding and maintaining two scholarships for the benefit of the students of the Medical College, Calcutta, of which particulars are contained in the second schedule hereunder written and it is further notified that the said scheme of which particulars are contained in the said schedule shall come into operation on the vesting of the said securities in the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments for the territories subject to the Government of Bengal

THE FIRST SCHEDULE ABOVE REFERRED TO

Government promissory note No 021753 of the 3½ per cent loan of 1854-55 for Rs 10 000

Government promissory note No 021754 of the 3½ per cent loan of 1854-55 for Rs 10 000

Government promissory note No 079240 of the 3½ per cent loan of 1865 for Rs 500

Ditto ditto No 089142 ditto ditto

THE SECOND SCHEDULE ABOVE REFERRED TO

(1) The endowment hereby created shall be called after the donor, "Dr Chandra's Scholarship Fund" and its object is and shall be the maintenance of the said fund, particulars whereof are given in the first Schedule hereto, for the purpose of founding two Scholarships, to be paid out of the income of the said fund, for the benefit of the students of the Medical College, Calcutta. One of the Scholarships is to be of the value of Rs 26 4 per mensem, out of the proceeds of Rs 9,000 bequeathed for this purpose, to be called "Dr Chandra's Scholarship in Materia Medica and Therapeutics," to be awarded to the successful candidate who should be selected at an examination to be annually held by the Professor of Materia Medica, Medical College, or other Professors dealing with the subjects of the examination. The examination should be competed for by the students of the fourth and fifth year classes of the Medical College, and by the passed students during the first year of their obtaining the M B degree. The candidates will be examined in Materia Medica and Therapeutics, and will be required to write a thesis on some particular subject in Therapeutics about

Indian drugs with original investigations, to be determined by the Examiners. The Scholarship is to be tenable for one year, and will be retained by the successful candidate, whether he completes his medical study in India or England, or however he may be employed afterwards.

The other Scholarship will be of the value of Rs 17-8 per mensem, to be called after the donor's wife, "Mrs Mary Chandra's Scholarship" and will be awarded to the female medical student of the Calcutta Medical College who stands first at the end of the first year's examination. The Scholarship is to be tenable for two years, whether the successful candidate completes her medical study in India or Europe. Such Scholarship is to be awarded every year, so that after the first year of its institution there will be two Scholarships of the same value, and for this purpose the sum of Rs 6,000 out of the total amount bequeathed will be vested in the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments in the first year, and a similar sum in the succeeding year.

(2) Should either of the above Scholarships be not earned in any year it shall be awarded in the next year as an additional scholarship in the particular branch of the endowment and in which it is not earned, subject to the terms of clause (1) being fulfilled.

(3) The person appointed under section 5 (1) of Act VI of 1890 to administer the trust shall be the Principal of the Medical College, Calcutta, for the time being.

(4) The Principal of the Medical College, Calcutta as such Trustee as aforesaid, shall appropriate and apply the interest from the said Government securities, which shall be paid to him by the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments for the Lower Provinces, in the manner provided in clause (1) hereof and then, if there be any balance, in awarding an additional prize or prizes to the second best or successful candidate or student in order of merit in the classes described in clause (1).

(5) If at any time hereafter the said Scholarships shall be deemed by the Principal of the Medical College, Calcutta, to have become in any way unnecessary or inexpedient the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal may, with the consent or approval in writing of the administrators to the donor's estate, or their heirs or representatives, if any, whom failing, then at the sole discretion of the Lieutenant Governor, appropriate the interest of the said Government securities for any other similar purpose as may be decided upon by the Local Government.

CALCUTTA UNIVERSITY NOTICE

THE Senate will proceed in the month of August 1900 to the election of a Tagore Professor of Law for the term of one year, to commence on the 1st of November 1900

The salary of the Professorship is Rs 9,000 per annum, and the Professor will be expected to deliver a course of not less than twelve lectures on one of the following subjects —

- (1) The Interpretation of Deeds, Wills, and Statutes in British India
- (2) The Law relating to the sale of Immoveable Property otherwise than by act of parties
- (3) The Rules of Interpretation in Hindu Law, with special reference to the Mimansa aphorisms as applied to Hindu Law

Candidates for the Professorship are requested to forward their applications to the Registrar on or before the 1st May 1900 stating on which of the above named three subjects they are prepared to lecture. Each candidate will forward with his application one hundred copies of a brief synopsis of his proposed lectures and if he so pleases, the same number of copies of his Introductory Lecture

The Professor will be expected to commence his lectures in November 1900, to complete the delivery thereof in the following January, and to hold an examination of the students who have attended his lectures. He will be further required to send to the Registrar a complete manuscript copy of his lectures within five months from the commencement of the delivery thereof

No person will be admitted to compete from whom the Secretary, Civil Service Commission, has not received, on or before the 2nd July 1900, an application on the prescribed form, accompanied by a list of the subjects in which the Candidate desires to be examined

The Order for admission to the Examination will be posted on the 18th July 1899 to the address given on the Form of Application. It will contain instructions as to the time and place at which candidates will be required to attend, and as to the manner in which the fee (£6) is to be paid

Civil Service Commission,
May 1899

REGULATIONS

The following Regulations, made by the Secretary of State for India in Council, are published for general information —

1. An Examination for admission to the Civil Service of India, open to all qualified persons, will be held in London in August of each year. The date of the Examination and the number of appointments to be made for each Province will be announced beforehand by the Civil Service Commissioners

2 No person will be deemed qualified who shall not satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners—

(i) that he is a natural born subject of Her Majesty,

(ii) that he had attained the age of twenty-one, and had not attained the age of twenty three, on the first day of the year in which the Examination is held

[NB—In the case of Natives of India it will be necessary for a Candidate to obtain a certificate of age and nationality signed, should he be a resident in British India, by the Secretary to Government of the Province, or the Commissioner of the Division within which his family resides, or should he reside in a Native State, by the highest Political Officer accredited to the State in which his family resides]

(iii) that he has no disease, constitutional affection, or bodily infirmity unfitting him, or likely to unfit him, for the Civil Service of India,

(iv) that he is of good moral character

3 Should the evidence upon the above points be prima facie satisfactory to the Civil Service Commissioners, the Candidate, on payment of the prescribed fee, will be admitted to the Examination. The Commissioners may, however, in their discretion at any time prior to the grant of the Certificate of Qualification hereinafter referred to, institute such further inquiries as they may deem necessary, and if the result of such inquiries, in the case of any Candidate, should be unsatisfactory to them in any of the above respects, he will be ineligible for admission to the Civil Service of India, and if already selected, will be removed from the position of a Probationer

4 The Open Competitive Examination will take place only in the following branches of knowledge —

Under the head of "English Law" shall be included the following subjects, viz — (1) Law of Contract, (2) Law of Evidence, (3) Law of the Constitution (4) Criminal Law, (5) Law of Real Property, and of these five subjects Candidates shall be at liberty to offer any four, but not more than four

(a) A Syllabus defining the character of the Examination in the various subjects may be obtained on application to the Secretary, Civil Service Commission.

Candidates are at liberty to name any or all of these branches of knowledge (a) None is obligatory

5. The merit of the persons examined will be estimated by marks, and the number set opposite to each branch in the preceding regulation denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it.

6. The marks assigned to Candidates in each branch will be subject to such deduction as the Civil Service Commissioners may deem necessary (b) in order to secure that no credit be allowed for merely superficial knowledge

7. The Examination will be conducted on paper and visd voce, as may be deemed necessary

8. The marks obtained by each Candidate, in respect of each of the branches in which he shall have been examined, will be added up, and the names of the several Candidates who shall have obtained, after the deduction above mentioned, a greater aggregate number of marks than any of the remaining Candidates, will be set forth in order of merit, and such Candidates shall be deemed to be selected Candidates for the Civil Service of India, provided they are in other respects duly qualified. Should any of the selected Candidates become disqualified, the Secretary of State for India will determine whether the vacancy thus created shall be filled up or not. In the former case, the Candidate next in order of merit, and in other respects duly qualified, shall be deemed to be a selected Candidate. A Candidate entitled to be deemed a selected Candidate, but declining to accept the nomination as such, which may be offered to him, will be disqualified for any subsequent competition

9. Selected Candidates before proceeding to India will be on probation for one year, at the end of which time they will be examined, with a view of testing their progress in the following subjects (c) —

(7) Chinese (for Candidates assigned to the Province of Burma only)	400

In this Examination, as in the Open Competition, the merit of the Candidates examined will be estimated by marks (which will be subject to deductions in the same way as the marks assigned at the Open Competition), and the number set opposite to each subject denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it. The Examination will be conducted on paper and visd voce as may be deemed necessary. This Examination will be held at the close of the year of probation, and will be called the 'Final Examination'

If any candidate is prevented by sickness or any other adequate cause from attending such examination, the Commissioners may, with the concurrence of the Secretary of State for India in Council, allow him to appear at the Final Examination to be held in the following year, or at a special examination

10. The selected Candidates will also be tested during their probation as to their proficiency in Riding

The examinations in Riding will be held as follows —

- (1) Shortly after the result of the Open Competitive Examination has been declared, or at such time or times as the Commissioners may appoint during the course of the probationary year
- (2) Again, at the time of the Final Examination, Candidates who may fully satisfy the Commissioners of their ability to ride well and to perform journeys on horseback, shall receive a Certificate which shall entitle them to be credited with 200 or 100 marks according to the degree of proficiency displayed, to be added to their marks in the Final Examination

(a) A Syllabus, defining the character of the Examination in the various subjects may be obtained on application to the Secretary, Civil Service Commission

(b) No deduction will be made from the marks assigned to Candidates in Mathematics or English Composition

(c) Instructions, showing the extent of the Examination will be issued to the successful Candidates as soon as possible after the result of the Open Competition is declared

* The principal Vernacular Language prescribed for each Province to which Candidates are assigned is as follows —

For the North Western Provinces and Oudh, the Punjab, and the Central Provinces

Hindustani

For Burma

Burmese.

For Bombay

Marathi

For Madras

Tamil or Telugu

Hindustani or Bengali

In Hindustani the Candidate will be required to be acquainted with both the Persian and the Nagari character and in the case of the last two Provinces mentioned above a Candidate whose Vernacular Language is either of the language shown against his Province shall offer the other for examination

These subjects may not be offered by any Candidate who has offered them at the Open Competition.

- (3) Candidates who fail to obtain this Certificate, but who gain a Certificate of minimum proficiency in Riding, will be allowed to proceed to India, but will be subjected on their arrival to such further tests in Riding as may be prescribed by their Government, and shall receive no increase to their initial salary until they have passed such tests to the satisfaction of that Government. A Candidate who fails at the end of the year of probation to gain at least the Certificate of minimum proficiency in Riding will be liable to have his name removed from the list of Selected Candidates

11 The selected Candidates who, on examination, shall be found to have a competent knowledge of the subjects specified in Regulation 9, and who shall have satisfied the Civil Service Commissioners of their eligibility in respect of nationality, age, health, character, conduct during the period of probations, and ability to ride, shall be certified by the said Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India, provided they shall comply with the regulations in force, at the time, for that Service

12 Persons desirous to be admitted as Candidates must apply on Form  which may be obtained from "The Secretary, Civil Service Commission, London, S W," any time after the 1st December, in the year previous to that in which the Examination is to be held. The Forms must be returned so as to be received at the office of the Civil Service Commissioners on or before the 1st July (or, if that date should fall upon a Sunday or public holiday, then, on or before the first day thereafter on which their office is open) in the year in which the Examination is to be held

The Civil Service Commissioners are authorized by the Secretary of State for India in Council to make the following announcements —

- (i) Selected Candidates will be allotted to the various Provinces upon a consideration of all the circumstances, including their own wishes, but the requirements of the Public Service will rank before every other consideration
- (ii) An allowance amounting to £100 will be given to all Candidates who pass their probation at one of the Universities or Colleges which have been approved by the Secretary of State, viz., the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge, Dublin, Glasgow, Edinburgh, St Andrews and Aberdeen Victoria University, Manchester, University College, London and King's College, London provided such Candidates shall have passed the Final Examination to the satisfaction of the Civil Service Commissioners, and shall have conducted themselves well and complied with such rules as may be laid down for the guidance of selected Candidates. The whole probation must ordinarily be passed at the same Institution. Migration will not be permitted, except for special reasons approved by the Secretary of State
- (iii) The allowance of £100 will not be paid to any Selected Candidate until he has been certified by the Civil Service Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India and every Certificated Candidate must, before receiving his allowance, give a written undertaking to refund the amount in the event of his failing to proceed to India
- (iv) All Candidates obtaining Certificates will be also required to enter into covenants, by which, amongst other things they will bind themselves to make such payments as under the rules and regulations for the time being in force they may be required to make towards their own pensions or for the pensions of their families. The stamps payable on these covenants amount to £1
- (v) The seniority in the Civil Service of India of the Selected Candidates will be determined according to the order in which they stand on the list resulting from the combined marks of the Open Competitive and Final Examinations
- (vi) Selected Candidates will be required to report their arrival in India within such period after the grant of their Certificate of Qualification as the Secretary of State may in each case direct
- (vii) Candidates rejected at the Final Examination held in any year, will in no case be allowed to present themselves for re-examination

N B—A Manual of Rules and Regulations applicable to members of the Covenanted Civil Service of India has been compiled by permission of the Government of India and may now be procured either from Messrs A. Constable & Co., 2, Whitehall Gardens, S W, or from Mr. B. A. Arnold, 37, Bedford Street, Covent Garden Price 2s 6d

The Commissioners have been requested by the Secretary of State for India to draw the attention of Selected Candidates to the prefatory note attached to this manual, as it is considered important that it should be clearly understood that this compilation is not to be regarded in any other light than that of a collection, made for facility of reference, of certain information and rules that it is by no means exhaustive, and that it is liable to such modifications as may from time to time be sanctioned by competent authority.

SIR,

I beg to inform you that I wish to be a Candidate at the Examination for the Civil Service of India, which is appointed to commence in London on the 1st of August 1900

I hereby declare that I was born on the _____ day of 18____, and that therefore I had attained the age of 21 years and had not attained the age of 23 years on the 1st of January 1900, I also declare that I have no disease, constitutional affection, or bodily infirmity unfitting me, or likely to unfit me, for the Civil Service of India, and that I am of good moral character, and otherwise eligible under the Regulations

This should be given on the form attached. I send herewith a statement of the subjects in which I desire to be examined

I also send herewith a Certificate of my Birth issued under Notification of the Government of India, No 2252, dated 21st August 1888, as amended by Notification No 404, dated 19th May 1898

Candidates who are not Natives of India should strike out this paragraph

Candidates not born within the British Dominions should state this fact in a separate letter

* If you have never been examined insert here the word never

† If you have been examined give the date, etc., of the last occasion

I beg further to add that I have*_____been examined under the directions of the Civil Service Commissioners in the year 18____† as a Candidate for the situation of_____

I am, SIR

Your obedient Servant,

EVIDENCE OF AGE TO BE REQUIRED FROM CANDIDATES FOR THE CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA

I Every Candidate born in the United Kingdom should be prepared to produce when required, a Certificate from the Registrar General of Births, Marriages, and Deaths, or from one of his provincial Officers. This Certificate may be obtained from the Registrar General in London, Dublin or Edinburgh, or from the Superintendent Registrar of the district in which the birth took place

II A Candidate born of European parents in India should be prepared to produce, when required a Certificate of Baptism from the district in which he was baptised. If this does not also mention the date of birth, it should be accompanied by a statutory declaration by one of the Candidate's parents, stating the date and place of birth. When such certificates are not in the possession of the candidates an Extract from the Registers kept at the India Office will probably be obtainable

III A Candidate who is a Native of India must, before he can be admitted to the Competition, have his age and nationality certified by the Government of India, or of the Presidency or Province in which he may have resided

[No Certificates except those issued under Notification of the Government of India No 2253 dated 21st August 1888 will be accepted for this competition]

Except as noted in paragraphs II and III, every Candidate who proves to be successful is expected to produce a certificate of Birth. The Civil Service Commissioners will not in ordinary cases accept a Certificate of Baptism, or other testimony, unless they are first satisfied that a Certificate of Birth cannot be procured

Official Certificates of Birth may generally be obtained as follows —

- (a) For persons born in England or Wales since 30th June 1837 — From the Registrar General, Somerset House, London, or from the Superintendent Registrar of the district in which the birth took place
- (b) For persons born in Scotland since 31st December 1854 — From the General Register Office, Edinburgh, or from the Registrar of the parish or district in which the birth took place
- (c) For persons born in Ireland since 31st December, 1863 — From the General Register Office, Dublin or from the Superintendent Registrar of the district in which the birth took place
- (d) For persons of English, Scottish, or Irish parentage born on board British ships since the dates mentioned in (a), (b) and (c) respectively — From the General Register Office London, Edinburgh, or Dublin, according to parentage
- (e) For persons born in India of European parents — From the Director of Funds, India Office, London, S W [These are Certificates of Baptism, but they usually furnish the date of birth and are then accepted as Certificates of Birth]

Any Candidate who cannot produce a Certificate of Birth from one of the authorities named should if possible, procure a Certificate of Baptism, and should then apply to the Secretary, Civil Service Commission, for further instructions.

CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA,

CLERKSHIPS (CLASS I) IN THE HOME CIVIL SERVICE, AND EASTERN CADRESHIPS.

Syllabus showing the extent of the Examination in certain subjects

English Composition—An Essay to be written on one of several subjects specified by the Civil Service Commissioners on their Examination Paper

English Language and Literature—The Examination will be in two parts. In the one the Candidates will be expected to show a general acquaintance with the course of English Literature as represented (mainly) by the following writers in verse and prose, between the reign of Edward III and the accession of Queen Victoria

Verse—Chaucer, Langland, Spenser, Shakespeare, Milton, Dryden, Pope, Gray, Collins, Johnson, Goldsmith, Crabbe, Cowper, Campbell, Wordsworth, Scott, Byron, Coleridge, Shelley, Keats

Prose—Bacon, Sir Thomas Browne, Milton, Cowley, Bunyan, Dryden, Swift, Defoe, Addison, Johnson, Burke, Scott, Macaulay (Essays and Biographies)

A minute knowledge of the works of these authors will not be looked for in this part of the Examination which will however, test how far the Candidates have studied the chief productions of the greatest English writers in themselves, and are acquainted with the leading characteristics of their thought and style, and with the place which each of them occupies in the history of English Literature. Candidates will also be expected to show that they have studied in these authors the history of the English Language in respect of its vocabulary, syntax and prosody.

The other part of the Examination will relate to one of the periods named below, which will follow each other year by year in the order indicated —

1	A D 1360 to A D 1600
(1900)	[Chaucer to Spenser]
2	A D 1600 to A D 1700
(1901)	[Shakespeare to Dryden]
3	A D 1700 to A D 1800
(1902)	[Pope to Cowper]
4	A D 1800 to A D 1832
(1903)	[Nineteenth Century writers to the death of Scott]

The Examination in this part will require from Candidates a more minute acquaintance with the history of the English Language and Literature, as illustrated in the chief works produced in each period, and will be based to a considerable extent, but by no means exclusively, on certain books specified each year by the Commissioners*. The names placed under the dates are intended to suggest the general character of the literary development of the period, and, consequently, the natural limits of the Examination. All the works of Shakespeare, for example, will be regarded as falling within the period 1600 to 1700, all the works of Swift within the period 1700 to 1800, all the works of Scott and Wordsworth, and all the works of Macaulay within the period 1800 to 1832.

French Language and Literature—Translation from French into English, and from English into French. Critical questions on the French Language and Literature.

German Language and Literature—Translation from German into English, and from English into German. Critical questions on the German Language and Literature.

CITY OF BOMBAY IMPROVEMENT TRUST ISSUE OF Rs FIFTY LAKHS FOUR PER CENT GUARANTEED DEBENTURES REPAYABLE IN SIXTY YEARS

WITH the sanction of the Government of India and under the provisions of sections 52 59 of the City of Bombay Improvement Act 1898 the Board of Trustees for the Improvement of the City of Bombay hereby invite tenders for a loan of Rs fifty lakhs bearing interest at four per cent repayable in sixty years by a Sinking Fund to be invested (as required by sections 55 and 56) half yearly in public securities

The interest and sinking fund charges as aforesaid will be a charge on the property and revenues of the Board which include in addition to the properties for the purchase of which the loan is chiefly required the rents of certain vacant lands in the City of Bombay valued in the Schedules of the said Act at Rs 91 01 551 and an annual contribution from the Municipal Fund not exceeding 2 per cent on the total rateable value of all buildings and lands in the city (exclusive of buildings exclusively occupied for public worship or for charitable purposes) which contribution is estimated for 1899 1900 at Rs 4 75,000 besides other receipts reserved to the Board by the provisions of the Act which will be developed by the operations to be undertaken

The interest on these debentures will constitute a charge on the revenue of the Board prior to the charge for interest payable to the Secretary of State for India in Council and to the Corporation on and from 1st April 1900 in respect of the debt on account of the lands vesting in the Board (section 54)

The payment of interest on these debentures and the setting aside and investment of the sinking fund required for their repayment are guaranteed by the provisions of the Statute (assented to by the Governor General of India) whereby it is directed that in the event of any default being made by the Board in any payment of interest or in the event of the Board failing to set aside and invest any sum required to form the sinking fund the Accountant-General of Bombay or other officer for the time being performing the duties of the office of the said Accountant-General shall make such payment or set aside and invest such sum as may be required to be invested (section 80)

The Board reserve to themselves the right of refusing tenders if they consider the rates offered to be too low but subject to this reservation allotments will be made in full to the highest tenderers and rateably to the tenderers offering the lowest rate accepted by the Board

These debentures will be issued for sums of Rs 500 or multiples of Rs 500 as may be required they will be repayable to holder in sixty years and will bear interest at 4 per cent per annum payable half yearly

and the balance on or before Saturday, the 30th September 1899 from which date interest will accrue

The deposit of 2 per cent will be returned if no allotment is made and it will be forfeited if an allotment is not fully taken up on the last date named

Tenders will be received by the Secretary Bombay Improvement Trust up to one o'clock P.M. (gun fire) on Thursday the 31st August 1899 and they will thereafter be opened in the presence of the Chairman of the Improvement Trust

Printed forms of tender can be obtained on application to the Secretary

NEW MEMBERS

The Hon'ble MR BUCKLAND, the Hon'ble MR HANDLEY, the Hon'ble MR SLACK, the Hon'ble MR AICAR, the Hon'ble DR ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA, the Hon'ble BABU BOIKANTA NATH SEN and the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE took their seats in Council

THE LALBAG SUB DIVISION

The Hon'ble RAJA RANAJIT SINHA BAHADUR OF NASHIPUR asked —

Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the inconveniences felt by the people residing within the jurisdiction of the old sub division of Lalbag in the district of Murshidabad owing to the abolition of the said sub division and to the transfer of the civil and criminal jurisdiction of the thanas of Kalaynganj, now called Nabagram, and Sagardighi to the Kandi and Jangipuri sub divisions respectively, and to the orders recently passed by the District Magistrate withdrawing the powers hitherto been exercised without interruption for over four years by the Honorary Magistrates of Lalbag authorized to sit singly to take cognizance of offences on complaints and Police reports? Has the Government any intention to restore the Lalbag sub division, and, if not, will the Government be pleased to re transfer the jurisdiction over the thanas of Nabagram and Sagardighi to the Lalbag civil and criminal courts and to appoint a City Magistrate at Lalbag, or to order the Magistrate of Murshidabad to cancel the orders above referred to?

The Hon'ble MR BOLTON replied —

“The Lieutenant Governor took the opportunity of enquiring locally into the matter referred to by the Hon'ble Member during his recent visit to Murshidabad, and has come to the conclusion that the restoration of the Lalbag subdivision is the most suitable arrangement. Steps will accordingly be taken to re establish the subdivision, with jurisdiction over the area formerly attached to it.”

INCOME AND EXPENDITURE ON ACCOUNT OF ROAD CESS

The Hon'ble RAJA RANAJIT SINHA BAHADUR OF NASHIPUR, said —

Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the income derived from road cess and the expenditure incurred from that fund, item by item, in respect of the several districts of Bengal for every year from 1892 93 to 1897 98?

The Hon'ble MR BAKER replied —

“I lay on the table a statement showing the income from Road Cess in each district for each of the years 1892 93 to 1895 96

“As regards expenditure ‘incurred from that fund’ the question is not clearly understood. Under section 109 of the Cess Act of 1880, the receipts from Road Cess, after payment of the costs of assessment and collection, are payable to the District Fund, and there is no expenditure incurred specifically against them

“If the Hon'ble Member requires details of expenditure on public works incurred by District Boards, the figures will be collected, but the operation may take some time.”

ROAD AND PUBLIC WORKS CESSSES

The Hon'ble RAJA RANAJIT SINHA BAHADUR OF NASHIPUR, said —

Will the Government be pleased to furnish a statement showing the joint collection charges of the road and public works cesses for every year, from 1877 78 to 1898 99, and the amount of costs borne by the District Boards and the Provincial Revenues, respectively?

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER replied —

"I lay on the table a statement giving the information asked for, so far as it is available. For the first two years, 1877 78 and 1878 79, the amount debited to Local Funds was not shown separately and the figures cannot now be furnished. The figures for 1898 99 are not yet fully available.

OUTRAGES ON WOMEN IN MYMENSINGH

The Hon'ble RAJA RANAJIT SINHA BAHADUR OF NASHIPUR asked —

Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the reports which appeared in the Indian Mirror of the 22nd June last and the Hitabadi of 13th, 20th and 27th Jaisla 1306 BS and other newspapers regarding the outrages and assaults on women in the district of Mymensingh, and will the Government be pleased to state what steps, if any, it has taken in the matter?

The Hon'ble MR. BOLTON replied —

"The statements which appeared in the newspapers attracted the notice of the Government and reports were called for from the Magistrate of the district and the Commissioner. There has been no marked increase in offences against women during the present year, but many cases have occurred in recent years, the crime having been prevalent in the district for a very long period. During both Sir Charles Elliott's and Sir Alexander Mackenzie's administration orders were issued to ensure more effective investigation of cases and prosecution of offenders. The Police have not since been remiss, and many convictions, accompanied by heavy sentences, have been secured. These punishments have presumably not been without effect on the bad characters, but further special action appears necessary. The Lieutenant Governor has accordingly sanctioned the deputation of Special Police Inspectors to the district, to assist the ordinary Police. These officers will take up all serious cases reported, and the detection of crime will, it is hoped, be more prompt and effectual. They will also be utilised for enquiries as to the propriety of proceedings against desperate and dangerous characters under section 110 (f) of the Code of Criminal Procedure."

WATER SUPPLY IN THE MUFASSAL

The Hon'ble RAJA RANAJIT SINHA BAHADUR OF NASHIPUR asked —

Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement, district by district, showing the amount spent on account of the water supply in the mufassal and the number of wells and tanks excavated and re-excavated for the last 5 years?

The Hon'ble MR BAKER replied —

"I will lay on the table a statement showing the amount spent on water supply by District Boards and Municipalities during the five years 1893-94 to 1897-98. The other figures asked for by the Hon'ble Member are not available."

SALARIES OF MINISTERIAL OFFICERS

The Hon'ble BABU JATRA MOHAN SEN said —

Having regard to the sympathetic views entertained towards the ministerial officers by the Government, may I be permitted to ask whether the Government may be disposed to grant annual increment to the salaries of the ministerial officers, who are allowed under the present rules biennial increments? This arrangement, I venture to suggest, will not probably effect any appreciable alteration in the budget statement.

The Hon'ble MR BAKER replied —

"The views of this Government regarding the salaries of ministerial officers have been expressed on several occasions in this Council, and were stated again during the last budget debate. It has already been explained that the sanction of the Government of India is required under the rules before any general measure of the kind contemplated can be undertaken. Subject to such sanction, it is the Lieutenant Governor's desire to take up the question when financial conditions permit, but His Honour does not consider that the conversion of biennial into annual increments would be an appropriate or economical method of dealing with it."

STATEMENT AS TO THE COURSE OF BUSINESS

THE Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said — "Gentlemen of the Council,—The first item on the list of agenda to day is a statement—and it shall be a short statement—by the President as to the legislative business that will come before the Council during this session. It is probable that later on in the session a Bill will be brought before you for consideration in regard to the appointment and remuneration of the establishment of Civil Court amins. That will be a short and simple Bill. Otherwise your time will be absorbed by the great and engrossing discussion regarding the Calcutta Municipal Bill. Under ordinary circumstances it would have been our duty to day to commence the discussion upon the Report of the Select Committee which presented its opinions last April. As you all are aware, there has been received from the Government of India a grave and important despatch, in which the Government of India convey to us their opinion that there should be a material alteration in the constitution of the Corporation of Calcutta. My answer to that as Lieutenant Governor of Bengal is in your hands. To that answer I have nothing to add, and from that answer I have nothing to retract. It is now the business of the revived Select Committee to consider the recommendations which have been made to it by the Government of India. The Select Committee will be re-constituted to-day, and it will be its business to go through the draft prepared by the Select Committee of April and to determine in what way changes are necessary to give effect to the views of the Government of India."

CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL BILL.

THE Hon'ble MR BAKER moved that the Hon'ble Mr MACKENZIE and the Hon'ble Mr APCAR be added to the Select Committee on the Calcutta Municipal Bill

The Motion was put and agreed to

The Hon'ble Mr BAKER also moved that the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE be re appointed to the Select Committee on the Calcutta Municipal Bill

The Motion was put and agreed to

The Hon'ble Mr BAKER also moved that the Calcutta Municipal Bill be referred back to the Select Committee for further consideration, with reference to the correspondence between the Government of India and the Government of Bengal, which was published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette of the 12th July, 1899, and with instructions to report within two weeks He said —

“The object of this motion is to enable the Select Committee to consider the views expressed by the Government of India in their letter No 93 of the 17th June last, which have received the acceptance of the Local Government

“After the remarks that have fallen from His Honour the President, it is not necessary for me to enlarge upon the proposals put forward by the Government of India Those proposals and the reasons for them have been before the Public since the 12th of last month, and are no doubt familiar to all Members of this Council They are four in number Firstly it is proposed to reduce the number of Ward Commissioners from 50 to 25, so that the Corporation shall consist of 50 Commissioners, of whom one half are elected at ward elections and one half are appointed by Government or nominated by special constituencies This plan follows generally the model of the Bombay Corporation Secondly, it is proposed to follow the same model in respect of the constitution of the General Committee, and to provide that of the total number of 12 members, eight shall be elected by the entire Corporation and four shall be appointed by Government Thirdly, it is proposed to enact provisions to secure that the proportion of the General Committee which is to be elected by the entire Corporation, shall be a strictly fair and proportionate representation of the constituents of the electoral body And fourthly, it is proposed to lay down rules for the appointment of Special and Sub Committees which shall secure their being truly representative

“These proposals, if adopted, will involve comparatively few changes in the Bill as now amended, and the Select Committee should have no difficulty in coming to a decision upon them within the time allowed

“There is, however, another point as to which I wish to say a few words, for although it arises directly out of the proposals of the Government of India, it is not expressly mentioned in the correspondence I refer to the initial arrangements for constituting the first body of Commissioners under the new Bill It will be within the recollection of Members that the Select Committee proposed that the 25 Commissioners appointed by Government or nominated by the Chamber of Commerce, the Trades Association, and the Port Trust should all vacate their seats on the 1st April, 1900, the date on which it is expected that the Bill will come into force but that, at the instance of the members representing the Corporation, it was provided that the 50 elected Ward Commissioners under the present Act should retain their seats until 1st April, 1901, the date up to which they would have been entitled to sit if there were no change in the law This arrangement was urged upon us with a view to avoid the trouble and expense of holding a fresh general election in advance of the usual date As the original Bill proposed no change in the number of the Commissioners, there seemed no good reason why the wishes of the representatives of the Corporation should not be acceded to and for this reason the Select Committee agreed to adopt them

"But if, in accordance with the views of the Government of India, it is now decided to reduce the number of elected Commissioners to 25, it is no longer possible to allow the old Ward Commissioners to retain their seats when the new Act comes into force. They will have to vacate their seats, like the nominated Commissioners, and arrangements must be made to constitute an entire new body of Commissioners, who shall hold office from 1st April, 1900. As regards the nominated Commissioners, there is no difficulty. The Bill already provides for their appointment in advance of the necessary date, and no change is required. But as regards the elected Commissioners the matter is less simple. We cannot hold an election under the new Act in advance of the due date, because under the Bill changes have been made in the procedure for holding elections. The preparation of an election roll has been made compulsory, and the compilation of this must be taken up in the month of September preceding the elections. These conditions could not, for obvious reasons, be carried out in respect of the first general election if that is held before the Act comes into general operation. It has accordingly been suggested that the first general election should be held in March, 1900, under the provisions of the present Act of 1888, with the proviso that each ward shall elect only one Commissioner instead of two, and each Commissioner so elected shall hold office under the new Act, from the 1st April, 1900, for the usual term of three years. This is the solution of the difficulty which commends itself to Government as at present advised, and it will be laid before the Select Committee, with a view to the necessary amendments being made in the Bill. Government, however, does not desire to bind itself to this plan, and if any Member has a better solution to offer, it will be open to the Committee to consider it."

The Hon'ble MR APCAR said — "I crave the indulgence of the Council, which I am sure will be extended to me by yourself, in consideration of the circumstance that I appear here for the first time to day, and because of the present juncture relating to the great and engrossing subject which Your Honour has referred to, namely, the Calcutta Municipal Bill.

"If I am in order, I desire to explain, in order that I may not be put into a false position, the reason why I ask for an adjournment of the Council to enable me to prepare myself to represent the interests I have come here to represent. Your Honour is aware that there have been circumstances that delayed my appointment as a Member of this Council being made, and as a matter of fact it was not made until the 18th July last. I could not be expected before my appointment was made to begin to prepare myself for the consideration of the subjects to be brought before this Council. I have found that my attention has been required to be given to an overwhelming mass of material which has occupied my time wholly. I have been most anxious to learn what the course of business at this meeting would be, but I have for various reasons which are known to you, Sir, wholly failed to learn anything with certainty until Thursday last, and therefore I could not, I dared not, stop my study of the subject as a whole to give my mind to the preparation of any particular matter. I do not seek to attach blame to any one for my being left uninformed as to the business to be brought forward. I certainly have not, on my part, been remiss in any way, and the fact remains that I tried my best and I received no notice of the business until very lately. And, lastly, my attention was drawn to certain points of detail in the Bill which I have not had time to consider, but to which I have thought that I ought to give my attention with the view of proposing amendments to help the Council. That distracted my attention and threw me back, and I am now in the position that I have not got the papers I require and I am not prepared. If Your Honour desires that I should go on, I shall do so, but I shall be better able to do so if I am allowed an extension of time, and I shall be glad if you, Sir, will see your way to postpone the further consideration of the matter now before the Council to next Saturday. I leave myself entirely in your hands, feeling sure that every consideration will be shown to me, and that Your Honour will do what is right under the circumstances."

The Hon'ble the President said :—"Gentlemen, I think it would be the wish of all of you that every reasonable consideration should be given to any Hon'ble Member of this Council, particularly to a newly joined Member, who has described the difficulties of his position in the very feeling language in which the Hon'ble Mr Apear has described his difficulties to you. But I venture to think that the question upon which he and other Hon'ble Members of this Council wish to address us is, after all, however grave, not a very complicated or difficult subject. The issue before us at this moment is simply the proposal of the Government of India as to the alteration in the constitution of the Corporation. These are, as I have said, grave matters in which we are all deeply interested, and upon them there are very strong and differing opinions. But the issue is not one which requires great study or extremely elaborate application. And therefore I think it will meet all purposes of Hon'ble Members of this Council if, in order to give time to finally prepare themselves upon an issue of this description, I adjourn the Council till Monday. The Council is accordingly so adjourned."

The Council adjourned to Monday, the 7th August, 1899

No 483P—D

POLITICAL—(Jails)

Dated Darjeeling, the 6th July 1899

Read—

Letter No 4306, dated 26th April 1898 from the Inspector General of Jails, submitting the Annual Reports on the Alipore and Hazaribagh Reformatory Schools for 1898

Read also—

The Reports for the years 1897 and 1898, and the orders of Government recorded thereon

The Report on the Reformatories for the year 1898 was received from the Inspector General of Jails in print on the 23rd May

2 The two institutions had, on the last day of 1897, 554 inmates, of whom 212 were at Alipore and 342 at Hazaribagh. The number of boys who were released, or transferred, or who died or escaped was 178, and the admissions were 92, the total number remaining at the end of the year being thus 468, of whom 194 were at Alipore and 274 at Hazaribagh. Of these, 304 were Hindus and 148 Muhammadans, 15 belonged to aboriginal tribes, and 1 was a Native Christian. The admissions during the year fell off largely, the figure for the previous year being 167 and the average for the five preceding years 135. The decrease was presumably due in a large measure to the use by Magistrates of the provisions of section 31 of Act VIII of 1897. Information on the subject is not, however, available, and the Commissioners of Divisions will be requested to furnish it in future, for incorporation in this report. It is expected that, under the provisions just mentioned, the annual admissions into the Reformatories will be substantially reduced. Rules were issued, under the Act, in February last, defining what youthful offenders should be sent to the Schools by the Courts and regulating the periods of their detention. The number of releases from the institutions was considerably in excess of admissions, including the cases of 40 young boys whom the Government thought it desirable to release under section 14 of the Act, on account of their extreme youth. The Lieutenant Governor will be obliged if the Commissioners will examine the records in recent admissions to see whether there are cases which might have been more suitably disposed of under section 31. The daily average number of boys was 203.98 at the Alipore School and 311.16 at the Hazaribagh School, as compared with 189.89 and 344.04 respectively in 1897. The general health of the boys was good, although there was an increase, as compared with the previous year, both in the number of admissions to hospitals and in the average number of sick, due, at Alipore, to epidemics of chicken pox and influenza, and, at Hazaribagh, to an increase in cases of intermittent fever.

3 Offences, Punishments, and Mails—The total number of offences recorded at Alipore was 217 against 222 in the previous year, and at Hazaribagh 173 against 248. In all, 95 boys, or 46 per cent of the daily average number of inmates, were punished during the year at Alipore, and 111 or 36 per cent at Hazaribagh. The Inspector General reported on the marked divergence in regard to offences and punishments between the two schools which the Lieutenant Governor commented on in the Resolution on the Report for 1897. The returns showed a continuous decrease in offences at Hazaribagh against a continuous increase at Alipore, and a much higher proportion of "serious" offences, with fewer punishments for such offences at Hazaribagh than at Alipore. The Inspector General explained that the high proportion of "serious" offences at Hazaribagh was due to thefts of fruit in the garden and attempts to damage looms and otherwise obstruct the new industry of blanket weaving which was then being introduced, and that the personal influence of Mr Hill, who has had charge of the Reformatory for many years, probably enables him to maintain discipline with fewer punishments. The matter is not of practical importance, as the Lieutenant-Governor is satisfied that there is no laxity in the management of either School, but the Inspector-General will probably be able to ensure a more uniform classification of offences for the future. Marks for good conduct were earned by 172 boys or 84 per cent. at Alipore, and by 295 boys or 90 per cent. at Hazaribagh. Marks are awarded weekly and entitle the boys to a small money gratuity, half of which may be spent in small luxuries, such as fruits and sweetmeats, while the other half is placed in the Post office Savings Bank for the benefit of the boys on their release. The advantage of earning marks being thus immediately apparent is said to be well understood and appreciated.

4. Instruction and Gymnastics—The only change made in the educational system during the year was the discontinuance at Hazaribagh of night school from 6 to 7.30. The Superintendent found that little good resulted from it, and the difficulty in maintaining discipline among the boys while doing their lessons at that hour in a bad light was great. Night school was abandoned at the Alipore Institution in 1897 for similar reasons. Both the Reformatories were visited by the Inspector and Deputy Inspector of Schools of their respective circles. The teaching of drill and gymnastics is reported to have been continued during the year with good effect. At Alipore sports were occasionally held on holidays, and the boys competed for small prizes. The trades taught at Alipore were the same as in the previous year, viz., carpentry, book binding, cane-work, blacksmith's work, gardening, tin-work, and printing. At Hazaribagh shoe making and tan work were discontinued, owing to failure to obtain work to employ the boys engaged in them. Blanket weaving was also discontinued. The trades remaining are weaving, tailoring, carpentry, blacksmith's work, and gardening. The question of the proper training to be given to the boys at the Reformatories has engaged the Lieutenant-Governor's attention. The results of the enquiries made as to the occupations followed by the boys after their release, as stated in the next paragraph, show a fair proportion of the boys actually earning a living, but very few, indeed, making use of the training which they received at the Schools. The caste system is a serious impediment in the case of Hindu boys, but more of the Muhammadan boys ought to be found employed in the trades taught to them. It is clear that more endeavour must be made to adapt instruction to the hereditary occupation of the boys, and more systematic efforts to obtain employment for them on their discharge. Only then can it be hoped that the instruction given at the schools will result in equipping a larger proportion of the boys for earning a livelihood in after life. The pursuit of profit in the Reformatory industries is a most laudable object, but it can be carried too far. The first and essential object is to teach boys their own trade, as a trade they are likely to follow on discharge if they are not incorrigibly idle or vicious. The variety of instruction will cost money, but the money must not be grudged. A separate communication will be addressed to the Inspector-General on this subject. He has already interested himself in finding employment for boys taught weaving at Hazaribagh, and the thanks of the Government are due to Mr Mehta CIE, proprietor of the Empress of India Mill and a member of the Board of the Alipore Reformatory, for consenting to give a trial to some of these boys at his mill on their discharge. Five boys have recently availed themselves of the opportunity thus offered to obtain suitable employment.

5. Character and occupation of released boys—Of 66 boys discharged from the Alipore School in 1897, 41 were reported to be well conducted, 17 could not be traced, 6 were in jail, 1 was looked on as a suspicious character, and 1 had died. Of 72 boys released from the Hazaribagh School, 27 were well conducted, 7 not traceable, and 5 in jail, 5 were viewed with suspicion, 1 had died, 5 had emigrated to other districts, and 22 were not reported on. The failure to obtain information regarding many of the boys released from this institution was noticed last year, and it should not have recurred. The Inspector-General of Jails is requested to draw the Superintendent's special attention to the point, and to insist on complete reports being punctually submitted in future. The employment of the police to make these enquiries will be discontinued. The boys are likely to be less disposed to evade information as to their residence after release if another agency were employed, and the services of educational inspecting officers and members of village panchayats, as well as of private persons of respectability who may be willing to give their assistance, will be utilised. In the letter from the Home Department, No 424, dated the 15th September 1898, the Government of India directed that in future annual reports a statement should be furnished showing the industries followed by the boys at present in the schools and by boys after release, contrasting the numbers following agricultural with those following other pursuits. Neither of the school reports gives details as to the number of boys under detention following each of the trades taught. Information on this point is, however, furnished by the Inspector General of Jails in his forwarding letter. The reports contain a statement showing the occupation of boys after release, but the information regarding those following agriculture is not precise. The head under which the largest number of released boys is shown is that of labourers. A proportion of these is probably engaged in field operations, and in future those so employed should be shown under the head of agriculture. Of the boys discharged in 1897 from both schools (138), only 8 are shown as following the trades taught to them. Of the rest regarding whom information was obtained 63 were in employment of some kind.

6 Manufactures—The financial results of the manufactures in the schools show a net profit at Alipore of Rs 9,882 9 6 against Rs 7,098 8 8, and at Hazaribagh of Rs 9,268 15 2 against Rs. 5,960 0 1, in the previous year. The profit per head of the number employed was Rs 54-12 8 against Rs 42 9 in 1897 at Alipore, and Rs 85 10 4 against Rs 25 7 7 at Hazaribagh.

7 Financial—The total cost of the Alipore Reformatory was Rs. 22,662 15-7, and of the Hazaribagh Reformatory Rs 22,788-1. The cost per head for each boy was Rs 110 9 5 at the former school and Rs 73 0 11 at the latter, against Rs 119 5 3 and Rs 71-5 2 respectively in 1897. The increased cost per head at Hazaribagh was mainly due to a large issue of new clothing to the boys and the heavier incidence per head of establishment charges on a smaller number of boys.

8 General—One boy was admitted from Assam during the year. With a view to allow of transfers as a means of maintaining discipline among the guard, orders were issued towards the end of the year sanctioning the amalgamation of the three lowest grades of warders at the Hazaribagh Reformatory with the warder establishment of the Central Jail of that place. The desirability of a similar change at Alipore is under consideration. Sanction was also granted to the renewed entertainment of a Civil Hospital Assistant for the Hazaribagh School. On the reduction of the Hazaribagh Jail from a Central to a District Jail, it was arranged that one of the Civil Hospital Assistants attached to the Jail should also attend on the Reformatory boys, and the appointment of a special medical officer for the school was dispensed with. The increase of work in the Jail, consequent on its reconversion into a Central Jail, necessitated the renewal of the separate appointment for the Reformatory. The number of visits to the Alipore School paid by members of the Board of Management was 39 against 37 in the previous year. At Hazaribagh 10 visits were paid by members of the Committee against 5 in 1897. Captain Maynard succeeded Captain Nott as Superintendent of the Reformatory during the year, and has submitted the report on that institution.

Order—Ordered, that a copy of the Reports and a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the President of the Board of Management of the Reformatory School at Alipore, for information and for communication to the members of the Board.

Ordered, also, that a copy of the Reports and a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Inspector General of Jails, for information and for communication to the Superintendent of the Hazaribagh Reformatory School.

Ordered, also, that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The Final Report on the settlement of the Jaipur Government Estates

Letters No 423A, dated the 9th May 1899, from the Board of Revenue, No 490S, dated the 14th March 1899, from the Director of Land Records, and No 1907, dated the 27th October 1898, from the Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division, and a Note by the Collector of Bogra, reviewing the Report of the Settlement Officer

THE Jaipur Government estates, with an aggregate area of 44 1 square miles, are comprised in 153 villages, lying a few in the district of Rajshahi, the rest in that of Bogra. Of some of these villages Government is sole proprietor, in others it has a separate share, and in the remainder it is a joint proprietor. The tract, which is well watered, and has a fertile soil, and a rainfall generally sufficient for purposes of agriculture, appears, from ruins and other evidence, to have been at one time populous and flourishing, but, owing to a change in the course of the rivers, it became malarious and partly depopulated, and dense jungle is still to be found in many places. The construction of the Northern Bengal State Railway, which runs through the estates, the making of new roads, the establishment of new markets, and the general rise in the value of agricultural produce, have brought about a marked change for the better. While formerly settlers had to be attracted by low or nominal rents and advances of money, and were ready to throw up their holdings if the slightest increase in the rent was proposed, there is now an immigration of cultivators from other districts, and a consequent demand for land.

2 The Government estates were originally eight in number, seven of which were purchased by Government at revenue sales, between 1828 and 1837 A D, for nominal sums, as neither the owners nor any one else would hold the lands at the revenue fixed. They were let out to farmers, who held them up to 1878, when direct management was introduced on the completion of a settlement made for 15 years. The remaining estate escheated to Government in 1882. In 1894 the eight estates were by amalgamation reduced to two, in order to obviate much unnecessary work.

3 A resettlement under the Bengal Tenancy Act was ordered in January 1893. As the maps of 1878 were imperfect, and as the record of rights had not been kept up to date, a fresh survey and record of rights was considered necessary. The survey was begun by a professional party in February 1893, and was completed in June 1894. The Settlement Officer first appointed joined on the 9th February 1894, when the cadastral survey with initial record writing was in progress, but proving incompetent was removed in August following. In November 1894, Babu Sarat Chandra Das, Deputy Collector, was appointed Settlement Officer, and was in charge of the operations till the 17th of June 1896, except for a short interval in the recess of 1895. This officer was another unfortunate selection, for during his long tenure of office he did very little, and much of what he did had to be done over again by his successor, Mr Sorab S Day, who was obliged to reattest 91 of the 121 villages dealt with by his predecessor. The work was not finished till February 1898.

4 In the villages in which the Government lands are mixed up with private estates, attestation was difficult, as neither the tenants nor the agents of the private proprietors had any idea of the estates to which particular plots of land belonged, and it was therefore necessary to make a comparison, plot by plot, between the present maps and records and those of 1878. The subsequent proceedings in these villages also appear to have given much trouble, and it is evidently a desirable conclusion that application be made for the partition of kismat Bagana, to which the joint tenures are confined This should be effected as speedily as possible

5 Proceedings under section 103 of the Bengal Tenancy Act having been sanctioned by the Board of Revenue, on applications made by the landlords concerned, in respect of the principal private estates whose lands are interlaced with the Government estates, the survey and record of rights embraced the whole area of the 153 villages in which the Government lands lie The area of the whole tract surveyed is 34,558 acres, or about 54 square miles, of which 28,233 acres, or 44 1 square miles, belong to Government and the remaining 6,325 acres, or 9 9 square miles, to private proprietors The following table compares the results of the present and the previous survey in respect of the Government estates —

	Total settled area.	Unsettled area including waste	Total area
	Acres	Acres.	Acres
Previous survey	18 343	9,794	28,137
Present „	22,223	6 010	28,233

The apparent increase in the total area of the estates by 96 acres is attributed to the greater accuracy of the present survey made by the plane table, as compared with the prismatic compass survey of 1878 Statistics as to the cultivated area in 1878 not being available, it is not possible to ascertain exactly the increase in cultivation since the last settlement, but there has been an increase of 3,860 acres, or about 21 per cent, in the settled area, which approximately represents the increase in cultivation

6 In the whole area surveyed, the extent under crops was found to be 21,307 acres, of which 7,869 bore two crops in the year Winter rice occupied 11,007 acres, or 37 7 per cent, of the total of 29,176 acres, and bhadori or autumn rice 6,366 acres, or 21 8 per cent Jute was found to be the next most important crop of the tract, occupying, as it did, 4,187 acres, or 14 3 per cent, but the recent rise in the price of rice and the coincident fall in that of jute has had the effect of bringing under rice much of the land formerly sown with jute There are over a thousand acres of sugarcane

CLASS OF TENANT	Number of holdings	Aggregate area held by each class	Average area per holding	Rent payable according to present settlement	Average rent per acre
1	2	3	4	5	6
1 Istimrardars	41	Acres 1,022	Acres 24 92	Rs A P 547 14 8 50,520 10 8	Rs A P 0 8 6 2 7 6
2 Rent-free holders	93	738	7 93
3 Settled raiyats paying rents to Government	4,232	16,168	3 82
4 Non-occupancy raiyats paying directly to Government	1,467	4,294	2 92
Total	5,833	22,222*		51,068 8 11
Settled raiyats under istimrardars	326	566	1 73	1,370 0 0	2 6 9
Settled raiyats under rent free tenure holders.	441	600	1 36	1,050 0 0	1 12 0
Under- raiayats of raiyats paying rent to Government	3,767	3,611	96	13,081 0 0	3 10 0

The difference of one acre between this and the total settled area is not explained in the final report but is trifling

The istimraddars are holders of tenures granted in perpetuity at a fixed rent, some of them before the Permanent Settlement. The rent free tenures are of three kinds, viz —

- (1) Brahmottar tenures, or lands granted for the support of Brahmins,
- (2) Pirpal tenures, or lands granted for the performance of rites at the tombs of pirs or Muhammadan saints,
- (3) Niskar tenures, or small plots of land granted by Government to the khas mahal raiyats for the purpose of excavating tanks

8 Transfers of raiyats' holdings were formerly unknown, as, for reasons briefly explained in paragraph 1, lands were not considered of much value. Owing to the change that has since taken place, cultivators' rights are now valuable, and the custom of transferring them by sale, without seeking the permission of the landlord, has grown up. It is stated that the Manager of the Government estates has avoided the open recognition of this practice by causing the vendor to file a written relinquishment and then settling the holding with the purchaser. In spite of this, however, the Settlement Officer found numerous instances where even this formality had been dispensed with, and he entered the new tenants in his records. Care must be taken to see that the splitting up of holdings is not allowed.

9 The number of under raiyats holding lands under the Government raiyats is large, being 3,767. This is stated to result from a practice, prevalent among the raiyats of the Jaipur estates, of holding lands under each other. It is stated that the raiyat landlords do not stand on ceremony in ousting their under raiyats, who can acquire no occupancy rights, as there is no custom in their favour. There would, however, appear to be no reason why these under raiyats should not enjoy the measure of protection afforded them by the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act, and it is desired that the local officials will endeavour to enforce an observance of the law so far as lies in their power.

10 At the time when the Government estates were let in farm there were very few raiyats, and the farmer found it necessary to settle the lands practically for what he could get, whereby great inequalities resulted in the rents. In 1867 an attempt was made by him to introduce a scale of rates, but the raiyats would not agree, and were prepared to relinquish their holdings, and at last the farmer had to accept whatever they chose to pay. At the settlement of 1878 the attempt was repeated by the Settlement Officer, but the raiyats again refused to pay the new rents, and an addition of from 1 anna to 4 annas in the rupee to the existing rent was made by compromise, the exact increase being a matter of bargain in each case. This arrangement caused greater inequalities of rent than ever. In 1882 Mr D J Macpherson, who had been deputed in connection with the Tenancy Bill to enquire and report on the practicability of framing tables of uniform rates in these estates, found that there was still greater competition among landlords for raiyats than among raiyats for land, and came to the conclusion that any attempt to introduce rates based on soil classification would probably fail.

Under these circumstances it was found, as was indeed to be expected, that each raiyat was paying a specified rent for a specified area of land without reference to the capabilities of the soil, and that the incidence of rent was very unequal. A further development of the country had, however, taken place since the date of Mr Macpherson's report, and it was decided that an endeavour should again be made to equalise the incidence of the rents. The Settlement Officer describes the principle of the assessment in the words of the Commissioner. He says he was directed to take the more highly assessed holdings as the standard and then to level up to these the rates of rent of the other holdings. As the description stands, it would certainly be understood that a uniform rate of rent was imposed on all tenants. It is abundantly clear, however, from the Settlement Officer's papers that nothing of the sort was intended, and nothing of the sort was done. What was meant was that, below a certain maximum of existing rent rate, there should be drawn up a series of lower rates, graduated according to soil or other agricultural advantages. This was in fact suggested by some of the raiyats themselves, who strongly protested against an all round addition to the existing rents, such as was made in 1878. The legal basis of enhancement applicable was that of the rise in prices since the former settlement, and this, it appeared from careful enquiries independently made by the Settlement Officer and the Manager of the estates, admitted of an increase of 8 annas in the rupee, or 50 per cent. The lands were classified as follows —

- (1) Bastu or homestead lands which, in accordance with the custom prevailing in the tract, were to be most highly assessed
- (2) Cultivated lands, which were divided into high and low lands, the latter being the better class of the two. Each class was subdivided, according to the local practice, into aul (first class), daim (second class), chham (third class), and chaharam (fourth class). First class high lands included lands bearing thatching grass or bamboo clumps
- (3) Fallow and waste

For the purpose of determining the new rates, the several villages were divided into seven groups, each group consisting of villages which showed a similarity in the average of the existing rents paid by the group of raiyats paying the highest rents. A separate scale of rates for each group was then worked out, subordinate to this maximum, for the several classes of soil in the group. These rates ranged from two rupees to eight annas per acre in the best groups, from one rupee to four annas in the poorest. The rates so determined were applied to holdings paying the lower rent rates. If the resulting rent was less than the existing rent of the holding, the latter was taken, but if it was greater than the existing rent, plus an enhancement of 50 per cent, plus a fair rent for any excess area, it was reduced to the total thus obtained. In assessing excess areas, a deduction of 5 per cent of the entire area of the raiyat's holding was made as a concession to possible errors in the measurement of his lands at the previous survey, and the rate of rent generally imposed on the excess area thus determined was that fixed for second class low lands as being the average of the scale of rates determined for the group. On this method, the existing rents of 1,335 out of the 5,694 Government raiyats have been retained, and those of 3,691 raiyats enhanced. The remaining 673 raiyats were found in possession of unsettled lands for which fair rents were settled. As many as 5,044, or 88.5 per cent, appeared before the Settlement Officer and accepted the rents assessed. The rents of 655 raiyats were settled ex parte on their failure to attend. There was no suit under section 106 and no appeal to the Special Judge. The Lieutenant Governor is pleased to find that suitable rates of rent based on a classification of the soil have at last been introduced in these estates, and that this has been achieved at the instance, and with the general approval, of the raiyats themselves.

11 The total rental of the estates, as finally settled in 1878, was Rs 38,358, which was found to have increased, owing to the settlement of waste lands, to Rs 39,872 in 1893-94, when the settlement operations began. The new rental being Rs 51,068, there has been an increase of Rs 11,196, or about 28 per cent, over the rental of 1893-94. The increase over the rental fixed in 1878 amounts to Rs 12,710, or about 33 per cent, out of which 21 per cent appears to be due to the increase in the settled area since the last settlement, and 12 per cent to the increase in the rates of rent based on the rise in prices. The collections under the new arrangements have, so far, been very satisfactory, and the Lieutenant Governor sees no reason to question the opinion that the assessment, if tardily, has been fairly done. Government also derives a fluctuating revenue from ferries, fisheries, tolls at markets, sales of trees, and permits for collecting honey, but the details and total amount of this income have not been stated in the report.

12 For the whole area dealt with, including private estates (34,558 acres), the cost of the survey amounts to Rs 12,773 8 3, and that of settlement to Rs 33,350 11 1, the incidence of cost per acre being—

	Rs	A	P
Survey	0	5	11
Settlement	0	15	5
Total	1	5	4

The cost has been excessive owing mainly to the bad work done by Babu Sarat Chandra Das, whose conduct has been separately dealt with. Out of the total cost of Rs 46,124 3 4, Rs 6,728 have been apportioned to the private proprietors.

13 The Lieutenant Governor confirms the Board's action in fixing the term of the present settlement at 20 years from the 1st April 1898, the date on which the new rents came into force.

14 The rents are payable in two kists—6 annas in September and 10 annas in March. The Settlement Officer, agreeing with the Manager of the estates, recommends that the two kists should be equal, or 8 annas each. The Lieutenant Governor wishes to be informed of the result of the further enquiry which the Board intend to make in order to ascertain whether the raiyats would agree to such an arrangement, and awaits the Board's recommendations as to the maintenance of the settlement records.

15 The Lieutenant Governor agrees with the Board in thinking that much credit is due to Mr Soiab S Day for the manner in which he has brought the settlement operations to a conclusion, but he is compelled to record his great regret at the absence of supervision in 1894—96, which resulted in so small an undertaking being so grievously delayed. The acknowledgments of Government are also due to the Manager of the estates, Babu Annada Nanda Sen, for the efficient help given by him throughout the proceedings.

Letters No 540A, dated the 8th June 1899, from the Board of Revenue, No 5378 dated the 20th March 1899 from the Director of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture and No 2818, dated the 8th December 1898, from the Collector of Noakhali, reviewing the Report

In August 1896 orders were passed for the settlement of five Government estates in the district of Noakhali under the provisions of Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, the survey being made by the professional Survey Department. Three of these estates are small and the final reports relating to them have been disposed of by the Board. For the remaining two, Lakhi and Badu, a single report has been rightly submitted, for they are adjoining alluvial formations of the same character and entirely owned by Government. The Director of Land Records has suggested that for the future the two estates, which have always been similarly treated, should be amalgamated for purposes of settlement and collection of Government revenue, and the Board have called for reports from the Collector and Commissioner. It is desired that the decision of the Board may be communicated to Government.

2 The two estates in question are chars lying off Sandwip, and probably of later formation than that island. They front the sea, and are exposed to the diluviating action of the tides. At the last census the people numbered 3,764, the majority being Muhammadan. In spite of their litigious disposition they are exceedingly prosperous, and the wages of an ordinary labourer are 5 annas a day. To the happiness of the Hindus there are, it appears, some drawbacks, for not only do they lie under the social cloud common to their race in Sandwip, but owing to the calamity of the flood of 1876, which carried off three fourths of the people, they had to resort to widow marriage. This has so far lowered their prestige with the people of the mainland, that they now are for all practical purposes excluded from their castes.

The two estates were in the hands of the Salt Department up to 1839, when they were transferred to the Collector. It was not, however, until 1846 that the latter took steps to grant leases, for the purpose of reclamation, free of rent, and seven years later they were again given rent free to a Mr Ronald, whose family continued to hold them, at increasing rents, until 1867. They continued in farm until 1872, since which year they have been held khas.

From the four measurements of 1846, 1865, 1879 and 1897, it appears that Lakhi is diminishing in size somewhat rapidly, whilst Badu is slightly increasing.

The present survey and settlement proceedings were commenced in December 1896, Mr F. F. Berkeley took charge of the survey, and Babu Bhupendra Nath Gupta, Officiating Deputy Collector, was in charge of the settlement. The survey and record writing were finished by the following hot weather. The settlement operations were completed by September 1898 and the final report was submitted two months later.

3 Since the last settlement which took effect from 1883-84, Char Lakhi has lost 4,167 acres by diluvion, and Char Badu has gained 638 acres by alluvion. The present areas of the two estates are 15,642 and 5,745 acres, respectively, the area of the two together being 39 42 square miles The following table gives statistics as to the settled and cultivated areas —

NAME OF ESTATE	AREA ACCORDING TO PRESENT SURVEY			CULTIVATED AREA INCLUDING HOMESTEADS OR CHARDS THATCHING GRASS LANDS AND NEW FALLOWS
	Settled area	Unsettled area at the disposal of Government	Total	Last settlement	Present settlement	Increase since last settlement	Percentage of present cultivated area on total area (column 4)
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
Lakhi	Acres 14 977	Acres 665	Acres 15 642	Acres 11 438	Acres 12 852	1 414 acres or 12 3 per cent	82 1
Balu	5 099	652	5 745	3 822	4 1,3	351 acres or 9 1 per cent	72 6
Total	20 070	1 317	21 387	15 260	17 025	1 76 acres or 11 6 per cent	79 5

The percentage of the present cultivated area is very high The staple crop is rice

In the present settlement the rights of the inhabitants have been classified according to the nomenclature of the Tenancy Act The local names howladars, num howladars, krishaks, and joldars are used somewhat loosely, and, in the case of joldars, with two entirely different meanings The howladar was the original tenant, who brought the land under cultivation If his land exceeded 100 bighas, or was mainly cultivated by under tenants or sub tenants of long standing, he was recorded as a tenure holder, otherwise as a settled raiyat Similarly, the num howladars have been entered as under tenure holders or settled riyats The krishaks, with the exception of two entered as tenure holders, have been recorded as settled riyats The joldars are what are elsewhere known as shikmi viz under riyats or korphas, without occupancy rights They have by local custom no rights whatever in the land, and their tenancy is usually of very short duration They appear to share, however, in the general prosperity of the islands The word is also used of six tenants who were originally howladars, and these have been recorded as tenure holders The statement below shows the number and class of tenants paying direct to Government —

	Number of tenants	Area held in acres	Rent payable according to the present settlement	Average area of holding in acres	Average rent per acre

Under raiyats of the 2nd degree	5		5
Rent free under raiyats	7	2	9
Total	1,470	482	1,952

The Settlement Officer has not furnished information as to the acres held or the rents paid by the under tenants. Occupancy rights are freely sold, and it is stated that the landlords never deny the right of an occupancy raiyat to alienate his holding. It is also stated that non occupancy raiyats and even under raiyats usually transfer their rights.

6 In both Lakhi and Badu the soil consists of a rich loam, with little sand in it, and there is very little difference in the quality of the cultivated lands. The classification made is as follows —

Class A 1 — Hasila or cultivated land now fallow (sanpatit, i.e., left fallow for a year) orchard, homestead, and thatching grass land

„ A 2 — Lalabad or virgin soil jungle, and sonat patit or cultivated land abandoned for more than three years

„ A 3 — Malangher or valuable pasture land, unfit for rice

„ A 4 — Dutchar or land little better than mud washed at ordinary tides but growing nonagach or sal tree in abundance

B — Nalail or unculturable, held free of assessment

7 The legal ground for enhancing the existing rates of rent was that of the rise in the price of rice. For purposes of comparison the quinquennial periods 1879-1883 and 1892-96 were selected, and it was ascertained that a rupee would purchase 23 seers 2 chitaks in the former period, and 14 seers in the latter, or, in other words, that the maximum enhancement permissible under the Bengal Tenancy Act was 7 annas in the rupee. But the only class of tenants whose rents have been generally raised are the howladars, viz., those who have been classed as tenure holders and those who have been given the status of settled raiyats. These men, or their predecessors in title, as the first settlers, had to contend with many difficulties and to undergo considerable trouble and expense in clearing the jungle and bringing the land under cultivation, and they suffered very severely, both in life and property, from the cyclone and storm wave of 1876. It was, therefore, decided that, whether classed as tenure holders or settled raiyats, their rents should not be raised by more than 25 per cent. In accordance with this principle, the rate of rent for hasila lands held by howladars has been raised from 10 annas to 12 annas 6 pice per standard bigha, except for five howladars in Lakhi, who had for a long time been paying rent at a rate of 8 annas a bigha, which has been raised to 10 annas. In each case the rent settled was accepted by the tenant, and there has been not a single appeal against the Settlement Officer's decision.

8 No application was filed for the settlement of fair rents for under tenants, but certain of the landlords represented to the Settlement Officer that the rents paid by some of their tenants were unusually low, and in the case of 42 under tenants in Lakhi and 10 in Badu, the existing rents were enhanced with the consent of the parties concerned.

9 The Government revenue now fixed is shown below in comparison with the demand finally fixed at the last settlement, and the existing demand as increased by subsequent settlements of waste lands —

NAME OF ESTATE	Revenue fixed at last settlement	Existing revenue	New revenue	PERCENTAGE OF INCREASE OVER—
				Revenue fixed at last settlement	Existing revenue
1	2	3	4	5	6
Lakhi	Rs 22,718 9 8	Rs 24,276 9 8	Rs 29,848 6 5	31 3	22 9
Badu	7 506 6 2	7,631 12 8	9,916 10 0	32 5	30 3
Total	30,224 15 10	31,908 6 4	39,795 0 5	31 6	24 7

The Settlement Officer states that, owing to the extension of cultivation since the last settlement, the revenue demand could have been raised from that given in column 2 of the above statement to Rs 26,653 1 11 in Lakhi and to Rs 8,273 9 11 in Padu, without any enhancement of the rates of rent. Approximately, therefore, Rs 3,933, or 55 per cent of the increase of revenue in Lakhi over the demand of the last settlement, and Rs 767, or 31 per cent of the increase in Badu, are due to extension of cultivation, and the remainder is due to the enhancement of rates.

10 The present kists for the payment of the rents are considered inconvenient, and, at the instance of the ryots, the Settlement Officer has recommended that they should be altered as follows —

Present kists		Proposed kists
1		2
	As P		As P
May	0 6	July	2 0
August	3 6	October	4 0
November	6 6	January	4 0
February	5 6	April	6 0
Total	16 0	Total	16 0

The recommendations of the Settlement Officer may be disposed of by the Board on receipt of the further report called for by them.

11 The new settlement came into force in April 1899, and the Settlement Officer recommends that it should run for 20 years. Looking to the moderation in the present enhancement, the Lieutenant Governor agrees with the Board in thinking that there is no necessity to fix a longer term than 10 years for the present settlement.

12 The total cost of survey and settlement debitable to these estates is Rs 14,721 10 9, or 11 annas per acre. His Honour agrees with the Board that this is not excessive.

13 The settlement record should, as proposed, be maintained by the Khas mahal staff, in accordance with the rules given in Appendix M to the Survey and Settlement Manual, 1895. The Lieutenant Governor agrees with the Board that the khas tahsil staff and the local Revenue Officers should regularly inspect the permanent boundary marks and take the necessary steps for their maintenance.

14 The Lieutenant Governor confirms this settlement. It has been made throughout under the rules contained in the revised Survey and Settlement Manual of 1895, and he agrees with the Director of Land Records in thinking that their working, as evidenced here, is satisfactory. The Settlement Officer, Babu Bhupendra Nath Gupta, has carried out the settlement with marked ability. The acknowledgments of Government are also due to Mr L F Berkeley of the Survey of India Department, and the services rendered by the Assistant Settlement Officer, Babu Karilash Chandra Bose, and the settlement staff generally, are commendable.

ORDER — Ordered, that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and that a copy of it be sent to the Board of Revenue.

By order of the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal,

F A SLACK,

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE SANITARY COMMISSIONER BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1898

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—SANITATION

Read—

Report of the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, for the year 1898

Read again—

The Report of the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, for the year 1897 and the Resolution of Government recorded thereon

The report, which was due on the 1st May, was received on July 6th. The delay is due to the fact that the Sanitary Commissioner necessarily had to devote almost all his time to the supervision of plague measures. The report was submitted for the first time through the Inspector General of Civil Hospitals who has appended to it a valuable note in which he reviews the salient points in the sanitary history of the year, and compares the conclusions drawn from the figures with those derived from the statistics of hospitals and dispensaries.

2 Birth rate—The number of births registered in 1898 was 2,543,701 against 2,625,841 in the previous year, the ratio per mille of population being 35.79 as against 36.94 in 1897 and 35.61, the average of the previous five years. A particular interest attaches to the figures for the year under report, which illustrate the concluding chapter in the history of the recent famine. The decrease in the birth rate was anticipated by the Sanitary Commissioner in his last report, and is now considered by him to be without doubt due to the low vitality of the people in the preceding year caused by the effects of famine and high prices. He points out that the number of births was everywhere considerably higher during the last five months of the year than during the earlier months, and that this was particularly noticeable in those parts of the Province which were most severely affected by famine.

While, however, there can be no doubt that the famine did exercise a certain influence in this respect, its effects are nevertheless by no means so clearly marked as would naturally be expected, and the view of the Sanitary Commissioner must be accepted with modifications. If the famine were the sole cause of the reduction in the birth rate, we should expect to find that there had been a corresponding reduction in the birth rate of other provinces where famine prevailed, and that in Bengal the reduction was most distinctly marked in the districts most severely affected by the famine. This, however, is not the case. Both in the North Western Provinces and in the Central Provinces the birth rate shows an increase, the former having actually risen from 31.10 in 1897 to 37.35 in 1898, and in Bengal, of the 15 districts which were classed as famine districts, six including Saran, Champaran and Muzaffarpur, show an appreciable increase over the previous year's birth rate. In Saran and Champaran the birth rate was in advance of the mean of the previous five years, while the birth rate in the Patna Division as a whole, which last year was the lowest in the Province, now stands above those of Bundwan and Chota Nagpur, and is only fractionally lower than the average. Moreover, reference to the figures of previous years shows that the greater incidence of births in the later months of the year is by no means an abnormal state of things. It was pointed out by Government in 1894 that it was due to certain months being considered as lucky or unlucky for the celebration of marriages, and this view was accepted by the Sanitary Commissioner in his report for 1895. It would appear then that the fall in the birth rate during the year under report is due, as the Inspector General of Civil Hospitals points out in his note, not solely to the effects of the famine, but in great part to other special causes which can only be fully ascertained by a careful study of the subject extending over a long term of years. Attention, however, must again be drawn to the fact which has on several previous occasions been pointed out, that considerably greater accuracy in registration must be attained before the vital statistics of the Province can be considered as a basis on which definite and satisfactory conclusions can be founded.

Among individual districts, Murshidabad stands first with 43.59 followed by Tippera (43.40) and Noakhali (42.22). Malda shows a remarkable decline from 47.40 last year to 41.56 this year. Calcutta is, as usual, at the bottom of the list with 13.98, the departure of women from fear of plague having doubtless caused the large decrease since last year. Of rural districts Shahabad stands lowest with 29.79. Among towns, Jangipur has been taken to the head of the list by a rise from 37.67 to 42.82, while Jamalpur in Monghyr is second with 44.05 as against 52.62 last year.

In only 12 rural areas was the recorded birth rate up to the general estimate for the whole Province of 50 per mille, and of these there were 3 in each of the districts of Mymensingh and Murshidabad. The lowest birth rate is as usual in Jhalakati. The Government of India having in their review of the report for 1897 repeated an opinion previously expressed that the extraordinarily low rate recorded was due not so much to any special cause as to defective registration, a careful enquiry was made by the Sanitary Commissioner and the District Magistrate, which disclosed the curious fact that out of a total population of 2,465 of whom 399 are females, only 49 of the latter are married women capable of bearing children. The birth rate, however, has increased from 2.11 to 8.45 since last year.

3 Death rate.—The number of deaths registered in 1898 was 1,888,468, giving a ratio of 21.57 per mille as against 2,341,632 and 32.94 in the previous year, and an average for the past 10 years of 2,044,902 and 28.77. The mortality from fever and cholera was particularly low, and the other principal diseases also show a decline. Climatic conditions and an abundant supply of food were no doubt the most important and obvious factors in bringing about this fortunate state of things.

In towns the death rate, owing to the general absence of epidemics, fell to the remarkably low figure of 27.50, as against 35.09 last year, and an average for the last five years of 34.17.

No exceptionally high death rate was recorded anywhere, the only towns which exceed the provincial estimate of 44 per mille being Garulia (52.84) Malda (49.54) and Serampore (44.72).

Only 14 rural areas as against 60 last year show a death rate in excess of 44 per mille. In Maskhal and Chakaria the after effects of the cyclone and storm wave which devastated Chittagong in 1897, made themselves felt in the shape of a severe epidemic of cholera, and in Siliguri in Darjeeling the malarial fever of the 1891 claimed even more victims than usual.

4 Death rate by age and sex.—The death rate among males in 1898 was 28.75 as against 35.87 in 1897 and 30.87, the average of the preceding 10 years. Among females it was 24.40 as compared with 30.03 and 26.68. The diagram appended to the report again shows that at every stage of life the mortality among males is reported to be slightly higher than that among females. So far as children are concerned, the Inspector-General points out that the experience of India does not differ from that observed in Europe. In his last report, Major Dyson expressed with some confidence the view that the explanation was to be found in the greater difficulty of rearing male children, and the greater extent to which male adults are exposed to accidents and the hardships and vicissitudes of an outdoor life in the fields. As regards children, his previously expressed view holds good, but Major Dyson now admits the difficulty of maintaining the correctness of figures which show that the mortality among women of child-bearing age is less than that among males of the same age, and, while partially admitting the soundness of the explanation that registration in the case of females is more defective than in the case of males, calls attention to the large number of widows of child-bearing age, who are exposed to neither the perils of childbirth nor to the hardships undergone by the male sex. Until, however, the standard of correctness in registration is considerably higher than at present, it will be impossible to give a satisfactory explanation of this and other difficulties which present themselves in the examination of vital statistics. The following table compares the mortality according to age during the last two years with that of the previous decade —

	IN 1898		IN 1897		AVERAGE OF PAST TEN YEARS 1888—97
	Deaths	Ratio per mille	Deaths	Ratio per mille	Deaths	Ratio per mille
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Under 1 year	441 079	193 85	495 648	216 15	986 642	168 61
1 year and under 5 years	272 169	84 08	336 2 6	42 11	297 164	37 21
5 to 10 years	150 496	14 04	188 000	17 54	136 640	15 45
10 to 15	9 753	11 96	114 479	14 76	95 547	12 32
15 to 20	90 917	15 46	114 591	19 47	96 758	16 44
20 to 30	187 026	16 11	237 537	20 46	204 972	17 83
30 to 40	168 881	16 72	221 360	21 2	199 753	19 78
40 to 50	143 684	20 93	189 636	27 76	176 855	25 89
50 to 60	127 824	31 44	1 0 666	41 90	155 901	38 37
60 years and upwards	214 303	55 83	273 474	71 24	263 568	68 66
Total	1 888 468	26 57	2 341 632	32 94	2 044 902	28 77

It is curious that the mortality among Musulmans during the year under report is given as 29 53, as against 25 51 among Hindus. The variation is unexplained, and is not a normal one.

5 Registration — The perpetual stumbling block of defective registration was dealt with by the conviction of 1,935 persons for failure to register and the cautioning of 362 more. The amount of fines imposed was Rs 3,052. During the year 239,885 births and 151,235 deaths were enquired into by the vaccination staff, with the result that 3,332 births and 1,776 deaths were found not to have been registered at the thanas. If these figures could be regarded as typical, they would indicate that registration is defective to the extent of 13 per mille in the case of deaths and of 11 per mille in the case of births. The accepted normal estimates are 50 per mille for births and 44 per mille for deaths in Bengal. It is probable, however, that the verification itself was not altogether complete. It must be remembered that it is only since 1892 that any real progress in the improvement of registration has been made. In order to verify the estimate as at present accepted, the results of the approaching census must be awaited. When they are known, much that is now hypothesis will be ascertained fact, and will provide a starting point from which more satisfactory deductions can be made than is at present the case. The Inspector General of Civil Hospitals selects the low mortality registered in Chota Nagpur as a particular instance which throws doubt on the general accuracy of the returns.

6 Principal diseases — The question of the influence of meteorological conditions on the prevalence of fever and cholera is a perennial subject of discussion. In the present year the mortality from fever has been lower than usual, and that from cholera the lowest ever recorded in the Province. The former of these facts Major Dyson can only ascribe to the general healthiness of the year, the latter he considers to be due to the almost normal rainfall of the year and the satisfactory agricultural outturn.

The following table shows the mortality from these two causes and the corresponding rainfall in 1898 and each of the five preceding years —

1893	80 96	1,477,288	126,976
1894	68 81	1,799,833	236,150
1895	54 42	1,634,254	177,087
1896	51 10	1,760,325	226,824
1897	63 53	1,879,132	196,247
1898	68 54	1,419,483	65,020

A glance at these figures will show how difficult it is to establish an immediate connection between meteorological conditions and the prevalence of these two diseases. In 1894, when the rainfall was almost exactly the same as in the year under report, the mortality from each of them was the highest in the quinquennium, and the decrease in fever in 1897, which was noticed in last year's report as being due to the early cessation of the rains in the previous year, has occurred to a still greater extent in 1898, in spite of the abundant rainfall of 1897. It appears impossible to generalise on this subject with the means at our disposal, but much may be expected from Colonel Hendley's proposal to prepare medical histories of each district which shall combine information as to the character and peculiarities of the country in each particular instance with observations on the varying local influence of meteorological conditions on the public health. The mortality from cholera was highest in Chittagong (7.92), while Puri, where the congregation of pilgrims usually gives rise to a high death rate, of which an unfortunate instance has occurred during the current year, was comparatively free from it in 1898.

The high rate of mortality in Chittagong has already been explained. The Sanitary Commissioner and the Inspector General of Civil Hospitals have under consideration a plan for working out in full detail the sanitary arrangements necessary to guard against outbreaks of cholera at fairs and assemblages of pilgrims. The Lieutenant Governor hopes that it will be found possible to put this plan into force at once. Inoculation against cholera has been carried on throughout the year at the Puri cooly depôt, and while no information is available from Assam as to its results, the work is obviously a necessary one, and is reported to have been well and carefully conducted. The seasonal incidence of the disease was highest in Bengal and Orissa during the first five and the last months of the year, while in Bihar it was highest in April and May.

Fever claims, as usual, by far the largest number of victims, though fortunately fewer than last year. It is again pointed out that in the mind of the chankidar fever includes all diseases except cholera and small pox, and the Inspector General of Civil Hospitals specially notices the probable inclusion of respiratory affections and parasitic disorders. The character of the country and the habits of the people, however, make a large mortality from malarial fevers unavoidable. In the last report special notice was given to the opinion of the late Civil Surgeon of Faridpur to the effect that the high mortality from fever in that district was due in great part to the practice of steeping jute in all the standing water available. The opinions of other Civil Surgeons have accordingly been invited, and the Sanitary Commissioner agrees with the views expressed by the Civil Surgeons of 10 out of 13 of the districts where the practice obtains, that, though disagreeable, it is not proved to be specially favourable to the development of malaria. In so far, however, as the practice fouls the water supply, it must prejudice the public health, and is probably one of the causes of bowel complaints.

Of individual districts, the death rate from fever was highest in Noakhali (35.16), Dinajpur (33.43) and Rajshahi 31.16), all of which show an increase on last year's figures. In each of these districts a high rate of fever mortality is constant, and the only special factor noted by the Civil Surgeons is in Rajshahi, where waves of unhealthiness of the nature of influenza passed over the district in March, August and October.

The mortality was lowest in Puri (5.53), Calcutta (8.89) and Ranchi (9.89). It was as usual much lower in urban than in rural areas.

7 Small pox—14,269 deaths from this cause, or 20 per mille, were registered during the year under report as against 19,675, or 27 per mille in the previous year. By far the highest mortality (5.82) was in Puri, where the disease is believed to be fostered by the practice of inoculation. This question is engaging the special attention of the Sanitary Commissioner.

8 Dysentery and Diarrhoea—The deaths from this cause were 37,155—a large falling off from last year and from the average of the last 10 years. The decrease is ascribed to the plentiful harvest and to the lesser incidence of malarial fevers. The highest death rates were returned from Calcutta (4.51) and Howrah (4.08).

9 Other causes—The mortality from other causes, excluding injuries and those already noticed, was 320,081 as against 350,180 in the previous year.

HEADS OF EXPENDITURE	TOTAL EXPENDITURE		DIFFERENCE
	1897-98	1898-97	Increase	Decrease
1	2	3	4	5
	Rs	Rs	Rs	Rs
1 Conservancy including establishment road watering latrines &c	10 68 815	9 21 619	1 37 296

Construction and maintenance of roads	4 19 908	4 36 684		16 776
Total including roads	23 71 332	24 70 948		99 616

The decrease in expenditure on water supply is more than accounted for by the reduction of capital expenditure in Howrah and Bhagalpur by Rs 72,000 and Rs 244,000 respectively.

The large increase in expenditure on conservancy is due to salutary apprehensions of the advent of plague 45·75 per cent of the total income of municipalities was spent on sanitary works, original and recurring. Major Dyson notices with regret that in certain important towns nothing was spent on original sanitary works, but until definite instances of actual deficiencies and neglect are pointed out, the Lieutenant Governor hesitates to impute default to any local body simply on the ground of their expenditure sheet under this heading being blank for the year. The principal deficiency noted in all municipalities is the want of pukka drains and of proper levelling of the drains. These defects are universal in the smaller municipalities, and are in their case more or less inevitable owing to want of funds. It may, moreover, be noted that the desirability of having pukka drains everywhere is by no means universally admitted. Special remarks were made on this subject in the last Municipal Resolution. It is satisfactory to note that in almost all cases where defects are mentioned, remedial measures have been adopted. In Dacca, where the most serious defects are pointed out, great progress has been made in improving the conservancy, though much yet remains to be done. The Sanitary Commissioner includes in his report a table showing the comparative death rate before and after the introduction of drainage and water supply systems in various towns in Bengal. He, however, admits that the deficiencies of registration in the earlier years prevent any useful inference being drawn from the figures—a remark which unfortunately applies, as has already been noticed, to most of the statistical portion of the report.

11 Precautions against plague — The four observation camps at Chausa, Chakradharpore, Mairwa and Khurda Road were in full working order throughout 1898. In the Chausa Camp 636,819 persons were inspected and 24,776 were detained. Among the latter there were 18 deaths, only 5 of which were from plague. The expenditure incurred was Rs 89,359. At Chakradharpur 57,624 persons were examined and 6,012 detained. There was not a single death in the camp. The cost amounted to Rs 61,860. At Mairwa the number of persons inspected and detained was 177,501 and 4,757 respectively. There were four deaths during the year, none of them from plague. The cost was Rs 68,520. At Khurda Road 110,083 persons were examined and 3,478 detained. One death from small pox occurred in the camp. The expenditure was Rs 5,063.

12 Sanitary Board.—The Board were unfortunately unable to hold more than one meeting during the year. They were, however, enabled by circulation of files to undertake the usual consultative work, the most important scheme which came under their consideration being that for the supply of filtered water to the municipalities on the right bank of the Hooghly. Eight alternative projects were prepared by the Sanitary Engineer, the estimated cost varying from 24 to 35 lakhs. These have been separately submitted to Government. The possibility of providing a supply of drinking water for the Patna Municipality from wells sunk in the old bed of the river Sone has now been fully proved, and the work has been taken in hand.

An important experiment in sewage disposal was inaugurated during the past year by the Sanitary Engineer, who was placed on special duty in England for the purpose of enquiring into the subject.

His proposal to carry out experiments on the septic tank principle has been sanctioned by Government, and is now being carried out. The Lieutenant Governor will await the results with much interest. The suggestions made last year by the Board with a view to causing experiments to be made locally on the system of filtration through cinders of sullage water and waste liquids have been circulated to all municipalities. From the reports received it appears that little or no attention has been paid to the subject by municipalities, and that no results of any importance have been achieved. It is probable that the suggestions of the Board were found to involve more intrusion on the privacy of houses than municipal authorities were willing to undertake, or individuals to submit to.

13 Inspections.—Major Dyson was on tour for 162 days during the year. Almost the whole of his time had to be devoted to the organisation and inspection of precautionary measures against plague, and the ordinary sanitary work of the Province has of course suffered from this to a certain extent. Indirectly, however, it may be hoped that compensation will be found in the increased attention on the part of local bodies to sanitation generally, and conservancy in particular, which has been the result of the fear of plague which has overhung the Province during the year under report. Should it prove to have thoroughly and permanently awakened the local authorities to the supreme importance of an efficient system of sanitation, the plague will have done the people of Bengal a service which will go far to counterbalance the trouble and anxiety which it has caused.

The Lieutenant Governor desires to thank Major Dyson for the care he has bestowed on sanitary administration generally and in particular for the untiring energy and attention to detail which he has displayed in all matters relating to the protection of the Province against plague.

WORKING OF THE FIRE BRIGADE IN THE TOWN AND SUBURBS OF CALCUTTA AND IN THE MUNICIPALITY OF HOWRAH FOR THE YEAR 1898 99

NOTIFICATION

No 4131M—The 14th August 1899—The following is published for general information

E N BAKER,
Offg Secy to the Govt of Bengal

No 8920, dated Calcutta the 3rd August 1899

From—E M SHOWER, Esa, Offg Commissioner of Police, Calcutta,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department

I HAVE the honour to submit, in accordance with section 41, Act I of 1893, my report on the working of the Fire Brigade in the Town and Suburbs of Calcutta and in Howrah during the year 1898 99

2 There were no alterations in the constitution of the Fire Brigade. The force stood at the commencement of the year as follows —

Lall Bazar		Chitpur
Superintendent	1	Engineer	1
Chief Engineer	1	Driver	1

I submit a statement showing the receipts and expenditure on account of the Fire Brigade. The year opened with a balance of Rs 17,269 5-4. The receipts were Rs 54,746 4 2, which fell short of the estimate of Rs 64,112, some of the receipts having been overestimated in the budget estimate. Rupees 7,587 8 represents the amount due, but not paid in by the municipalities during the year. Of this sum Rs 7,285 8 have since been realized, and Rs 302 are in course of realization. The total receipts during the year were Rs 72,015. The expenditure amounted to Rs 71,125 12 5 against an estimate of Rs 74,730. The actual balance on the 31st March 1899 was Rs 889 13 1.

3 During the year under review 38 fires occurred, in which the value of the property destroyed in each case exceeded Rs 50.

At 32 of these fires the Brigade were in attendance, and in 5 the fires were extinguished by the local police and the residents of the locality. A fire on a country boat, which occurred off Ghosery on the river, was extinguished by the Port Commissioners' fire engine Hooghly.

4 In addition to the 38 serious fires already noted, 71 small fires occurred, 31 in the Town, 36 in the Suburbs of Calcutta, and 4 in Howrah

The Brigade attended 7 of these fires, the remaining 64 being extinguished by the residents of the localities

The average value of the property destroyed at each of these petty fires was Rs 9 15 11

5 The total estimated value of all property destroyed by fire during the year under review amounted to Rs 4,49,79 15 as against Rs 3,82,605 in 1897 98

6 There were no lives lost during the year

7 There were 3 fires in buildings licensed under Act I (B C) of 1893 and Act I (B C) of 1894, the total estimated value of property destroyed at these fires being two lakhs of rupees

8 Six fires during the year 1898 99 call for special notice —

(a) On the 11th April 1898, the S S Otterburn laden with jute cuttings and pressed bales of jute, lying at the Hastings Moorings, caught fire, the origin of the fire is not known It lasted for 70 hours and 30 minutes The efforts of the Fire Brigade resulted in saving a quantity of the cargo and in also, by unloading the vessel, preventing the wet bales of jute from starting the plates and rendering the ship a total wreck

(b) On the 17th March 1899, at Hogulkooria Gully, Butolla, a large oil mill shed caught fire accidentally Machinery, mustard oil and seeds were destroyed The fire lasted 5 hours and 50 minutes Greater damage would have been caused and probably loss of life had not the Fire Brigade succeeded in reaching the boiler house and letting off the steam from the boilers, and thus averting an explosion

(c) A fire broke out on the early morning of the 29th October 1898 in the "Empress of India" Hydraulic Jute Press, Howrah Five masonry warehouses containing a large quantity of jute, loose and in bales, were destroyed The machinery was, however, saved The fire lasted for 43 hours, and the estimated value of the property destroyed was Rs 1,60,000

(d) A fire occurred on the 10th November 1898 in the Ramdyall Cotton Mill, Ghosery, Howrah Machinery was damaged and cotton destroyed to the estimated value of Rs 20,000 The fire lasted 1 hour and 30 minutes

(e) On the 14th December 1898, at the Guzdar's Hydraulic Jute Press, Ghosery, Howrah, a large two storeyed building containing jute was destroyed, estimated value of damage Rs 20,000 The fire lasted for 13 hours and 30 minutes

(f) A fire occurred on the 30th December 1898 at the Ganges Jute Mill, Sibpur, Howrah A large masonry building containing machinery, gunny bags and waste twine was destroyed The building was not licensed under the Act, as it was not used for storage of jute or cotton The fire lasted 6 hours and 50 minutes, estimated value of damage done being Rs 80,000

9 During the year two prosecutions were instituted under the Explosives Act Both cases ended in the conviction of the defendants

10 A memorandum of the fires that occurred is enclosed

Kendrapara	19	11
Banki	17	15

Balasore—Rainfall at Sadar 443 Sugarcane thriving well. Transplanting and weeding of sarad going on Aus crop in ear Rice sells at 18 seers per rupee in the interior, and at 17 seers at Balasore and Bhadrak Fodder and water sufficient

Angul—Rainfall at Angul 67, Bispara 37 Puddling and transplantation of paddy and mandia suspended in many places for want of sufficient rain Those transplanted are withering in both subdivisions Early bhados crops being damaged in Angul, Common rice sells at 27 seers per rupee in Angul and 12 seers in Khondmals Great anxiety for rain prevails

Puri—Rainfall at Sadar 75, Khurda 96 Insufficiency of rain badly felt Beah already damaged to some extent, especially in the Sadar subdivision Puddling and weeding of sarad delayed for want of water Condition of sugarcane, mandia and other miscellaneous crops good Fodder sufficient Cattle disease continues in places Price of common rice stationary

Hazaribagh—Rainfall at Sadar 124, Giridih 46 Weather cloudy Rain wanted for transplantation in some thanas Common rice sells at 13 seers per rupee

Ranchi—Rainfall 134 Weather cloudy More rain wanted in places Transplantation retarded in consequence Rice sells at Ranchi 15 seers per rupee and in the interior 19 seers No cattle disease Fodder and water sufficient

Palamau—Rainfall 53 Weather seasonable Prospects of crops generally good No cattle disease Rice selling at 15 seers per rupee

Manbhum—Rainfall at Sadar 67, Gobindpur 47 Weather hot Prospects of crops generally good Cattle disease reported from thanas Tundi, Niraha, Gobindpur, and Ohas Fodder and water sufficient Average price of common rice at Sadar 16 seers 11 chitaks and at Gobindpur 15 seers per rupee Supply sufficient

Singhbhum—Rainfall 140 Rainfall very unequally distributed More rain is wanted Common rice sells at 17 seers per rupee

General Summary—There was rain in every district during the week, though the amounts were generally moderate The rice crop throughout the Province is doing well, the only unfavourable report of any importance coming from the 24 Parganas The bhados crop has obtained some slight relief by the diminution in the rainfall, but it is to be feared that there is no chance of a good outturn The other crops jute and sugarcane especially, appear to be doing well More rain is needed in Orissa and one or two districts in Oota Nagpur Prices show a tendency to rise There is still a little cattle-disease

The mean pressure, temperature &c, are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor General's Office

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, GOVT OF INDIA,

Calcutta the 14th August 1899

G W KUCHLER,

For Meteorological Reporter to the Govt of India

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF JULY 1899

WEATHER during the past month was remarkable on account of the complete absence of cyclonic storms over the Bay and for the almost continuous low pressure over the Province Assam and Burma. As no depression of any depth passed inland from the sea, the variations of pressure or the differences from the normal were generally small or of moderate amount but as the defect was continuous and westerly winds prevailed over the western districts the moist southerly winds from the Bay which were quite up to average strength, failed to obtain the usual outlet north westward up the Gangetic plain. The result was heavy general rainfall over the greater part of the Province, with a more irregular distribution than in ordinary years.

The part of the Province where defect in rainfall was greatest was naturally in the south western districts including Orissa and the south of Chota Nagpur, where the south westerly winds were most prevalent. The deficiency however was in nearly all cases small as may be seen from Orissa receiving on an average for the whole Division 99 per cent of the normal for the month and Chota Nagpur 110 per cent, the excess in the latter being due to the heavier falls in the north of the Division.

A very noticeable peculiarity in the rainfall distribution is that in sub montane districts, whether in the east or north of the Province and probably over the lower ranges of the hills, falls were in almost all cases in slight defect whereas at higher levels, as in the Darjeeling hills, there was a fairly large excess. A marked contrast is shown between Buxa and Darjeeling at the former of which there was defect of 16 inches and at the latter excess of 11 inches. This slight deficiency extended along the foot of the Himalayas as far as Darbhanga, but from there excess steadily increased, and was greatest in Champaran and Bettiah.

Though no cyclonic storm occurred over the Bay, depressions were not wanting inland, and during the latter half of the month a continuous slight depression obtained over Bihar. The first depression began about the 4th in the north of the Bay owing to a rapid fall of pressure in the east. It remained diffused, but moving northwards instead of to the west, it caused heavy general rain in Bengal. When the recovery of pressure began in Burma, and the east of the Province a day or two later, the depression became better defined and moved rapidly westward on the 7th after which the pressure distribution was normal and rainfall was neither so heavy nor general.

Pressure again fell in the east on the 9th, and as defect in that region slowly but steadily intensified during the subsequent days the conditions of the beginning of the month were almost restored. The low pressure concentrated and the second shallow depression of the month began over Lower Bengal on the 13th, the area of defect somewhat over 15 inch extending eastwards from Calcutta. This depression followed a more westerly course than the previous one, but it filled up over the central districts and westerly winds continued unchanged in Orissa, Chota Nagpur, and the west of Bihar. On the morning of the 14th the depression was well defined with a centre near Krishnagar, and pressure was in defect over the whole of Bengal Proper by amounts up to a fifth of an inch. On the 15th, after a rapid rise, the depression was faint with a centre near Naya Dumka, and on the 16th the distribution was practically normal.

During these days, between the 13th and 16th heavy general rain fell over the whole Province. The heaviest falls were in Bihar, more especially on the 15th, when the depression was filling up. In Monghyr on that date a large proportion of the rainfall stations received amounts varying from 4 to 8 inches, and the smallest fall was 2.5 inches.

After the middle of the month a slight depression formed over the north west of the Province, with a fairly regular cyclonic circulation of light winds. The monsoon winds from the Bay were not so strong as in the early part of the month, but the cyclonic circulation and a slight oscillatory movement of the area of lowest pressure was sufficient to maintain continuous rainfall in all except the south western districts. Pressure rose somewhat towards the end of the third week when there was excess of nearly a tenth of an inch over the Province and the north of the Bay. This excess continued for a few days only. A rapid fall in Bihar was followed by a slight depression, and further heavy rainfall in that area about the 25th and 26th, after which the high pressure was restored and became an important feature of the weather conditions not only for the remaining days of July, but well into August.

With the development of high pressure at the end of the month, rainfall to a large extent ceased, but there were still cloudy skies and light scattered showers, and temperature was not above the normal except by small amounts in Bengal Proper. In the western districts on the last day of the month there was still a moderate defect.

Pressure was relatively low in Burma, Assam and Bengal Proper during a great part of the month, and at times defect at eastern stations was very little under 2 inch. In the south western districts, on the other hand, readings were more frequently in excess. The average difference from the normal varies from excess of 0.2 inch at Cuttack to defect of about 0.4 inch in the east.

It was low almost continuously in the early part of the month, but during the latter half there was a tendency for high pressure to develop. It did not become established till towards the close, when high pressure prevailed over the province and the north of the Bay, and the distribution became more uniform than is usual at the end of July.

Temperature—As a marked feature of the prevailing weather conditions was heavy cloud with frequent rainfall, temperature was generally low, especially during the day. Maximum temperature on an average for the month was below the normal, except at a few of the more southern stations, and in the west of Bihar there was a large defect, as much as 5° at some stations. Minimum temperature was practically normal, except in the west of Bihar, where on an average for the month there was defect of 1° to 2°.

Mean temperature was practically normal in Bengal Orissa and Chota Nagpur, defect in all divisions being less than half a degree. In Assam there was defect of 1° and in Bihar of 2°.

Rainfall has been exceptionally heavy and continuous over a great part of the province and even in the south western districts where it was least in amount, it all but reached the average fall. In Orissa on an average for the whole division the defect was only 1.3 inch. In Chota Nagpur there was excess of 1.35 inches, in North Bengal 3.87, in East Bengal 4.32, in South West Bengal 6.55, and in Bihar 8.68.

As thunderstorms with heavy local falls were much more numerous than usual over a great part of the province, the distribution of rainfall is marked by greater irregularity than in ordinary years, when the monsoon current in July passes freely over the province towards North West India, and is not subjected to the frequent checks which have been a marked feature of the past month. Though the individual falls are irregular, the averages are more uniform than usual, the various divisions of Bengal Proper and Bihar receiving almost similar amounts. South West Bengal received on an average 18.68 inches, North Bengal 20.61, Bihar 21.7, and East Bengal 21.88.

As the falls have been so irregular no general idea can be given of the distribution, except by the tabular statement which precedes this, but it may be noticed that there were, much the same as in June, three centres of heavy rainfall—one in South West Bengal in which falls were 10 to 15 inches in excess, one in North Bengal, and the third in the west of Bihar, where excess amounts were of similar magnitude, viz., 10 to 15 inches.

The greatest defect was 4 inches in the south of Orissa and the area of deficient rainfall included the whole of that division, except part of Balasore district and the south of Chota Nagpur, where defect varied up to 3 inches.

In North Bengal, the extreme north of Bihar, and near the Garo and Tippera Hill regions rainfall was slightly below the normal, the differences being 1 to 2 inches, except at Siliguri and Baza, where defect was 9 and 16 inches respectively.

The following table gives a comparison of the falls in the various divisions during the month of July with the normal fall, the actual being given as a percentage of the normal fall. The table also shows the actual falls for each of the previous months of the year expressed in the same way, and the last column of the table shows the total of the falls of the past seven months of the year in each division expressed as a percentage of the normal fall—

METEOROLOGICAL DIVISIONS	January	February	March	April	May	June	July	Actual rainfall of first seven months of 1899 expressed as a percentage of the normal fall for the period

The following table gives full data for the comparison of the actual and normal rainfall of the month of July in all districts of the Province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain recording stations in each district, due allowance being made for the area which each station represents. This gives a more accurate average than the arithmetical means given in the monthly meteorological tables. The first column gives the normal or average district rainfall as determined from the rainfall observations of the past 25 years; the second column gives the actual district rainfall as determined from the weighted actual rainfalls of the month at the reporting stations in each district; the third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall of the past month to the normal rainfall as a percentage; and the fourth column gives the same information in a slightly different form, expressing as a percentage how much the district rainfall varied in excess or in defect from the normal rainfall —

Despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India No 125 (Financial) dated the 29th July 1897

RESOLUTION —In accordance with the instructions received from Her Majesty's Secretary of State, the Governor General in Council has approved of the institution of a Provident Fund for officers of the Police Department throughout India of or above the rank of Assistant District Superintendent. The Government of India do not consider it desirable to make subscription to the Fund obligatory in the case of officers already in the service except when such an officer being already married, or subsequently marrying, fails to make adequate provision for his family in other ways. In the case of officers thus exempted, whether married or unmarried, deposits will be voluntary and may be discontinued or renewed at the option of the depositor. Subscription to the Fund will, however, be obligatory in the case of all officers joining the service after the date of this Resolution

(2) The foregoing provisions of this section shall apply to every variation or discharge of a contract as well as to an original contract

Further, provisions as to execution of contracts and provision as to seal of Corporation

80 (1) Every contract made by the Chairman on behalf of the Corporation shall be entered into in such manner and form as would bind the Chairman if such contract were made on his own behalf, except that the common seal of the Corporation shall be used (where necessary) instead of the Chairman's seal and every such contract may in the like manner and form be varied or discharged

Cal s 62]

(2) Every contract for the execution of any work or the supply of any materials or goods which will involve an expenditure exceeding one thousand rupees shall be in writing, shall be sealed, and shall specify—

(a) the work to be done or the materials or goods to be supplied, as the case may be,

(b) the price to be paid for such work, materials or goods, and

(c) in the case of a contract for work, the time or times within which the same or specified portions thereof shall be completed

(3) The common seal of the Corporation shall remain in the custody of the Secretary and shall not be affixed to any contract or other instrument except in the presence of a Commissioner, who shall attach his signature to the contract or instrument in token that the same was sealed in his presence

(4) The signature of the said Commissioner shall be distinct from the signature of any witness to the execution of such contract or instrument

(5) No contract not executed as provided in this section shall be binding on the Corporation

Tenders when to be invited for contracts

81 (1) At least seven days before the Chairman enters into any contract for the execution of any work or the supply of any materials or goods which will involve an expenditure exceeding one thousand rupees, the General Committee shall give notice by advertisement in local newspapers inviting tenders for such contract

[B m s 7 (1)
Cal s 2]

(2) The General Committee shall not be bound to accept any tender which may be made in pursuance of such notice, but may accept, subject to the provisions of clauses (dd) and (e) of section 79, any of the tenders so made which appears to them, upon a view of all the circumstances, to be the most advantageous, or may reject all the tenders so made.

[Bom 7 (2)]

Security for performance of contract.

82 The Chairman shall take sufficient security for the due performance of every contract into which he enters after a tender has been accepted, and may, in his discretion, take security for the due performance of any other contract into which he enters under this Act

Notice when valuation made for the first time or increased [S 170 of Bill as introduced] 148H The Chairman shall in all cases in which any building or land is for the first time valued, or in which the valuation of any building or land previously valued is increased give special notice thereof to the owner or occupier of the same, and, when the valuation is increased as aforesaid, the said notice shall contain a statement of the grounds of such increase [C 1 33 B 1]

Notice before re valuing bustee waste or agricultural land [S 171 of Bill as introduced] 148J Before re valuing any bustee waste or agricultural land under proviso (c) to section 148B the Chairman shall give notice to the owner of the land that, on or after a date not less than fifteen days from the receipt of such notice by such owner, such re valuation will take place and, if the valuation so made exceeds the previous valuation, the Chairman shall give to the owner a special notice of the amount of the valuation, with full details thereof [C 1 131]

Notice of objection to valuation [S 172 of Bill as introduced] 148K (1) Any person who is dissatisfied with a valuation made under this Chapter may deliver at the municipal office a written notice stating the grounds of his objection [C 1 132 B 1]

(2) Such notice must be delivered,—

(a) in the case of buildings or lands (other than bustee waste or agricultural land), within fifteen days after the publication of the notice referred to in section 148G, or after receipt of the notice referred to in section 148H, when such notice is received after the publication of the notice referred to in section 148G, and

(b) in the case of bustee, waste or agricultural land, within fifteen days after the receipt of the special notice referred to in section 148J

Entry of objection and investigation thereof by Chairman [S 173 of Bill as introduced] 148L (1) All such objections shall be entered in a register to be maintained for the purpose and on receipt of any objection, notice shall be given to the objector of a time and place at which his objection will be investigated [C 1 133 B 1 ss. 164 165]

(2) At the said time and place the Chairman shall hear the objection, in the presence of the objector if he appears, or may for reasonable cause, adjourn the investigation

(3) When the objection has been determined the order passed shall be recorded in the register of objections, together with the date of such order

Appeal to Small Cause Court [S 174 of Bill as introduced] 148M (1) Any person dissatisfied with the orders passed on his objection may appeal to the Court of Small Causes having jurisdiction in the place where the building or land is situated [C 1 137 B 1]

(2) Such appeal must be presented to the Court of Small Causes within thirty days of the decision of the objection under section 148L and must be accompanied by an extract from the register of objections containing the orders objected to

Chapter X—Rates—Sections 148N—148P)*

(3) No appeal shall be admitted under this section unless an objection has first been taken under section 148L.

148N (1) Every valuation made by the Chairman under this Chapter shall subject to the provisions of sections 148K, 148L and 148M be final.

(2) Every determination made by the Chairman under section 148L shall subject to the provisions of section 148M be final.

(3) Every decision made by the Court of Small Causes under section 148M shall be final.

148O (1) The annual value fixed under this Chapter shall be entered in one or more books to be kept for the purpose at the municipal office wherein shall also be written—imposed under section 182 shall within one week of his so becoming owner or taking charge,—

(i) forward to the municipal office a statement of the kind prescribed in clause (a), and

(ii) at the same time, pay to the Corporation the amount payable for the whole of the then current half year according to the rates prescribed in Schedule VI

(3) If the Chairman is satisfied that any such carriage has not been used within the half year or that any such carriage or animal has been kept for only a portion of the then current half year he may refund or remit the whole of the amount so payable or such portion thereof as he may think fit [Cal. s. 78, Bombay s. 182, 183, 184]

(4) For the purposes of this section a livery stable keeper shall be deemed to be the owner or to be in charge of every animal in his stables [Cal. s. 78]

185A The Chairman may from time to time by written notice, require the occupier of any building or land to forward to him a statement, signed by such occupier, showing—

(1) the name and address of every person who owns or is in charge of any carriage or animal which is kept in or on such building or land and is liable to the tax imposed under section 183, and

(2) a description of all such carriages and animals

186 (1) When any person pays to the Corporation the amount of the said tax which is payable in respect of all carriages and animals kept by him, the Chairman shall grant him a license to keep such carriages and animals during the current half year ending upon the thirtieth day of September or the thirty first day of March next after the grant of such license, and no longer [Cal. s. 79]

(2) The Chairman may at any time grant a license for any previous half year for which no license has been taken out, on payment of the amount due for that half year, but the production of such a license shall not afford a valid defence if the licensee is prosecuted for failing to take out a license within the time required by this Act

187 The Chairman may, at his discretion, compound, for any period not exceeding one year with livery stable-keepers and other persons keeping carriages for hire, or animals for sale or hire, for a certain sum to be paid for the carriages or animals so kept by such persons in lieu of the tax imposed under section 183 [Cal. s. 81, Bombay s. 185]

Production of books and accounts by livery stable keepers 188 The Chairman may, by written notice, require any person who carries on the trade or business of a livery stable keeper to produce, for the inspection of the Chairman or of any officer authorized by him in this behalf, all books and accounts relating to such trade or business [Cal s 98]

In portion of stables &c and as insured in district of carriages and animals 189 (1) The Chairman may enter and inspect any stable or coach house, or any place wherein he has reason to believe that there is any carriage or animal liable to the tax imposed under section 183, [Cal s 84 B u 189 (1)] and, if the Chairman at any time finds any carriage or animal in respect of which no license has been obtained, he may, if the owner or person in charge of such carriage or animal is unknown by written order authorize any of the subordinate officers of the Corporation to take possession of such carriage or animal and the Chairman shall make such order as he may think fit respecting the custody thereof

(2) If any person within the period of one month establishes his claim to the possession of such carriage or animal, the Chairman shall order it to be delivered to him on payment of the tax due, together with such costs as the Corporation have reasonably incurred in taking possession of and keeping the same [Cal s 85]

(3) If no person within the said period satisfies the Chairman that he is entitled to the possession of such carriage or animal, it may be sold for the recovery of the tax and costs aforesaid and, if any person whose carriage or animal has been sold establishes his claim within six months to the net proceeds of such sale, the Chairman shall order the proceeds of such sale, after deducting the tax due and all costs incurred in consequence of the seizure and sale, to be delivered to him [Cal s 86]

List of licensees and carriages and animals taxed 190 (1) The Chairman shall from time to time cause to be prepared a list of the persons to whom, during the then current period of six months, licenses have been granted under section 186 and of the carriages and animals in respect of which the same have respectively been granted [Cal s 86 B u 186]

(2) Such list shall be entered in distinct columns in a book to be kept at the municipal office, and such book shall be open to the inspection of any applicant

CHAPTER XIV — TAX ON PROFESSIONS, TRADES AND CALLINGS

Licenses to be taken out annually 206 Every company or association or body of individuals which exercises in Calcutta, either by itself or by an agent, any profession, trade or calling whatsoever, and [Cal s 87 Bill 1890 & 2]

Callings—Sections 207, 208)*

every person who exercises in Calcutta any of the professions, trades or callings indicated in Schedule III, shall annually take out a license and pay for the same such fee as is mentioned in that behalf in the said Schedule

Provided that the Chairman may in his discretion—

(a) remit or refund any portion of the fee so payable in respect of the exercise of any profession, trade or calling, if he is satisfied that the profession, trade or calling has been exercised for less than half the year only, or

(b) when any person is in the Chairman's opinion unable to pay the fee due for a license exempt him from liability to take out such license or declare that he shall be entitled to take out a license under a lower class than that under which he is chargeable, or

(c) in any other case, exempt any person from liability to take out a license or declare that any person shall be entitled to take out a license under a lower class than before

207 (1) Every license mentioned in section 206 shall be granted by the Chairman, and shall specify—

[Cal. s. 88]

(a) the date of the grant thereof

(b) the name of the company, association, body or person to which or to whom it is granted,

(c) the profession, trade or calling, and, if the license is a local license as defined in rule 2 of Schedule III, the place of business, in respect of which the license is granted, and

(d) the fee paid for the license

(2) Every such license shall have effect and continue in force from the commencement to the end of the financial year on account of which it is granted

[Cal. s. 88]

(3) The Chairman may at any time grant a license for any previous financial year for which (b) no license has been taken out on payment of the fee which would have been payable therefor in the first instance, but the production of such a license shall not afford a valid defence if the licensee is prosecuted for failing to take out a license within the time required by this Act

[Cal. Sch. II Rule 3]

208 The liability of any company, association, body or person to take out a license, and the class under which it or he shall be deemed bound to take out a license, shall be determined in accordance with the rules contained in Schedule III

209 The Chairman may, by written notice, ^[Cal s 91 Bill of 1898 s 4] require the occupier of any building or place of business to forward to him within seven days a list, signed by such person, of the names of all companies, associations or bodies of individuals or persons carrying on any profession, trade or calling therein, and of their respective professions, trades and callings

210 (1) As soon as may be after the first day of April in every year, the Chairman shall prepare a list of the companies, associations, bodies and persons licensed for the next preceding financial year under this Chapter ^[Cal s 93]

(2) Such list shall contain the particulars specified in section 207, and shall be kept at the municipal office and be open to public inspection at all reasonable times

CHAPTER XV—SCAVENGING TAX

211 Every person who exercises in Calcutta any of the callings indicated in Part I of Schedule VI A shall every half year take out a license and pay for the same a fee to be calculated according to the number of animals kept by him in the exercise of such calling at the rates mentioned in Part II of the said Schedule, or at such other rates as may be prescribed by bye laws made under section 590, clause (1a) ^[Cal s 412 (a)]

Provided that the Chairman may remit or refund the whole or any portion of the fee so payable by any person in respect of any half year if he is satisfied that such person himself removes the offensive matter and rubbish accumulating on his premises, or has exercised his said calling for a portion only of such half year

212 (1) Every such license shall be granted by the Chairman, and shall specify—

- (a) the date of the grant thereof,
- (b) the name of the person to whom it is granted,
- (c) the calling in respect of which it is granted,
- (d) the animals in respect of which it is granted, and
- (e) the fee paid for it

(2) Every such license shall have effect and continue in force from the first day of April to the thirtieth day of September, or from the first day of October to the thirty first day of March, and shall be taken out not later than the first day of June or the first day of December, as the case may be

213 (1) As soon as may be after the first day of April and the first day of October in every year, the Chairman shall prepare a list of the persons licensed for the next preceding half year under this Chapter ^[If yearly list of licensees.]

(2) Such list shall contain the particulars specified in section 212, and shall be kept at the municipal office and be open to public inspection at all reasonable times

(3) When any registered cart is transferred during any half year, it shall be re-registered in the name of the person to whom it has been transferred, and a fee of four annas shall be paid for every such re-registration

(4) The total net proceeds of the fees half yearly received by the Corporation for the registration of carts, after deduction of the charges incurred on account of such registration, shall be divided between the Corporation of Calcutta and the Commissioners of Howrah and such other municipalities adjacent to Calcutta or Howrah as the Local Government shall declare to be entitled to a share in such receipts, in such proportion as the Local Government may from time to time determine

Prohibitions. 219 (1) No person shall keep, or be in possession of, a cart not duly registered as required by this Chapter [Cal s 96]

(2) No owner or driver of a cart shall fail to affix the registration number required by section 217

Seizure and sale of unregistered carts and application of proceeds

220 (1) If any person owns or keeps any cart hereinbefore required to be registered, without having caused the same to be registered, the Chairman may seize such cart (provided the same be not employed at the time of the seizure in the conveyance of passengers or goods) together with the animals drawing the same, and detain them in a place to be appointed by him in this behalf [Cal s 98]

(2) If any cart or animals so seized be not claimed within ten days, it or they may be sold at auction by order of a Magistrate

(3) The proceeds of such sale may be applied to defraying the expenses incurred on account of the seizure, detention and sale, and the surplus (if any), if not claimed within a further period of twenty days, shall be paid to the credit of the Municipal Funds

[Ch XIII of Bill as introduced] CHAPTER XVIIA—SPECIAL PROCEDURE FOR RECOVERY OF THE CONSOLIDATED RATE AND OTHER TAXES

220A The provisions of this Chapter shall be deemed to be in addition to, and not in derogation of, any powers conferred by or under other Chapters for the collection or recovery of the consolidated rate and other taxes [S. 191 of Bill as introduced.]

(Calcutta Municipality—Part IV—Lawson—Chapter XVIIA—Special procedure for Recovery of the consolidated Rate and other Taxes—Sections 220B—220D)

The consolidated rate

220B (1) When the consolidated rate or any instalment thereof is due, the Chairman shall, with the least practicable delay cause to be presented to the person liable a bill for the sum due

Presentation of bill [S. 19 of B. l. intro.] [Bom. s. 200 (1) Cal. s. 141]

(2) Every such bill shall specify the period for which and the premises in respect of which the rate is charged

[Bom. s. 200 (2) Cal. s. 141]

(3) If any one person is liable for the consolidated rate on account of more properties than one, the Chairman may charge to him in one or several bills, as the Chairman may think fit, the several sums payable by him on account of such properties

[Bom. s. 201 (2)]

Provided that if such person, by written notice to the Chairman, requests to be furnished with separate bills the Chairman shall comply with such request in respect of all payments on account of the said rate for which such person becomes liable after receipt by the Chairman of such notice

220C (1) If the amount for which any bill has been presented as aforesaid is not paid, within seven days from such presentation, into the municipal office or to an officer appointed to receive the same, the Chairman may cause to be served upon the person liable a notice of demand in the form contained in Schedule VII, or in a form to the like effect

Not a demand Bill [S. 193 of B. l. intro.] [Cal. s. 147 Bom. s. 202]

(2) For every such notice of demand a fee of such amount, not exceeding one rupee, as may in each case be fixed by the Chairman shall be payable by the said person, and shall be included in the costs of recovery

220D (1) If the person liable for the payment of the rate does not within seven days from the service of the notice of demand pay the sum due or show sufficient cause to the satisfaction of the Chairman for non payment of the same, such sum, with all costs of recovery, may be levied under a warrant in the form of Schedule VIII, or in a form to the like effect, to be issued by the Chairman, by distress and sale of the moveable property of the defaulter, or, if the defaulter be the occupier of any premises in respect of which the rate is due, by distress and sale of any moveable property found on the said premises

Provided that, when the premises in respect of which the default is committed are a place of business, and the moveable property distrained is shown to the satisfaction of the Chairman to have been left there for repairs or safe custody in the ordinary course of business, it shall be released

(2) The moveable property of any person liable for the payment of any sum, for the levy of which a warrant has been issued as aforesaid, may be distrained wherever the same be found

[Cal. s. 145 Bom. s. 204.]

[S 198 of Bill as introduced] (S) For every warrant issued under this section, a fee shall be charged at the rate mentioned in that behalf in Schedule VIIIA, and the said fee shall be included in the costs of recovery [Cal s 207] 144

Power to remit fees payable if notice of demand or warrant of distress [S 199 of Bill as introduced] 220E The Chairman may, in his discretion, remit the whole or any part of any fee chargeable under section 220C, sub section (2), or section 220D, sub section (5) [Bom s 208]

Power to break open door or window 220F Any officer charged with the execution of a warrant of distress issued under section 220D may, under the special order of the Chairman, between sunrise and sunset break open any outer or inner door or window of a building in order to make the distress, if he has reasonable ground for believing that such building contains property which is liable to seizure and if, after notifying his authority and purpose, and duly demanding admittance, he cannot otherwise obtain admittance [Ben Act III 1884 s 123]

Provided that such officer shall not enter, or break open the door of, any apartment appropriated to females, until he has given three hours' notice of his intention and has given such females an opportunity to remove

Inventory and notice of seizure [S 195 of Bill as introduced] 220G The officer charged with the execution of a warrant of distress issued under section 220D shall forthwith make an inventory of the moveable property which he seizes under such warrant, and shall at the same time give a written notice, in the form of Schedule IX, or in a form to the like effect, to the person in possession thereof at the time of seizure that the said moveable property will be sold as therein mentioned [Cal s 113 Bom s 205]

Power to take away property if for removal apprehended 220H If there is reason to believe that any property so seized is likely, if left in the place where it is found, to be removed by force, the officer executing the warrant may under the special order of the Chairman, take it to the municipal office or any place appointed by the Chairman

Distresses to be reasonable [S 196 of Bill as introduced] 220J All distresses under this Act shall be reasonable, and the amount of all property seized thereunder shall be proportionate to the arrears due [Cal s 144]

Sale and disposal of property [S 107 of Bill as introduced] 220K (1) If a warrant of distress issued under section 220D is not in the meantime suspended by the Chairman or discharged, the moveable property seized shall, after the expiry of the period named in the notice served under section 220G, be sold by order of the Chairman [C 1 Bom s 206 (1)] 144

(2) All sales of property under this section shall so far as may be practicable, be regulated by the procedure for the time being in force in the Court of Small Causes of Calcutta with respect to sale after distress [C 1 144]

(5) No municipal officer or servant shall purchase any property at any such sale [Cal s 144]

*(Calcutta Municipality—Part IV—Taxation—

(4) The Chairman shall apply the proceeds of every such sale, or such part thereof as shall be requisite, in discharge of the sum due and of the costs of recovery. [Cal s 144 Bom. s 206 (f)]

(5) The surplus, if any, shall be forthwith credited to the appropriate Municipal Fund, but, if the same be claimed by written application to the Chairman within three years from the date of the sale, a refund thereof shall be made to the person in possession of the moveable property at the time of the seizure. [Cal s 144 Bom. s 206 (g)]

(6) Any surplus not claimed within three years as aforesaid shall be the property of the Corporation. [Bom s 206 (g).]

Recovery of rate from occupier or his sub-tenants and deduction of amount from rent [S 200 of Bill as introduced]

220L (7) If the sum due from the owner of any building or land on account of the consolidated rate remains unpaid after notice of demand has been duly served upon him, the Chairman may cause a notice of demand to be served upon the occupier of the building or land or on any of his sub tenants for the time being thereof. [Cal s 146 Bom s 209]

(2) If the occupier or any of such sub tenants fails within fifteen days from the service of such notice to pay the amount therein demanded, the said amount may be recovered from him by distress and sale in the manner hereinbefore prescribed

(3) No arrear of the consolidated rate shall be recovered from any occupier or sub tenant under this section if it has remained due for more than one year or if it is due on account of any period for which such occupier or sub tenant was not in occupation of the premises on which the rate is assessed

(4) If any sum is paid by or recovered from an occupier or sub tenant under this section, he shall be entitled to deduct the same from the next and following payments of his rent

Liability of purchaser hereof of consolidated rate [S 201 of Bill as introduced]

220M The purchaser of any building or land in respect of which any sum is due at the time of the purchase on account of the share of the consolidated rate payable by the owner shall be liable for the amount due on account of such share for any period not exceeding one year prior to the purchase. [Cal s 14/]

Liability of purchaser hereof of consolidated rate [S 201 of Bill as introduced]

220N If no sufficient moveable property belonging to a defaulter can be found within Calcutta, or, where the defaulter is the occupier of premises in respect of which the consolidated rate is due, if no sufficient moveable property can be found on such premises, the Chairman may issue a warrant for the distress and sale of any moveable property belonging to the defaulter within the jurisdiction of any Magistrate in Bengal outside Calcutta, and any Magistrate to whom a warrant is so issued shall endorse the same and cause it to be executed, and shall remit the proceeds of the sale to the Chairman, and such proceeds shall be dealt with as prescribed by section 220K. PART V—THE PUBLIC HEALTH, SAFETY AND CONVENIENCE

CHAPTER XVIII—WATER-SUPPLY

Proprietary rights of the Corporation

Public water works &c vested in the Corporation. [S 257 of Bill as introduced] 220Z All public tanks, reservoirs, cisterns, wells, aqueducts, conduits, tunnels, pipes, taps and other water works, whether made, laid or erected at the cost of the Municipal funds or otherwise, and all bridges, buildings, engines, works, materials and things connected therewith or appertaining thereto, and also any adjacent land (not being private property) appertaining to any public tank, shall be vested in the Corporation. [Cal s. 178 Bom 269 (1)]

General duties of the Municipal Authorities in respect of the supply of water

Corporation to provide supply of filtered and unfiltered water. [S 221 (1) of Bill as introduced] 221 The Corporation shall provide a supply of filtered water within all parts of Calcutta, and a supply of unfiltered water within such parts of Calcutta as they may think fit, and shall cause such separate mains, pipes and taps to be laid and placed, and such tanks, engines, reservoirs and other works to be made and constructed, either within or without Calcutta, as may be necessary for the supply of filtered water in the principal public streets. [Cal s. 10 Bom 261 (a)]

Public stand posts. [Ss 221 (c) and 221 f Bill as introduced] 221A The Corporation shall erect sufficient and convenient public stand posts for the gratuitous supply of filtered water for domestic purposes. [Cal s. 100]

(2) All such stand posts shall be supplied with a sufficient quantity of filtered water and no unfiltered water shall be supplied thereto

Bathing platform. [Ss 221 (b) and 224 of Bill as introduced] 221B (1) The Corporation shall erect sufficient and convenient platforms for the gratuitous supply of water for bathing purposes

(2) All such bathing platforms shall, as far as may be practicable, be supplied with filtered water but, if it is impracticable to supply any bathing platform with filtered water, unfiltered water shall be supplied therefor

Hydrants &c. for street watering &c. 225 On all distribution pipes in the unfiltered water system, the Chairman shall provide suitable hydrants for street-watering, fire extinguishing, washing down hackney carriage stands, and flushing street gullies, together with such sluices, branches and appliances as may be necessary for the efficient flushing of the municipal drains. [Bom 266]

Introduction of continuous system of supplying filtered water. [S 222 of Bill as introduced] 225A (1) The Corporation shall gradually convert the existing intermittent system of supply of filtered water into a continuous system (2) Such conversion shall be completed,—

(a) in the area newly added to Calcutta by the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, within a period of seven years after the commencement of this Act and

Bom II of 1898

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XVIII—Water-supply—Sections 225B—225F)

(b) in the rest of Calcutta, within a period of five years after the commencement of this Act

Provided that the Local Government may by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, extend either of the said periods

Pressure of supply 225B The pressure of the supply of filtered water shall, where the continuous system is in force, be not less than forty feet, and the pressure of the supply of unfiltered water shall also be not less than forty feet, except during those hours when the pressure is locally reduced by street watering, drain flushing or extinguishing fire

Provided that the General Committee may authorize a lower pressure in any case in which they may consider it impracticable to secure a pressure of forty feet

Use of water

Use of filtered water 225C Subject to the provisions of section 252A, filtered water shall be supplied for domestic purposes only

Prohibition of use of filtered water for domestic purposes 225D No person shall, without the written permission of the Chairman, use for other than domestic purposes filtered water supplied under this Chapter for the said purposes

Use of unfiltered water 225E (1) Unfiltered water shall be used for public purposes, such as—

- (a) street watering,
- (b) flushing of municipal drains, public privies and urinals, gully pits and hackney carriage stands,
- (c) extinguishing fire, and shall also be used for such other purposes as the Corporation may direct

(2) Unfiltered water may also be used, free of charge,—

- (i) for flushing privies and urinals on private premises connected with the sewers, and
- (ii) for flushing drains on private premises, and for cleansing stables, cattle sheds and cow houses occupied by animals which are not kept for profit or hire

(3) Unfiltered water shall not be used for domestic purposes

Substitution of unfiltered water for filtered water 225F (1) Wherever filtered water is already supplied for flushing privies or urinals, the Chairman may, at the expense of the Municipal Funds and not otherwise, stop the supply of filtered water and in lieu thereof provide unfiltered water for such privies or urinals

(2) Where, in any case not referred to in sub-section (1), filtered water is supplied to any person for any purpose other than a domestic purpose the Chairman may at any time cut off such supply, and, if such person desires to continue using water for any purpose for which it was so supplied, he must obtain a supply of unfiltered water at his own expense.

Supply of water to premises and ships

Right of occupier of connected building to receive water in consideration of water rate 226 Subject to the provisions of section 2650 the occupier of every building connected with the water supply shall be entitled to have, free of further charge, not more than four thousand gallons of filtered water for every rupee paid to the Corporation as water rate on account of such building, together with a sufficient supply of unfiltered water for flushing privies, urinals and drains and for cleaning stables, cattle sheds and cow houses occupied by animals which are not kept for profit or hire [Cal s 155]

Power to allow occupier of masonry building paying water-rate to lay down service pipes 241 Whenever the Chairman considers it practicable and consistent with the maintenance of an efficient water supply to do so, he shall allow any person living in a masonry building, and paying the water rate heretofore mentioned to lay down service pipes from the mains of the Corporation for the purpose of bringing into the premises occupied by such person a supply of filtered and unfiltered water for use therein [Cal s 158]

Requisition by occupier on owner to provide works for supply of water 247 (1) Any occupier of a masonry building who holds the same direct from the owner may, by written notice signed by him, require the owner to provide all such necessary works as may be required for bringing into the premises a supply of filtered water for domestic purposes and a supply of unfiltered water for the purposes specified in section 225E, sub section (2) [Cal s 172]

(2) Every such notice shall contain an undertaking on the part of the occupier—

(a) to pay, during the residue of his term of occupation, interest at the rate of one per cent per mensem, calculated from the date of the completion of the works, on the cost of all works so provided by such owner, and

(b) if the premises do not abut upon some street in which there is a supply main, to pay the cost of connecting the premises with the nearest supply main

Provision for completion of works by occupier in default of owner and deduction of expenses from rent 248 If any owner upon whom a notice has been served under section 247 does not, within one month from such service, cause such necessary works as aforesaid to be completed, the occupier who gave the notice may cause the works to be provided or completed, and may deduct from the rent payable by him to such owner the expenses incurred by him in respect of such works, except so much of such expenses as may have been incurred under the circumstances mentioned in clause (b) of the said section 247 [Cal s 173]

Recovery of sums payable to owner 249 Any owner to whom any sum is payable under section 247 may recover such sum from the person liable to pay the same as if it were rent payable by such person [Cal s 17]

Compulsory supply of water from main 252 Whenever it appears to the Chairman that any building is without a proper supply of water, and that such a supply of water can be furnished from a main not more than one hundred feet distant from any part of such building, the Chairman may by written notice, require the owner to obtain such supply and to execute all such works as may be necessary for that purpose. [P H A 22]

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XVIII—Water-supply—Sections 252A—252E)

Supply of filtered water to ships [Cal 233 of Bill as introduced]

252A (1) The Chairman may at his discretion supply filtered or unfiltered water for any purpose other than a domestic purpose, on receiving a written application specifying the purpose for which such supply is required and the quantity likely to be consumed.

Provided that only filtered water shall be so supplied for use by persons who manufacture articles for consumption by human beings or for cow houses where cows are kept for the purpose of supplying milk for sale.

(1a) For all water supplied under sub section (1), payment shall be made at such rate as may be prescribed by the General Committee.

(2) When any application under sub section (1) is received, the Chairman may, subject to such charges or rates as may have been fixed by the General Committee, place, or allow to be placed, the necessary service pipes taps and works (including water meters), of such dimensions and character as may be fixed by the General Committee, and may arrange for the supply of water through such pipes, taps, works and meters.

Supply of filtered water to ships [Cal 237 and 238 of Bill as introduced]

252B (1) The Corporation shall, as far as practicable, supply filtered water gratuitously for use for domestic purposes on ships for the time being lying at the jetties or in the docks of the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta.

(2) The Chairman shall on demand be bound to supply every ship leaving the jetties or the docks of the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta with a reasonable quantity of filtered water for use on the voyage, at such price, not exceeding five rupees for every thousand gallons, as the Corporation may determine.

Water connections

Separate service pipes for separate premises

252C (1) For each premises connected with the filtered water supply after the commencement of this Act there must be a separate service-pipe from the main.

(2) In any case in which a service pipe from a main is at the commencement of this Act used for supplying filtered water to two or more premises, the Chairman may, by written notice require the owner of each such premises to lay down a separate service pipe, and the expense of so doing shall be borne by all such owners in such proportion as may be determined by the General Committee.

Separate stop-cock and underground hydrants or taps for supply of unfiltered water to private premises 252D (1) Separate stop-cocks must be provided for controlling the supply of unfiltered water for the purposes mentioned in clauses (i) and (ii) respectively of section 225E.

(2) When unfiltered water is supplied for any of the purposes mentioned in clause (ii) of section 225E, it must be so supplied as to be capable of being drawn only from hydrants or taps fixed below the surface of the ground.

Outer stop-cock

252E (1) When the continuous system of supplying filtered water is about to be applied to any premises or when any premises are about to be connected with the mains of the Corporation, the Chairman may, by written notice, require the owner of the premises to fix a stop cock in some position outside the premises which is accessible at all times from the nearest street.

(2) If, when any such notice is issued in respect of any premises, such premises are already connected with the mains of the Corporation...

(Calcutta Municipality — Part V — The Public Health, Safety and Convenience — Chapter XVIII — Water supply — Sections 252F, 252G)

expense of fixing such stop cock shall be paid out of the Municipal Funds

Size of ferrules [S 243 of Bill as introduced.] 252F (1) Filtered or unfiltered water supplied [C 1 as 156 158 Sch X] under this Chapter to any premises shall be supplied through a ferrule, of the size prescribed in Schedule XII

Provided as follows —

(a) the Local Government may, on the recommendation of the Corporation substitute any other scale for the scale of ferrules prescribed in the said Schedule,

(b) if any premises be so situated that the ferrule prescribed therefor in the said Schedule or under proviso (a) to this section is too small to pass, within a period of six hours, the daily supply of water to which the occupier is entitled under section 226, the Chairman shall permit the use of a larger ferrule for such premises

(2) Where a ferrule used at the commencement of this Act for the supply of water to any premises is larger than that prescribed for the premises in Schedule XII or under proviso (a) to this section, the Chairman may, at the expense of the Municipal Funds, and after giving one month's notice in writing to the owner of the premises, substitute for such ferrule one of the size so prescribed

Construction of service pipes, ferrules and works [S 243 of Bill as introduced.] 252G (1) The service pipes for carrying water from the mains of the Corporation into any premises, and the pipes, taps and works (other than ferrules) within such premises, shall be of such character, dimensions and materials as the General Committee may fix and approve, and shall be made and constructed at the expense of the person requiring the same

(2) The ferrules shall be of such character and material as the Corporation may fix and approve, and except as provided in section 252H, subsection (2), shall be affixed at the expense of the occupier of the premises

(3) The said service pipes, and all fittings thereon for carrying water from the mains of the Corporation into any premises and all ferrules, pipes, taps, works and fittings inside the premises, must in all cases be executed subject to the inspection of the Chairman and to his satisfaction and the connection of premises, with the mains of the Corporation, and the laying of supply pipes under any public street or thoroughfare, must be executed in the presence of a municipal officer authorized in that behalf, and in no other way

(4) Such service pipes, fittings, ferrules pipes, taps and works may be made by the servants and workmen of the Corporation, upon such terms as may be agreed upon between the Chairman and the person requiring the supply or subject to such charges as may be fixed by the Chairman and, when they are to be so made, the Chairman may require the cost to be paid or deposited before the work is executed, and such cost shall be recoverable in the manner provided by Chapter XVIII for the recovery of the consolidated rate

(Calcutta Municipality — Part V — The Public Health Safety and Convenience — Chapter XVIII — Water supply — Sections 253—254C)

253 The Chairman may enter into or on any premises supplied with water under this Chapter in order to examine all pipes, taps, works and fittings connected with the supply of water, and to ascertain whether there is any waste or misuse of such water [Cal 160 Bom 278]

253A If any pipes, taps, works or fittings connected with the supply of unfiltered water for the flushing of privies or urinals in any premises be found, on examination by the Chairman, to be defective, he may replace them, or make such alterations therein as he may consider necessary and the cost of so doing shall be paid by the owner or occupier of the premises

253B When the continuous system of supplying filtered water is about to be applied to any premises, the Chairman may, if it is found that such pipes, taps and fittings or any of them are defective by written notice, require the owner of the premises—

- (a) to replace them or
- (b) to make such alterations therein as may be specified in the notice

254 (1) Before a connection for the supply of water from the mains of the Corporation to any premises is sanctioned by the Chairman the Engineer shall cause all the works, pipes, taps and fittings within such premises to be inspected by a duly qualified officer [Cal 168]

(2) The cost of such inspection shall be payable in advance, at such rates as the Corporation may from time to time direct, by the person applying for the said connection

(3) Until the Engineer has certified that the said works, pipes, taps and fittings have been executed and put up in a satisfactory manner, no connection with the mains of the Corporation shall be made

254A Except in the case of a special agreement to the contrary, the owner of any premises shall bear the expense of keeping all works connected with the supply of water thereto in substantial repair and, if he fails to do so, the occupier may after giving the owner three days notice in writing, himself have the repairs executed and deduct the expenses thereof from any rent which is due from him to the owner in respect of such premises [Cal 176 Bom 277]

Provided that nothing in this section shall affect the liabilities of parties under leases executed or made before the first day of April, 1889

254B No person shall unlawfully flush, draw off, divert or take water from any water work belonging to or under the management or control of the Corporation, or shall by any wrongful act damage any such water work or any pipe or tap connected with it, or shall use any such water work for any purpose other than the purpose for which it has been set apart [Cal 171 Bom 294 (b) (c) (e)]

Regulation of consumption of water

254C (1) The Chairman shall divide Calcutta into such blocks as he may consider suitable in view to the gradual introduction of the continuous system of supplying filtered water and shall cause each such block to be provided with a water meter [Cal 171 Bom 294 (b) (c) (e)]

*(Calcutta Municipality — Part V — The Public
Health, Safety and Convenience — Chapter
XVIII — Water supply — Sections 254D—254F)*

(2) Such meters shall be read at frequent intervals by a special establishment to be provided for the purpose under Chapter IV

254D (1) No occupier of any premises to which water is supplied under this Chapter shall negligently or otherwise suffer such water to be wasted, or shall suffer the pipes, taps, works and fittings for the supply of water, or any of them, to remain out of repair to such an extent as to cause a waste of water

Prohibition of waste of water [Sec. 244 and 245 of Bill as introduced] (C 1 163 164 B n 281 (c) (d))

(2) No person shall cause a waste of water by the misuse of public stand posts, drinking fountains or hydrants

254E (1) Whenever the Chairman has reason to believe that filtered water supplied to any premises situated in a block in which the continuous system is in force is being wasted, he may by written notice require the owner and occupier of the premises, within a period of four days after service of the notice, to repair and make good any defects in the pipes, taps or fittings connected with the water supply, so as to put a stop to such waste

Prohibition of waste of filtered water under the continuous system

(2) If any notice issued under sub section (1) is not complied with, and the Chairman has reason to believe that waste still continues he shall cause to be served on the said owner and occupier a further notice informing them that if the first notice be not complied with within a further period of three days the supply of filtered water to the said premises will be cut off

(3) If, after the expiration of the said period of three days, the Chairman has reason to believe that waste still continues, he shall cut off the supply of filtered water to the said premises

Explanation — For the purposes of this section water shall not be deemed to be wasted if it is shown that it has been deliberately and purposely drawn for use for domestic purposes from a tap provided for the purpose

254F (1) If the Chairman has reason to believe that the occupier of any premises consumes more filtered water than he is entitled to under section 226, the Chairman may provide a water meter, and attach the same to the service pipe of the said premises

Provision of household meters [Sec. 228 (1) (2) 230 (1) (2) of Bill as introduced] (C 1 1 1 276 (1))

(2) If the occupier of any premises situated in a block in which the continuous system of supplying filtered water is in force makes a written application to the Chairman to have a water meter attached to the service pipe of the premises the Chairman shall, within fourteen days from the receipt of the application, provide a meter and attach it to the said pipe

(3) The expense of providing and attaching a meter under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) shall be paid out of the Municipal funds

(Calcutta Municipality — Part V — The Public
Health, Safety and Convenience — Chapter XVIII
— Water supply — Sections 254G — 254M)

(4) When a meter is to be attached under sub-section (2) on the application of the occupier of any premises, he shall, either—

(a) before the meter is attached, deposit with the Corporation the sum required for providing and attaching the meter, or

(b) pay rent for the meter at such rate as may be fixed by the Chairman with the sanction of the Local Government

(5) When any sum is deposited under clause (a) by an occupier, it shall be returned to him when the meter is removed by the Chairman

Payment for 254G When a meter has been attached to [Cal s 155] filtered water any premises, all filtered water which is shown supplied in thereby to have been supplied in excess of the excess of statutory allowance quantity to which the occupier is entitled under and section 226 shall be paid for by him at the rate [Ss 228(1) of one rupee for every three thousand gallons
209 of Bill as introduced]

Recovery of 254H Any rent due under section 254F, interest sub-section (4), and any payment due under [Ss 228(3) of section 254G, shall be recoverable in the manner 230(2) of Bill provided by Chapter XVIII A for the recovery of as introduced] the consolidated rate

Presumption 254J Whenever water is supplied under this [Cal s 154 Bom as to correctness of meter Chapter through a meter, it shall be presumed s 71] [Ss 235 of that the quantity indicated by the meter has been Bill as introduced] consumed until the contrary is proved

Testing of 254K (1) If the owner or occupier of any meter premises to the service pipe of which a meter is attached desires to have the meter tested, he may send a written application to the Chairman, and such application must be accompanied by a fee of five rupees

(2) Upon receipt of any such application and fee, the Chairman shall forthwith cause such meter to be tested at a time and place to be specified in a notice to be served upon such owner or occupier

(3) If such meter is found, upon being so tested, to be incorrect by more than two per cent, the said fee shall be returned to the person who sent it

Replacing of 254L When any meter attached to the [Bom s. 169 (2)] meter service pipe of any premises is out of order or [Ss 236 of under repair, the Chairman shall forthwith re-
Bill as introduced] place it by another meter

Prohibition 254M (1) No person shall fraudulently— [Bom s. 223] of fraud in (a) alter the index to any meter, or prevent respect of any meter from duly registering the meter quantity of water supplied, or [Ss 239 of (b) abstract or use water before it has Bill as introduced] been registered by a meter set up for the purpose of measuring the same

(2) The existence of artificial means under the control of the consumer for causing any such alteration, prevention, abstraction or use shall be evidence that the consumer has fraudulently effected the same.

*(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public
Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XVIII
—Water supply—Sections 254N—265)*

Prohibition of meter 254N No person shall wilfully or negligently (Bom 284 (1)) injure or suffer to be injured any meter belonging to the Corporation, or any of the fittings of any such meter

Supply of water for use beyond Calcutta

Supply of filtered water to adjacent municipalities and cantonments [S 232 of Bill as introduced] 254P (1) Whenever the Local Government (Bom 284) considers that the supply of filtered water to Calcutta is more than sufficient to provide for the requirements thereof, it may, by order published in the Calcutta Gazette, direct the Corporation to deliver such quantity of filtered water per diem as may be specified in the order into reservoirs or pipes placed in—

(a) any of the following municipalities or cantonments, namely—

Municipalities

Baranagore,	North Barrackpore,
Cossipore Chitpur	North Dum Dum
Garden Reach,	South Barrackpore
Garulia,	South Dum Dum
Kamrhati,	South Suburban,
Maniktola,	Itagar

Barrackpore | Dum Dum, or

(b) any municipality which is hereafter formed by subdividing any municipality mentioned in clause (a) or by uniting into one municipality any of the municipalities mentioned in that clause

(2) For all water so delivered the Corporation shall be entitled to receive payment at such rate not being less than the actual cost to the Corporation as may be prescribed in the order aforesaid

Supply of water to persons residing out of Calcutta [S 240 of Bill as introduced] 254Q (1) Subject to any rules from time to time made by the Corporation in this behalf, the Chairman may in his discretion allow any person not residing within Calcutta to take or be supplied with water on such terms as the General Committee may from time to time prescribe (C L a. 165 B m 58)

(2) No person shall without the written permission of the Chairman take or cause to be taken for use outside Calcutta water supplied under this Chapter

Power to extend this Chapter to environs of Calcutta 265 (1) If the Local Government determines that any area forming part of the environs of Calcutta shall be included in the water supply provided for by this Chapter it may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette extend this Chapter or any portion thereof, together with any other portion of this Act which relates thereto to such area (C L a. 165 B m 58)

(2) Any such notification must define the boundaries of such area, and shall take effect one month after the date of its publication in the Calcutta Gazette

*(Calcutta Municipality --Part V --The Public
Health, Safety and Convenience - Chapter
XVIII --Water supply --Sections 265A-- 265C)*

(3) When any portion of this Act has been so extended to any area, all expenses and compensation which, under this Act, may be ascertained and determined by a Court of Small Causes may be ascertained and determined by any Court of Small Causes having jurisdiction within such area, and any fines imposed for breach of any provisions of this Chapter may be enforced by a Magistrate having jurisdiction within such area, in the manner prescribed by the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, for the levy of fines

- (a) water supplied for flushing privies or urinals shall not be cut off or turned off,
- (b) water shall not be cut off or turned off in any case referred to in clause (b) or clause (g) unless written notice of not less than twenty four hours has been given to the occupier of the premises
- (2) The expense of cutting off the connection or of turning off the water in any case referred to in sub section (1) shall be paid, in the case of a bustee, by the owner of the premises, and in any other case by the owner or occupier of the premises
- (3) When all moneys for the non payment of which water has been turned off or cut off from any premises under clause (b) of sub section (1) have been duly paid to the Corporation together with the expense of cutting off or turning off the water, the Chairman shall cause water to be supplied to such premises as before
- (4) If any money, for the non payment of which water has been cut off or turned off from any premises under clause (b) of sub section (1) was due from the owner of the premises and is paid by the occupier the occupier may deduct the amount thereof from the rent of the premises, together with the expenses paid by him under sub-section (2)
- (5) No action taken under or in pursuance of this section shall relieve any person from any penalties or liabilities which he may otherwise have incurred

265D Whenever a supply of filtered and unfiltered water has been provided in any street the Chairman may by written notice require the owner of any well, situated in premises which are supplied from the mains, to fill it up with suitable material

265E When a plan for laying pipes or constructing aqueducts for bringing water into Calcutta from any place beyond Calcutta has been approved by the Local Government, the municipal authorities may, in the execution and for the purposes of the work, exercise throughout the line of country through which such pipes or aqueducts are to run, all the powers which they might exercise under this Act or any rule or bye law made hereunder if the said pipes or aqueducts were to run in Calcutta, and the Magistrate of any district through which the said pipes or aqueducts are to run may exercise in respect of the work the same powers and jurisdiction as a Magistrate may, under his Act, exercise in respect of any work executed by a municipal authority in Calcutta

CHAPTER XIX — DRAINS, PRIVIES AND OTHER RECEPTACLES FOR FILTH

Proprietary Rights of the Corporation in respect of Drains

Public drain 266 All public drains, and all drains in, [Cal s 272] alongside or under any public street, whether made at the charge of Municipal Funds or otherwise, and all works, materials and things appertaining thereto, shall vest in the Corporation

Drain 267 All drains and ventilation shafts, pipes [Bom s 242] and other appliances and fittings connected with drainage works constructed, erected or set up at the charge of the Municipal Funds upon premises not belonging to the Corporation, whether before or after the commencement of this Act and whether for the use of the owner or occupier of such premises or not, shall, unless the Corporation has otherwise determined or do at any time otherwise determine, vest and be deemed to have always vested in the Corporation

Duties of the Corporation in respect of Maintenance and Construction of Drains

268 The Corporation shall keep all municipal drains in repair and shall cause to be made such drains as may be necessary for effectually draining Calcutta [P H A s 5, Bom n 221, Cal s 274]

269 (1) The Corporation shall provide a safe and sufficient outfall, within or without Calcutta for the proper discharge of the storm water and sewage of Calcutta in such manner as not to cause any nuisance whether by flooding any part of Calcutta or of the country surrounding the outfall or in any other way [Bom s 245 Cal s 274]

(2) The plans of the outfall and the method of disposing of sewage shall be subject to the sanction of the Local Government, which may from time to time direct such alterations to be made as it may consider necessary

(3) If the outfall deteriorates, by the decay of existing river channels or otherwise, the Local Government may require such order to be taken, and such additions or alterations to be made to or in the outfall works, at the charge of Municipal Funds, as it may consider necessary to ensure the proper discharge of storm water and sewage in such manner as not to cause any nuisance as aforesaid

Municipal Drains

269A (1) With the consent of the General Committee the Chairman may carry any municipal drain through, across or under any street or any place laid out as or intended for a street, and, after giving reasonable notice in writing to the owner or occupier, into, through or under any land whatsoever within Calcutta or, for the purpose of outfall or distribution of sewage, without Calcutta. [Bom s 222 Cal s 273]

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XIX—Drains, Privies and other receptacles for filth—Sections 269B—269D)

(2) With the like consent the Chairman may construct any new drain in the place of an existing drain in any land wherein any municipal drain has been already lawfully constructed, or may repair or alter any municipal drain so constructed, and may for those purposes enter upon such land

(3) In the exercise of any power conferred by this section as little damage as may be shall be done, and the Chairman shall, with the sanction of the General Committee, pay compensation to any person who sustains damage by the exercise of such power discontinue or alter municipal drains

[S 275 of Bill as introduced]

269B The Chairman may—

[Bom. s. 224 Cal.,
s. 273]

(1) enlarge, arch over or otherwise improve any municipal drain, and,

(2) with the consent of the General Committee, discontinue, close up or destroy any municipal drain which has in his opinion become useless or unnecessary

Provided as follows —

(a) the discontinuance, closing up or destruction of any municipal drain shall be so done as to create the least practicable nuisance or inconvenience to any person,

(b) if, in the exercise of any of the powers conferred by this section, it is proposed to demolish any house drain, a written notice shall be served upon the owner of such drain,

(c) if, by reason of anything done under this section any person is deprived of the lawful use of any drain, the Chairman shall, as soon as may be, provide for his use some other drain as effectual as the one which has been discontinued, closed up or destroyed streets etc.

not to be constructed over municipal drain without permission.
[S 289 of
Bill as introduced]

269C (1) Without the written permission of the General Committee no railway or private street shall be constructed, and without the written permission of the Chairman no wall or other structure shall be newly erected, over any municipal drain.

[Bom. s. 234]

(2) If any railway or private street be constructed, or if any wall or other structure be erected, without the permission required by subsection (1), the Chairman may, with the approval of the General Committee, remove or otherwise deal with the same as he may think fit, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the person offending

Communication of drain under control of Local Authority beyond Calcutta with
drain
[S 277 of Bill as introduced]

269D (1) Any Local Authority without Calcutta may cause any drain under its control to communicate with any municipal drain, on such terms and conditions as may be agreed on between such Local Authority and the General Committee and sanctioned by the Corporation

[P. H. A. s. 22.]

(Calcutta Municipality.—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XIX—Drains, Pipes and other receptacles for filth—Sections 269E—279B)

(2) If in any case terms and conditions cannot be agreed upon or are not sanctioned under sub section (1), the said Local Authority shall refer the matter to the Local Government, whose decision shall be final

Communication of municipal drains with lakes, streams, etc. beyond
Calcutta.
[S. 278 of Bills introduced]

269E When a plan for making drains to communicate with, or empty themselves into, any public drain, lake, stream, canal or water course beyond Calcutta has been approved by the Local Government, the municipal authorities may, in the execution and for the purposes of the work, exercise, throughout the line of country through which the said drains are to run, all the powers which they might exercise under this Act if the said drains were to run entirely in Calcutta,

[Cal. s. 395]

and the Magistrate of any district through which the said drains are to run may exercise, in respect of the work the same powers and jurisdiction as a Magistrate may under this Act exercise in respect of any work executed by a municipal authority entirely in Calcutta

Drainage of Premises

Right of owner or occu-pier of premises to empty his house-drain into municipal drain.

279 The owner or occupier of any premises shall be entitled to cause his house-drain to empty into a municipal drain, provided that he first obtains the written permission of the Chairman and that he complies with such conditions as the Chairman prescribes as to the mode in which and the superintendence under which communications between house-drains and municipal drains are to be made

[Bom. s. 228]

Connections with municipal drain not to be made except in conformity with section 279
[S. 286 of Bills introduced]

279A (1) No person shall, without complying with the provisions of section 279, make or cause to be made any connection of a house drain with a municipal drain

(2) The Chairman may, with the approval of the General Committee, close, demolish, alter or re-make any such connection made in contravention of sub section (1), and the expenses incurred by the Chairman in so doing shall be paid by the owner or occupier of the premises for the benefit of which the connection was made, or by the person offending

(2) The Chairman may, with the approval of the General Committee, close, demolish, alter or re-make any such connection made in contravention of sub section (1), and the expenses incurred by the Chairman in so doing shall be paid by the owner or occupier of the premises for the benefit of which the connection was made, or by the person offending

house drain with each building)
[S. 281 & 283 of
Bills introduced]

279B Where a house drain belonging to one or more persons has been laid in any private street or passage which is common to more than one building, and the Chairman considers it desirable that any other premises should be drained into such drain he may, by written notice, require the owner of such premises to connect his house-drain with such first-mentioned drain, and the owners of such first mentioned drain shall thereupon be bound to permit such connection to be made

s. 236 & 237 & 238]

Provided that no such connection shall be made except upon such terms as may be prescribed by the Corporation and until any payment which may be directed by the Corporation has been duly made.

*(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public
Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter
XIX—Drains, Privies and other receptacles for filth—Sections 284—288)*

Draining of group or block of buildings by
operation

284 (1) If it appears to the Chairman that any group or block of buildings may be drained more economically or advantageously in combination than separately, and a sewer of sufficient size already exists, or is about to be constructed, within one hundred feet of any part of such group or block of buildings, the Chairman may, with the approval of the General Committee, cause such group or block of buildings to be drained by a combined operation, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owners of such buildings, or, in the case of bustee land, by owners of the land, in such proportions as the General Committee may think fit

(2) Not less than fifteen days before any work under this section is commenced, the Chairman shall give written notice to the owners of all the land or buildings to be drained of the proposed work and an estimate of the nature of expenses about to be incurred in respect thereof and the proportion payable by each owner

Power of Chairman to enforce drainage of un-drained premise situate within 100 feet of a municipal drain

287 Where any premises are, in the opinion of the Chairman, without sufficient means of effectual drainage, and a municipal drain or some place lawfully set apart for the discharge of drainage is situated at a distance not exceeding one hundred feet from some part of the said premises, the Chairman may, with the approval of the General Committee, by written notice require the owner or occupier of the said premises—

[Dom Cal " 31]

- (a) to make a house-drain emptying into such municipal drain or place aforesaid,
- (b) to provide and set up all such appliances and fittings as may appear to the Chairman necessary for the purposes of gathering and receiving the drainage from and conveying the same off the said premises and of effectually flushing such house-drain and every fixture connected therewith or
- (c) to remove any existing house-drain, or other appliance or thing used or intended to be used for drainage, which is injurious to health

Power of Chairman to enforce drainage of un-drained premises in other cases

288 Where, in any case not provided for in section 287, any premises are, in the opinion of the Chairman, without sufficient means of effectual drainage, he may, with the approval of the General Committee, by written notice require the owner or occupier of the said premises to make a house drain communicating with the nearest municipal drain

Provided as follows —

- (a) the cost of constructing the portion of the house-drain so made which is situate more than one hundred feet from the said premises shall be paid out of the Municipal Funds,

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XIX—Drains, Privies and other receptacles for filth—Sections 291 292)

(b) if, in the opinion of the Chairman there is no municipal drain within a reasonable distance of the said premises, he may, with the approval of the General Committee, by written notice require the owner of the premises to construct—

(i) a house-drain or house-drains, and

(ii) a closed cesspool of such material, size and description, and in such position, as he may prescribe

Power of Chairman to close or limit the use of house drain

291 (1) Where a house drain connecting any premises with a municipal drain is sufficient for the effectual drainage of the said premises and is otherwise unobjectionable, but is not, in the opinion of the Chairman adapted to the general drainage system of Calcutta, the Chairman, with the approval of the General Committee,—

[Bom s 23]

(a) may, subject to the provisions of subsection (2), by written notice direct that such house-drain be closed, discontinued or destroyed, and may cause any work necessary for that purpose to be done or

(b) may, by written notice, direct that such house-drain shall, from such date as he prescribes in this behalf be used for sewage offensive matter and polluted water only or for rain water and unpolluted sub soil water only, and require the owner or occupier of the premises to make a new and entirely distinct house drain for rain water and unpolluted sub soil water or for sewage, offensive matter and polluted water, as the case may be

(2) No house drain may be closed discontinued or destroyed by the Chairman under clause (a), except on condition of his providing another house-drain as effectual for the drainage of the premises and communicating with any municipal drain which the Chairman thinks fit, and the expenses of the construction of any drain so provided by the Chairman and of any work done under clause (a) shall be paid out of the Municipal Funds

(3) Any requisition made by the Chairman under clause (b) may embrace any detail specified in clause (b) of section 287

Power of Chairman to require that sewage and rain water drains be distinct

292 Whenever it is provided in this Chapter that steps shall or may be taken for the effectual drainage of any premises, the Chairman may, by written notice require that there shall be one house-drain for sewage, offensive matter and polluted water and another and entirely distinct house-drain for rain water or unpolluted sub-soil water, or for both rain water and unpolluted sub soil water, each emptying into separate municipal drains or other suitable places

[Bom s 239 Cal s 279]

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health Safety and Convenience—Chapter XIX—Drains, Privies, and other receptacles for filth—Sections 292A—292E)

292A Except with the written permission of the Chairman, and in conformity with such conditions as may be prescribed by the General Committee either generally or specially, in this behalf, no drain shall be so constructed as to pass beneath any part of a building

Restrictions on construction of drain beneath building [Bom s 240]

292B No person shall construct a cesspool beneath any part of a building which is used or intended to be used for human habitation or in which any person is, or is intended to be, employed in any manufacture, trade or business

Prohibition of construction of cesspool beneath certain buildings [Bom s 241]

292C (1) Every house drain which is situated in, alongside or under any street and which has been or shall be constructed, whether at the charge of the Municipal Funds or not, for the sole use and benefit of, or which is continued for the sole use and benefit of, any premises adjoining or near to such street, shall be maintained and from time to time repaired, flushed, cleansed and emptied by the owner or occupier of the said premises

Maintenance of house drains kept up for the benefit of certain premises only [S 286 of Bill as introduced] [B m s 226 Cal 287]

(2) The Chairman may,—

(a) by written notice, require the owner or occupier of the said premises to repair, flush, cleanse or empty any such house drain, or

(b) with the approval of the General Committee by written notice require such owner or occupier to take such other order with such house drain as the Chairman may deem necessary

292D (1) For the purpose of efficiently draining any building or land, the Chairman may, by written notice,—

Laying etc., of courtyard etc. between building [S 290 of Bill as introduced] [C 1 211]

(a) require any courtyard, alley or passage between two or more buildings to be paved with such materials and in such manner as may be approved of by him, and

(b) require such paving to be kept in proper repair

(2) The Chairman may also, by written notice, require the level of any such courtyard, alley or passage to be raised, if he considers it necessary that that should be done in order to secure efficient drainage

292E (1) The General Committee may prescribe such surface drains for the drainage of huts as the circumstances of the locality and the position of the nearest sewer may render practicable

Surface drains for huts [S 296 (1) of Bill as introduced] [B m s 349 (1) B C Bill s 4 (1) (1) (13)]

(2) If the General Committee consider that a new surface drain should be constructed for the benefit of occupants of any hut, they may, by written notice, require the owner of the land on which the hut stands to construct such drain

(3) When any drain has been constructed by the Chairman in default of compliance with a notice issued under sub section (2), and is subsequently repaired at the expense of the Municipal Funds, the owner of the hut aforesaid shall be bound to pay the cost of such repair

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XIX—Drains, Privies and other receptacles for filth—Sections—292F—292K)

Rules as to drains 292F Drains must be constructed, laid, [Cal s 412 (g)

Privies and urinals

Provision and maintenance of public privies and urinals by General Committee 292G The General Committee shall provide [Cal s 310 Bom s 252, C B C s 122] and maintain, in proper and convenient situations privies and urinals for the use of the public, and shall cause all privies and urinals so provided to be constructed and kept so as not to be a nuisance or injurious to health

Licensing of public privies and urinals [S 311 of Bill as introduced] 292H (1) The General Committee may [Cal s 311 312 C B C s 123]
grant licenses, for any period not exceeding one year for the provision and maintenance of privies and urinals for the use of the public, and may charge for such licenses such fees as may be authorised by the Corporation, and may at any time, if they think fit, on giving one month's notice, cancel any license so granted

(2) All fees charged for licenses granted under sub section (1) shall be recoverable from the licensees in the manner provided by this Act for the recovery of the consolidated rate

(3) No person shall keep a privy or urinal for the use of the public without obtaining a license therefor under sub section (1), or after such license has been cancelled and no licensee shall suffer a licensed public privy or urinal to be in a filthy or noxious state [Cal s 312]

Privies and urinals for future buildings 292J Every building erected or re erected [Bom s 247 348 (1) P H A s 35]
after the commencement of this Act must be provided with a sufficient privy or a sufficient [C B C s 123 (10)]
[S 375 (1) and 396 (10) of Bill as introduced] privy and urinal

Provided as follows —

(a) the Chairman may, by written order, in any case declare that no privy or urinal need be provided,

(b) the General Committee may allow a common privy or common privies for the use of the occupants of any two or more adjacent butts

Direction to require provision of privy or urinal for building in public land or bustee 292K If it appears to the Chairman that any [Bom s 248, P H A s 36 Cal s 294 C B C s 123 R port para. 120 (1) C B C s 120] building land or bustee is without a privy or urinal or that the existing privy or urinal available for use by the occupiers of any building of land or bustee is insufficient, inefficient or for sanitary reasons objectionable, he shall, by written notice, require the owner of the building, land or bustee to provide a privy or urinal, or additional privies or urinals to the satisfaction of the Chairman

Provided that, where a privy or urinal is, or is intended to be, used in common by the occupiers of two or more premises and the Chairman considers that the same is sufficient for all the occupiers of both or all such premises, he need not require a separate privy or urinal to be provided on or for each of such premises.

(Calcutta Municipality — Part V — The Public Health, Safety and Convenience — Chapter XIX — Drains, Privies and other receptacles for filth — Sections 292L — 294)

292L If it appears to the Chairman that ^[Bom 410] any premises are, or are intended to be, used as ^{H A s 38]} a market, railway station, dock, wharf or other place of public resort, or as a place for the employment of persons exceeding twenty in number in any manufacture, trade or business or as workmen or labourers, he may, by written notice, require the owner or occupier of such premises to provide a sufficient number of privies and urinals for the separate use of persons of each sex

292M Privies and urinals, and appurtenances thereof, must be constructed, maintained and regulated in accordance with— ^[Bom 461 (a)] ^{C B C s Bill n. 116]}

(a) the rules contained in Schedule XIIB, and
(b) requisitions made under such rules

292N When the occupier of any building or land pays the expenses of making any structural alterations in a privy or urinal in pursuance of any notice issued under this Chapter or Schedule XIIB, he may deduct the amount thereof from any rent due or thereafter accruing due to the owner of the building or land ^[C B C 1 & Re-rt 10 (3)]

292P (1) If, within three years after any privy has been provided or altered with the sanction or on the requisition of any municipal authority, a requisition is made by any municipal authority for the rebuilding or alteration of such privy the expenses of such rebuilding or alteration shall be paid out of the Municipal Funds ^[C B C Bill 121]

(2) When any notice has been issued under Schedule XIIB in respect of any privy or group of privies or urinals erected before the commencement of this Act, and the General Committee are satisfied that the owner of the building or land in or on which any such privy or urinal is situated is from poverty unable to pay the expenses or the entire expenses of carrying out the work required by the notice the General Committee may direct that such expenses, or such portion thereof as they think fit, be paid out of the Municipal Funds

Inspection of drains, house gullies, privies and urinals

293 All house drains, ventilation shafts and pipes, cesspools, house gullies, privies and urinals which do not belong to the Corporation or which have not been constructed, erected or set up at the charge of the Municipal Funds on premises not belonging to the Corporation for the use or benefit of the owner or occupier of the said premises, shall be open to inspection and examination by the Chairman ^[Bom 390] ^{s 3 (1)]}

294 For the purpose of such inspection and examination the Chairman may cause the ground or any portion of any house drain or other work exterior to a building, or, with the approval of the General Committee, any portion of a building which he may think fit, to be opened, broken up or removed ^[Bom 250] ^{251 (1)]}

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XIX—Drains, Privies and other receptacles for filth—Sections 295, 296)

Provided that in the prosecution of any such inspection and examination as little damage as may be shall be done

Expenses of inspection and examination by whom to be paid

295 (1) If, upon any such inspection and examination as aforesaid, it is found that the house-drain, ventilation shaft or pipe, cesspool, house-gully, privy or urinal examined is in proper order and condition, and that none of the provisions of this Chapter or Schedule XIIA or Schedule XIIB have been contravened in respect of the construction or maintenance thereof, and that no encroachment has been made thereupon, the ground or the portion of any building, house drain or other work, if any, opened, broken up or removed for the purpose of such inspection and examination shall be filled in, re-instated and made good by the Chairman

290]

(2) But if it is found that any house drain ventilation shaft or pipe, cesspool, house gully, privy or urinal so examined is not in good order or condition, or has been repaired, changed, altered, encroached upon or (except when the same has been constructed by or under the order of a municipal authority) constructed in contravention of any of the provisions of this Chapter or Schedule XIIA or Schedule XIIB or of any enactment at the time in force,

[Bom. s. 256

the expenses of the inspection and examination shall be paid by the owner of the premises, and the said owner shall at his own cost fill in, re-instate and make good the ground, or the portion of any building, house drain or other work, opened, broken up or removed for the purpose of such inspection and examination

Power of Chairman to require repairs to be made

296 (1) When the result of the inspection and examination is as described in section 295, sub section (2), the Chairman may, by written notice, require the owner of the premises in which the house-drain, ventilation shaft or pipe, cesspool, house gully, privy or urinal is situate—

- (a) to close or remove the same or any encroachment thereupon, or
- (b) to renew, repair, cover, re-cover, trap, ventilate, pave and pitch, flush, cleanse or take such other order with the same as the Chairman may think fit to direct, and to fill in, re-instate and make good the ground or the portion of any building, house-drain or other work opened, broken up or removed for the purpose of the inspection and examination aforesaid

(2) In any such case as aforesaid the Chairman may, forthwith and without notice, stop up or demolish any house-drain by which sewage, offensive matter or polluted water is carried through, from, into or upon any premises in contravention of any of the provisions of this Chapter or Schedule XIIA or Schedule XIIB, and all expenses incurred by the Chairman in so doing shall be paid by the owner of the premises.

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XIX—Drains, Privies and other receptacles for filth—Sections 296A—311A)

General powers and duties of the Chairman

296A For the purpose of ventilating any drain or cesspool, whether vested in the Corporation or not, the Chairman, with the sanction of the General Committee, may erect upon any premises or affix to the outside of any building, or to any tree, any such shaft or pipe as may appear to him to be necessary. [Bom s. 244 (1) (2) Cal s. 285]

296B (1) When any underground drain is being laid, the Chairman may cause the work to be supervised and from time to time direct the making of any reasonable alteration or addition therein or thereto, or the abandonment of any part thereof if such alteration addition or abandonment appears to him to be necessary for ensuring the complete and satisfactory execution of the work. [Cal s. 281]

(2) Every such direction shall, when given to any person other than a municipal officer or servant, be given by written notice

296C When a notice has been issued under this Chapter or Schedule XIIA, requiring any person to construct or alter a drain the Chairman may himself cause to be constructed or altered so much of the drain as is to run on runs through or under any municipal drain, public aqueduct or public street, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner of the drain. [Cal s. 278]

296D In executing any drainage works under this Chapter the Chairman with the approval of the General Committee shall provide and make, out of the Municipal funds a sufficient number of convenient ways, water courses and drains in substitution for any that may be interrupted, injured or rendered useless by reason of the execution of such works and, if any difference arises between the Chairman and the persons affected, the same shall be settled by the Court of Small Causes having jurisdiction in the place where such works are executed, on application to be made to it for this purpose. [Cal s. 290]

Filth receptacles near tank or reservoir

311A (1) No person shall construct any house drain, cesspool, service privy, urinal or other receptacle for sewage or offensive matter within fifty feet of any tank or any reservoir for the storage of water, unless he first satisfies the Engineer that he will take such order as will prevent any risk of sewage or offensive matter passing by percolation or otherwise into such tank or reservoir. [Cal s. 292 B m. s. 241 C B C 1st Report p. 6 12 (1) O B C s. 113]

(2) The General Committee may at any time, by written notice require any person, upon whose land there is situated within fifty feet of any tank or any such reservoir, any receptacle mentioned or referred to in sub-section (1), to remove such receptacle

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XIX—Drains, Privies and other receptacles for filth—Sections 312A, 314)

General Prohibitions

Prohibition of certain acts.

312 No person shall,—

- (a) in contravention of any of the provisions of this Chapter or Schedule XIIA or Schedule XIIB, or of any notice issued or direction given there under, or without the written permission of the Chairman, in any way alter the fixing, disposition or position of, or construct, erect, set up, renew, re build, remove, obstruct, stop up, destroy or change, any drain, ventilation shaft or pipe cesspool, privy or urinal or any trap, covering or other fitting or appliance connected therewith,
- (b) without the written permission of the Chairman, renew, re build or unstop any drain, ventilation shaft or pipe, cesspool, privy or urinal, or any fitting or appliance, which has been, or has been ordered to be, discontinued, demolished or stopped up under any of the provisions of this Chapter,
- (c) without the written permission of the Chairman, make any encroachment upon or in any way injure or cause or permit to be injured any drain cesspool house gully, privy or urinal,
- (d) drop, pass or place, or cause or permit to be dropped, passed or placed, into or in any drain, any brick, stone, earth or ashes, or any substance or matter by which or by reason of the amount of which such drain is likely to be obstructed,
- (e) pass or permit or cause to be passed, into any drain provided for a particular purpose, any matter or liquid for the conveyance of which such drain was not provided, or
- (f) cause or suffer to be discharged into any drain from any factory, bakehouse distillery, workshop or workplace, or from any building or place in which steam, water or mechanical power is employed, any hot water, steam or fumes or any liquid which would prejudicially affect the drain or the disposal by sale or otherwise of the sewage conveyed along the drain or which would, from its temperature or otherwise, be likely to create a nuisance

Appeal

CHAPTER XXI — STREETS AND PUBLIC PLACES

Proprietary rights of the Corporation

Public streets and squares 323 All public streets and squares (not being the property and kept under the control of the Government or the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta), including the soil, and the side drains, footways, pavements, stones and other materials of such streets and squares, and all erections, materials, implements and other things provided for such streets or squares, shall vest in and belong to the Corporation

[Cal s 212 Bom Act IV of 1894 s. 22 Bom s 289(I) C B C s Bill s 8]

Maintenance, repair and protection of streets and public places

Maintenance and repair of public streets. 327 The General Committee shall, out of funds to be allotted by the Corporation, cause the public streets to be maintained and repaired, and for those purposes may do all things necessary for the public safety or convenience, including the construction and maintenance of bridges, cause ways and culverts

[Cal ss 36(7) 210 Bom. 289(2) C B C s Bill, s 7]

Watering of public streets and squares 328 (1) The Chairman shall so far as he may consider it necessary so to do for the public convenience, cause the chief public streets and squares to be watered, and for that purpose may provide such water carts, animals and apparatus as he may think necessary

[Cal s 211 Bom 336]

(2) If any question arises as to whether any particular public street or square should be watered instead of or in addition to others, the matter may be referred to the General Committee, whose decision shall be final

Cutting of hedges and trees 329 (1) The Chairman shall cause any hedges belonging to the Corporation which border on any street or square to be trimmed or pruned to a height not exceeding seven feet and any trees belonging to the Corporation which overhang any public street and obstruct the same or cause damage thereto to be cut and trimmed

[S 342 of Bill as introduced] (2) The Chairman may, by written notice, require the owner or occupier of any building or land to trim or prune, to a height not exceeding seven feet, any hedges thereof bordering on any public street, or to cut and trim trees overhanging any public street and obstructing the same or causing damage thereto

[Cal s 225 Bom 383]

(3) The Chairman, if for the public safety it appears to him necessary so to do, may cause any hedge or tree referred to in sub section (2) to be trimmed, pruned or cut without previously giving notice to the owner or occupier of the building or land as required by that sub section and the expenses thereof shall nevertheless be paid by the owner or occupier

Regulation of verandahs etc. projecting over streets. [S 366 of Bill as introduced] 329B (1) No verandah supported by pillars resting on a street shall be erected or re erected—

(a) in any street specified by the General Committee in this behalf,

(b) in any street the width of which is less than fifty feet, or

(c) over any footpath the width of which is less than six feet.

[Cal s 223 Bom ss. 294 308 (a) C B C s 1st Report para 64 C B. C s Bill s. 26.]

(Oakland Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XXI—Streets and Public Places—Sections 329C, 329D)

(1a) No roof shall be placed on any verandah supported as aforesaid and no roof exceeding three feet in width shall be placed on any verandah projecting over a street and not supported as aforesaid

(1b) No person shall put up any verandah, balcony, sunshade, weather frame or the like to project over any street, without the written permission of the General Committee

(2) Subject to the provisions of sub sections (1) and (1a), the General Committee may at their discretion, give written permission on such conditions as they may think fit with reference to payment of fees or rent or any other matter, to owners or occupiers of buildings abutting on any street to put up verandahs balconies sunshades, weather frames and the like, whether supported by pillars or not, to project over such street

(3) On the breach of any such condition, the Committee may by written notice require the owner or occupier to comply with such condition

(4) At any time after permission has been given under sub section (2) to put up a verandah, balcony, sunshade, weather frame or the like, to project from a building, the General Committee may, by written notice, require the owner or occupier of the building to remove such projection on payment of compensation

Removal or alteration of fixtures attached to building so as to project over public street or land [See 330 and 340 of Bill as introduced]

329C (1) When any fixture has, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, been attached to a building so as to form part of the building, and the same causes a projection, encroachment or obstruction over or on any public street or any land vested in the Corporation, the General Committee may, by written notice require the owner or occupier of the building to remove or alter such fixture

(2) If the expense of removing or altering any such fixture is paid by the occupier of the building in any case in which the fixture was not erected by himself, he shall be entitled to deduct the expense of removal or alteration from the rent payable by him to the owner of the building

(3) If the owner or occupier of the building proves that any such fixture was erected before the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty three, or that it was erected on or after that day with the consent of any municipal authority duly empowered in that behalf, the Corporation shall make reasonable compensation to every person who suffers damage by the removal or alteration of the fixture

Removal of other obstructions in public street. [See 333 of Bill as introduced.]

329D (1) The Chairman may remove any wall, fence, rail post, platform or other obstruction, projection or encroachment (not being a fixture referred to in section 329C) which has been erected or set up, and any materials or goods which have been deposited, in a public street or in or over any drain or aqueduct in a public street, whether the offender be prosecuted or not.

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Concomitants—Chapter XXI—Streets and Public Places—Sections 329E—330A)

(2) When the Chairman removes any wall, obstruction, projection or encroachment from land which forms part of a public street, no compensation shall be payable, but the General Committee shall be bound to provide proper means of access to and from the street if none exist already Repair protection or enclosure of dangerous buildings, tanks, &c near streets.

[S 346 of Bill as introduced]

329E If any building, tank, well, hole or other place near a street be, for want of sufficient repair, protection or enclosure, dangerous to passengers or to persons living in the neighbourhood, the General Committee may, by written notice, require the owner of the land to repair, protect or enclose such building, tank, well, hole or place

[Cal a. 281 Bom. s. 9 (1).]

Sky-signs.

329F (1) No person shall erect or maintain a sky sign without the written permission of the Chairman stating that the sign is not so constructed or maintained as to be dangerous to the public and is not likely to fall into any street or public place

(2) Every written permission granted under sub section (1) shall continue in force for not more than one year from the date on which it was granted, and may be revoked at any time by the Chairman if he considers that the sky sign for which it was granted has become dangerous to the public or is likely to fall into a street or public place

Execution of works in streets

Guarding and lighting when public street opened or broken up and speedy completion of work

330 (1) When any drain in, or the pavement or surface of, any public street is opened or broken up for the purpose of carrying on any work or when any public street is under construction, the Chairman shall cause the place to be fenced and guarded and to be sufficiently lighted during the night, and shall take proper precautions for guarding against accident, by shoring up and protecting adjoining buildings and shall, with all convenient speed, complete the said work, fill in the ground, and repair the said drain, pavement or surface, and carry away the rubbish occasioned thereby

[Cal ss. 226 296 Bom ss. 318 321]

(2) No person shall, without lawful authority, remove any fence or shoring timber, or remove or extinguish any light, set up under sub section (1)

[Bom s. 321 (2).]

Prevention or restriction of traffic in street during progress of work

330A (1) When any work referred to in section 330 is being executed in any public street, or when any other work which may lawfully be done is being executed in any street, the Chairman may direct that such street shall, during the progress of such work, be either wholly or partially closed to traffic generally or to traffic of any specified description

[Bom s. 319 Cal. s. 296]

(2) When any such direction has been given the Chairman shall set up in a conspicuous position in or near the street an order prohibiting traffic to the extent so directed, and shall fix such bars, chains or posts across or in the street as he may think proper for preventing or restricting traffic therein.

(Clatsop Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XII.—Streets and Public Places—Sections 330B—335)

(3) No person shall, without lawful authority, infringe any such order or remove any such bar, chain or post.

Provision of facilities, and payment of compensation, when work executed by municipal authority in public street

330B (1) When any work is being executed by any municipal authority in any public street, the Chairman shall, so far as may reasonably be practicable, make adequate provision for—

[Bom., s. 30]

- (a) the passage or diversion of traffic,
- (b) securing access to all premises approached from such street, and
- (c) any drainage, water supply or means of lighting which are interrupted by reason of the execution of the work

(2) The Chairman shall pay compensation to any person who sustains special damage by reason of the execution of any such work

• Naming of public streets and numbering of buildings

Naming of public streets [S. 325 of Bill as introduced]

330C (1) The Chairman shall from time to time cause to be put up or painted in a durable manner on a conspicuous part of some building, wall or place, at or near each end, corner or entrance of every public street, such name as the Corporation may from time to time determine as the name by which such street is to be known.

[Cal. s. 217 Bom. s. 327 C. B. C. s. 5]

(2) No person shall without lawful authority destroy, pull down or deface any such name, or put up any name different from that put up by order of the Chairman

Numbering of buildings in or near street [S. 326 of Bill as introduced.]

330D (1) The Chairman shall from time to time cause a number to be affixed in a conspicuous place on the outside of each building in or near a street or at the entrance of the enclosure of each such building

[Cal. s. 218 Bom. s. 327 C. B. C. s. 6.]

(2) No person shall without lawful authority destroy, pull down or deface any such number

(3) When a number has been affixed under sub-section (1), the owner of the building shall be bound to maintain such number and to replace it if removed or defaced, and if he fails to do so the Chairman may, by written notice, require him to replace the number

Lines of buildings and public streets

Power to define general line of buildings

333 (1) If the General Committee consider it expedient to define the general line of buildings on each or either side of any public street at the time in existence, they shall give public notice of their intention so to do

[Cal. s. 206 Bom. s. 297 (1) C. B. C. s. 2nd Report para 2 C. B. C. s. 10]

(2) Such line shall not be defined so as to extend further back than the line of the wall abutting on the street at its widest part

(3) Every such notice shall specify a period within which objections will be received

(4) The General Committee shall consider all objections received within the said period, and may then make an order defining the said line

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XXI—Streets and Public Places—Sections 335—337A)

(5) Such order shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette and shall take effect from the date of such publication

Restrictions on construction of buildings or walls within such line

335 No portion of any building or wall abutting on a public street shall be constructed within the line (if any) defined under section 333 [Cal. a. 206 Bom. a. 297 (1) C B C s. 1st Report, para. 57 C B C s. Bill, s. 11]

Provided that the General Committee may in their discretion permit additions to be made within such line if they merely add to the height of and rest upon an existing building or wall, upon the owner executing an agreement binding himself and his successors in interest—

(a) not to claim compensation in the event of the Committee at any time there after deciding that such additions or any portion thereof ought to be removed, and

(1) to pay the expenses of such removal

Setting back projecting buildings or wall [Ss. 336 and 338 of Bill as introduced]

336 (1) When any building, wall or part thereof projecting across a line defined under section 333, or beyond the front of the building or wall on either side of such first mentioned building or wall, has fallen down or been burnt down or taken down, the General Committee may, by written notice, require the same to be set back to or towards the said line or the line of either of the adjoining buildings or walls [Cal. a. 207 Bom. ss. 298 301 (1) C B C s. 1st Report, para. 58 C B C s. Bill s. 12]

(2) When any building or wall is set back in pursuance of any requisition made under sub section (1), the Corporation shall forthwith make full compensation to the owner of the building or wall for any direct damage which he may sustain thereby

(3) The portion of land added to a street by virtue of any such requisition shall become part of the street and shall vest in the Corporation and the Chairman may forthwith take possession of the same on behalf of the Corporation and, if necessary, clear it

Explanation—The expression “direct damage as used in sub section (2) with reference to land, means the market value of the land taken and the depreciation, if any, in the ordinary market value of the rest of the land resulting from the area being reduced in size, but does not include damage due to any particular use to which the owner may allege that he intended to put the land, although such use may be injuriously affected by the reduction of the site

Setting buildings forward to improve public street.

337 The General Committee may, upon such terms as they think fit, allow any building or wall to be set forward for the purpose of improving the line of a public street. [Cal. a. 208 Bom. ss. 300 (1) C B C s. Bill s. 13]

Opening, improvement and closing of public streets

Power of General Committee to make improvements and close streets. [Ss. 381 of Bill as intro

337A. The General Committee, with the sanction of the Corporation, may—

(2) The width of such proposed streets shall not be less than forty feet, or, in a bustee, twenty feet, inclusive of space for footpaths

Provided that this sub section shall not apply in any case in which the street alignment runs along an existing street and the General Committee consider it impracticable to widen the street to the extent of forty feet or twenty feet, as the case may be

(3) It shall be the duty of the General Committee to lay out public streets in bustees, so far as may be practicable both for the purpose of securing proper ventilation for huts in such bustees, and in view to the contingency of masonry buildings being erected therein

(4) When any plan has been prepared under sub section (1), the street to which it refers shall be deemed to be a projected public street, and the provisions of section 336 shall apply to all buildings and walls which may fall down or be burnt down or taken down so far as they stand across the street alignment or building line of the projected street

Special provisions as to private streets.

348 (1) Any person intending to make or lay out a new private street must send to the Chairman a written notice, with plans and sections showing the following particulars, namely —

(a) the intended level and width of the street,

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XXI—Streets and Public Places—Sections 349, 349A)

(b) the street alignment and the building line, and

(c) the arrangements to be made for leveling, paving, metalling, flagging, channelling, sewerage, draining and lighting the street

(2) The provisions of this Act as to the level and width of public streets and the height of buildings abutting thereon shall apply also in the case of streets referred to in sub section (1), and all the particulars referred to in that sub section shall be subject to approval by the General Committee

(3) Within thirty days after the receipt of any notice under sub section (1) the General Committee shall either sanction the making of the street, or disallow it, or ask for further information with respect to it

(4) Such sanction may be refused—

(i) if the proposed street would conflict with any arrangements which have been made or which are in the opinion of the General Committee likely to be made for carrying out any general scheme of street improvement,

(ii) if the proposed street does not conform to the provisions of this Act referred to in sub section (2), or

(iii) if the proposed street is not designed so as to connect at one end with a street which is already open

(5) If further information is asked for, no steps shall be taken to make or lay out the street until orders have been passed upon receipt of such information

Prohibition of 349 No person shall make or lay out any street referred to in section 348, sub section (1) until he has obtained the sanction of the General Committee under that section or in contravention of any orders made thereunder [Calcutta 214 Rem 304(1) C B C Bill 21]

Alteration or demolition of street made in breach of section 348 349A (1) If any person makes or lays out any street referred to in section 348, sub section (1), without having obtained the sanction of the General Committee under that section, or in contravention of any orders made thereunder the Chairman may with the sanction of the General Committee, whether or not the offender be prosecuted under this Act, by written notice,— [B m 2.]

(b) require the offender to appear before the Chairman, either personally or by a duly authorised agent, on such day and at such time and place as may be specified in the notice and show cause as aforesaid

(2) If any person on whom such notice is served fails to show sufficient cause, to the satisfaction of the Chairman, why such street should not be so altered or demolished the Chairman may cause the street to be so altered or demolished, and the expenses thereof shall be paid by such person to the satisfaction of the Corporation

350 (1) If any private street or any part thereof be not levelled paved, metalled, flagged channelled, sewered, drained and lighted to the satisfaction of the General Committee, they may, by written notice to the respective owners or occupiers of the land fronting adjoining or abutting upon such street or part, as the case may be require them to level pave, metal, flag, channel sewer, drain and light such street or part

[Cal. s. 215, Bom. s. 305, C.B.C. s. 22]

(2) If such notice be not complied with the General Committee may, if they think fit direct the Chairman to execute the works mentioned or referred to therein, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owners in default, according to the frontage of their respective lands in such proportion as may be settled by the General Committee or, in case of dispute, as may be settled under section 340

Lower Corporation to take over private streets
351 (1) If any private street which conforms to the provisions of this Act referred to in section 348 sub section (2) be levelled, paved metalled, flagged, channelled, sewered, drained and lighted to the satisfaction of the General Committee, the Corporation may, if they think fit, and if three fourths of the owners of buildings in such street signify in writing their consent thereto, declare the same, by written notice put up in any part of such street, to be a public street, and thereupon the same shall become a public street and shall vest in the Corporation

(2) The Corporation may with the consent of the owner or all the owners thereof, take possession of any private street which conforms to the provisions of this Act referred to in section 348, sub section (2) and thereupon such street shall become a public street and shall vest in the Corporation prepare a declaration relating to the streets or localities referred to in the notice and submit the declaration to the Local Government, together with the said objections (if any) and their report upon them

(4) The Local Government, after considering the said objections (if any) may confirm the declaration, and before doing so may modify it but not so as to extend its effect

(5) When any such declaration has been so confirmed, it shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette and shall take effect from the date of such publication

(6) No person shall erect or re erect any building in contravention of any such declaration

366 (1) External roofs or walls of buildings shall not after the commencement of this Act be made of grass, leaves, mats, canvas or other inflammable materials

(2) The General Committee may by written notice require the owner of any building situated in or near a street and contiguous to or adjoining any other building, and having at the commencement of this Act an external roof or wall made of any such inflammable material as aforesaid to remove or alter such roof or wall

Explanation—Sub sections (1) and (2) do not apply to bamboo shingle or wood

(3) Sub-sections (1) and (2) shall not apply to any garden hut, orchid house, fernery or other similar structure within a compound, unless in any particular case the General Committee consider any such structure to be dangerous

(4) Nor shall sub sections (1) and (2) apply to the area which was added to Calcutta by the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act or to any area hereafter included in Calcutta under section 656, or to any portion of any of those areas until they have been specially extended thereto by a resolution passed by the Corporation

Masonry buildings

370A (1) The Local Government may make rules—

(a) to confer and impose mutual rights and obligations upon owners of adjacent masonry buildings or lands as regards the erection, re erection use, maintenance, alteration and repair of party walls,

(b) to regulate the exercise and enforcement of such rights and obligations, respectively,

(c) for apportioning between such owners any expenses incurred in the erection, re-erection maintenance, alteration or repair of such walls, and for requiring security to be given by one owner to another for the payment of his share of such expenses,

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XXII—Buildings—Sections 364A, 365)

364A When any person after the commencement of this Act sells land for sub division or building sites, and the area of any such site is too small to admit of sufficient land being left for the formation of a street in accordance with the provisions of this Act, the instrument of sale shall be deemed, in the absence of an express clause therein to the contrary to include a covenant binding the vendor, his executors administrators and assigns, to provide free of further payment so much additional land as may be needed for the formation of such street

Buildings generally

365 (1) The Corporation may, at the instance of the General Committee give public notice of their intention to declare—

(a) that, in any streets or portions of streets specified in the notice,—

(i) continuous building will be allowed subject to the provisions of this Act relating to continuous building, or

(ii) the elevation and construction of the frontage of all masonry buildings thereafter erected or re erected in respect of their architectural features be such as the General Committee may consider suitable to the locality, or

(b) that, in any localities specified in the notice, the erection of only detached buildings will be allowed subject to the provisions of this Act relating to detached buildings, or

(c) that, in any streets, portions of streets, or localities specified in the notice,—

(i) the erection of shops will not be allowed without the special permission of the General Committee or

(ii) the erection of buildings of the warehouse class will not be allowed without the special permission of the General Committee, or

(iii) the erection of buildings of the warehouse class will be allowed, subject to the provisions of this Act relating to such buildings, or

(iv) the erection of huts will not be allowed without the special permission of the General Committee

(2) No objections to any such declaration shall be received after a period of three months from the publication of such notice

(3) The General Committee shall consider all objections received within the said period, and shall then report to the Corporation who may

Application of Act to alterations of, and additions to, buildings

Applicant of Act to alter 405A (1) Without the consent of the General Committee, no person shall make any alteration of or addition to, any building in such manner that when so altered or added to the building will by reason of such alteration or addition not be in conformity with the provisions of this Chapter or Schedule XIVA, or any orders, rules or bye laws made under this Act, relating to the erection of buildings. [L B A s 207]

(2) Every alteration of, or addition to, a building, and any other work made or done for any purpose in, to, or upon a building, shall, so far as regards such alteration, addition or other work,

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XXII—Buildings—Sections 412 416A)

be subject to the provisions of this Chapter and Schedule XIVA and any orders rules or bye laws made under this Act, relating to the erection of buildings

Provided as follows —

- (a) none of the said provisions, orders, rules or bye laws shall apply in the case of a necessary repair not affecting the position or dimensions of a building, [L B A s (a)]
- (b) sections 371A to 391D or sections 397 to 400 as the case may be, shall not apply in the case of any alteration of or addition to, a building unless one or more of the works referred to in rule 52 of Schedule XIVA is or are undertaken, [C B C Bill ss 234 47 34 (B C s 1st R report p ss 2 91 C B C Bill ss 41 (5) 65 (2)]
- (c) provisional permission to proceed with any of the works referred to in the said rule 52 may be granted in the cases and subject to the conditions prescribed in this behalf in the said Schedule XIVA

(d) If any question arises as to whether any alteration addition or other work is a necessary repair not affecting the position or dimensions of a building the matter shall be referred to the General Committee, whose decision shall be final.

Compensation

412 If permission to erect a masonry building or to convert one or more huts or temporary structures into a masonry building is refused on the ground that the site falls wholly or in part within the street alignment of any projected public street, and if the site or the portion thereof which falls within such alignment be not acquired by the Chairman under section 347A within one year after the date of such refusal the Corporation shall pay reasonable compensation to the owner of the site [C B C Bill ss 234 47 34 (B C s 1st R report p ss 2 91 C B C Bill ss 41 (5) 65 (2)]

Provided that, if it appears to the Committee that any such owner is unable by reason of poverty, to pay such expenses or any portion thereof they may order the same to be paid out of the Municipal Funds

429 (1) If any hut be pulled down in execution, any improvement under the orders of the General Committee in pursuance of section 428, the Committee shall cause the materials of such hut to be given to the owner of the hut, or, if the owner be unknown or the title be disputed, the materials shall be sold and the proceeds of the sale, together with any sum which may be awarded as compensation under section 428 sub section (2), shall be held in deposit by the Corporation until the person claiming the amount obtains an order from a competent Court for the payment of the same to him

(2) A Court of Small Causes shall be deemed to be a competent Court for the purposes of this section

430 The Corporation may, at any time after the receipt of a report made under section 425, purchase or acquire any land (not being bustee land) which is mentioned in that behalf in Schedule A annexed to such report

431 When improvements have been carried out in any bustee under section 427 or section 428, the provisions of sections 422, 423 and 424 shall apply to the bustee for the purpose of bringing it into complete conformity with the standard plan approved under section 426

432 (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in sections 426 to 431, the General Committee may after receipt of a report made under section 425 with respect to any bustee, pass a resolution to the effect that the bustee is an unhealthy area and that, in their opinion, the purchase or acquisition of the bustee, or of any portion thereof, is necessary for the purpose of making the requisite improvements therein

*(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public
XXIII—Bustees—Sections 433, 434)*

(2) When any such resolution has been passed, the General Committee shall proceed to make a standard plan for the improvement of the said bustee or portion, and shall lay such plan before the Corporation, together with such estimates as may be necessary for a due understanding of the same and a copy of the said resolution

(3) If the plan be approved by the Corporation, they shall submit it to the Local Government, together with the said estimates and a copy of the said resolution, and if the plan be approved by the Local Government, the General Committee may purchase or acquire the said bustee or portion

(4) When the said bustee or portion has been so purchased or acquired, the General Committee shall either—

(a) sell or let the same or part thereof to some person for the purpose and under the condition that he will, as respects the land so sold or leased to him carry out the improvements shown in such standard plan, or

(b) themselves bring the said bustee or portion together with any part thereof which has not been sold or leased under clause (a) into conformity with such standard plan

(5) The General Committee shall be bound to proceed as directed by sub section (4) within a period of four years from the date of their purchasing or acquiring the said bustee or portion in pursuance of sub section (3), or within such further period (if any) as the Local Government may prescribe

[Cal s 264 C B
C s Bill s 98]

(2) From the date of such notice no application shall be received for erecting, re erecting or adding to any hut on such land

(3) Such owner shall be bound to remove, within six months after the date of such notice, all huts standing on such land, and, if he does not do so, the notice shall be deemed to be cancelled

(4) When all huts have been so removed, such land shall cease to be bustee land, and shall, according to its situation, either be altogether excluded from the limits of the bustee, or be shown, in any standard plan approved for the bustee under this Chapter, as not being bustee land

Provided that, if any such land is shown in such plan as a street or part of a street, the same shall, unless the General Committee otherwise direct, continue to be a private street, and shall be subject to the provisions of section 436, sub-section (2)

CHAPTER XXX—REGULATION OF FACTORIES, TRADES, &c

Factory &c not lawfully established without permission of the Chairman

488 (1) No person shall, without the previous permission of the Chairman, newly establish in any premises any factory, workshop or workplace in which it is intended to employ steam, water or other mechanical power

[Bom. a. 360.]

(2) The Chairman may refuse to give such permission if he is of opinion that the establishment of such factory, workshop or workplace in the proposed position would be objectionable by reason of the density of the population in the neighbourhood thereof, or would be a nuisance to the inhabitants of the neighbourhood.

Sanitary regulation of factories, bakehouses &c and prevention of danger from machinery

489 (1) Whenever it appears to the Chairman that any factory, bakehouse, workshop or workplace or any other building or place is not kept in a cleanly state or is not ventilated in such a manner as to render harmless, as far as practicable, any gas, vapour, dust or other impurity generated in the course of the work carried on therein which is a nuisance,

[Bom., a. 392.]

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XXX—Regulation of Factories, Trades, &c—Sections 490, 491)

or is so overcrowded while work is carried on as to be dangerous or injurious to the health of the persons employed therein, or that any engine, mill gearing hoist or other machinery therein is so fixed or so insecurely fenced as to be dangerous to life or limb

the Chairman may by written notice, require the owner of such factory, bakehouse workshop, workplace or other building or place to take such order as the Chairman considers necessary for putting and maintaining the same in a cleanly state or for ventilating the same or for preventing the same from being overcrowded, or for preventing danger to life or limb from any engine mill gearing, hoist or other machinery therein

(2) Nothing in sub section (1) shall affect Bengal Act III of 1879 (an Act to provide for the periodical inspection of steam boilers and prime movers attached thereto in the town and suburbs of Calcutta and in Howrah), and nothing in this section which relates to the fixing or fencing of any engine mill gearing, hoist or other machinery shall apply to any factory to which the Indian Factories Act, 1881, is applicable

Act of 1881

Use of team whistle or steam trumpet

490 (1) No person shall, without the written permission of the Chairman, use or employ in any factory or any other place any steam whistle or steam trumpet for the purpose of summoning or dismissing workmen or persons employed

[Bom s 393]

(2) The Chairman may at any time, on giving one month's written notice revoke any permission given under sub section (1)

Provided that no notice need be given if the Chairman suspends or revokes any such permission for any reason specified in section 611, sub section (4)

Certain trades not to be carried on without license

491 (1) No person shall use or permit to be used any premises for any of the purposes hereinafter referred to or mentioned without or otherwise than in conformity with the terms of a license granted by the Chairman in this behalf, that is to say —

ss 335 346]

(a) any of the purposes specified in Schedule XVII,

(b) any purpose which is, in the opinion of the Chairman, dangerous to life health or property, or likely to create a nuisance,

(c) keeping horses, cattle or other four footed animals for sale or hire or for sale of the produce thereof or

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, * Safety and Convenience—Chapter XXX—Regulation of Factories, Trades, &c—Sections 490—493)

(d) storing for other than domestic use or selling, timber, firewood, charcoal, coal, coke, ashes, hay, grass, straw or any other combustible thing

(2) Every person to whom a license is granted by the Chairman to use any premises for any of the purposes referred to or mentioned in sub section (1) shall keep affixed in a conspicuous part of the said premises a board upon which shall be legibly written, in English and also in Bengali or Urdu, the following particulars, namely—

- (i) the licensee's name,
- (ii) the purpose for which and the limitations and conditions subject to which the license is granted, and
- (iii) any other details relating to the license or the terms thereof which the Chairman from time to time thinks fit to require

(2a) When any premises in the occupation of a lessee are used for any of the purposes referred to or mentioned in sub section (1), the lessor shall be presumed, unless the contrary is proved, to have permitted their use for such purpose.

(3) Nothing in the foregoing sub sections shall apply to mills for spinning or weaving cotton wool, silk or jute

492 The Corporation shall fix a scale of fees to be paid in respect of premises licensed under section 491 [Cal. a 347]

Provided that no fee shall exceed five hundred rupees or be less than the amount otherwise payable for a trade or profession license under Schedule III

492A (1) An appeal shall lie to the General Committee from—

(a) any refusal by the Chairman to grant a written permission under section 488 or a license under section 491, and

(b) any notice issued by the Chairman under section 489

(2) The decision of the General Committee on any such appeal shall be final

(3) When an appeal has been preferred from any notice issued under section 489, the notice must, pending the decision of the appeal, be obeyed

493 (1) If it be shown to the satisfaction of the General Committee that the use of any premises situated near dwelling houses for any of the purposes referred to or mentioned in section 491 (except as cow houses or stables) is injurious to the health or material comfort of the occupants of such houses, or [Cal. a 349 C B. if any premises situated within fifty feet of a dwelling house are used for any of the said purposes (except as aforesaid) or if the owners of any buildings situated within one hundred feet of any premises used for any of the said purposes (except as aforesaid) make an application to the General Committee in this behalf and deposit with the Corporation the sum required for purchasing or acquiring the said premises, as estimated by the Chairman, and also undertake to pay any further expenses to which the Corporation may be put, the General Committee may by written notice, require the occupier of such premises to discontinue such use within one month after the service of the notice

(2) When the use of any premises for any of the purposes aforesaid has been discontinued in pursuance of such a notice, no compensation shall be payable for loss arising from such discontinuance, but the Corporation shall be bound to purchase both the land and the buildings from the owner and if the Corporation are unable to agree with the owner as to the price to be paid, the land and buildings may be acquired under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894

Power to 493A Whenever a Magistrate imposes a fine on any person under section 612 for using or permitting the use of any premises for any purpose in contravention of sub section (1) of section 49F he may, if it is proved to his satisfaction that such premises are kept in such a state as to be a nuisance direct that they shall no longer be used for the said purpose

494 (1) No person engaged in any trade or manufacture specified in Schedule XVII shall—

(a) wilfully cause or suffer to flow or be brought into any tank, reservoir, cistern, well, duct or other place for water belonging to the Corporation or into any drain or pipe communicating therewith, any washing or other substance produced in the course of such trade or manufacture or

(b) wilfully do any act connected with any such trade or manufacture whereby the water in any such tank, reservoir, cistern, well, duct or other place for water is fouled or corrupted.

(2) The Chairman may, after giving not less than twenty four hours previous notice in writing to the owner or to the person who has the management or control of any works, pipes or conduits connected with any such manufacture or trade as aforesaid, lay open and examine the said works, pipes or conduits

(3) If, upon such examination, it appears that sub section (1) has been contravened by reason of anything contained in or proceeding from the said works, pipes or conduits, the expenses of such laying open and examination, and of any measure which the Chairman, in his discretion,

may require to be adopted for the discontinuance of the cause of such contravention, shall be paid by the owner of the said works, pipes or conduits or by the person who has the management or control thereof, or through whose neglect or fault the said sub-section has been contravened

(4) But if it appears that there has been no contravention of the said sub-section the said expenses, and compensation for any damage occasioned by the said laying open and examination shall be paid by the Chairman

Inspection of latrines, cess-pits, &c. 495 (1) The Chairman may, at any time by day or by night, without notice, enter into or upon—

(a) any premises used for any of the purposes referred to or mentioned in section 491,

(b) any premises in which a furnace is employed for the purpose of any trade or manufacture, or

(c) any bake-house,

in order to satisfy himself as to whether any provision of this Act or any bye law made under section 590 at the time in force or any condition of any license granted under this Act, is being contravened or as to whether any nuisance is being created upon such premises

(2) No claim shall lie against any person for compensation for any damage necessarily caused by any such entry or by the use of any force necessary for effecting such entry

Provided that force shall not be used for effecting an entry, unless when there is reason to believe that an offence is being committed against some provision of this Act or some bye law made under section 590

Public wash house 496 The Corporation may construct or provide and maintain public wash houses for the washing of clothes [Cal s 333]

Provision of other places for washing by washermen 497 If a sufficient number of public wash houses be not maintained under section 496 the Chairman shall provide suitable places for the exercise by washermen of their calling, and may require payment of such fees for the use of any such place as may from time to time be determined by the Chairman with the approval of the General Committee [Bomb s 397 (f) Cal s 340]

Prohibition of washing of clothes by washermen 498 (1) The Chairman may, by public notice, prohibit the washing of clothes by washermen in the exercise of their calling except at public wash houses maintained under section 496 or places provided under section 497 or such other places as he may appoint for the purpose [Bomb s 397 (1) Cal s 340]

(2) When any such prohibition has been made, no person who is, by calling a washerman shall wash clothes at any place other than a public wash house maintained under section 496 or a place provided under section 497 or a place appointed under sub-section (1) of this section, except for such person himself or for the owner or occupier of such place.

CHAPTER XXXII—WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

530 The Chairman shall from time to time provide such local standards of measure and weight as he deems requisite for the purpose of the verification of weights and measures in use in Calcutta, and shall make such arrangements as he thinks fit for the safe keeping of the said standards.

531 (1) The Chairman shall provide from time to time proper means for verifying weights and measures not less than once in every year by comparison with the said standards and for stamping the weights and measures so verified.

(2) The Chairman shall from time to time fix the times and places at which some municipal officer appointed by him in this behalf shall attend for the purpose of the verification of weights and measures as aforesaid.

(3) The municipal officer so appointed shall attend with the local standards in his custody, at each time and place so fixed and shall examine every weight or measure which is of the same denomination as one of such standards and is brought to him for the purpose of verification and shall compare the same with that standard and if he finds the same correct shall stamp it with a stamp of verification in such manner as best to prevent fraud.

(4) The said municipal officer shall enter in a book kept by him minutes of every such verification and shall give, if required, a certificate under his hand of every such stamping.

532 There shall be payable to the Corporation in respect of the verification and stamping of weights and measures by a municipal officer as aforesaid such fees as the Chairman may from time to time fix in this behalf.

532A The Chairman shall, in the performance and exercise of the duties and powers imposed and conferred on him by this Chapter be subject to the control of the Corporation.

CHAPTER XXXIII—RESTRAINT OF INFECTION

533 (1) Every medical practitioner who becomes cognizant of the existence of any dangerous disease in any private or public dwelling, other than a public hospital, shall give information of the same with the least practicable delay to the Health Officer.

(2) The said information shall be communicated in such form and with such details as the Health Officer with the consent of the Chairman, may from time to time require.

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XXXIII—Restraint of Infection—Sections 534—537)

534 The Chairman may, at any time by day or by night, without notice or after giving such notice of his intention as may, in the circumstances, appear to him to be reasonable inspect any place in which any dangerous disease is reputed or suspected to exist, and take such measures as he may think fit to prevent the spread of the said disease beyond such place [Bom s 422 Cal 322.]

535 (1) If it appears to the Chairman that the water in any well tank or other place is likely, if used for drinking or for the washing of clothes, to engender or cause the spread of any dangerous disease he may, by public notice prohibit the removal or use of the said water for the purpose of drinking or of washing clothes [Bom s 423 Cal 323.]

(2) No person shall remove or use, for the purpose of drinking or of washing clothes any water in respect of which any such public notice has been issued

536 (1) When any person, in the opinion of the Health Officer, is suffering from a dangerous disease and also is without proper lodging or accommodation or is lodged in a building occupied by more than one family and such Officer considers that such person should be removed to a hospital or place at which patients suffering from such disease are received for medical treatment, such Officer may send a certificate to that effect to the Chairman [Bom s 424 Cal 324.]

(1a) On receipt of any such certificate the Chairman may direct or cause the removal of such person to such hospital or place

Provided that if any such person is a female, she shall not be removed to any such hospital or place unless the same has accommodation for females, of a suitable kind and set apart from the portions assigned to males

(1b) The Chairman shall, in the exercise of his powers under sub section (1a), be subject to the control of the Corporation

(2) The person, if any, who has charge of a person in respect of whom an order is made under sub section (1a) shall obey such order

(3) If any female who, according to custom, does not appear in public, be removed to any hospital or place under sub-section (1a),—

- (a) the removal must be effected in such a way as to preserve her privacy,
- (b) special accommodation suited to such custom must be provided for her in such hospital or place,
- (c) she shall be treated therein by female agency only and
- (d) her female relatives shall be allowed to remain with her

537 (1) If the Chairman is of opinion that the cleansing or disinfecting of any building or any part of a building, or any article therein which is likely to retain infection, would tend to prevent or check the spread of any dangerous disease, he may cleanse or disinfect such building part or [Bom s 425 Cal, 325.]

article and may, by written notice require the occupier of the building or any part thereof to vacate the same for such time as may be prescribed in such notice

(2) The cost of such cleansing or disinfecting shall be paid by the occupier of the building

Provided that if in the opinion of the Chairman the occupier is from poverty unable to pay the said cost, the Chairman may direct payment to be made from the Municipal Funds

Destruction of huts and sheds

538 (1) If the Chairman is of opinion that the destruction of any hut or shed is necessary to prevent the spread of any dangerous disease, he may after giving to the owner or occupier of such hut or shed such previous notice of his intention as may in the circumstances of the case appear to him reasonable, take measures for having such hut or shed and all the materials thereof destroyed [B m, 426 Cal. 326]

(2) Compensation may be paid by the Chairman, in any case in which he thinks fit, to any person who sustains substantial loss by the destruction of any such hut or shed, but except as so allowed by the Chairman, no claim for compensation shall lie for any loss or damage caused by any exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (1)

Provided that if any person is dissatisfied with any order of the Chairman refusing to pay compensation, or with the amount of compensation paid by the Chairman he may appeal to the General Committee, whose decision shall be final

be let without being first dis-
infected

539 (1) No person shall let a building or any part of a building in which he knows or has reason to know that a person has been suffering from a dangerous disease, unless the Health Officer has disinfected the same and has granted a certificate to that effect, or until a date specified in such certificate as that on which the building or part may be occupied without causing risk of infection [B m, 433 Cal. 332]

(2) For the purposes of sub section (1), the keeper of an hotel or inn shall be deemed to let part of his building to any person accommodated therein

washing or destruction of infected articles

540 (1) The Chairman may provide a place or places, with all necessary apparatus and attendance, for the disinfection of conveyances clothing bedding or other articles which have become infected, and, when any articles have been brought to any such place for disinfection, may cause them to be disinfected either— [B m, 427 C, 327]

(a) in his discretion, on payment of such fees as he may from time to time fix in this behalf with the approval of the Corporation, or,

(b) in any case in which he thinks fit, free of charge.

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XXXIII—Restraint of Infection—Sections 541—543)

(2) The Chairman may from time to time, by public notice appoint a place or places at which conveyances, clothing bedding or other articles which have been exposed to infection from any dangerous disease may be washed, and no person shall wash any such article at any place not so appointed, without having previously disinfected the same

(3) The Chairman may by written notice direct the disinfection or destruction of any clothing bedding or other articles likely to retain infection

(4) The Chairman shall pay compensation for any article destroyed under sub section (3)

541 (1) No person shall without previous disinfection of the same give, lend sell transmit, or otherwise dispose of any article which he knows or has reason to know has been exposed to infection from any dangerous disease [B m 432 (1) 330]

(2) Nothing in sub section (1) shall apply to a person who transmits, with proper precautions any such article for the purpose of having the same disinfected

542 (1) No person who is suffering from a dangerous disease shall enter a public conveyance without previously notifying to the owner driver or person in charge of such conveyance that he is so suffering [B m 438 (1) 331]

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in any Act relating to public conveyances for the time being in force, no owner or driver or person in charge of a public conveyance shall be bound to carry any person suffering as aforesaid in such conveyance unless payment or tender of sufficient compensation for the loss and expenses he must incur in disinfecting such conveyance is first of all made to him [B m 438 (2) 331]

(3) No person who is suffering from a dangerous disease shall, without proper precautions against spreading such disease cause or suffer himself to be carried in a public conveyance [B m 439 (1) 332]

(4) No person shall go in company with or take charge of any person suffering as aforesaid who causes or permits himself to be carried in a public conveyance in contravention of sub section (1) or sub section (3) [B m 439 (2) 332]

(5) No owner, driver or person in charge of a public conveyance shall knowingly carry or permit to be carried in such conveyance any person suffering as aforesaid, in contravention of sub section (1) or sub section (3) [B m 439 (3) 332]

543 (1) The owner driver or person in charge of any public conveyance in which any person suffering from a dangerous disease has been carried shall immediately take the conveyance for disinfection to a place appointed under section 540 [B m 441 Cal 329]

(1a) The person in charge of such place shall forthwith intimate to the Health Officer the number of the conveyance and proceed to disinfect the conveyance

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XXXIII—Restraint of Infection—Chapter XXXIV—Registration of Births and Deaths—Sections 544—547)

(2) No such conveyance shall be used until the Health Officer has granted a certificate stating that it may be used without causing risk of infection

Provision of special conveyances for patients. 544 (1) The Chairman with the sanction of the Corporation, may provide and maintain suitable conveyances for the free carriage of persons suffering from any dangerous disease [Bom s 429 430 Cal s 328]

(2) When such conveyances have been provided, it shall not be lawful to carry any such person in, or for any such person to cause himself to be carried in, any other public conveyance

Power of Chairman to take special measures on outbreak of dangerous infectious disease or in infectious epizootic disease 545 In the event of Calcutta being at any time visited or threatened with an outbreak of any dangerous disease, or in the event of any infectious epizootic disease breaking out or being likely to be introduced into Calcutta, [Bom s 434 Cal s 334]

the Chairman, if he considers that the other provisions of this Act or the provisions of any other law for the time being in force are insufficient for the purpose, may, with the approval of the Corporation and the sanction of the Local Government,—

(a) take such special measures, and

(b) by public notice, prescribe such temporary regulations to be observed by the public or by any person or class of persons, as he may deem necessary to prevent the outbreak of such disease or the spread thereof

CHAPTER XXXIV—REGISTRATION OF BIRTHS AND DEATHS

Appointment of registrars and sub-registrars. 546 (1) The Health Officer shall be chief registrar of Calcutta and shall keep, in such form as may from time to time be prescribed by the Local Government, a register of all births and deaths occurring in Calcutta [Cal s 181 Bom s 442]

(2) The Chairman shall, for the purposes of this Chapter, divide Calcutta into such and so many districts as the Local Government may think fit, and shall appoint a person to be registrar of births and deaths for each such district

(3) On the occurrence of any dangerous disease the Chairman may, with the sanction of the General Committee, appoint as many additional registrars as he may think necessary

(4) The Chairman shall appoint a sub registrar for each registered or licensed burial or burning ground to register all corpses brought thereto for interment or cremation

Dwelling place of registrar and sub-registrar. 547 (1) Every registrar shall dwell within the district for which he is appointed, and every sub-registrar shall dwell in the vicinity of the burial or burning ground for which he is appointed [Cal s 182 Bom s 443 (1)]

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XXXIV—Registration of Births and Deaths—Sections 518—511A)

(2) Every registrar and sub registrar shall cause his name, with the addition of the words 'Registrar of births and deaths for the district of _____' or 'Sub registrar for the burial or burning ground' as the case may be to be placed in some conspicuous place on or near the outer door of his dwelling place

548 The Chairman shall cause to be printed and published a list containing the name and dwelling place of every registrar and sub registrar [Cal. s. 182 Bom. s. 443 (2)]

549 (1) The Chairman shall cause to be prepared and printed a sufficient number of register books in such form as may from time to time be prescribed by the Local Government, for making entries of all births and deaths occurring in Calcutta [Cal. s. 183 Bom. s. 414]

(2) The pages of such books shall be numbered progressively from the beginning to the end.

550 (1) Every registrar shall inform himself of every birth and death occurring in his district, and shall ascertain and register, as soon as conveniently may be after the event, and without fee or reward the particulars prescribed in Schedule XVIII or Schedule XIX, as the case may be, touching every birth or death which has not been already registered [Cal. s. 184 Bom. s. 445 (1)]

(2) Every entry in a register book shall be made in order from the beginning to the end of the book

551 The father or mother of every child born in Calcutta, or, in case of the death, illness, absence or inability of the father and mother, the occupier of the building in which such child is born, shall, within eight days after the day of the birth, give information to the registrar of the district, according to the best of his or her knowledge and belief, of the several particulars prescribed in Schedule XVIII [Cal. s. 185 Bom. s. 446 (1)]

551A The nearest relative present at the death, or in attendance during the last illness, of any person dying in Calcutta, or, (in case of the death, illness absence, inability or default of such relative) every other person present at the death, or [Cal. s. 186 Bom. s. 449 (1)]

(in default of such relative or other person as aforesaid) the occupier of the building in which the death occurred, or,

(if such occupier be the person who has died) some person living in the building in which the death occurred, shall, within twelve hours after the death, give information to the registrar of the district, or to the sub registrar of the burial or burning ground where the body is buried or burnt according to the best of his knowledge and belief, of the several particulars prescribed in Schedule XIX

(a) if any one of the aforesaid persons gives the required information, no other person shall be bound to give it,

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V.—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XXXIV—Registration of Births and Deaths—Sections 557—564)

(b) if the death occurs in a hospital none of the aforesaid persons shall be bound to give information, but it shall be the duty of the medical officer in charge of the hospital, within twelve hours after the death, to send to the Health Officer a written notice containing the particulars prescribed in Schedule XIX

557 Any medical man in attendance during the last illness of any person dying in Calcutta shall, within three days of his becoming cognizant of the death of such person, send a written notice to the Health Officer, as nearly as may be in the form prescribed in Schedule XIX, stating, to the best of his judgment, the cause of death [Cal. s 187 Bom 460 (1).]

558 It shall be the duty of the police to convey every unclaimed corpse to a burial or burning ground or duly appointed mortuary and to inform the registrar of the district when they have done so

559 Every person by whom information is given for entry in any register book of births or deaths shall sign his true name in the book and shall enter correctly therein his description and place of abode, and no registration shall be deemed to be complete or of any effect until this has been done [Cal. s 189]

Provided that the registrar may fill up and sign the register book for any person who is unable to write

560A A sexton or keeper of a burial or burning ground, whether situated within Calcutta or not shall not bury burn or allow to be buried or burnt the corpse of any person who has died in Calcutta unless such corpse is accompanied by a certificate, in the form prescribed by Schedule XIX, signed by a registrar or sub registrar appointed under section 546 or by a medical officer [Cal. s 190]

Provided that, at any burial or burning ground where there is a sub registrar who keeps a register in the form prescribed by the said Schedule, an entry in such register relating to the deceased shall be deemed sufficient

561 Every sub registrar shall, within twenty four hours of registering any death under this Chapter, forward to the registrar of the district in which the death occurred a copy of the entry made by him and the registrar on receipt thereof shall forthwith enter the death in the district register [Cal. s 190]

564 The Local Government may make rules— [Bom. s 46]

(a) prescribing the qualifications to be required in persons appointed to be registrars or sub registrars under this Chapter, and

(b) generally, for the guidance of the Chairman, the Health Officer, registrars and sub-registrars in all matters connected with the carrying out of this

(Calcutta Municipality—Part V—The Public Health, Safety and Convenience—Chapter XXXV—Disposal of the Dead—Sections 565—568)

CHAPTER XXXV—DISPOSAL OF THE DEAD

565 Every owner or person having the control of a place used for burying, burning or otherwise disposing of the dead shall cause the same to be registered in a register which shall be kept by some municipal officer charged by the Chairman with this duty, and shall deposit in the municipal office at the time of registration a plan of the said place showing the extent and boundaries thereof and bearing the signature of a surveyor in token of its having been prepared by or under the supervision of such surveyor. [Bom. s. 485 Cal. s. 373]

566 If the existing places for the disposal of the dead appear at any time to be insufficient, or if any such place is closed under the provisions of section 568, the Chairman shall, with the sanction of the Corporation, provide other fit and convenient places for the said purpose, either within or without Calcutta, and shall cause the same to be registered in the register kept under section 565 and shall deposit in the municipal office, at the time of registration of each place so provided a plan thereof showing the extent and boundaries of the same and bearing the signature of the Engineer. [Bom. s. 486 Cal. s. 373]

567 (1) Except with the written permission of the Chairman,—
 (a) no place which has never previously been lawfully used as a place for the disposal of the dead and registered as such shall be opened by any person for the said purpose, and
 (b) no burial or burning ground which has fallen into disuse shall be again used as such.
 (2) The Chairman, with the approval of the Corporation, may grant or withhold such permission. [Bom. s. 437 Cal. s. 377]

568 (1) If, from information furnished by competent persons and after personal inspection, the Chairman is at any time of opinion—
 (a) that any place of public worship is, or is likely to become, injurious to health by reason of the state of the vaults or graves within the walls of or underneath the same, or in any churchyard or burial-ground adjacent thereto, or
 (b) that any other place used for the disposal of the dead is in such a state as to be, or to be likely to become, injurious to health,
 he may submit his said opinion, with the reasons therefor, to the Corporation who shall forward the same, with their opinion, for the consideration of the Local Government.
 (2) Upon receipt of such opinions, the Local Government, after such further inquiry, if any, as it deems fit to make, may, by notification published in the Calcutta Gazette and in local newspapers, direct that such place of public worship or other place for the disposal of the dead shall no longer be used for the disposal of the dead. [Bom. s. 438 Cal. s. 381]

569 (1) If, from information furnished by competent persons and after personal inspection, the Chairman is at any time of opinion—
 (a) that any place of public worship is, or is likely to become, injurious to health by reason of the state of the vaults or graves within the walls of or underneath the same, or in any churchyard or burial-ground adjacent thereto, or
 (b) that any other place used for the disposal of the dead is in such a state as to be, or to be likely to become, injurious to health,
 he may submit his said opinion, with the reasons therefor, to the Corporation who shall forward the same, with their opinion, for the consideration of the Local Government.
 (2) Upon receipt of such opinions, the Local Government, after such further inquiry, if any, as it deems fit to make, may, by notification published in the Calcutta Gazette and in local newspapers, direct that such place of public worship or other place for the disposal of the dead shall no longer be used for the disposal of the dead. [Bom. s. 438 Cal. s. 381]

(3) Every such notification shall be noted in

*(Calcutta Municipality—Part V.—The Public

Lower rules to be made by the Local Government in sections 28K, 47A, 292B, 292M and 360A and may by such rules alter add to or cancel any of the rules contained in Schedules IVA, IVB, XIIA, XIIB and XIVA, respectively [Ss 593, 594 of Bill as introduced]

595A (1) The Local Government may make rules to regulate any of the matters referred to in sections 28K, 47A, 292B, 292M and 360A and may by such rules alter add to or cancel any of the rules contained in Schedules IVA, IVB, XIIA, XIIB and XIVA, respectively

[Act VIII of 1874 ss 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100]

(2) The Local Government may make rules for altering adding to, or cancelling any part of Schedule III, Schedule XVIII or Schedule XIX

(3) All references in this Act to any of the aforesaid Schedules shall be construed as referring to such Schedule as for the time being amended in exercise of the powers conferred by sub section (1) or sub section (2), as the case may be

Conditions precedent to the making of rules

596 (1) The power to make rules under any section of this Act is subject to the condition* of the rules being made after previous publication

[Cf the Bengal General Clauses Act I of 1899 s 24]

(2) The power to make rules under section 8 sub section (1) section 8, sub section (2), section 88A sub section (3), or section 595A is also subject to the following further condition, namely —

- (a) a draft of the rules shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette and forwarded to the Corporation for its opinion
- (b) such draft shall not be further proceeded with until six weeks after such publication or until such later date as the Local Government may appoint

Certain rules to be subject to sanction

597 (1) No rule made under section 63 section 89A, sub section (4), or section 64 shall have any validity unless and until it is sanctioned by the Local Government

[LP s 81 (1) Cal s 49]

(2) Before sanctioning any such rule the Local Government may modify it

(Calcutta Municipality — Part VIII — Chapter

XXXIX — Bye Laws, Rules and Regulations — Sections 598 — 601)

598 When any bye law, rule or regulation has been made under this Act and (where confirmation is required) duly confirmed and (where sanction is required) duly sanctioned it shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and such publication shall be conclusive proof that the bye law, rule or regulation has been duly made

599 (1) The Chairman shall cause all bye laws, rules and regulations (except rules made under section 648) from time to time in force to be printed, and shall cause printed copies thereof to be delivered to any applicant on payment of a fee of two annas for each copy

(2) Notice of the fact of copies of bye laws rules and regulations being obtainable at the said price, and of the place where and the person from whom the same are obtainable, shall be given by the Chairman from time to time by advertisement in local newspapers

600 (1) Boards, with the bye laws, rules and regulations (except rules made under section 7, section 8, section 65, section 87, section 88 sub section (3), section 89A, sub section (3) or sub section (4) section 648 or section 649) printed thereon or with printed copies of the bye laws rules and regulations affixed thereto shall be hung or affixed in some conspicuous part of the municipal office and in such places of public resort, markets, slaughter houses and other places affected thereby as the Chairman thinks fit, and the said boards shall from time to time be renewed by the Chairman

(2) No municipal officer or servant shall prevent the inspection by any person at any reasonable time of any board provided by the Chairman under sub section (1)

(3) No person shall, without lawful authority, destroy, pull down, injure or deface any such board

601 (1) If the Local Government is at any time of opinion that any bye law, rule or regulation made under this Act by any municipal authority should be cancelled either wholly or in part, it shall cause the reasons for such opinion to be communicated to the Corporation and shall prescribe a reasonable period within which the Corporation may make any representation with regard thereto which they may think fit

(2) After receipt and consideration of any such representation, or if in the meantime no such representation is received, after the expiry of the prescribed period, the Local Government may, at any time, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette cancel such bye law, rule or regulation, either wholly or in part

Provided that no bye law, rule or regulation shall be cancelled in part only if, within the period aforesaid, the Corporation have objected to a partial cancellation thereof

(3) The cancellation of a bye-law, rule or regulation under sub section (2) shall take effect from such date as the Local Government may in the said notification direct or, if no such date is specified, then from the date of the publication of the said notification in the Calcutta Gazette, except as to anything done or suffered or omitted to be done before such date

(4) The said notification shall also be published in local newspapers

Submission of objections to complying with notice

623 (1) When any notice referred to in section 622 has been served on any person he may send to the authority or officer by whom it was issued a written objection setting forth any reasons which he may desire to urge for the withdrawal or modification of the notice ^[Ca s 438 439]

(2) If any such objection be sent in time to admit of orders being passed upon it before the expiration of the period prescribed in the notice, the execution of the work may be postponed until the authority or officer by whom the notice was issued has passed orders on the objection

(3) If any such objection be sent in time to admit of the objector being heard in person before the expiration of the period prescribed in the notice he shall be entitled to be so heard, and the objection shall be considered in his presence, at a time to be fixed by notice issued in this behalf

Power to require estimate of expenses of

624 (1) Instead of sending an objection under section 623, or at the time of sending such an objection, any person on whom a notice referred to in section 622 has been served may apply to the authority or officer by whom the notice was issued for an estimate of the expenses which would be incurred if the notice were enforced by a municipal authority, and, on receipt of such an application, the said authority or officer shall supply such estimate ^[Cal s 438 439]

(2) If the said authority or officer fails to supply such estimate, not more than five rupees shall be charged to the said person for any work executed by a municipal authority by way of enforcing the said notice

Reference of

Sub Committee or General Committee,

625. (1) If any estimate supplied under section 624 exceeds three hundred rupees, no work shall be executed by a municipal authority as aforesaid until the expiration of ten days from the date on which the estimate was so supplied ^[Cal s 439]

*(Calcutta Municipality—Part X—Chapter XLI
—Procedure—Sections 626, 627)*

(2) Within a period of seven days from the said date, the said person may apply in writing to have his objections to the execution of the work or to the estimated cost of the work determined by a Sub Committee appointed under section 88 or by the General Committee, and, if such application be made within the said period, no work shall be executed by any municipal authority by way of enforcing the said notice until the Sub Committee or the General Committee, as the case may be, have disposed of such objections

Recovery of Expenses

Recovery of expenses of demolishing buildings 626 (1) When a written notice issued under section 475, sub section (1), for the removal of a building or block of buildings is not complied with, and the building or block has been demolished in pursuance of an order made by a Magistrate under section 477B, or when the Chairman removes any wall, fence, rail, post platform or other obstruction projection or encroachment, or any materials or goods, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 329D, the expenses incurred in effecting such demolition or removal shall be recoverable by sale of the materials or other things removed, and, if the proceeds of such sale do not suffice, the balance shall be paid by the owner of the said materials or things

(2) But, if the expenses of the demolition or removal are in any case paid before the said materials or things are sold, the Chairman shall restore the materials or things to the owner thereof on his claiming the same at any time before they are sold or otherwise disposed of, and on his paying all other expenses, if any, incurred by the Chairman in respect thereof or in respect of the intended sale or disposal thereof

(3) If the said materials or things are not claimed by the owner thereof, they shall be sold by public auction, or otherwise disposed of as the Chairman may think fit, as soon as conveniently may be after one month from the date of their removal, whether the expenses of the removal have in the meantime been paid or not, and the proceeds, if any, of the sale or other disposal, remaining after defraying therefrom the costs of the sale or other disposal, and, if necessary, of the removal, shall, if not claimed by the owner within two months, be paid to the credit of the Municipal Funds, and shall be the property of the Corporation

Expenses payable on demand 627 (1) Whenever under this Act or any rule, bye-law or regulation made hereunder the expenses of any work executed or of any measure taken or thing done by or under the order of any municipal authority, any Magistrate, or any municipal officer empowered under section 26 in this behalf are payable by any person, the same shall be payable on demand

(2) If not paid on demand, the said expenses shall be recoverable by the Chairman, subject to the provisions of sub section (2) of section 639, by distress and sale of the moveable property of the defaulter in the manner provided by Chapter XVII A

*(Calcutta Municipality —Part X —Chapter XLI
—Procedure —Sections 630—633)*

Power to declare certain expenses to be improvement expenses 630 If the expenses to be recovered have been incurred in respect of any work mentioned in section 24d, section 279B, section 287, section 291, clause (b), section 292K, section 296, section 350, section 476, section 507, or section 507B, clause (a), the Chairman may, if he thinks fit, and with the approval of the Corporation, declare such expenses to be improvement expenses [Bom. a. 494]

Improvement expenses to be chargeable and by whom payable 631 (1) Improvement expenses shall be a charge on the premises in respect of which or for the benefit of which the same have been incurred, and shall be recoverable in instalments of such amounts, not being less for any premises than twelve rupees per annum, and at such intervals, as will suffice to discharge such expenses together with interest thereon at the rate of six per centum per annum, within such period not exceeding thirty years as the Chairman with the approval of the Corporation, may in each case determine [Bom., s. 495]

(2) The said instalments shall be payable by the occupier of the premises on which the expenses are so charged, or in the event of the said premises becoming unoccupied at any time before the expiration of the period fixed for the payment of such expenses or before the same, with interest as aforesaid, are fully paid off, by the owner for the time being of the said premises so long as the same continue to be unoccupied

Deduction from rent of part of improvement expenses 632 (1) Where the occupier by whom any improvement expenses are paid holds the premises, on which the expenses are charged, at a rent not less than the letting value, he shall be entitled to deduct three fourths of the amount paid by him on account of such expenses from the rent payable by him to his landlord, [Bom. a. 496]

and, if he holds at a rent less than the letting value he shall be entitled to deduct from the rent so payable by him such proportion of three-fourths of the amount paid by him on account of such expenses as his rent bears to the letting value

(2) If the landlord from whose rent any deduction is so made is himself liable to the payment of rent for the premises in respect of which the deduction is made, and holds the same for a term of which less than twenty years is unexpired (but not otherwise), he may deduct from the rent so payable by him such proportion of the sum deducted from the rent payable to him as the rent payable by him bears to the rent payable to him, and so in succession with respect to every landlord (holding for a term of which less than twenty years is unexpired) of the same premises both receiving and liable to pay rent in respect thereof

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall be construed to entitle any person to deduct from the rent payable by him more than the whole sum deducted from the rent payable to him

Power to redeem charge for improvement expenses 633 At any time before the expiration of the period for the payment of any improvement expenses, the owner or occupier of the premises on which they are charged may redeem such charge by paying to the Chairman such part of the said expenses as have not been defrayed by sums already levied in respect of the same. [Bom. a. 497]

(Calcutta Municipality.—Part X.—Chapter XLI.—Procedure.—Sections 634—637.)

Recovery of instalments due under section 629 or 631. 634 Any instalment payable under section 629 or section 631 which is not paid when the same becomes due may be recovered by the Chairman by distress and sale, in the manner provided by Chapter XVIIIA of the moveable property of the person by whom it is due [Bom s 498]

Execution of work by occupier in default of owner and deduction of expenses from rent. 635 Whenever the owner of any building or land fails to execute any work which he is required to execute under this Act or under any rule, bye law or regulation made hereunder, the occupier, if any, of such building or land may, with the approval of the Chairman, execute the said work, and he shall be entitled to recover from the owner the reasonable expenses incurred by him in so doing and may deduct the amount thereof from the rent which from time to time becomes due by him to the owner [Bom s 499 Cal s 446]

Recovery of the cost of work executed by the occupier of any building or land on the requisition of any municipal authority, or when the cost of any work executed by any municipal authority is recovered from such occupier, 635A When any work is executed by the occupier of any building or land on the requisition of any municipal authority, or [Cal s 441]

then, if the Chairman certifies that the expenses of such work, or such cost, as the case may be ought to be borne by the owner of the building or land, the said occupier may deduct the amount thereof from the rent payable to such owner or may recover the same from him in any Court of competent jurisdiction

Relief to agent or trustee. 636 (1) When any person, by reason of his receiving the rent of immovable property as agent or trustee, or of his being as agent or trustee the person who would receive the rent if the property were let to a tenant, would under this Act, be bound to discharge any obligation imposed by this Act or any rule, bye law or regulation made hereunder on the owner of the property and for the discharge of which money is required, he shall not be bound to discharge the obligation unless he has or but for his own improper act or default might have had, in his hands funds belonging to the owner sufficient for the purpose [Cal s 3—wn 1 anjil M p 1 A t XX of 1911 205 Bom s 477 700]

(2) The burden of proving the facts entitling an agent or trustee to relief under this section shall lie on him

(3) When any agent or trustee has claimed and established his right to relief under this section, the Corporation may give him notice to apply to the discharge of such obligation as aforesaid the first moneys which shall come to his hands on behalf or for the use of the owner, and should he fail to comply with such notice he shall be deemed to be personally liable to discharge such obligation

Payment of Compensation

General power of Chairman to pay compensation. 637 In any case not otherwise expressly provided for in this Act the Chairman may, with the approval of the General Committee, pay compensation to any person who sustains damage by reason of the exercise of any of the powers vested by this Act or any rule, bye-law or regulation made hereunder in any municipal authority, officer or servant [Bom s 501 Cal s 48]

(Calcutta Municipality — Part X — Chapter XL1 — Procedure — Sections 638—642)

Compensation to be paid by offenders for damage caused by them 638 (1) If, on account of any act or omission, any person has been convicted of an offence against this Act or any rule, bye law or regulation made hereunder, and, by reason of the same act or omission of the said person, damage has occurred to any property of the Corporation, compensation shall be paid by the said person for the said damage notwithstanding any punishment to which he may have been sentenced for the said offence [Bom ss 245 502 Cal s 420]

(2) In the event of dispute the amount of compensation payable by the said person shall be determined by the Magistrate before whom he was convicted of the said offence and on non payment of the amount of compensation so determined the same shall be recovered under a warrant from the said Magistrate as if it were a fine inflicted by him on the person liable therefor

Recovery of Expenses for Compensation in case of Dispute

Reference by Chairman to Small Causes Court or High Court in cases 639 (1) If, when the Chairman demands payment of any expenses under section 627, his right to demand the same or the amount of the demand is disputed, the Chairman shall refer the case for the determination of the Court of Small Causes or, if the amount involved exceeds two thousand rupees, to the High Court [Bom s 8 Act XXI 1488 s 3 (1)]

(2) The Chairman shall, pending the decision on any such reference, defer further proceedings for the recovery of the sum claimed by him, and shall, after the decision, proceed to recover only such amount, if any, as is thereby declared to be due

Application to Small Causes Court in other cases 640 Where, in any case not provided for by section 639 any municipal authority or person is required by or under this Act or any rule, bye law or regulation made hereunder to pay any expenses or any compensation, the amount to be so paid and, if necessary, the apportionment of the same, shall, in case of dispute, be determined, except as is otherwise provided in sections 552, sub section (3), 638 621, 638 and 652, by the Court of Small Causes, on application being made to it for this purpose at any time within one year from the date when such expenses or compensation first became claimable [Bom, s. 504 (al ss 205 207 222 227 255 para 3, 273 69 894 423 445)]

Recovery of sums ascertained under section 640 641 If the amount of any expenses or compensation ascertained in accordance with section 640 is not paid on demand by the person liable to pay the same, it shall be recoverable as if the same were due under a decree of the Court of Small Causes [Bom, s. 505 Cal, s 426]

Power to sue 642 Instead of proceeding in any manner hereinbefore prescribed for the recovery of any expenses or compensation of which the amount due has been ascertained as hereinbefore provided or after such proceedings have been taken unsuccessfully or with only partial success, the sum due or the balance of the sum due, as the case may be, may be recovered by suit brought in any Court of competent jurisdiction against the person liable for the same [Bom, s. 506 Cal s 426]

Alteration of limits of Calcutta

V t f i c i t
f u t n t o t h r h i t f
c l i t u

655 The Local Government may, by notification published in the Calcutta Gazette and in such other manner as the Local Government may determine declare its intention —

- (a) to exclude from Calcutta any local area (not being within the ordinary original jurisdiction of the High Court at Fort William in Bengal) comprised therein and defined in the notification, or
- (b) at the request of the Corporation to include within Calcutta any local area (other than Howrah) in the vicinity of the same and defined in the notification

Provided that where the local area is a military cantonment or part of a military cantonment, a notification shall not be published under this section in respect of it without the previous sanction of the Government of India

657 (1) When a local area is excluded from Calcutta under section 656,—

- (a) this Act and all rules bye laws regulations orders directions and powers made, issued or conferred hereunder, shall cease to apply thereto and
- (b) the Local Government shall after consulting the Corporation, frame a scheme determining what portion of the balance of the Municipal funds and other property vested in the Corporation shall vest in Her Majesty

(Calcutta Municipality—Part XI—Chapter
XLII—Supplemental Provisions—Sections 658—661)

for the benefit of the local area, and in what manner the liability of the Corporation shall be apportioned between the Corporation and the Secretary of State for India in Council, and, on the publication of the scheme in the Calcutta Gazette, the property and liabilities shall vest and be apportioned accordingly

(#) All property vested in Her Majesty under sub section (1) shall be applied, under the orders of the Local Government, to discharging the liabilities imposed on the Secretary of State for India in Council under that sub section, or for the promotion of the safety, health, welfare or convenience of the inhabitants of the said local area

658 When any local area is included in Calcutta under section 606 this Act, and except as the Local Government may otherwise by notification in the Calcutta Gazette direct, all rules, bye laws, regulations, orders directions and powers made, issued or conferred hereunder, and in force throughout Calcutta at the time the local area is so included, shall apply in such area [C 1 60]

Extension of Act to Howrah

659 The Local Government may, by notification published in the Calcutta Gazette and in such other manner as the Local Government may determine, declare its intention to extend to the town of Howrah, or any part thereof, subject to the modifications and restrictions (if any) specified in such notification, all or any portions of this Act which do not already apply thereto

660 (1) The Commissioners of the Municipality of Howrah or any inhabitants thereof, may if they object to such extension, submit their objection in writing to the Local Government within such period as may be specified in this behalf in the said notification, and the Local Government shall take such objection into consideration

(2) When the said period has expired, and the Local Government has considered the objections (if any) which have been submitted under sub section (1), the Local Government may by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, extend to the town of Howrah, or to the part thereof specified in the notification published under section 659, as the case may be, all or any of the portions of this Act which were specified in the said notification, subject to the modifications and restrictions (if any) specified in that notification or subject to such other modifications or restrictions (if any) as the Local Government may think fit or without modification or restriction of any kind [Cf. Act XIII 1889 (Cantonments) s. 20]

661 If all or any portions of this Act which do not already apply to the town of Howrah be extended to that town or any part thereof under section 660, then—

(*Calcutta Municipality — Part XI — Chapter
XLII — Supplemental Provisions — Section 662*)

- (a) the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, or the corresponding portions of that Act, as the case may be, shall be repealed in the said town or part on and from the date of such extension,
- (b) the provisions of sub section (4) of section 2 of this Act shall have effect as if the said Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 or the said corresponding portions thereof, as the case may be had been repealed by this Act, and
- (c) except as the Local Government may otherwise by notification in the Calcutta Gazette direct all rules bye laws, regulations, orders, directions and powers made, issued or conferred under the portions of this Act which have been so extended, and in force at the date of such extension, shall apply to the said town or part, in supersession of all corresponding rules, bye laws, regulations, orders directions and powers made, issued or conferred under the said Bengal Municipal Act, 1884

Explanation—The extension to the town of Howrah or any part thereof of any portion of this Act shall not have the effect of placing the said town or part under the authority of any municipal authority constituted or appointed for Calcutta

Police

662 (1) The Commissioner of Police and his subordinates shall be bound—

- (a) to co-operate with the Chairman for carrying into effect and enforcing the provisions of this Act and for maintaining good order in Calcutta, and
- (b) on the order of a Magistrate, to assist the municipal authorities in carrying out any order made by a Magistrate under this Act for the demolition of a building

(2) It shall be the duty of every police officer in Calcutta—

- (a) to communicate without delay to the proper municipal officer any information which he receives of a design to commit or of the commission of any offence against this Act or any rule bye-law or regulation made hereunder and
- (a) to assist the Chairman or any municipal officer or servant reasonably demanding his aid for the lawful exercise of any power vesting in the Chairman or in such municipal officer or servant under this Act or any such rule, bye law or regulation

of liability in same class

9 Any person who has taken out a license for the next preceding year or has been fined under section 606 for not taking out a license during that year, shall subject to the other provisions of these rules, be deemed to be liable and entitled to take out a license for the current year under the class in which he was then placed

Time for presentation of application for remission etc

10 (1) Any person who claims a remission or refund under proviso (a) to section 206, in respect of any year, must present an application to the Chairman before the first day of July in the next following year

(2) Any person who—

(i) has taken out a license for the next preceding year or has been fined under section 606 for not taking out a license during that year and

(ii) in consequence of any change in his profession, trade, calling or place of business, or for any other reason, claims an exemption or declaration under proviso (b) or proviso (c) to the said section 206, must present an application to the Chairman before the first day of July in the current year

Power of Chairman to summon licensees to take out licenses etc

11 (1) If the Chairman considers—

(a) that any person who has not taken out a license in the next preceding year ought to take out a license, or

(b) that any person who has taken out a license for the next preceding year, but has not done so for the current year, ought to take out a license under a higher class or to take out more than one license,

he may serve such person with a notice directing him to take out a license or licenses for the current year under such class or classes as may to the Chairman seem proper

(2) If the Chairman considers that any person who has taken out a license for the current year ought to have taken out a license under a higher class, he may serve such person with a notice directing him to take out a license under such higher class for the next following year

to prove liability when service of notice

SCHEDULE IVA

[See sections 28K and 595A]

RULES FOR PREPARATION AND PUBLICATION OF THE MUNICIPAL ELECTION ROLL

Registration of names of owners and occupiers of land and buildings as introduced by Bill No. 43 of 1902. 1 On or before the first day of September, 1902, and thereafter on or before the first day of September immediately preceding each general election, the Chairman shall, by notification published in local newspapers, call upon all owners and occupiers of land or buildings to register their names in the assessor's office.

Registration and payment of municipal taxes conditional to entry in municipal election roll introduced by Bill No. 43 of 1902. 2 A person, or a company, firm Hindu joint-family or other association of individuals,— (a) shall not be entitled to be enrolled in the municipal election roll as qualified to vote under sub-clause (a), sub-clause (b) or sub-clause (c) of section 29 unless his or its name has been registered in pursuance of rule 1 before the first day of November immediately succeeding the publication of the notification prescribed by that rule and

(b) shall not be entitled to be enrolled in the municipal election roll as qualified to vote under any sub-clause or clause of section 29 unless he or it has paid in his or its own name all instalments of the consolidated rate and other municipal taxes due from him or it for the first two quarters of the year in which the notification prescribed by rule 1 is published.

Provided that when the Chairman has, under section 157, levied the entire consolidated rate from the owner of any building, any occupier of the building who is qualified to vote in respect of the sum due from him as consolidated rate shall be entitled to be enrolled on satisfying the Chairman that he has paid such sum to the owner of the building in accordance with provisions of section 158.

Preparation of list of persons appearing entitled to vote in municipal election roll introduced by Bill No. 43 of 1902. 3 (1) On or before the first day of December, 1902, and thereafter on or before the first day of December immediately preceding each general election, the Chairman shall prepare a list of persons appearing to be entitled to be enrolled in the municipal election roll as voters of wards [B m s 19 (1) (2) (3) (4) (5) C 1 20]

(2) The list shall be arranged in accordance with the alphabetical order of the names of streets and with the numbering of premises in streets, and shall be sub-divided into parts showing separately, for each ward into which Calcutta is divided as provided in this Act, the names of persons entitled to be enrolled as voters for that ward and the number of votes to which each person is entitled.

(3) The list may be further sub-divided in such manner as the Chairman may from time to time consider convenient.

(4) In preparing the list, the Chairman shall enter therein the names of the persons who are qualified under section 29, sub-section (2), whether such persons be individuals, or companies, firms, Hindu joint-families or other associations of individuals, or receivers or trustees.

*(Calcutta Municipality—Schedule IVA—Rules
for preparation and publication of the Municipal Election-roll—Rules 4-8)*

(5) If individual members of any company, firm, Hindu joint family or other association, or any receivers or trustees so entered be qualified as aforesaid on their own separate account the Chairman shall enter their names in the list separately

4 The Chairman shall publish the list, prepared as aforesaid by causing a printed copy thereof to be fixed for public inspection in a conspicuous position at the municipal office, and at such other places as he thinks fit, on or before the said first day of December, and to be kept so fixed during the remaining days of that month

5 Printed copies of the list shall be delivered to any person applying for the same on payment of such reasonable fee for each copy as may from time to time be prescribed by the Chairman with the approval of the General Committee, in this behalf

6 On or before the tenth day of the said month of December the Chairman shall give notice by advertisement in local newspapers, of the publication of the said list and of the place at which and the fee for which copies of it may be obtained

(1) Every person who claims to have his name inserted in the list or who claims to be entitled to more votes than are allotted to him in the list, must on or before the first day of the succeeding month of January, give written notice of his claim to the Chairman

(2) Any person whose name is in the list may object to any other person as not being entitled to have his name retained therein

(3) Every person desiring to make an objection under sub rule (2) must, on or before the said first day of January, send to the Chairman and also give to the person objected to, or leave at his last known place of abode, written notice of the objection and of the nature thereof

(4) If the name of a company, firm Hindu joint family or other association of individuals has been entered in the list, any one individual person duly authorised in this behalf by the members of such association may, by written notice sent to the Chairman on or before the said first day of January, apply that his name be entered in the list as the representative, for the purposes of the list, of such association

(1) The Chairman shall, before the first day of the succeeding month of March, revise the said list

(2) He shall for that purpose hear in open office the claims, objections and applications which have been duly made as aforesaid, and shall give three clear days notice of the holding of the inquiry

(3) Such notice shall be served upon each claimant, each person objecting, each applicant and each person objected to, and shall be fixed on some conspicuous place in the municipal office

(4) The Chairman shall insert in the list—

(a) the name of every person who has duly claimed to have his name inserted therein and whose claim is proved to the Chairman's satisfaction, and

*(Calcutta Municipality—Schedule IVA—Rules
for preparation and publication of the Municipal Election roll—Rules 9 13)*

(b) when any person has duly claimed to be entitled to more votes than were originally allotted to him in the list, and such claim is proved to the Chairman's satisfaction—the number of votes to which such person is found to be entitled

(5) The Chairman shall expunge from the list the name of every person proved to his satisfaction to be dead, and may correct any clerical error or omission in the list [Bom. s. 19(15)]

(6) Except as hereinbefore provided the Chairman shall retain in the list the name of every person to whom objection has not been duly made [Bom. s. 1 (16)]

(7) The Chairman shall also retain in the list the name of every person objected to unless the objector appears, by himself or by some person duly authorised by him in this behalf in support of the objection [Bom. s. 19(17)]

(8) Where the objector so appears the Chairman shall require proof of the qualification of the person objected to and if, within such reasonable time as the Chairman fixes in this behalf, or on the subsequent day if any, to which the hearing is adjourned under rule 9, such person's qualification is not proved to the Chairman's satisfaction, he shall expunge his name from the list [Bom. s. 19(18)]

(9) If no individual person has applied to the Chairman, under sub rule (4) of rule 7, to have his name entered in the list as the representative of a company firm, Hindu joint family or other association of individuals, the Chairman shall determine what individual person shall be entitled to represent such association, and shall enter his name in the list as the person qualified to vote or to be elected in behalf of such association [Cal. s. 2 B n 13(1)]

Adjournment of Bill 9 The Chairman may adjourn the hearing of any matter under the foregoing rules from time to time but so that no adjourned hearing be held after the last day of February immediately preceding the general election [Bom. s. 13(22)]

Intention of Bill 10 When the aforesaid list has been revised by the Chairman he shall sign a printed copy thereof and that copy shall be the municipal election roll [Bom. s. 1(1)]

Publication of Bill 11 The Chairman shall publish the municipal election roll by causing a printed copy thereof to be fixed for public inspection in a conspicuous position at the municipal office and at such other places as he thinks fit [Cal. s. 22]

Delivery of Bill 12 Printed copies of the municipal election roll shall be delivered to any person applying for the same, on payment of such reasonable fee for each copy as may from time to time be prescribed by the Chairman, with the approval of the General Committee, in this behalf [Bom. s. 21(4) Cal. s. 23]

Commencement of Bill 13 (1) The municipal election roll shall come into operation on the first day of March immediately preceding the general election and shall continue in operation for three years beginning of that day [Cal. s. 23 Bom. s. 21(1)]

(Calcutta Municipality.—Schedule IVB —Rules for conduct of elections —Rules 1 4)

(2) The roll shall be final, and, while it continues in force, it shall not be altered except so as to correct such clerical errors as the Chairman may advertise by public notice given from time to time [Bom a. 21 d]

(3) If a municipal election roll is not prepared in due time, the municipal election roll in operation immediately before the time at which the new roll ought to have been prepared shall continue in operation until the new roll is prepared

[2nd para of Sch XV to Bill as introduced] 2 Every such house-drain must be of adequate size with an internal diameter of not less than four inches

Angles
[3rd para of Sch XV to Bill as introduced] 3 No such house drain shall be so constructed as to form in any of such drains a right angled junction either vertical or horizontal and every branch drain or tributary drain must be joined to another drain obliquely at an angle of not less than one hundred and thirty five degrees, in the direction of the flow of such other drain

How to be laid
[2nd para of Sch XV to Bill as introduced] 4 Every such house-drain must be laid upon a bed of good concrete not less than six inches thick, must be covered for half its depth with concrete not less than four inches thick and must have a proper fall

Inhabitants of building
[3rd para of Sch XV to Bill as introduced] 5 Every such house drain must be so constructed as to prevent any inlet to the drain (other than such inlet as may be required from the apparatus of a connected privy or water closet) being made within the building

Traps
[4th para of Sch XV to Bill as introduced] 6 (1) In every such house-drain a suitable trap must be provided

(2) Such trap must be placed—

- (a) within the curtilage of the building, or
- (b) with the approval of the General Committee in the footpath or (if there is no footpath) in the roadway adjacent to the building, and
- (c) at a point as distant as may be practicable from the building and as near as may be practicable to the point at which the drain is connected with a municipal sewer

6th para of Sch XV to
Bill as intro duced] (3) Every inlet to any such house drain (other than an inlet provided in pursuance of rule 7 as an opening for the ventilation of the drain) must be properly trapped

Ventilation [with para of ditto.] 7 The ventilation of such house drains must be provided for as follows —

[10th para
of ditto] (1) at least two untrapped openings must be made, as follows —

[11th para
of ditto] (a) one opening must be made at or near the level of the surface of the ground adjoining the opening, must be as near as may be practicable to the trap prescribed by rule 6, sub rule (1) must be on that side of such trap which is nearer to the building, and must communicate with the drains by means of a suitable pipe, shaft or disconnecting chamber,

[12th para
of ditto] (b) the second opening must be made by carrying up, from a point in the drains as far distant as may be practicable from the point at which the opening mentioned in clause (a) is situated, a pipe or shaft fixed vertically to such height and in such manner as effectually to prevent any escape of foul air from such pipe or shaft into any building in the vicinity thereof, and in no case to a less height than ten feet

[10th and 13th paras
of ditto] (2) Provided that in any case in which the Chairman considers it impracticable to enforce the provisions of sub clauses (a) and (b), the two openings prescribed by clause (1) shall be made as follows —

[11th para
of ditto] (i) one opening shall be made by carrying up, from a point as near as may be practicable to the trap prescribed by rule 6 sub rule (1), a pipe or shaft fixed vertically to such height and in such manner as effectually to prevent any escape of foul air from such pipe or shaft into any building in the vicinity thereof, and in no case to a less height than ten feet, and such opening shall be situated on that side of the said trap which is nearer to the building,

[15th para
of ditto] (ii) the second opening shall be made at a point in the drains as far distant as may be practicable from the point at which the said pipe or shaft is carried up, shall be at or near the level of the surface of the ground adjoining the opening and shall communicate with the drains by means of a suitable pipe or shaft,

[16th para
of ditto] (3) every opening provided under this rule must be furnished with a suitable grating or other suitable cover for the purpose of preventing any obstruction in or injury to any pipe or drain by the introduction of any substance through the opening,

(Calcutta Municipality—Schedule XIII—Rules as to Drains—Rules 8, 9)

[16th para
of Sch XV to
Bill as introduced] (4) such grating or cover must be so constructed and fitted as to secure the free passage of air through it by means of a sufficient number of apertures the aggregate extent of which shall be not less than the sectional area of the pipe or drain to which the grating or cover is fitted,

[17th para
of ditto] (5) every pipe or shaft referred to in this rule must be of a sectional area not less than that of the drain with which the pipe or shaft communicates, and not less than the sectional area of a pipe or shaft of the diameter of four inches

[18th para
of ditto] (6) except with the written permission of the Chairman, no bend or angle shall be formed in any pipe or shaft referred to in this rule,

[19th para
of ditto] (7) where the situation, height, sectional area and mode of construction of the soil pipe of any connected privy or water closet situated within a building are such as are prescribed by this rule for a pipe or shaft for ventilating a drain such soil pipe shall, with the consent of the Chairman, be deemed to provide the opening which under this rule is required to be provided by means of a pipe or shaft

[4th para
of Sch XV to
Bill as introduced] 8 The soil pipe of every connected privy or water closet constructed after the commencement of this Act or provided for a building erected or re-erected after the commencement of this Act must—

- (a) be at least four inches in diameter,
- (b) be fixed outside the building and be continued upwards without any diminution of its diameter,
- (c) be of such height and be so placed as to afford, by means of the open end of the pipe, a safe outlet for sewer air,
- (d) whenever practicable, be so constructed as to avoid any bend or angle, and
- (e) be so constructed as to have no trap between the pipe and the drains and no trap (other than such trap as necessarily forms part of the apparatus of the privy or closet) in any part of the pipe

[20th and 21st
paras of Sch
XV to Bill as introduced] 9 Where any such connected privy or water closet has no internal communication with a building, then—

- (a) if the distance between the privy or closet and the trap provided under rule 6, sub rule (1), in the drain with which the closet or privy communicates is not more than ten feet, no ventilation pipe need be fixed in the soil pipe,
- (b) if the said distance is more than ten feet but not more than thirty feet, a ventilation pipe must be fixed in the soil pipe, at a point as far distant as may be practicable from the trap provided under rule 6, sub rule (1) and such pipe must be placed vertically to such height and in such manner as effectually to prevent any escape of foul air from the pipe into any building in the vicinity thereof, and in no case to

*(Calcutta Municipality—Schedule XILA—Rules
as to Drains—Rules 10—13)*

a less height than ten feet, and must be of a sectional area not less than that of the drain with which it communicates, and not less than the sectional area of a pipe of the diameter of four inches

- (c) if the said distance is more than thirty feet the soil pipe must be ventilated in the manner prescribed by rule 7

Platf m 8 The platform of every connected privy and service privy must either be plastered with cement or be made of some water tight non absorbent material

Ventl t f 9 Every privy situated in or adjacent to, a building must have an opening, of not less than three square feet in area, in one of the walls of the privy, as near the top of the wall as may be practicable and communicating directly with the open air

R k lct n f 10 The following provisions shall have effect with regard to service privies constructed for use in combination with a moveable receptacle for sewage, that is to say—

(a) the space beneath the platform of the privy must be of such dimensions as to admit of a moveable receptacle for sewage of a capacity not exceeding two cubic feet, being placed and fitted beneath the platform in such manner and position as will effectually prevent the deposit, otherwise than in such receptacle of any sewage falling or thrown through the aperture of the platform

(b) the privy must be so constructed as to afford adequate access to the said space for the purposes of cleansing such space and of placing therein and removing therefrom a proper receptacle for sewage

(c) the said receptacle must be water tight and must be made of metal well tinned earthenware or glazed stone ware

(d) the door for the insertion and removal of the receptacle must be made so as to completely cover the aperture

Ma i y 11 Every water closet situated in a building must be separated by a masonry wall from kitchens, habitable rooms and rooms in which any person is, or is intended to be, employed in any manufacture, trade or business

(c) stern 12 (1) Every connected privy and water closet must be provided with a suitable water cistern, so arranged as—

(a) to discharge direct into the pan of the privy or closet not less than three gallons of water each time the cistern is used, and
(b) to prevent water being drawn from the cistern for any other purpose

(2) All waste pipes and overflow pipes attached to such cisterns must terminate in the open air and be out off from all direct communication with any drain

Water trap. 13 Every connected privy and water closet must be provided with an air tight water trap immediately below the pan

(Calcutta Municipality—Schedule XIIB—Rules as to Privies and Urinals—Rules 14—17)

Prohibition of containers and traps (Rule 3 of Section XIV of Bill as introduced) 14 No "container" or other similar fitting shall be placed under the pan of a connected privy or water closet and no trap of the kind known as a "D trap" shall be used with any such privy or closet

Soil pipe 15 * (1) Every connected privy and water closet must be provided with a soil pipe for carrying sewage to a municipal sewer

(2) Such soil pipe must have air tight joints, and, if it be placed above ground, must be made of metal approved by the Chairman

(3) Such soil pipe must have in addition to the trap prescribed by rule 13, a trap placed at some point between the privy or closet and the sewer referred to in sub rule (1)

(4) Such soil pipe must be ventilated by direct communication with the open air in the manner prescribed by the rules contained in Schedule XIIA, and, if the privy or closet is situated in a building, the pipe must be carried outside the building

Enforcement of the foregoing rules in the case of future privies or urinals. [S 306 (1) of Bill as introduced] 16 If any privy or urinal erected or re-erected after the commencement of this Act is so constructed as to contravene any of the provisions of this Schedule, the General Committee may by written notice, whether or not the offender be prosecuted under this Act before a Magistrate, require—

(a) the occupier of the building to which the privy or urinal belongs, or

(b) (if the privy or urinal does not belong to a building) the owner of the land on which the privy or urinal stands, to make such alterations as may be specified in the notice with the object of bringing the privy or urinal into conformity with the said provisions

Enforcement of certain of the foregoing rules in the case of existing privies or urinals. [S 306 (1) of Bill as introduced] 17 (1) If any privy, urinal or group of privies or urinals erected before the commencement of this Act be certified by the Health Officer, after making such inquiry as he may think fit, to be in such a condition as to constitute a danger to health, the General Committee may by written order declare that all or any of the provisions of rule 2, sub rule (2) rule 3 and rules 5 to 15 of this Schedule shall be applicable thereto

(2) When the provisions of any of the said rules have been so declared to be applicable to any privy, urinal or group of privies or urinals erected before the commencement of this Act a notice may be issued under rule 2 sub rule (2) rule 3 or rule 16, as the case may be, as if the privy, urinal or group had been erected or re-erected after the commencement of this Act

SCHEDULE XIV A

RULES AS TO THE USE OF BUILDING SITES AND
THE EXECUTION OF BUILDING WORK

[See sections 360A, 595A 608B 608C]

Part I — Building sites

1 No piece of land shall be used as a site for the erection of a building —

(1) if the building is to abut on a street unless the site is of such a shape that the face of the building can be made parallel to the line of the street, or as nearly parallel to the said line as the General Committee may consider practicable and

(2) if the site is within thirty feet of a tank, unless the owner satisfies the Engineer that he will take such order as will prevent any risk of the domestic drainage of the building passing into the tank and

(3) if the building to be erected is a public building, a dwelling house or a hut —

(a) unless the site is certified by the Engineer to be dry and well drained or to be capable of being well drained and

(b) if the site is a filled up tank, or has been filled up with or used for depositing rubbish offensive matter or sewage, unless the site was so filled up or last so used more than ten years previously, and unless the Chairman has examined the site and granted a certificate to the effect that it is, from a sanitary point of view, fit to be built upon

Part II — Buildings generally

2 (1) If a building is situated at the side of a street, no portion of the building shall intersect any of a series of imaginary lines drawn across the street at an angle of forty five degrees with the plane of the ground such lines being drawn from the street alignment on the side of the street which is the more remote from the building in question, at the level of the pavement or of the centre of the street

Explanation — If a building be placed at the edge of the street, its height must not exceed the width of the street, but, if the building or one or more of its storeys be set back, the height of the building may be increased subject to the condition that no portion of the building, after the height is increased, intersects any of the aforesaid lines.

(2) In the case of any building in a street in existence at the commencement of this Act which is less than twenty five feet wide, the angle at which the lines referred to in sub rule (1) are to be drawn shall be fifty six and a-half degrees instead of forty five degrees

*(Calcutta Municipality—Schedule XIVA—Rules
as to the use of building sites and the execution of building work—Rules 3—7)*

Part II—Buildings generally—contd

Provided that nothing contained in this sub rule shall authorise the erection or re erection of any building so as to make it higher than any building which at the commencement of this Act is standing on the same site

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub rule (1) or sub rule (2) the Corporation may, by order published in the Calcutta Gazette, declare that in any street in existence at the commencement of this Act which is specified in the order, the erection of two storeyed buildings not exceeding twenty eight feet in height will be permitted without complying with the requirements of those sub rules

(4) If a building is situated on a corner plot so as to abut upon more than one street the height of the building shall be regulated by the wider of such streets so far as it will abut or abuts upon such wider street, and also so far as it will abut or abuts upon the narrower of such streets to a distance of forty feet from the wider street [L B A n. 49]

3 The floor or lowest floor of every building erected or re erected from the ground level must be constructed at such level as will admit of— [C] n. 243 (1) [L] C B n. 234 314 (d) [L] C B n. 80 C B n. 37 (d) 31

(a) the construction of a drain sufficient for the effectual drainage of the building and placed at such level as will admit of the drainage being led into some municipal sewer at the time existing or projected, and

(b) the provision of the requisite communication with some sewer into which the drainage may lawfully be discharged, at a point in the upper half of such sewer or with some other means of drainage into which the drainage may lawfully be discharged

4 A building shall not be placed over any municipal drain except with the written consent of the General Committee [Cal] n. 243 (d) [L] C B n. 233 (1) C B n. 80 C B n. 37 (d) 31

5 Where only detached buildings are allowed, the passage affording access to a building from the street must be at least nine feet wide, and shall be sixteen feet wide in any case in which the General Committee may consider it practicable to secure a passage of that width [C] B C 1st R [L] C B n. 73 C B n. 37 (d) 31

6 In any street laid out after the commencement of this Act in which continuous building is allowed, the distance between the building line and the street alignment shall not be less than four feet [C] B C Bill n. 37 (d) 31

Part III—Masonry buildings generally

7 (1) Except with the sanction of the General Committee, the foundation of a masonry building must rest on solid ground [Rule 3 of Schedule XVI to Bill as introduced]

*(Calcutta Municipality — Schedule XIV A — Rules
as to the use of building sites and the execution of building work — Rules 8—13)*

Part III — Masonry buildings generally — contd

(2) The spread of the foundation must be such that the pressure on the soil, taking into account the load on the floors and terrace roof (if any) referred to in rules 14 and 16 shall not be greater than one ton on the square foot

(3) The levels of the foundation must be such as the General Committee may consider satisfactory [C 1 243(a)]

Plinth 8 The plinth of a masonry building must be at least two feet above the level of the centre of the nearest street [Cal 243 (d) C B C 1st Report, Bill s 37 (7)]

Footings 9 Every wall of a masonry building must be constructed so as to rest upon proper footings having regular offsets and a horizontal spread on each side of the wall of not less than one half the height of the footings, unless an adjoining wall interferes, in which case the footings may be subject to the provisions of sub rule (2) of rule 7, be omitted, where that wall adjoins [Bye law (e) 3]

Outer wall 10 The outer walls of a masonry building must be constructed of brick or some other hard and incombustible substance [Bye-law (e) 1]

Refractory 11 All walls of a masonry building must be properly bonded [Bye law (e) 4]

Damp proof 12 (1) Every wall of a masonry building must have a damp proof course at or above the level of the ground floor [Bye law (e) 3 C B C s 42 (2)]

(2) Such damp proof course may consist of sheet lead, asphalt slates laid in cement, vitrified bricks or any other durable material impervious to moisture [C B C s 1st Report para 100 C B s 42 (2)]

Walls in 13 If a masonry building exceeds one storey in height,— [Bye law (e) 4 C B C s 1st Report paras 101 102]

(a) every wall must be solidly put together with—

- (i) good cement, or
- (ii) good lime, or
- (iii) mortar compounded with good cement and sand or other suitable material, or
- (iv) mortar compounded with good lime and sand or other suitable material

(b) the proportions of the materials forming such mortar must be such as are approved by the Chairman

(c) no part of any wall, other than a cornice or moulding shall overhang any part of a wall underneath it and

(d) every wall must be of such thickness as the Chairman may consider necessary to ensure safety, regard being had to the height of the building the materials of which it is constructed, and the purpose for which it is intended to use it. [Bye-law (e) 5]

*(Calcutta Municipality—Schedule XIV—Rules

of building work—Rules 14—18)*

Part III—Masonry buildings generally—contd.

Floors. 14 The floors of every masonry building must be constructed to bear safely, the maximum load to be carried, the allowance for live load not being less than fifty six pounds on the square foot

Beams and girders [Rule 7 in Schedul to Bill as introduced] 15 (1) All beams and girders in a masonry building must be supported by a breadth of brick work, stone or other solid substance sufficient to secure their stability [Bye law (c) 6]

(2) The bearing of a beam or girder on a wall shall not, without the sanction of the Chair man, be less than three fourths of the thickness of the wall

Terrace roofs. 16 Terrace roofs must be constructed to withstand such load not less than forty pounds on the square foot, in addition to their own weight, as may be specified by an order of the General Committee

Part IV—Dwelling houses

Proportion of site to which may be built upon [S 372 (1) of Bill as introduced] 17 The total area covered by all the buildings (including verandahs) on any site used for a dwelling house shall not exceed two thirds of the total area of the site [C B C 1 & I 70 C B 42 (1)]

Are of site for detached building [S 372 (1) of Bill as introduced] 18 (1) In localities where the erection of only detached buildings is allowed, the minimum size of the site for a dwelling house must be an area calculated as follows — [C B C 42 (1) B 1] to the length of the house add twice its height, and to the width of the house add twice its height, and multiply the two products together and the house may be placed in any part of the site but not so as to extend beyond any building line prescribed under section 347

Provided that no portion of the area required to make up the minimum size of the site for any house, whether erected before or after the commencement of this Act, calculated as above, shall be taken into account in calculating the minimum area required for the site of any house erected after the commencement of this Act

(2) The placing of servants' houses, stables and other out-offices within the area of the site shall be subject to the following restrictions, namely —

(a) such out offices shall not exceed fifteen feet in height or twenty feet in depth, and shall not be placed on more than two sides of the house or within twenty four feet of the house

(b) not more than one third of the total area of the site shall be occupied by masonry buildings or verandahs.

abutting on such courtyard shall intersect any of a series of imaginary lines drawn across the courtyard from the opposite face of the house at the level of the plinth at an angle of sixty three

Explanation—The height of any face of a dwelling house must not exceed twice the width of the courtyard, measured from such face to the opposite face

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-rule (3), when a dwelling house has more than two storeys, the storeys above the second shall not be taken into account in applying that sub rule if they are built on not more than two

(3) No portion of the house shall intersect any of a series of imaginary lines drawn across such space at an angle of sixty three and a half degrees with the plane of the ground such lines being drawn from the line limiting the width of such space at the side thereof which is the more remote from the house, at the level of the plinth of the house

Explanation—If the house be placed at the edge of such space, its height must not exceed twice the width of the space but, if the house or one or more of its storeys be set back the height of the house may be increased subject to the condition that no part of the house after the height is increased, intersects any of the aforesaid lines

Relaxation of rule 22 in case of irregular site [S 3/3 of Bill as introduced] 23 If any person desires to erect a dwelling house in a street laid out before the commencement of this Act upon a site which, before the commencement of this Act was occupied by a dwelling house and the site is of such a nature that it is impracticable to provide an open space in the rear of the house of the dimensions prescribed by rule 22, the General Committee may relax the provisions of that rule

Provided that—

(a) such open space shall be left as the General Committee may consider practicable having regard to all the circumstances of the case, and

(b) not more than two thirds of the total area of the site shall be occupied by masonry buildings or verandahs

Open space at sides of house 24 (1) Except in localities where the erection of only detached buildings is allowed, if either side of a dwelling house is not attached to the adjacent building, and if such side does not abut on an open square or the like which is dedicated to public use and is consequently not likely to be built upon there must be between the house and such building an open space extending along the entire length of such side and belonging exclusively to the house [By la (f) 8 B m 318 (f) C B C 117 C B C a Bill s 42 (9) 1]

(2) The minimum distance across such space from every part of the house to the boundary line, or (if the boundary is a wall) the inner edge of the boundary wall, of the land or building immediately opposite such part, shall be—

(a) six feet, if there is a building next to such boundary line or wall or

(b) four feet, if there is an open space of at least four feet on the other side of such boundary line or wall

Interior court yards and out ward open spaces to be raised and kept open. [S 372 (1) of Bill as introduced] 25 (1) Every interior courtyard and every open space prescribed by rule 22 or rule 24 must be raised at least one foot above the level of the centre of the nearest street, so as to admit of easy drainage into the street [By la (f) 4 C B C 117 C B C a Bill s 42 (11) 1]

Part VII—Huts

37 Huts in a bustee must be built in continuous lines, in accordance with an alignment to be prescribed by the General Committee and demarcated on the ground. [Bom s 348 (4) C B C s 1st Report para. 118 C B C s Bill s 64 (1)]

38 Where an alignment prescribed under rule 39 does not correspond with the alignment of a street in the bustee, a passage of at least twelve feet, measured from eave to eave, must be left between the rows of huts abutting on such prescribed alignment. [Bom s 348 (4) Bye laws (e) 10 C B C s 1st Report para. 108 109 118 C B C s Bill, s 64 (2)]

39 All passages referred to in rule 38 shall remain private property, subject to a right in the municipal authorities to send carts along them or otherwise make use of them for any of the purposes of this Act. [Bye law (e) 13 C B C s 1st Report para. 109 C B C s Bill s 64 (3)]

40 Notwithstanding anything contained in rule 37 huts in a bustee may, with the special sanction of the General Committee, be built so as to form an open courtyard, comprising at least one fourth of the whole area occupied by the huts and courtyard. [C B C s 1st Report para. 118 C B C s Bill s 64 (4)]

41 There must be between all huts abutting on a street in a bustee except in the case of huts referred to in rule 40, a space of at least three feet, measured from eave to eave. [Bye law (e) 15 Bom s 348 (4) C B C s 1st Report para. 111 C B C s Bill s 64 (5)]

42 Except with the sanction of the General Committee no hut shall be placed at a greater distance than one hundred feet from the nearest part of a metalled and sewered street. [Bye law (e) 14 C B C s 1st Report para. 110 C B C s Bill s 64 (6)]

43 No portion of a hut shall be placed within six feet of a masonry building. Provided that this rule shall not preclude the erection of huts in compounds in any case where masonry out offices would be permissible. [C B C s 1st Report para. 119 (4) C B C s Bill s 64 (7)]

44 Every hut abutting on a street or passage, whether public or private, must be constructed so as not to project over, or admit of water from the roof falling upon or injuring, the street or passage. [Bye law (e) 16 C B C s Bill s 64 (8)]

45 No hut shall comprise more than two storeys or shall exceed eighteen feet in height, measured from the top of the plinth to the junction of the eaves and wall. [C B C s 1st Report para. 118 C B C s Bill s 64 (9)]

46 The plinth of a hut must be raised at least two feet above the level of the centre of the nearest street or passage. [Cal s 247 (f) Bom s 348 (d) Bye law (e) 18, C B C s Bill s 64 (14)]

(2) If it is intended to use the hut or any part thereof for any of the purposes specified in Schedule XVII, or as a stable, cattle-shed or cow house the fact must be expressly stated in the said application.

(3) The site plan sent with such an application must be drawn to a scale of not less than one eighth of an inch to a foot, must be sent in duplicate and must show—

- (i) the hut,
- (ii) the privy provided or to be provided for the use of occupants of the hut,
- (iii) the means of access to the hut from the street or passage on which it abuts,
- (iv) the position of the hut in relation to all huts, streets passages, privies and tanks within a distance of fifty feet from the site and
- (v) such other particulars as may be prescribed by the General Committee

Powers of

49 When permission to erect or re-erect a hut is refused the applicant may at any time send to the Chairman a fresh application and a fresh or modified plan under section 397, framed with the object of meeting the objections for which such permission was refused

Part IX—Application of rules to alterations of and additions to, buildings

rule 2.

50 In applying rule 2 in the case of an alteration of, or addition to, a building the angle at which the lines referred to in sub rule (1) of that rule are to be drawn shall be fifty six and a half degrees instead of forty five degrees—

- (a) if the building was erected before the commencement of this Act, or
- (b) if the building is situated in a street in existence at the commencement of this Act which is less than twenty five feet wide

*(Calcutta Municipality—Schedule XIV A—Rules
as to the use of building sites and the execution of building work—Rules 51—53)*

*Part IX—Application of rules to alterations of,
and additions to, buildings—contd*

It is provided that nothing contained in this rule shall authorise any addition to a building which would make it higher than any building which at the commencement of this Act, is standing on the same site

51 Rule 27 shall not be applied in the case of any dwelling house which is being altered or added to, unless the front of the house is being enlarged

52 (1) Rules 31 to 36 or rules 47 to 49, as the case may be, shall not be applied in the case of any alteration of or addition to a building unless one or more of the following works is or are undertaken namely—

- (a) the construction or re erection of a roof or an external or party wall,
- (b) any repairs to the building which involve the construction of a masonry wall, a ceiling, a lift shaft or a chimney after the same has been entirely or in great part demolished,
- (c) the closing of any opening in an external wall,
- (d) the construction of an internal wall or partition
- (e) any other alteration of the internal arrangements of a building which effect an alteration of its courtyard or courtyards or its drainage, ventilation or sanitary arrangements or which affect its security,
- (f) the addition of any building, room, out house or other structure,
- (g) the roofing of any space between one or more walls and buildings,
- (h) the conversion into more than one place for human habitation of a building originally constructed as one such place
- (i) the conversion of two or more places of human habitation into a greater number of such places
- (k) the alteration of a building for the purpose of effecting a partition amongst joint owners

(2) In the case referred to in clause (g) of sub-rule (1) the said rules 31 to 36 or rules 47 to 49 as the case may be, shall apply only as regards the structure which is formed by roofing a space, and not as regards adjoining buildings

53 (1) If, in any case of urgency arising from causes beyond his own control, any person desires to undertake without delay any of the works referred to in rule 52 he may send to the Chairman an application for provisional permission to proceed with the work

(2) Such application must contain an explanation of the urgency and a general description of the work proposed to be undertaken

(Calcutta Municipality — Schedule XVII — Certain purposes for which premises may not be used without a license)

Part IX — Application of rules to alterations of, and additions to, buildings — contd

(3) Within a period of three days after the receipt of any such application the Chairman shall, by written order, either grant or refuse to grant provisional permission to proceed with the work

(4) If within the said period of three days, the Chairman has neither granted nor refused to grant such provisional permission, the same shall be deemed to have been granted

(5) Whenever such provisional permission is granted and in any case provided for by sub rule (4), the applicant must, within fifteen days send to the Chairman a regular application for permission to execute the work and if he fails to do so the provisional permission shall be deemed to be withdrawn

AUSTRALIA—TORRES STRAIT, INNER ROUTE

Alteration of "Course recommended"

THE Port Master, Brisbane, has given notice (No 10 of 1899) that the new survey of the Inner Route by H M S Dart being now completed as far south as Aye (1) Reef it is found that the safest course to be followed to clear the North and South Khandalla Shoals lies to the westward of Heath Reef, and in order to facilitate navigation on the course now recommended the Claremont Island Lightship will, on the 1st November 1899, be removed to a position south 85 degrees west, distant 8 cables from the western extreme of Heath Reef

After that date, the "Course Recommended" from Fife Island will be as follows —

When Fife Island tree bears north 85 degrees east, distant $6\frac{1}{2}$ cables, steer north 19 degrees west for a distance of 11.4 miles, passing to the eastward of the lightship at a distance of about 2 cables. When the west extreme of Heath Reef bears north 85 degrees east, the course is again changed to north 8 degrees west. Continue this course 8.6 miles, when it will intersect the "Course Recommended" before laid down

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE CALCUTTA SHIPPING OFFICE AND OF THE SHIPPING OFFICES AT OUT PORTS FOR 1898-99

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL MARINE DEPARTMENT

Dated Calcutta, the 17th August 1899

READ—

Letter No 541B, dated 22nd July 1899, from the Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces submitting the annual report on the working of the Calcutta Shipping Office and of the Shipping Offices at out ports for 1898-99

THE number of seamen of all nationalities shipped and discharged through the Calcutta Office was 27,024 and 24,672 against corresponding figures of 26,087 and 23,564 during the previous year as shown in the following table —

	1898-99		1897-98.
	Shipped	Discharged	Shipped	Discharged
British	1,540	1,301	1,454	1,301
Europeans—Continental	473	450	460	419
Americans West-Indians, and Africans	214	167	191	121
Australians	10	10	11	12
Asiatics other than Indians,	320	406	270	227
Indians proper	23,946	21,882	23,283	21,074
Eurasians and Goanese	521	456	418	410
Total	27,024	24,672	26,087	23,564

2 The increase is again attributed to the more general employment of Indian seamen in the Mercantile Navy. The difference between the total number shipped and discharged is due to the engagement at Calcutta of an increased number of native crew for service in vessels trading from the United Kingdom and elsewhere. The men engaged in service for German vessels were chiefly engine room crews shipped through the Calcutta Shipping Office in accordance with the Merchant Shipping Act, the usual bond of indemnity for lascars sailing under a foreign flag being filed in the office.

3 The number of British seamen shipped during the year shows an increase of 86 on the figures of the previous year. The number shipped exceeded the number discharged by 239 during the year. During the last six years the number shipped has exceeded those discharged regularly, and has aggregated over 1,200 men on the whole period. This is partly accounted for by the fact that the seamen come from other ports, Bombay, Chittagong, Rangoon, Singapore and elsewhere in search of employment, which, it seems they succeed in finding to the extent indicated, and, probably, partly to the fact that a certain number of men desert from ships in Calcutta. As regards Indian seamen, there has been an increase both in the number shipped and discharged which, as explained above, is due to the more general employment of this class of seamen. The difference between the numbers shipped and discharged is partly due to the crews engaged for service to the United Kingdom not having returned at the end of the year, and partly to fact, just stated, of the larger numbers of this class which are annually employed. The number of Chinese discharged exceeded those shipped by 130. These men appear to stay in the country in increasing numbers.

4 The number of seamen of all nationalities shipped in, and discharged from, foreign vessels through their Consulates, and not included in the figures given above, are—

Shipped	98
Discharged	56

5 There were only 48 deserters against 86 during the previous year, the decrease being ascribed to the fact that the rates of seamen's wages remained uniform throughout the year.

6 The receipts of the Calcutta Shipping Office amounted to Rs 49,281 as compared with Rs 47,313 during the previous year. As in the previous year, the largest increase is under shipping and discharging fees, which shows an increase of Rs 2,379 and is due to the increased operations in shipping and discharging seamen. The increases under other heads are small, and do not call for any remark.

The expenditure during the year amounted to Rs 22,928, or a reduction of Rs 1,086 on the preceding year, due almost entirely to reduced charges under "Establishment" and "supply of forms." The former reduction was partly caused by the diminution of exchange compensation allowance, and partly by the fact that none of the superior officers were on leave.

7 The following table shows the receipts of the funds held in trust by the Calcutta Shipping Office on account of both European and Native seamen for the last two years —

	1898 99	1897 98
	Rs.	Rs.
Ticket money	1,040	510
Deposit money of British seamen	26,559	29,415
Ditto of Native ditto	17,325	4,057
Estates of deceased ditto	3,904	6,965

8 There was a small increase of Rs 530 under Ticket Money, which is attributed to an increase in the number of Indian seamen shipped on sailing vessels, principally vessels chartered for the conveyance of Indian emigrants to the West Indies, who had allotted part of their wages for the benefit of their families.

9 The decrease of Rs 2,856 under "Deposit money of British seamen" is owing to smaller sums having been received from British and foreign seamen left behind from their ships in hospital and jail. The old sailing ships trading to India are being replaced by steamers which make short voyages and consequently such of the crews of these vessels as are discharged or left abroad have usually smaller amounts due them as wages than formerly. Of the total deposits, Rs 25,744 represent the voluntary deposits of 217 seamen, the balance, Rs 815, being deposited by masters of ships as the wages of eight seamen who had either refused to sign their accounts or were too ill to receive their money.

10 Under "Deposit money of Native seamen" there is an increase of Rs 13,268, which is due to the wages of the crews of three steamers discharged at out ports having been remitted to the Calcutta Shipping Office for payment to the men who were sent on to Calcutta as passengers.

11 Under "Estates of deceased Native seamen" there is a reduction of Rs 3,061, but this is accounted for by the fact that in the previous year the transactions were increased by the wages of the crews of two vessels lost at sea having been remitted to Calcutta by the owners for payment to their relatives.

12 The value of seamen's money orders increased from Rs 11,984 in 1897-98 to Rs 12,603 during the year under review. The increase is small, and is due to the more favourable rate of exchange prevailing during the year.

13 The number of distressed seamen sent home during the year was 27 against 47 in the previous year. The causes of distress were sickness 11, injuries 8, and paucity of employment 8. The local institutions in Calcutta which afford relief to seamen on the largest scale are the District Charitable Society and the Sailor's Home, both of which are largely helped by Government. A considerable number of the inmates of the former are British and foreign seamen, as also of the Government Workhouse, which is in the same premises, and part of the work of both institutions is to find ships for seamen.

14 The Shipping Master, Calcutta, reports that there appears to be no appreciable change in the condition of European seamen. The better class of men reported last year as serving in the merchant ships trading to the port continues, and the appearance of a British sailor unable to read or write is becoming more rare. The demand for lascars continues to increase.

15 At the port of Chittagong the number of seamen shipped and discharged was 42 and 53 against 33 and 95 during the previous year. There is a large decrease in the number of discharges, which is due to a smaller number of ships having paid off their crews.

16 There were 11 deserters, 8 of whom were Europeans and 3 lascars, during the year against 3 during the previous year. This increase is attributed to the higher rate of wages prevailing at Calcutta, viz, £3 5 to £3 10 against £2 5 to £2 15 at which the seamen joined. Three of these deserters were arrested at Calcutta and brought to Chittagong and convicted. One was also arrested at Chittagong and put on board his vessel, the others were not found.

17 The receipts on account of Trust funds amounted to Rs 3,231 and consisted of deposits received on account of the balance of wages of 12 British and 6 Native seamen discharged by mutual consent, of 22 Native seamen discharged on termination of agreement, of 7 British seamen discharged under medical certificate, and of one deceased.

18 The value of seamen's money orders was Rs 151 only. One out of the 53 seamen discharged elected to remit his wages to his wife in the United Kingdom.

19 The Shipping Master visited 47 vessels during the year to enquire into the health of crews, and into accidents and casualties happening on board, and for the inspection of provisions, water, medical stores, and fore-castle accommodation. No complaints were made regarding bad or insufficient food.

20 No seamen were shipped or discharged at False Point during the year. The Shipping Master paid six visits to vessels in port and found that the provisions, water, and medicines supplied to the crew, as well as the fore-castle accommodation, were good and ample, and no complaints were made.

21 At Balasore only one seaman was discharged during the year. There were no casualties or desertions, and no irregularity was noticed in the course of the enquiries made as to the health of the crews and the provisions and water supplied.

22 No transactions under the Merchant Shipping Act are reported to have taken place at the port of Puri.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—SEPARATE REVENUE

RESOLUTION—No 48118 R

Read—

The report on the Administration of the Customs Department for the year 1898 99

Read also—

The report of the previous year and Government Resolution thereon

An important change was effected in the tariff during the year under review by Act XIV of 1899, which was passed for the purpose of enabling countervailing import duties to be levied on bounty fed articles, and which was made effective against all bounty fed sugar by the orders of the Government of India. The additional duty was, however, not paid before the close of the year, as the orders apply to imports under bills of lading signed subsequently to the passing of the Act referred to. The duty on lever boxes was reduced from 5 per cent to 1 per cent, and machinery and component parts thereof for the manufacture of paraffin candles and for the distillation of spirits and nitrate of soda, muriate of potash, sulphate of ammonia, sulphate of potash and kamit salts, singally and sozille, were exempted from duty. Since the close of the year, all machinery has been exempted from duty, thus removing a fertile source of inconvenience and misunderstanding.

2 The following statement compares the gross and net customs duty collected during the last five years and in the years before and after the remission of the import duties in March 1882

The total net duty collected during the year rose from Rs 3,85,00,944 in 1897 98 to Rs 3,98,13,193, showing an increase of Rs 13,07,249 or 3 4 per cent. The increase occurred under all the heads, the largest being under export duty, which advanced by Rs 8,79,389. This is said to be due to the unprecedented contraction in the shipments of rice in the preceding year on account of the famine. There was an increase of Rs 2,22,924 in the import duty on general merchandise, and Rs 2,04,936 in the realisation from duty on salt. The charges for the year, inclusive of refunds and drawbacks, amounted to Rs 13,36,370 against Rs 12,00,094 in the previous year. The total net receipts, including receipts other than duty, improved from Rs 3,79,73,556 in 1897 98 to Rs 3,93,02,008 in the year under review, thus showing an increase of Rs 13,28,502 or 3 5 per cent.

In import duty the decrease occurred chiefly under oil (Rs 2,51,308), metals (Rs 1,06,070) and silver bullion (Rs 1,83,912), while there was a marked increase under cotton goods (Rs 6,07,579) and liquors (Rs 1,53,730).

The total net value of the foreign import trade in merchandise showed a decrease of Rs 9,16,688 or 3 per cent. The decrease is exclusively in free goods, there having been an increase in the receipts of dutiable goods. The decrease, however, is very small and calls for no remarks. Owing to larger receipts of gold from the United Kingdom, Australia and China, there was an increase of Rs 36,10,186, or 11 per cent in the imports of treasure. The total value of the stores imported on behalf of Government stood at Rs. 1,80,77,447 against Rs 2,13,25,189 in the previous year. This decrease is ascribed to smaller receipts of railway materials and metals, chiefly pig iron, which, owing to the rise in prices in England had to be supplied from the local iron works. The total value of the foreign export trade in Indian produce shows an improvement of Rs 79,23,284. The improvement was exclusively in dutiable articles and is due to larger shipments of rice and paddy to almost all the importing countries. The value of exports of Government stores fell off by 43 per cent. The decrease was confined to the exports of foreign stores and was owing to the unusually large shipments of copper coin to the Straits Settlements in the previous year. As in previous years, there were no exports of treasure on account of Government. In the coasting trade there was a decline of 26 per cent and of 7 per cent respectively, in the value of imports and exports of merchandise. The decrease in the former is attributable to the smaller imports of rice from Burma, and in the latter it is attributable to the falling off of the trade with Bombay, and is confined to oil seeds and jute manufactures. The existence of plague must have affected this branch of the trade of Bengal with Bombay. Including Government transactions, the total value of the trade of the province stood at Rs. 9,10,54,241 against Rs. 9,21,51,284 in the previous year, showing a decrease of Rs 3,10,97,043 or 3.1 per cent.

It will be seen that, as usual, the bulk of the trade was carried on with the United Kingdom, but the proportion which this branch bears to the entire foreign trade of the port declined during the year from 53.87 per cent in 1897-98 to 52.38 per cent. The falling off in value was equivalent to nearly 2 per cent, and the total trade recorded is the smallest since 1892-93. The decrease occurred in both imports and exports. The falling off under imports is chiefly due to the smaller imports of treasure, as there was an improvement in the imports of merchandise, chiefly cotton, woollen and silk goods, while the short despatches of raw jute, jute manufactures, lac, hides and skins, raw silk, saltpetre, woollen manufactures, raw wool, and cotton (raw) account for the decrease under exports. There was a great reduction in the value of tea despatched to the United Kingdom, though the quantity despatched was nearly two million pounds in excess of that of the previous year. Germany has gone ahead of the United States, and occupies the second place in the list, but the total value of the trade shows a decline of 1.6 per cent, as compared with that of the previous year. There was a remarkable reduction in the trade of beet sugar, and it is believed that the additional duties recently imposed on this article from bounty paying countries will check its growth in future years. The United States occupy the third place in the list. The falling off was entirely in exports. It is worthy of note that for the first time, the United States supplied themselves with paddy from this port in the past year. As in the previous year, China occupies the fourth place, her share in the trade being 5.86 per cent against 5.89 per cent in the previous year. The total value of trade, however, shows a slight advance, equal to 7 per cent, on the total value of the previous year's trade. The quantity of opium despatched to Hong Kong rose in quantity from 22,771 chests to 23,519 chests, and its value stood at Rs 2,47,09,110 against Rs 2,35,06,832 in the previous year. Ceylon comes next and has changed place with the Straits Settlements. The value of trade has risen higher than that of the previous year, showing an increase of 14 per cent. The increase is due chiefly to the larger imports of treasure and is also attributable to heavier exports of grain and pulse and coal. The trade with the Straits Settlements has improved considerably, and shows a percentage of 3.93 against 3.67 in the previous year. It is worthy of note that glass wares were for the first time imported from the Straits. The increase of 29 per cent in the trade with Australia is attributable to the increased importation of gold and of horses. It is remarkable that out of a total quantity of gold valued at nearly 234 lakhs, about 77 lakhs were received from Australia. No copper, however, was imported from Australia during the past year. The trade with France fell by 8 per cent. This is mainly due to the diminution of exports owing to the smaller despatches of oil seeds, raw jute, hides and skins, and raw cotton. In imports there has been an increase of 16 per cent which is attributable to larger receipts of silk piece goods and other articles of luxury. The increase of 11 per cent in the total value of the trade with Austria-Hungary in spite of the large decrease in the exports of raw hides, raw jute, raw cotton, lac and jute manufactures, is accounted for by the transfer to that country of the bulk of the sugar trade lost by Germany and the United Kingdom, and by the larger receipts of woollen and cotton goods, metals, paper and apparel. In the trade with Belgium there was an improvement of 22 per cent due to larger imports of matches and cotton twist, and to the more extensive shipments of oil seeds and grain and pulse. The trade with Italy fell by 16 per cent owing chiefly to the smaller despatches of raw jute, raw cotton and til seed. The improvement of 2 per cent in the Mauritius trade is attributed to the increased exports of rice and treasure and imports of sugar.

6. Shipping in Calcutta—The proportion which the trade of Calcutta carried through the Suez Canal during the year under review bore to its total foreign trade was 72.6 per cent as against 73.9 per cent in the previous year, a notable change clearly due to the increased traffic with Ceylon and South Africa. The table below compares the total shipping entering inwards and clearing outwards without touching at any other port and the aggregate tonnage in the past two years—

	Number	Tonnage	Number	Tonnage
1	2	3	4	5
Steam vessels	764	1,669,694	851	1,926,893

Total	1,025	2,119,043	1,072	2,270,831

It will be seen that there was an increase of 87 steam vessels and 5 native craft, and a decrease of 45 sailing vessels representing an advance of 151,788 in tonnage.

7. Imports into Calcutta—The total value of imports including treasure, but excluding Government transactions into Calcutta from foreign countries rose from Rs 31,11,60,201 in 1897-98 to Rs 31,46,65,272, showing an increase of Rs 33,05,071 or 11 per cent. The increase occurred under treasure (Rs 36,10,186 or 11 per cent) against a decrease of Rs 1,05,117 or 0.3 per cent under merchandise. The total values of the principal articles of merchandise imported into the port during the last two years are shown below —

	Rs	Rs
Cotton goods	11,73,526.65	13,76,608.81

Woollen goods	41,75,327	53,03,524

The total imports of cotton goods, including twist and yarn, exceeded those of the year 1897-98 by about two crores of rupees in value or by 14 per cent. The heavy fall in the value of imports under twist and yarn is attributed to reduced price of the raw material, to the overstocking of the market in consequence of enormous receipts in 1897-98, and to some improvement in the purchasing power of the rupee. As regards the increase under cotton goods the Collector of Customs writes —

‘All this indicates a healthy revival of the cotton trade after the unsatisfactory years 1896-97 and 1897-98 and is attributable to the increasing prosperity of the people, a steadier exchange, and an easier money market. Confidence was early restored and has been followed by a steady flow of business. The quantity imported is a record for the past decade though this is not the case as regards the value of the trade. In the Luncheon industry almost every mill is reported to have shown a profitable working during the year and there seems every prospect of a continuance of prosperity in that trade.’

The decrease of 19.9 per cent in metals is ascribed to the increased demand at home and the consequent advance in prices. There was a decrease of 0.2 per cent in the value of imports of mineral oil as compared with the previous year, though the quantity increased by 2.1 per cent. Russian and United States oils made a slight progress, but the trade in Sumatra received a check in the year under review, and it is said that many of the wells there which were yielding very large supplies have been exhausted, while others which are still working are yielding a reduced quantity. The Collector of Customs believes that this result is only temporary. Machinery and mill work fell off by 27 per cent. The decrease is attributed to the absence of demand for new machinery. As anticipated by the Collector of Customs in the previous year's report, the articles imported consisted chiefly of “spares” and “renewals,” and it is said that the local foundries and Railway Workshops now make a variety of articles formerly obtained from abroad. The Collector of Customs observes that paper and flour industries show no signs of requiring more machinery, but the development of electric lighting and motive power may be expected to lead to further importations. Sugar shows a decrease of 6.9 per cent. The decrease was shared by the United Kingdom, Germany, China, Straits Settlements and other countries, while Austria-Hungary, Mauritius and Java show a material increase. Act XIV of 1899 for dealing with bounty-fed articles did not come into force till the 20th March 1899 and hence the new duties have not affected imports during the year under review.

The increase of 24.7 per cent in the importation of ale, beer and porter is attributed to the return of the European troops whose messes are supplied with English beer from Calcutta, from the frontier expeditions during which the trade was diverted to Karachi. “Pilsener” Beer which is said to include all brands called by that name, whether made in England or on the continent has maintained the first place. Next comes “Ind Coopers” followed by “Tennant,” “McKwan” and “Bass.” “Younger and Sons” has fallen from the second to the ninth place. A new brand, that of Fraser and Company, has gained a good position during this its first year and comes next to “Younger and Sons.” The improvement of 6 per cent in the imports of spirits and liquors was shared by all descriptions of spirits with the exception of gin. In brandy there was an increase of 3,568 gallons, owing to larger imports from the United Kingdom and France. The total importation of wine has fallen from 115,706 gallons in 1897-98 to 109,715 gallons, showing a decrease of 5.1 per cent. The decrease occurred in claret (6,701 gallons), port (317 gallons), and sherry (848 gallons), while champagne and other wines increased by 350 gallons and, 1,525 gallons respectively. The falling off of 13.9 per cent in the Salt trade both in the imports from foreign countries (except Egypt which shows slight increase) and from Indian ports is said to be due to the abnormally high imports of the preceding year and the consequent overstocking in bond. Hardware and cutlery fell by 6.2 per cent owing to smaller receipts from the United Kingdom, as there was an accumulation of stocks due to heavy importations from that country during the two preceding years. Continental manufactures nevertheless advanced by more than 51 per cent owing, it is said, to their low prices, and close resemblance to British goods. In woollen goods there was an improvement of 27 per cent. The import trade in these goods seems to have partially recovered from the effects of the famine of the two previous years, but it is still considerably below the average. Amongst other imports matches improved by 6.6 per cent and apparel by 4.9 per cent, while agricultural implements declined by 32.6 per cent, drugs and medicines by 8 per cent and umbrellas by 25.4 per cent. The use of matches locally made was generally discontinued. The imports of umbrellas from other countries than the United Kingdom have almost ceased.

8 Exports from Calcutta — The total value of Exports from Calcutta to foreign countries, including treasure, but excluding Government transactions, rose from Rs 40,32,27,508 to Rs 45,73,81,087, an increase of Rs 41,53,529. The value of the trade in the principal exports in 1897-98 and 1898-99 is compared in the table below —

	Rs	Rs

Iron	1,06,15,262	9,05,97,111
Silk, raw	49,77,274	44,30,413

The total exports of raw jute decreased in quantity by 35.4 per cent and in value by 33.6 per cent. This is attributed to the diminution in the area of land cultivated with jute during the year and the consequent short crop. The Collector of Customs writes —

The published forecasts of the past season's crop were not favourable. Both the area under cultivation and the outturn per acre were estimated to be considerably below the average and that estimate seems to have been fully justified. Climatic influences further prevented the proper germination and healthy development of the plant and, as a consequence, the crops were not only insufficient but also unsatisfactory and of light weight and vastly inferior to the outturns of previous years. The diminution in the area cultivated with jute was due to larger areas being utilized for food crops to replenish stocks after the famine and in the expectation of obtaining high prices for rice—an expectation which was, however, disappointed in consequence of the abundant harvest everywhere. A better jute crop is expected this year.

Smaller exports were made to the United Kingdom, Austria-Hungary, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, and the United States, while China, Japan and Australia took larger supplies. In jute gunny bags there was a falling off of 8.5 per cent mainly due to the short jute crop, and also, it is said, to the scarcity of labour in the jute mills owing to the plague scare. In the total exports of opium there was an increase of 8.8 per cent due to the larger shipments to the Straits, Hong Kong, and Cochin China. The exports of tea increased by over four million pounds or 2.8 per cent owing to larger shipments to all the importing countries except Australia, Cape Colony and the Straits. The production of the last year was the largest on record. The majority of the teas of the past year have been of common grades, and the average price stood at 8 annas 1 pie per lb for the year against 8 annas 5 pies in 1897-98. The price per lb has now gone back to the average of the years preceding the great rise of 1894-95. The growth of the consumption of Ceylon tea in the United Kingdom was suddenly checked in the past year. In oilseeds there was an increase of 54.7 per cent. Among these, linseed the principal article of export, increased by 83.8 per cent owing to larger shipments to the United Kingdom, France, Germany, and Holland. Poppy seed also advanced by 17.8 per cent while rape and til, the other seeds exported, declined by 22.7 per cent and 96.8 per cent respectively. There was a marked improvement in the total shipments of rice and paddy equal to 83.5 per cent over the previous year, the result of an abundant rice harvest in Bengal during the past year. Larger supplies were taken by all the consuming countries, with the exception of Reunion and China. In indigo there was an increase of 14.5 per cent due to increased outturn and to a reduction of stocks in the home market. The average selling price, however as declared in the shipping bills, shows a further decline from that of the previous year, having fallen from Rs 180 to 168 per maund. The Collector of Customs observes —

The unsatisfactory state of the market, brought about by over production in previous years and by the consequent retention of large stocks in the home markets, to which a number of producers shipped direct in the hope of securing better prices that never came coupled with the fact that the bulk of the production of subsequent seasons has been of unsuitable or inferior qualities has been further accentuated during the last year or two by the scare about the production of artificial indigo at a much lower price than had been thought possible, by the Badische Company in Germany. This it is known, was however, being produced at a loss and as it is now said to be less suitable than the natural dye for many purposes the scare has for the present ceased. Happily however this scare has now worked itself out, as the synthetic or artificial indigo the product of German laboratories has been found unsuitable for many purposes, and it will not, therefore, seriously interfere with the natural dye.

The export of raw hides, the largest item under the head of hides and skins, decreased by 13 per cent owing to heavy shipments of those articles to the continent of Europe and America, from the Cape of Good Hope, where there was a great mortality in cattle due to rinderpest. The decline of 9.3 per cent in dressed hides is attributed not only to smaller supply, but also to a smaller demand. There was, however, an increase of 9.3 per cent in raw skins due to larger supplies to the United States. The quantity of wheat exported during the year was nearly 46 times larger than in the previous year owing to the abundant harvest of the year under review. This was due to the great but temporary rise in price, occasioned by the Spanish American war, and by speculation in the States. The trade in raw cotton with Austria Hungary increased by 20.8 per cent, with Belgium by 281.5 per cent, with Germany by 17.4 per cent, with China by 19.1 per cent, and with Japan by 263, while the trade with the United Kingdom fell away by 8.7 per cent, with France by 60.4 per cent, with Italy by 42.9 per cent, and with other countries by 38.8 per cent. The total exports of raw cotton were 1.5 per cent in excess of those of the previous year. The exports of shellac decreased in quantity by 23 per cent owing to shorter despatches to all the importing countries with the exception of the United States. The decrease in the value of the exports is attributed to the limited demand for the established and more expensive marks. There was a falling off of 2.3 per cent in the exports of raw silk as compared with 1897-98. The trade with the United Kingdom fell by 26.1 per cent, while France and Italy took 25.1 per cent and 32.1 per cent more than in 1897-98. The quantity exported to "other countries" also increased by 265.3 per cent. The Collector of Customs observes —

There can be no doubt that the greater care now taken in the reeling of Bengal silk is causing it to be more generally used and is opening out new outlets for it. But the industry has to contend with the dire disease pébrine which well nigh ruined sericulture in France. The Europeans interested in the trade have for a long time been trying to induce the native rearers to adopt Pasteur's system of seed selection and rearing, but with very little success. The Committee now working at Berhampore have however, succeeded in interesting a few rearers in that system, and it is to be hoped that the success which these rearers have had with their worms will induce others to take it up. Owing to the ravages of pebrine during the year under review the total quantity of cocoons produced was less than in the preceding year. As however, the European filatures took almost the same quantity as before, the production of native reeled silk suitable for local consumption was considerably reduced.

In the important districts of Mirda and Rajshahi the interest taken in the new methods is much more intelligent and keen than it is in Berhampor, and the Lieutenant Governor from what he saw there has reason to hope that the protection given by these methods will lead to a rapid expansion of an ancient industry.

9 Treasure—The increase of 38.1 per cent in the value of the net imports of gold and silver combined was, it is said, due, to a certain extent, to the excess of exports of Indian produce over imports in it, to an improvement in the exchange value of the rupee and to the unfavourable exchange between Australia and England. The importation of gold increased by 46.4 per cent, while there was a decrease of 22.8 per cent in the imports of silver. The exports of gold were nominal, and there was a decrease of 56.5 per cent in the exports of silver owing to smaller supplies to every country except Mauritius.

10 Subordinate Ports—The total value of the foreign trade of the port of Chittagong fell from Rs 81,50,319 to Rs 68,25,931, showing a decline of Rs 13,24,418 or 16 per cent. This took place both in imports (4.4 per cent) and exports (8 per cent) and is attributable chiefly to smaller receipts of salt from the United Kingdom and of railway materials for the Assam Bengal Railway, and to non receipt of kerosene oil from America, as well as to the absence of shipments of raw jute to Dunkirk and the diminished exports of tea. The exports of rice, however, advanced owing to the good crop of last year. The imports of liquors from foreign and Indian ports rose by 12.2 and 12.3 per cent respectively. In the coasting trade, the imports largely diminished owing to smaller receipts of raw jute from Narayanganj, while larger shipments of country goods, viz gun and pulse to Akyab, mitigated by a smaller shipment of treasure to Calcutta and Hongkong, raised the value of the exports.

The total value of the trade, both foreign and coasting, at the Orissa ports, as compared with 1897-98, decreased at Balasore from Rs 1,15,67,116 to Rs 1,41,95,217 and at Cuttack from Rs 27,63,354 to Rs 26,11,553, while at Puri it rose from Rs 1,61,219 to Rs 6,09,912. The net amount of Customs duty, inclusive of the duty on imported salt collected at the Orissa ports, however, rose from Rs 5,91,756 to Rs 6,02,701 showing an increase of Rs 10,965 or 1.8 per cent. The improvement is chiefly attributed to larger collections made on account of export duty at all these ports.

The trade at Narayanganj, which is carried on, as usual, with coast ports only, fell from Rs 60,10,026 to Rs 5,47,277, showing a decrease of Rs 14,92,749 or 24 per cent. This was the combined effect of a decrease of Rs 16,37,414 or 28.5 per cent in exports and an increase of Rs 1,14,665 or 16.2 per cent in imports. Salt was the only dutiable article imported into this port and the duty on it rose from Rs 7,15,777 to Rs 9,89,103, showing an increase of Rs 2,73,326, or 38.2 per cent. The trade in kerosene oil reappeared and the quantity imported was 317,084 gallons during the year, but large supplies are said to be still obtained by other routes from Calcutta. The exports of rice increased by 2,13 cwt or 41 per cent. The decline in exports from Narayanganj is said to be partly due to a short crop of jute and partly to the cheaper rates of freight charged by the direct inland service of steamers to Calcutta by which route raw jute was shipped to Calcutta in preference to Chittagong.

11 The Lieutenant Governor's thanks are again due to the Board of Revenue and the Collector of Customs for their supervision of the Department during the year. The report of its operations is as usual full of interest. The names of the officers who have been favourably mentioned by the Board will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal,

E. N. BAKER,

WORKING OF THE LICENSED WAREHOUSE AND FIRE BRIGADE ACT
I OF 1893 IN THE HOWRAH MUNICIPALITY DURING THE YEAR
1898 99

No 4247M — The 19th August 1899 — The following report is published for general information in accordance with the provisions of section 41 of the Licensed Warehouse and Fire Brigade Act, I of 1893

F N BAKER,

ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1898 99 UNDER THE LICENSED WAREHOUSE AND FIRE BRIGADE ACT, I OF 1893 AS AMENDED BY ACT I OF 1891

Dated Howrah the 1st July 1899

From—J W DUNBAR Esq Chairman, Howrah Municipality
To—The Magistrate Howrah

I HAVE the honour to report that 263 warehouses were licensed in 1898 99 of the 334 registered during that year against 237 of the 394 registered in 1897 98, the details being as follows —

YEAR	Jute	Cotton	Straw	Wood	Hay	Total	REMARKS
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
Registered 1897 98	30	39	92	230	3	394	Exemptions under Notification No 2833M, dated the 14th August 1893 account for the difference between the number of registered and licensed warehouses
Ditto 1898 99	33	32	76	190	3	334
Licensed 1897 98	28	32	56	178	3	297
Ditto 1898 99	28	28	50	154	3	263

The apparent falling off in the number of warehouses was owing to both the closed and the opened ones in 1897 98 being shown as existent in the previous report, as the closed ones were not struck off the license register during that year

2 The income from license fees during the year under report amounted to Rs 5 977 of which Rs. 658 were collected on account of arrears for 1897 98 and Rs 154 represent the increment from 23 new licenses. In the year 1897 98, the collection amounted to Rs 5 388 of which Rs 307 accrued from arrears of 1896 97. There was thus a substantial increase of Rs 589 in the gross income of 1898 99 over the income of the previous year

3 The demand, collection, remission and balance of 1898 99 are shown in Appendix A, and the details of licenses granted in this year to jute and cotton warehouses are entered in Appendix B. Owing to the comparative unimportance of the 207 licenses granted for the storage of straw, wood and hay in 1898 99 against 237 in the previous year, they have not been entered in Appendix B and it may be noted that such licenses have only been levied under the Fire Brigade Act since July 1893, prior to which they were levied under section 261 of the Bengal Municipal Act

4 There were 43 prosecutions which realised Rs 60 8 against 54 in the previous year which realised Rs 45, but 23 of the prosecutions in the year under report were withdrawn on payment of fees and costs

The mean pressure of the seven days

The average pressure of the corresponding period for 24 years, Surveyor General's Office

The total number of hours of bright sunshine

The maximum possible number of hours of sunshine

The mean temperature of the seven days

The average temperature of the corresponding period for 24 years, Surveyor General's Office

The extreme variation of temperature

The maximum temperature

The highest velocity of the wind in one hour

The mean relative humidity

The average relative humidity of the corresponding period for 24 years Surveyor General's Office

The total fall of rain from 13th to 19th August 1899

The average fall of the corresponding period for 24 years Surveyor General's Office

The total fall from 1st January to 19th August 1899

The mean pressure temperature &c are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph

o, overcast, d, drizzling rain, p, passing temporary showers, t, thunder, w, strong wind, g, gloomy

[NOTIFICATION—No 2726

The 29th August 1899 — Extract paragraphs 1 and 2 of the letter below to the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division are published for general information

F A SLACK,
Offg Secy to the Govt of Bengal

Letter No 174 dated Calcutta, the 17th January 1899, from FRANK LYALL Esq, Under Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department, to the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No 5J G dated the 4th January 1899, in which you report that Srimati Kadambini Debi, of Parula, in the district of Birbhum, has offered a sum of Rs 4 000 in Government Promissory Notes, in order to perpetuate the memory of her husband, the late Babu Benimadhab Chatterjee. You also say that she wishes that the proceeds of the investment be devoted to the payment of the schooling fees of poor and deserving Hindu boys attending the Birbhum Government School and the Suri Middle English School.

2 In reply, I am to say that Government accepts the offer, and desires that the acknowledgments of Government be conveyed to the donor for her liberality and public spirit. As it is desirable that in all such cases advantage should be taken of the provisions of the Charitable Endowments Act (VI of 1890), you should request the donor to make an application under section 6 of the Act for vesting in the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments the property she proposes to make over to Government.

NOTIFICATION—No 2727

The 29th August 1899 — Whereas Srimati Kadambini Debi of Parula, in the district of Birbhum widow of Babu Beni Madhab Chatterji deceased, is desirous of founding a fund to provide for the payment of schooling fees of poor Hindu boys of the Birbhum Government Zillah School and the Suri Middle English School of which fund the District Magistrate of Birbhum for the time being shall be the sole administrator, and has placed in the hands of the Government of Bengal the Government securities of the nominal value of Rs 4,000 of which the particulars are specified in Part II of the schedule hereto. And whereas on the application of the said Srimati Kadambini Debi and with her concurrence, the Government of Bengal are desirous, under sub section I, section 5, of the Charitable Endowments Act, VI of 1890 to settle a scheme for the administration of the said fund and the said scheme is set out in Part I of the schedule hereto. Now it is hereby notified that the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 4 and 5 of the said Charitable Endowments Act, VI of 1890 doth hereby order and direct that the Government securities of the nominal value of Rs 4 000 of which the particulars are set out in Part II of the schedule hereto shall as from the 1st day of December 1898, vest and be thenceforth vested in the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments for the territories subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to be held by him and his successors (subject to the provisions of the said Charitable Endowments Act VI of 1890, and any rules which may from time to time be framed thereunder by the Governor General in Council) upon the trusts for the purposes, and subject to the conditions contained in the said scheme set forth in Part I of the schedule.

The schedule above referred to

Part I — Scheme for the Management of the Beni Madhav Fund

1 The Treasurer of Charitable Endowments shall stand possessed of the Government securities specified in Part II of this schedule and of the income and interest thereof in trust to pay the interest and income thereof to the District Magistrate of Birbhum for the purposes of this scheme.

2 The fund shall be called 'The Beni Madhav Fund.'

3 The District Magistrate of Birbhum for the time being shall be the sole administrator of the fund, and subject to the provisions of clauses 4 to 8 hereof and clause 10 he will select Hindu boys for admission to the benefit of the fund having regard, in his own discretion, to their intelligence, conduct and the circumstances of their parents, and will apply the income of the securities in payment of schooling fees for the boys he may select in such priority and order and in such shares and proportions as he shall think fit.

4 At or shortly before the commencement of each official year, the District Magistrate shall make his selection of the boys who are to be entitled to the benefit of the fund for such year and his decision in this respect shall be final.

5 The selection or nomination of each boy to the benefit of the fund shall only carry with it the right to enjoy such benefit for one year at a time, but the District Magistrate may continue or readmit any boy to the benefit of the fund in any subsequent year or years having regard to the funds at his disposal and the demands upon the same.

6 None but Hindu boys too poor to pay their schooling fees and belonging or intending to gain admission into the Birbhum Government Zilla School or the Suri Middle English School will be eligible for admission to the benefit of this fund.

7 Boys enjoying the benefit of the fund shall only continue to do so subject to their being of good behaviour and making satisfactory progress with their studies as to which the decision of the District Magistrate shall be final, and he may at any time declare that any boy has forfeited his right to the benefit of the fund.

8 All other things being equal, a boy of the Brahmin caste shall have preference over a boy of a lower caste.

9 If either of the two schools should cease to exist, the provisions of the scheme shall then apply to the school continuing to be carried on.

10 As a special case Debendra Chandra Mazumdar, a son of the late Radha Ballabh Mazumdar, of the Birbhum Government Zilla School, shall be the first boy elected to the benefit of the fund and so long as he shall remain at the said school and has not passed the University Entrance Examination he shall have his schooling fees paid out of the income and interest of the fund in priority to all other boys, subject to his being of good conduct and making satisfactory progress with his studies, of which the District Magistrate shall be the sole Judge.

Secy to the Govt of Bengal

Rules as to Load line Marks, Seasons Certificates Draught of Water, and Freeboard for Steam Vessels and for Sailing Vessels (other than Sailing Vessels engaged solely in the Indian Coasting Trade)

1 The lines to be used in order to indicate the maximum load line under different circumstances and at different seasons shall be nine inches in length and one inch in thickness and the maximum load line shall be the upper edge of each of such lines

2 The said lines shall be horizontal lines marked on both sides of the ship, extending from and at right angles to a vertical line marked twenty one inches forward of the centre of the disc. The maximum load line in fresh water shall be marked abaft such vertical line and the maximum load line in salt water shall be marked forward of such vertical line, as shown in the following diagrams—

FOR STEAMERS

Starboard Side

Port Side

The arrow (←) points in the direction of the vessel's head

The provisions of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act 1880 Chapter II, shall have effect as if any such maximum load line were drawn through the centre of the disc

3 Such maximum load lines shall be as follows, namely —

- For fresh water, Indian summer,
- fresh water
- Indian summer (Indian fair weather season),
- summer (Indian foul weather season),
- winter,
- winter North Atlantic, and shall be distinguished by initial letters permanently and conspicuously marked opposite such horizontal lines as aforesaid such initial letters being as follows —

- F W I S — Fresh water Indian summer
- F W — Fresh water
- I S — Indian summer (Indian fair weather season)
- S — Summer (Indian foul weather season)
- W — Winter
- W N A — Winter North Atlantic

The upper edge of the horizontal line passing through the centre of the disc shall always indicate the summer freeboard in salt water

4 Steam ships shall be marked with such of the horizontal lines as aforesaid as are applicable to the nature of their employment and sailing ships shall be marked with such of the above mentioned lines, in addition to the summer load line, as indicate the maximum load line for fresh water and for North Atlantic winter

5 The said disc, and the lines, or marks to be used in connection therewith, shall be painted white or yellow on a dark ground, or black on a light ground and the position of the disc, and of each of the lines, shall, in the case of iron and steel vessels, be permanently marked by centre punch marks, and shall, in the case of wooden vessels be sunk for their breadths into the planking a depth of not less than one quarter of an inch

6 Application for a certificate of approval of the position of the disc or any alteration thereof shall be made to the Port Officer of _____ by the owner or agent in the form marked L L 1 in the schedule hereto annexed, and the application shall be accompanied by the prescribed fee After survey a certificate shall be issued by the Port Officer in duplicate in the form in the schedule hereto annexed which is applicable to the case one part shall be delivered to the applicant, and the other part shall be recorded by the Port Officer

The managing owner, agent or master shall also forthwith, on the delivery to him or his agent of any such certificate as aforesaid, cause the same to be framed and put up in some conspicuous part of the ship so as to be visible to all persons on board the same and shall cause it to be continued so put up so long as such certificate remains in force and such ship is in use

On a certificate of approval ceasing to have effect, application shall at once be made by the registered managing owner of the ship for the granting of a new certificate of approval and the old certificate shall be delivered up to the Government who issued and who shall cancel the same

7 The master of every British or British Indian ship shall before she leaves any port in India for the purpose of proceeding to sea, enter in the official log all the particulars stated in the certificate so issued as aforesaid if not previously entered

8 For the purpose of these rules the following periods shall mean "Indian summer" (fair weather season) and "summer," respectively —

	Indian summer (Indian summer)	Summer
(a) Bay of Bengal, east of Tuticorin	10th November to 25th May	26th May to 14th November
(b) West Coast Sind Bombay and Malabar	1st September to 25th May	26th May to 31st August

The seasons as prescribed should have reference to the nature of the voyage in all cases

9 The following rules are proscribed with respect to certificates of approval and their duration —

- As regards all ships classed in Lloyd's Register or by any other corporation or association for the survey or registry of shipping approved by the Government of India, the certificate of approval shall cease to have effect when the class of the ship is changed or withdrawn. Such certificates shall be in the Form L L 2 or L L 3 in the schedule hereto according as the ship is a steamship or sailing ship.
- As regards unclassified iron and steel steamships the certificate of approval will be granted for the period mentioned therein, and upon the expiration of such period the certificate shall cease to have effect. The certificate shall be in the Form L L 2 B in the schedule hereto.
- As regards unclassified wooden ships which have been opened out for survey, and unclassified iron and steel sailing ships, the certificate shall be granted for a fixed time varying with the age and condition of the ship at the expiration of which it shall cease to have effect. Such certificate shall be in the Form L L 3 A in the schedule hereto.
- As regards unclassified wooden ships which have not been opened out for survey no limit of time shall be imposed in the certificate, which shall be in the Form L L 3 B in the schedule hereto.
- As regards all vessels having deck erections in respect of which deductions have been made for freeboard, if any change tending to invalidate the right to such deductions is made in the structural condition of the deck erections, the certificate of approval shall thereby cease to have effect.

10 For the purpose of these regulations the expression "amidships" shall mean the middle of the length of the load water line as measured from the fore side of the stem to the aft side of the stern post.

Officers entrusted with approval of freeboard and the survey of vessels reported to be overlaid will be guided by the Tables of Freeboard issued by the Board of Trade as modified or supplemented by the Board from time to time.

EASTERN CIRCLE

RULES FOR PRIVATE CANDIDATES

Entrance Examination

1 Definition—A student who does not appear from any school, or who has been transferred since 1st September immediately preceding the examination without the permission of the Inspector of Schools is treated as a private student

2 A private candidate from the Eastern Circle (be he a teacher or not) desirous of being sent up to the University Entrance Examination, should apply to the head master of the zilla school in the district to which he belongs for permission to appear at the test examination and he must satisfy the following conditions—

- (a) That he has not failed at the test examination of any Entrance School in the current year
- (b) That he has left the school in which he last read with a transfer certificate and with a certificate of good conduct, or (in case of a failed student) is in possession of the Registrar's receipt
- (c) That he has not left school from any lower class than the first. A candidate leaving a school from a lower class is not generally admitted unless he can produce a satisfactory certificate from a reliable person assigning reasons for leaving the school and he must have studied for at least the number of years which he would have otherwise taken to reach the first class
- (d) That he should pay a fee of Rs 2 to the head master of the school at which he is to appear for the examination
- (e) That he must be accompanied for the purpose of identification by some person known to the officer conducting the test examination

3 A teacher candidate should produce from the Secretary or the Proprietor of his school a certificate of good conduct in addition to compliance with the above conditions

4 In permitting private candidates to appear at the test examination the head masters of zilla schools will satisfy themselves of the conditions stated above

5 The head masters of zilla schools in the Eastern Circle are authorised to sign the applications of private students in case they can successfully pass the test examination of their respective schools and to forward the same with their signatures to the office of the Inspector of Schools for countersignature

6 The entrance fee (Rs 10) should not be sent to this office but it should be sent to the Registrar by the candidates themselves, together with the countersigned applications which will be returned to the respective head masters for delivery to candidates

7 The address of the private candidates should be known to the head masters

8 The test examination of all the zilla schools in the Eastern Circle will be held on the 15th December 1899. The date of the test examination of the Dacca Collegiate School will be fixed by the Principal

9 The Inspector will countersign the applications of private candidates up to the 10th January 1900, after which no applications will be received

10 The balance of the fees of private candidates after payment of expenses will be distributed among the examiners as their remuneration

11 The term zilla school includes the Dacca Collegiate School where private candidates of the Dacca district are admitted to the test examination with the permission of the Principal and it includes also the Chittagong Collegiate School

FA and BA Examinations

Deputy Inspectors Sub Inspectors and bond fide teachers of recognised English schools in the Eastern Circle are eligible to appear at these examinations as private candidates, provided they have served as such for fully two academical years

2 Exceptions to the above rule can be made in the case of those candidates who, after failing at the examination, have served as bond fide teachers for six months since the date of the last examination

3 Candidates for the FA and BA Examinations must produce certificates of character and length of service from the Secretaries of their respective schools together with their Entrance or FA certificates. These candidates who have been admitted to a former examination must produce the Registrar's receipt in addition

4 The printed form of application should be carefully filled up and submitted to this office on or before the 10th January 1900, together with other papers as mentioned in rule 3, after which no applications will be received

Simla, the 25th August 1899

No 1877 —In accordance with the provisions of section 18, sub section (1), of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884 and with the directions contained in Home Department Notification No 1964, dated the 2nd September 1887, the Governor General in Council is pleased to publish, for general information, the following draft rule which it is proposed to substitute for rule 6 VI (e) of the rules to regulate the transport and importation of explosives, published with the Notification of the Government of India in the Home Department, No 1898, dated the 8th July 1897

The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 28th October 1899

Draft Rules

6 VI (e) —Explosives may be carried by mixed trains on any line on which goods trains are not running, subject to the conditions that they are loaded in properly constructed powder vans that not more than one powder van containing explosives is forwarded at any one time by a mixed train, that there are not less than three vehicles between the powder van and either the engine or the passenger coaches that the powder van is close coupled to the adjoining vehicles and that directly a powder van containing explosives arrives at a section on which goods trains are running, it is detached from the mixed train

ACCEPTANCE BY MEDICAL OFFICERS OF A PECUNIARY OR OTHER GIFT IN RECOGNITION OF THEIR SERVICES

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Home Department

READ AGAIN—

Despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India No 82 dated the 4th June 1873

Read also—

Home Department Resolution No 729—68 dated the 6th May 1898 republishing the rules prohibiting the receipt of testimonials and addresses by servants of Government

RESOLUTION—In the Despatch of June 1873, read in the preamble, the Secretary of State ruled that a Medical Officer may, as an exception to the general rule, receive purses and other such testimonials from communities, but may not receive an address unless the Government under which he serves has previously permitted its presentation. These orders are embodied in rule 5 of the rules republished with the Resolution of May 1898 read in the preamble. The rule mentions pecuniary recognition only, and the point has been raised whether it should also be made to cover cases in which either the donors or the Medical Officer himself prefer that the presentation should take some other form than a gift of money. The Governor General in Council is of opinion that the exception is meant to apply to such cases and is therefore pleased to direct that rule 5 shall be altered as follows —

Medical Officers are not prohibited from receiving a pecuniary or other gift in recognition of their services from a community or body of persons which may desire to acknowledge these, but the previous sanction of the Local Government or Administration must be obtained by Medical Officers before receiving any public complementary address.

CITY OF BOMBAY IMPROVEMENT TRUST

ISSUE OF Rs FIFTY LAKHS FOUR PER CENT GUARANTEED DEBENTURES
REPAYABLE IN SIXTY YEARS

WITH the sanction of the Government of India and under the provisions of sections 52-59 of the City of Bombay Improvement Act 1898 the Board of Trustees for the Improvement of the City of Bombay hereby invite tenders for a loan of Rs fifty lakhs bearing interest at four per cent. repayable in sixty years by a Sinking Fund to be invested (as required by sections 55 and 56) half yearly in public securities

The interest and sinking fund charges as aforesaid will be a charge on the property and revenues of the Board which include in addition to the properties for the purchase of which the loan is chiefly required the rents of certain vacant lands in the City of Bombay valued in the Schedules of the said Act at Rs 91 01 551 and an annual contribution from the Municipal Fund not exceeding 2 per cent on the total rateable value of all buildings and lands in the city (exclusive of buildings exclusively occupied for public worship or for charitable purposes) which contribution is estimated for 1899 1900 at Rs 4 75 000 besides other receipts reserved to the Board by the provisions of the Act which will be developed by the operations to be undertaken

The interest on these debentures will constitute a charge on the revenue of the Board prior to the charge for interest payable to the Secretary of State for India in Council and to the Corporation on and from 1st April 1900 in respect of the debt on account of the lands vesting in the Board (section 54)

The payment of interest on these debentures and the setting aside and investment of the sinking fund required for their repayment are guaranteed by the provisions of the Statute (assented to by the Governor General of India), whereby it is directed that in the event of any default being made by the Board in any payment of interest or in the event of the Board failing to set aside and invest any sum required to form the sinking fund the Accountant-General of Bombay or other officer for the time being performing the duties of the office of the said Accountant-General shall make such payment or set aside and invest such sum as may be required to be invested (section 80)

The Board reserve to themselves the right of refusing tenders if they consider the rates offered to be too low but subject to this reservation allotments will be made in full to the highest tenderers and rateably to the tenderers offering the lowest rate accepted by the Board

These debentures will be issued for sums of Rs 500 or multiples of Rs 500 as may be required they will be repayable to holder in sixty years and will bear interest at 4 per cent per annum payable half yearly

and the balance on or before Saturday the 30th September 1899 from which date interest will accrue

The deposit of 2 per cent will be returned if no allotment is made and it will be forfeited if an allotment is not fully taken up on the last date named

Tenders will be received by the Secretary Bombay Improvement Trust up to one o'clock P M (gun fire) on Thursday the 31st August 1899 and they will thereafter be opened in the presence of the Chairman of the Improvement Trust

LOAN NOTIFICATION

THE Commissioners of Calcutta are prepared with the sanction of the Governor General in Council given under section 404 of Act II (B C) of 1888 to open a Debenture Loan for Rs 25 00 000 (twenty five lakhs) on the security of the rates taxes and dues imposed and levied under the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act 1888

2 The debentures will have a currency of twenty five years from the 1st November 1899 and will bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum payable on the 1st May and the 1st November of each year

3 The form of the debentures will be that given in the Twelfth Schedule of Act II (B C) of 1888

4 No debentures will be issued for any sum less than Rs 500 and above that amount debentures will be issued only for multiples of Rs 100

5 Tenders for the whole or any part of the above loan of Rs 25 00 000 will be received by the Secretary to the Corporation up to 2 o'clock P M on Wednesday the 6th September 1899

6 Each tender must be made out in the form annexed to this Notification and enclosed in a sealed cover addressed to the Secretary to the Corporation and superscribed— Tender for Municipal Loan of 1899 1900

7 Each tender must be accompanied by an earnest deposit in Government promissory notes Calcutta municipal debentures, currency notes or cheques for not less than 3 per cent of the amount tendered

8 When a tender is accepted the earnest deposit when made in currency notes or cheques will be held as a payment in part of the amount tendered and will bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum from the date of acceptance of the tender provided that the whole amount tendered is paid up in the manner herein after prescribed but no debenture will issue for the amount of the earnest deposit so long as the entire amount of the tender is not paid but debentures may be issued for each instalment paid in full the earnest deposit not being included in any but the last instalment.

9 The earnest deposits on tenders which may not be accepted will be returned on application and no interest will be payable on such deposits. If an allotment after being made is not taken up or the full amount allotted is not paid as hereinafter prescribed the earnest deposit will be forfeited.

10 The rate at which a tender is made must be specified in rupees or rupees and annas but not in any fraction of an anna. If a rate containing a fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender such fraction will be struck out and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna. A tender in which the rate is not specified in rupees or rupees and annas will be rejected as null and void.

11 The whole amount of each allotment will be divided into three equal instalments as follows payable into the Bank of Bengal —

Instalment	I	As near as possible to 33, per cent payable on 22nd September 1899
Do	II	Ditto 33 ¹ ditto 6th October 1899
Do	III	Ditto 33 ¹ * ditto 24th October 1899

N.B.—The word as near as possible are used in this paragraph for the purpose of making each instalment an exact multiple of Rs. 100 for debentures in cases of Rs. 500.

12 Parties whose tenders are accepted will have the option of paying all or any of the instalments before the dates specified above and will receive interest from the date of such payment.

13 Anticipation interest will be paid on all instalments from the respective dates on which such instalments are paid into the Bank of Bengal to the 31st October 1899.

14 In the case of two or more tenders at the same lowest rate accepted a pro rata allotment will be made but no such allotment will be issued if the amount thus allotable on any tender is less than Rs. 500.

15 A minimum having been previously fixed tenders will be opened by the Loan Committee of the Commissioners at 2.30 P.M. on Wednesday the 6th September 1899 at the Municipal Office.

AUSTRALIA—TORRES STRAIT, INNER ROUTE

Alteration of "Course recommended"

THE Port Master, Brisbane, has given notice (No 10 of 1899) that the new survey of the Inner Route by H M S Dart being now completed as far south as Aye (1) Reef it is found that the safest course to be followed to clear the North and South Khandalla Shoals lies to the westward of Heath Reef, and in order to facilitate navigation on the course now recommended the Clarendon Island Lightship will, on the 1st November 1899, be removed to a position south 85 degrees west, distant 8 cables from the western extreme of Heath Reef

After that date, the "Course Recommended" from Fife Island will be as follows —

When Fife Island tree bears north 85 degrees east, distant $6\frac{1}{4}$ cables, steer north 19 degrees west for a distance of 11.4 miles, passing to the eastward of the lightship at a distance of about 2 cables. When the west extreme of Heath Reef bears north 85 degrees east, the course is again changed to north 8 degrees west. Continue this course 8.6 miles, when it will intersect the "Course Recommended" before laid down.

CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL BILL

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT read the Hon'ble MR BAKER's motion that the Calcutta Municipal Bill be referred back to the Select Committee for further consideration with reference to the correspondence between the Government of India and the Government of Bengal, which was published in the supplement to the Calcutta Gazette of the 12th July, 1899, and with instructions to report within two weeks

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE, by leave of the President, moved the following amendments to the above motion, viz —

- (1) for "two weeks" substitute "six weeks",
- (2) add at the end the words "and that the opinions of the Corporation and other public bodies be invited with reference to such correspondence"

He said — "Sir, my first words will be words of regret at the retirement from this Council of my friend Babu Norendranath Sen. I do not in the smallest degree desire to make any reflection upon my hon'ble friend to my left who so worthily represents the Corporation, and in whose hands I am sure the interests of the rate payers of Calcutta in regard to the Calcutta Municipal Bill will be perfectly safe. But the tide of human circumstances sometimes demands a tear from us Hinc illæ lachrymæ—sang Virgil in the olden times. Those who were associated with Babu Norendranath Sen in his arduous labours in connection with the early stages of the Calcutta Municipal Bill must share the regret that he has not been permitted to participate in their toils and anxieties amid the closing scenes of the final struggle.

"However that may be, now that we have been placed once again by a fortunate accident in possession of our deliberative functions, if we have made a mistake, we may rectify it, if we have acted, I will not say in defiance of, but if we have acted not in conformity with, the dictates of public opinion, we may now pay that ampler homage to public sentiment which, as it seems to me, is imperatively called for at our hands in dealing with a measure such as this, affecting as it does the habits and every day lives of the people, for a municipal measure is essentially a measure of sanitation, and in order that it may be successful, that it may promote the great ends of sanitation, it must enlist the sympathies of the people on its side. By no stretch of language, however, can it be said that the Municipal Bill, even as revised by the Select Committee, has secured the sympathies or the support of the community, whom it most deeply affects. On the contrary I will say this—that in the whole course of my public life, now extending over the space of nearly a quarter of a century, I have not witnessed a measure which so profoundly stirred the hearts and excited the apprehensions of the people of Calcutta as this Bill has done. Their apprehensions may be well founded or ill founded—I believe them to be well founded—but there they are—real, intense, deep seated, influencing the thought and moulding the feelings of the people, driving them in their thousands to those great public meetings held all over the town with a view to record their protest against this measure. A protest so real and so influential and at the same time so universal and so all pervading, a responsible Government could not ignore. It is with thankfulness we note that the action of the Government of India has been determined by the attitude of public opinion. I may or I may not be able to assent to the proposals of the Government of India. I am afraid I cannot assent to them, but all the same I feel that I should be false to myself and to my representative character if I did not place on record the expression of my admiring gratitude for the spirit in which that Government have approached the consideration of the subject, the temper of the discussion, the sensibility to public opinion which their intervention at this stage indicates, and above all for the desire by which they are actuated and which pervades every line of the despatch, to arrive at a settlement that shall be conducive to the efficiency of municipal administration in Calcutta, and yet at the same time preserve intact the great principle of Local Self Government. As in the past so in the future, I hope and trust Your Honour's Government and the Government of India will be pleased to extend to our observations that indulgent consideration which both these Governments are accustomed to accord to the temperate expression of responsible opinion. In that hope and in that confidence I approach the consideration of this subject. Could I persuade myself to believe that the Government of India has definitely made up its mind, that it is inexorably wedded to the opinions it has expressed, and that it is inaccessible to the voice of reason and remonstrance, I for one would not waste my breath nor waste the time of the Council in a vain endeavour to persuade. But I know that the Government is highly deferential to the expression of public opinion, to the clear and unerring dictates of reason and sound sense, and, therefore, it is that I have taken upon myself the task of entering upon a somewhat prolonged discussion of the issues raised in the letter of the Government of India.

"The letter of the Government of India begins with a statement of the principal grounds, as summarized by the Government of Bengal, upon which the amendment of the Calcutta Municipal Law is based. To three of these grounds I desire to call attention, because in the first place they seem to me to be important grounds which are now published for the first time. In the second place they seem to be absolutely unsustainable. They make a revelation in respect of which it will be my duty to ask my hon'ble friend in charge of the Bill to make some sort of an explanation."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said — "I apologise for interrupting the Hon'ble Member, but this is a point of order. I cannot permit any discussion of the reasons given by the Government of India at the beginning of their letter. The point to which we are limited is the discussion of the changes in the Bill which the Government of India have desired should be made. I cannot allow any discussion of the reasons which have led the Government of India to come to their decision."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said — "With your permission I desire to make one observation, namely, that the grounds to which I desire particularly to call the attention of the Council are grounds which do not appear in the letter of the 7th March, 1898. These grounds are absolutely new, therefore they are not covered by Your Honour's ruling that these matters have been decided."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said — "I regret I can hear no discussion on that point."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said — "That being the ruling of Your Honour, I shall proceed to lay before you statements which have been made in the letter of the Government of India, statements which are open to challenge and contradiction, and therefore it seems to me that, having regard to such statements, a case has been made out for the appointment of a Commission of Enquiry."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said — "This is a point which has been discussed in Council before. I must ask the Hon'ble Member to proceed with the remainder of his speech. These are points which I cannot allow to be re-opened."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said — "I want to suggest that in the letter of the Government of India there is one matter which raises a point which I think admits of discussion. The Government of India say that the broad principles of Local Self Government are to be preserved, but that they are to be so re-cast as to check abuses and secure the continuity of administration. If abuses are to be discovered and to be checked, the best way of discovering and checking them is by the appointment of a Commission of Enquiry."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said — "I must repeat that that point has been discussed and decided by the Council, and I cannot permit it to be re-opened."

The Hon'ble BABU SURFENDRANATH BANERJEE continued — ' I bow to Your Honour's decision and will leave that point The Government of India in the 7th paragraph of their letter say —

'The Government of India cannot fail to realise that they have a special responsibility in this case It would be strange indeed if they did not feel a peculiar interest in a measure affecting the municipal constitution of a city which is not merely the capital of the Province of Bengal but also the seat of the Imperial Government and the capital of the Indian Empire They are deeply persuaded of the importance of a local administration, which shall adequately represent the various great interests that have placed and still keep, Calcutta in its premier position in India and which shall be businesslike efficient and free from scandal or reproach At the same time it would be their natural desire, in the interests both of continuity of administration and of public harmony, to see these objects attained not by any contravention of the broad principles of Local Self Government already conceded, but by a curtailment of the abuses to which in practice they may have become exposed, and by a restriction within limits suggested by experience, of the range of their future operation In these opinions the Government of India are convinced that they have the sympathy of the Lieutenant Governor'

"As I read this paragraph I take it to mean that no changes in the present municipal system of Calcutta are to be introduced which would be in contravention of the broad principles of Local Self Government already conceded If I am able to show that the proposals of the Government of India are in direct conflict with their avowed policy and the principle which they here lay down, I am entitled to ask the Government for a reconsideration of their detailed proposals [The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said — "That is a perfectly legitimate argument"] What then, Sir, are those broad principles of Local Self Government which have already been conceded and which I contend have not only been assailed but completely superseded by the proposals of the Government of India? These principles may be classified under three heads —

"In the first place, the paramountcy of the Corporation was affirmed The Corporation was declared to be the one supreme authority in the administration of municipal affairs, fixing the rates, controlling expenditure, regulating finance, making the superior appointments, in short, controlling, guiding, supervising the affairs of the town This was no new concession The paramountcy of the Corporation had been recognized in the constitution of the Corporation under the Justices The principle was only reaffirmed in 1876 In the second place, and this I regard as the dominating feature of the great concession of 1876, the rate payers of Calcutta were now for the first time allowed to elect their own representatives in the proportion of two thirds of the entire number of the Corporation In other words, the Government of Calcutta, the control of its municipal affairs, was for the first time definitely entrusted to the representatives of the rate payers This was the cornerstone of the great system of 1876—the essence of the broad principles of Local Self Government that were then conceded—and it is this cardinal feature of the system which is now seriously menaced by the proposals of the Government of India Lastly, as a safeguard, because the Government had parted with its powers and functions in this matter, the Government claimed and asserted the right of control over the Municipality, a control, however, which was to be exercised from without and not from within These were the three broad principles—especially the second—that formed the prominent features of the concession of 1876 Now the proposed system of co-ordinate authorities is in direct conflict with the paramountcy of the Corporation Make the Chairman and the General Committee co-ordinate authorities, make the representative Corporation possessed of only certain definite powers, and the supremacy of the Corporation is at an end With regard to this matter, I must say that the letter of the Government of India gives a very uncertain sound Nowhere does the Government of India distinctly approve of the system of co-ordinate authorities, nowhere does it disapprove of it, though it quotes with approbation the strong expression of opinion from the dissenting members, where they speak of an emasculated Corporation recently in possession of supreme authority, viewing with uneasiness, if not with jealousy, the establishment of co-ordinate authorities I hope the principle of co-ordinate authorities has been abandoned I hope the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill will be able to give us that assurance I hope he will not tell us that the passage is quoted with a view to show that in the absence of homogeneity there will be friction, there will be a conflict and a collision of interests, and that therefore the popular element in the Corporation must be curtailed.

• Then as regards the powers of control reserved to the Government under this Bill, the Government of India is in perfect agreement with the majority of the Select Committee. I thought it was possible that there was one feature in the recommendations of the Select Committee which would not commend itself to the approval of the Government of India. The Select Committee provided that, notwithstanding an appeal to the Government of India against the orders of the Government of Bengal, the injunctions and orders of the Local Government in regard to the works which were the subject of appeal should be carried out and the works proceeded with. I find that in regard to this part of the Bill the Government of India is in perfect agreement with the majority of the Select Committee. Let me ask what is the good of an appeal, if the works are to be proceeded with?

"Suppose the appeal is successful, but that in the meantime the works have been carried out, that would mean so much waste of time, labour and money. I hope this part of the Bill will be reconsidered. As regards the powers of control, they have been rendered far more stringent under the Bill, and the proposed changes in the law have been approved by the Government of India. I will not repeat the arguments which I have already urged from my place in the Select Committee. These provisions are apparently based upon the English Public Health Act but they go much beyond the scope of the English Act. Under the English Public Health Act, the control of the Local Government Board is confined to sanitary measures. Under the Bill the control of the Local Government may extend to all matters, sanitary or otherwise. Under the English Public Health Act the Local Government Board can only interfere upon complaint made—that used to be the Municipal Law of Calcutta. Under the Bill the Local Government may interfere upon its own motion without any complaint of any kind being made. Under the English Act the Local Government Board can only realize the sum actually due from the defaulting local body. Under the Bill the Government may raise the rates and may even contract a loan. It is thus very evident that the powers of the Government over the Municipality will be largely added to, while, as I have hope to be able to show, the authority of the representatives of the people will be practically extinguished.

"But it is the proposals of the Government of India to reduce the number of Commissioners and to confine the reduction exclusively to the elected branch of the Corporation that seem to me to completely supersede the concessions made in 1876. They restrict, and indeed practically abolish, Local Self Government in Calcutta. To reduce the number of Commissioners is to restrict the diffusion of local interest. To reduce the elected element in the Corporation so as to place it to a hopeless minority is to lay the axe at the root of the system of Local Self Government in Calcutta.

"In the first place let me address myself to the proposal for the reduction of the number of Commissioners. Jeremy Bentham has observed in his Theory of Legislation that when a change in the law is proposed, it is incumbent upon those who propose the change to make good their case. All the more is this duty incumbent upon them, when the change proposed affects a scheme of legislation which is of long standing, which is consecrated by prescription, and which has come to be bound up with the civic life of the people. Now ever since there has been a Corporation in Calcutta, extending over a period close upon forty years, the number of Justices or Commissioners, for the members of the Corporation were known under these two names at two different periods of their history, was never less than 72 and sometimes exceeded 120. From 1863 to 1876 the municipal affairs of Calcutta were controlled by the Justices. Their number, unlimited at first, was over one hundred in 1876. When the Corporation was reconstituted upon an elective basis in 1876, the number was fixed at 72, and that was the number from 1876 to 1888. In 1888, when the Municipal Law was revised, the number was raised to 75, though with an extensively added area which was now for the first time included within the jurisdiction of the Municipality Thus from 1863 to 1899, for a period extending beyond the life time of a generation, the number of Municipal Commissioners has never been less than seventy two and has sometimes exceeded one hundred Look at the question from another point of view No Lieutenant Governor from 1863 to 1899 ever recommended the reduction of the number to what is now proposed by the Government of India Many Lieutenant Governors, possessed of the largest local experience and intimately acquainted with our municipal affairs, have expressed themselves in favour of the higher number of 72 or 75 If, therefore, in spite of what has been the accepted constitution of the Corporation ever since there has been a Corporation, in spite of the overwhelming consensus of opinion on the part of responsible rulers of the province, it is proposed to reduce the number, the change can only be justified on the strongest grounds supported by the clearest necessity A mere desire to correct an illogicality of form will not do The reasons must be so self evident, so palpable, so overwhelmingly impressive in their character as to carry home conviction to the most untutored mind Have we such reasons disclosed to us in the letter of the Government of India? Let us examine the letter somewhat closely The Government of India say in the 13th paragraph of their letter —

The Government of India have been struck, in their examination of the grounds advanced both by Sir Alexander Mackenzie and Sir John Woodburn for the measure, by the allegation that the existing Corporation has devoted itself to speech and to criticism rather than to action This charge, while doubtless to some extent due to the temper and spirit in which it has approached its work is in the main to be attributed to the considerable and, as it would seem excessive, numbers of the municipal body Their numerical strength when viewed in regard either to the number of electors by whom the majority are returned or to the experience of municipal institutions elsewhere seems to be disproportionately and unnecessarily large There can be no reason why a number of voters returned as only 13 890 out of a total ward population estimated at about 600,000 or a proportion of little more than 2 per cent should return as many as 50 members or why the interests of a city even of over 681,000 inhabitants should require the services of 70 Commissioners for their proper protection The Government of India are disposed therefore to think that a most effective though hitherto unsuggested, check upon the abuses and anomalies complained of might be found in a reduction of the numerical strength of the Corporation

“The Government of India say that the Commissioners are devoted to criticism rather than to action, and with a view to prevent the waste of time in frivolous talk, it is deemed necessary to reduce the number of Commissioners I respectfully venture to join issue with the Government in this statement of facts I go further and I contend that even if the facts were such as they are represented to be, they would involve no reflection on the character of the Corporation, for, by its constitution, the Corporation is a deliberative body, its business is to discuss, to criticize and to resolve upon action There never was a greater authority on municipal affairs than Sir Henry Harrison—to him belongs the unique honour of being quoted by the friends as well as the opponents of this Bill,—and he says that ‘the Executive alone can push on the works’ But I respectfully decline to accept the statement that the Commissioners are given to criticism rather than to action If that were so, how are we to account for the magnificent sanitary works which have changed the face of Calcutta and have made it, despite the plague, one of the healthiest cities in the Province? Again and again has this been brought against the Corporation, and as often it has been refuted Many of the eminent men, who, from time to time, have presided over the deliberations of the Corporation, have defended it against an imputation which it has not deserved We all remember Mr Lee, whose early death we so deeply deplore, and the very last words which he said from his place as Chairman—words to which his early death has imparted a pathetic interest—were these —

‘Less frequently now than of old, because the outside public is better acquainted with the facts, but still, occasionally, we hear insinuations that much time is wasted in this hall by long speeches from the Municipal Commissioners No charge could be further from the mark In all my experience—and that has covered full three years—I have seldom listened to a speech that has not been useful and to the point I can hardly recall a single instance in which I have made the reflection that the speaker was throwing no new light on his subject and was simply speaking to make a speech The facts, indeed, are conclusive In the course of the year you held some 30 general meetings. All the proceedings of every Committee meeting of which some 250 are held in the course of the year, come before you in this hall for review. A single Committee will frequently deal with 20 or more separate matters and you have on the average to review proceedings of such Committees at each single meeting in this hall, so that you dispose of sometimes 120, seldom less than 40 items of business at a sitting. How long do you take over it? As a rule between one and two hours! Who could say with fairness that that is excessive? How many similar deliberative bodies in the world are there that would dispose of the work in less time? The general rule that we endeavour to observe is not to speak without special knowledge and clear opinion and then to express our thoughts in language as brief as we can make it.

"I would like to repeat with Mr Lee the question—'How many deliberative bodies in the world would dispose of work in less time?' The same charge has been brought against deliberative bodies of even higher status and dignity, and has been dismissed as unworthy of notice. Let me quote the observations of Sir Henry Fowler in the recent debate in Parliament on the Calcutta Municipal Bill —

'He was not sure that the Mother of Parliaments was free from that objection. But with the Englishman who understood the working of Parliamentary and Municipal life and Local Self Government in all its ramifications, those objections would not weigh in the least against the general principle of enlisting the people in their own Self Government.

"Even if it were admitted for argument's sake that there were prolonged debates in the Corporation which involved waste of time, is the remedy to be found in the reduction of the number of elected Commissioners? Here, again, I am able to rely upon the high authority of Sir Henry Harrison, who was of opinion that the matter of number was immaterial, that there would be only a few Commissioners, the leading Commissioners, who would speak and the others would be quiet listeners. Sir Henry Harrison, speaking in the course of a debate in this Council on the 4th February, 1888, said —

'At the same time I attach very little importance to this point. I do not believe there will be any practical difficulty in working, whether the number of Commissioners be 75, or 60 or 80, because we know that the time taken up by discussion does not depend on the total number of Commissioners present, but upon those Commissioners who wish to speak and in a Corporation of even 40 members, the leading Commissioners would, for the most part be returned and these would take an active part in the discussion as at present. I do not think that in this respect there would be any great difference in a body of 40 members, and a Corporation of 80 Commissioners, of whom 15 or 16 would as a rule, take part in the discussions. Practically, therefore I attach little importance to the number of the Corporation. We only revise the work of the Committees in general meetings of the whole body of Commissioners.

"My own experience entirely confirms the opinion of Sir Henry Harrison, and, if so, the reduction of the number, looked at from this point of view, is wholly unnecessary.

"Then it has been said the number is excessive when viewed in connection with the experience of similar institutions elsewhere. Here, again, I find myself at variance with the facts as stated by the Government of India. I hold in my hand a statement which shows that in some of the great towns in the United Kingdom with a less numerous and a less homogeneous population, the number of Commissioners varies from sixty four to over one hundred. I will read from the table —

Names of towns	Population in 1886	Number of Municipal Commissioners
Glasgow	705,052	78
Edinburgh	276,514	41
Manchester	529,561	104
Birmingham	501,241	72
Liverpool	632,512	64
Sheffield	347,278	64
Leeds	402,449	64

"Looking at the figures which I have just read, and having regard to the population of Calcutta, which is over 650,000, and is certainly more diversified than that of any of the English towns to which I have referred, it cannot be said that the present number of Commissioners is excessive as compared with those of other towns.

"Then, again, it has been said that the number of Commissioners is large as compared with the paucity of voters. The fact is lost sight of that we have no universal suffrage here, and the qualifications of voters are determined by law. Every rate payer is not a voter. It is only those who pay rates and taxes to the extent of Rs 24 a year who are entitled to be voters. You lay down an artificial limitation and then you find fault with the system. The representative character of the Ward Commissioners is, however, not to be judged by the number of those who vote for them. They represent the rich and the poor alike. I would remind the Council of that well known provision in the Municipal Law which allows poor house owners to claim a lower percentage of valuation. These applications are all sent to the Ward Commissioners for their opinion. These men have no votes. They are far too poor to have any votes. The Ward Commissioner is their representative as well as that of the richer voters in the ward.

"I am free to admit that the question of number is one more or less of opinion. But whether as regards the number or the strength of the representative element in the Corporation, you cannot lose sight of the past history of Calcutta or the policy which the Government has hitherto pursued. If we had a tabula rasa, we might inscribe on it what we pleased. But Calcutta has a municipal history, and that history has created associations and ideas in the public mind which no responsible legislator can ignore. Municipal institutions, like all other institutions, are a matter of growth. Our municipal institutions, though English in their origin, have taken a firm root in the Indian mind, because they are so entirely in accordance with our ancient institutions, the panchayet system and the village communities. Any violent change involving a disturbance of these institutions along the lines in which they are accustomed to move would be a shock to popular feeling which no Legislature can ignore. I should be false to myself and to my representative character if I did not say from my place in this Council that the proposals of the Government of India as regards the reduction of the number of Commissioners, and especially as regards the strength of the representative element, have excited the deepest alarm and apprehension in the public mind. We argue somewhat in this way—it may be that we argue in our ignorance or in our innocence—but the line of argument we adopt is somewhat as follows—If it is considered necessary to cut down talk by reducing the number of Commissioners, why apply the pruning knife to the elected branch of the Corporation and keep intact the number of nominated Commissioners? The nominated Commissioners can talk just as much and just as eloquently and sometimes just as tediously as the elected Commissioners, as my hon'ble friend Mr Oldham will be able to say. If the object be to curtail talk, there ought to be a reduction all round, but instead of that, it is the elected element alone that is to be cut down.

'Distasteful as the reduction of the number is, it is the curtailment of the elected element in the Corporation, while the number of official and nominated Commissioners remains the same, which has filled the community with alarm and astonishment. Here again the orders of the Government of India involve a violent disturbance of the municipal traditions of Calcutta. Ever since the Corporation has been reorganized upon a popular basis, the rate payers have enjoyed the right of electing two thirds of the entire Corporation. Sir Richard Temple was indeed prepared to go further. He was willing to raise the proportion of elected Commissioners to three fourths of the entire number, if the Legislature agreed to fix the number of Commissioners to be elected by the different nationalities. The matter again came up for consideration in 1888, when the municipal system of Calcutta was revised. There were two conflicting proposals. Mr Irving, representing the Trades Association, moved in this Council for the reduction of the number of Commissioners to 60 and the representative element to one half. Babu Kalinath Mitter moved that the number be raised to 80 and that three fourths of the entire number be elected by the rate payers. The Government objected to both the proposals and the spokesmen of the Government were Sir Henry Harrison and the late Mr Colman Macaulay. Sir Henry Harrison observed—

'I think we ought to follow the old lines as laid down in the Bill, which allows two thirds of the Commissioners to be elected by the Wards and I therefore trust the Council will on the fullest consideration adhere to the proposals before them in the Bill.'

"You must not imagine that the arguments of Sir Henry Harrison were based upon mere sentimental considerations, or that he was actuated by the mere desire to preserve what is old. What he said in effect was this—that if the number was reduced and if the elected element was reduced to one half, the business would suffer, for it would be difficult to get the European Commissioners to attend. He, therefore, objected to Mr Irving's proposal, not on sentimental but on practical grounds of the highest moment. Let me in this connection quote the remarks of Mr Colman Macaulay, who for many years was Secretary to Government in charge of the Municipal Department, and afterwards became Chief Secretary —

I oppose the amendment of the Hon ble Mr Irving on the ground that it involves the contraction of both the principle of election and that of representation'

"Again —

I think that, looking to the experience we have had of the working of the elective system as a whole we should be fully justified were we in the position of our predecessors, the legislators of 1876 in taking the proportion of two thirds elected by the rate payers. For this reason I will certainly oppose my friend the Hon ble Mr Irving's amendment

"It is now proposed to undo the past, to discard the lessons of the past, and to deprive the rate payers of Calcutta of the proportion of representation which they have hitherto enjoyed with the full concurrence of the Government since 1876, and which even Sir Alexander Mackenzie did not want to deprive them of. If the object be to strengthen European representation, surely it is not necessary to curtail Indian representation in the Corporation. There are the European wards which may elect European representatives, there are the special European constituencies which may return European members, and there is the Government with its reserve power of nomination which may appoint European Commissioners. I have a complaint to make against the European community and the Government in this matter. The European community has not availed themselves of the opportunity created for them by the Government, and the Government has not exercised the power it possesses of balancing inadequate European representation. If the Government and the European community had done their duty in the matter, the complaint of inadequate European representation would never have been heard. And surely a law cannot be said to have failed when it has not been fairly tried. This is what Sir Henry Harrison said in 1888 from his place in this Council —

'And then as regards the power of nomination this gives a power which the Government has never used to the fullest extent. It has never so used the power of nomination exclusively to strengthen the motive power in the Corporation and thus ought to be tried before the fundamental proportions are changed'

"But, Sir, it has been said that the reduction in the proportion of the elected element in the Corporation follows the Bombay model. The words used are that 'the Bombay model is faithfully reproduced except as regards numbers.' Here, again I am constrained to dispute the position of the Government. But if it were otherwise, if the proposals of the Government involved a faithful imitation of the Bombay model, which they do not, even then I should be disposed to object. What have we got to do with the Bombay municipal system? The municipal history of Bombay is different from ours. Its traditions are not our traditions. We are proud of our municipal system, the product of the wisdom and statesmanship of distinguished Bengal Civilians. It is very much in advance of the Bombay system. In Bombay only one half of the members of the Corporation are elected by the rate payers, here in the Calcutta Corporation two thirds of the members are returned by the rate payers. In the municipalities in the interior of the Bombay Presidency only one half of the members are elected, in our municipalities in the interior two thirds of the members are elected. In the Bombay Presidency as a rule, the municipalities in the mofassil do not elect their Chairmen, in Bengal as a rule they elect their Chairmen. Are we to be deprived of a precious right which we have learnt to value and to cherish merely to satisfy the demands of logical precision? Logic is a great art, but it scarcely enters into the calculations of the legislator. If it is illogical to have two thirds of elected representatives in the Corporation and only one third in the General Committee, why not meet the requirements of logic by raising the proportion of elected members to two thirds of the entire body in the General Committee? If the demands of logical necessity may be satisfied by a downward as well as by an upward movement, why prefer the downward movement? Is that consistent with the dignity and the statesmanship of the Government of India? As a dissenting member of the Select Committee, I have recorded a strong protest against the introduction of the Bombay system. But if the Bombay system is to be forced upon us, let us have the system in its entirety, with its good and bad features with its defects as well as its points of excellence. I venture, however, to challenge the position that we have a faithful reproduction of the Bombay system in the proposal of the Government which I am now considering. Let us examine the facts—

“There are 72 Commissioners in the Bombay Corporation, elected and nominated, as follows—36 elected at the ward elections, 16 elected by the Justices, 2 elected by the Chamber of Commerce, 2 elected by the University, and 16 appointed by the Government. The wards, I think, we may fairly take it, are Indian constituencies, the University and the Justices are also Indian constituencies, the bulk of the Justices and the bulk of the Fellows being Indians. There are 572 Justices, of whom 330 are Indians, there are 312 Fellows of whom 208 are Indians. Therefore we have this fact, that the wards are Indian constituencies, the Justices and the University are Indian constituencies, and these three constituencies between them return 54 out of 72 Commissioners, or three fourths of the entire Corporation. Will that be the case in connection with the constitution of the Calcutta Corporation under the orders of the Government of India? I say no, and I am sure you will say no, when you have heard me. The Calcutta Corporation, as it will be reconstituted in accordance with the proposals of the Government of India, will consist of members who will be nominated and elected as follows—20 Commissioners will be elected by the rate payers, 10 will be returned by special constituencies, and 15 will be nominated by the Government. The 20 Commissioners elected at the ward elections will be Indians, I take it that they will be Indians, though I don't think they will all be Indians, for the European wards, after this unhappy strife, will make serious efforts to return European representatives, but I will take it for argument's sake that the 20 elected Commissioners will be representative of Indian interests. The 10 members returned by the special constituencies will be Europeans and the 15 appointed by the Government will be representative of interests other than those of the Indian rate payers. I thus in a Corporation of fifty members, with the official Chairman, the representatives of the rate payers will be in a minority, and if the European wards return European representatives, the popular element will be in a hopeless minority. In the Bombay Corporation the representatives of the Indian rate payers are in a majority, in the Calcutta Corporation, as it is now about to be reconstituted, the representatives of the Indian rate payers will be in a minority, and perhaps in a hopeless minority. Is this, I ask a faithful reproduction of the Bombay system?

‘Let us for a moment examine the bearing of this important change upon the broad principles of Local Self Government. What is Local Self Government but the administration of local affairs by the representatives of the local public? But what becomes of Local Self Government when the representatives of the people are reduced to a hopeless minority—to a condition of pitiable impotence—in the body that controls the municipal affairs of the town? And what is the justification for these far reaching changes? No charge of inefficiency has been brought against the Corporation of Calcutta. On the contrary, eminent Lieutenant Governors have testified to the ability and zeal of the Commissioners and to the continued success of municipal administration in Calcutta. Sir Henry Fowler, speaking from his place in the House of Commons, observed in February last that he discovered no evidence of the break down of the system. I am bound to say that the Bill as now revised by the Select Committee is distinctly worse and more retrograde than the Bill submitted in April last. That Bill vested the power of the purse in the representatives of the people. The deliberation of large questions also belonged to them. All this power and authority will now be gone. They will not control finance or regulate expenditure. The rates and taxes will not be fixed by them. Their voice will be impotent for good or evil. The Hindu and Muhammadan rate payers pay the bulk of the taxes, but their representatives will have no hand in determining how they are to be spent. The result will be disastrous to the ends of economical administration. It is a universal truth, confirmed by the experience of mankind, that the strongest security of the public purse is its control vested in the representatives of the rate payers. When you have to spend other people's money you are apt to be extravagant. When you spend your own money you have the strongest motives to be economical, and the successful administration of the finances of the Calcutta Corporation is a conspicuous example of the truth of this remark. When it is borne in mind that finance is the backbone of every form of administration, municipal or otherwise, I have no hesitation in saying that it is a perilous experiment to deprive the representatives of the rate payers of that financial control which they have hitherto exercised, with so much credit to themselves and benefit to the public.

"I have just a word or two to say with regard to the constitution of the General Committee as it will be affected by the orders of the Government of India. The constitution of the General Committee has been the subject of considerable criticism both here and in England. I cannot say that the alterations proposed by the Government of India in the smallest degree help the rate payers or improve their position. In the Bill, as originally revised by the Select Committee, the representatives of the rate payers on the General Committee were four in number out of a total of twelve. In the Bill, as further revised by the Select Committee, the number is still four. Of the twelve members of the General Committee, eight indeed will be elected by the Corporation, four being appointed by the Government. But these eight members are to be elected in accordance with the constituent elements of the electoral body, consisting of elected and nominated Commissioners in equal proportions, and this has been interpreted to mean that of the eight Commissioners to be elected by the Corporation, four are to be elected and four are to be nominated Commissioners. Thus, Sir, as in the Corporation, so also in the General Committee, the representatives of the rate payers will be in a hopeless minority.

"The care the observations which I desire to make on the letter of the Government of India. I would now call attention to the terms of my amendment. I am sure the Council will consider my amendment to be reasonable, having regard to the important nature of the changes proposed. Probably my honorable friend in charge of the Bill will say that there are only two or three questions which have to be considered, viz, the constitution of the Corporation, the constitution of the General Committee and of the Special Committees. These in themselves would be questions of sufficient importance to need careful consideration. But that is not all. I would refer the honorable Member in charge of the Bill to paragraphs 7 and 8 of the letter of the Government, from which it will appear that the Government is of opinion that Sir Alexander Mackenzie's Bill is not in accordance with the broad principles of Local Self Government, and the whole Bill will have to be considered in the light of those principles. The Government of India say —

"In the course of the passage of the Bill through its various stages much criticism has been bestowed upon it from many quarters and while a good deal of this criticism has been of only ephemeral value and has rested upon no solid foundation, the Government of India have been led, after a careful and independent investigation, to think that there are features in Sir Alexander Mackenzie's Bill which are not in entire accordance with the principles just laid down and which might not in practice ensure that amiable and patriotic co-operation of all parties in the future municipal government of the city which is essential to its efficient administration.

"I would in this connection call attention to paragraph 20 of the letter of the Government of India regarding the constitution of Committees and Sub Committees. This is a matter of considerable difficulty and requires much careful thought. This is what the Government say —

"I am also to suggest that it might be desirable to lay down rules for the appointment of the Special Committees and Sub Committees which would secure their being truly representative, in respect of their constituent elements, of the Corporation or General Committee appointing them. The provisions regarding the making of rules and bye laws for the conduct of the business of Special Committees and Sub Committees under sections 89A and 590, in connexion with sections 595 and 597, might be extended to include their constitution in general agreement with the principles already laid down. It might not be necessary or feasible for all such Special Committees and Sub Committees to be homogenous in constitution with the body appointing them, but it is clear that in some cases at least such homogeneity alone would secure efficiency and obviate friction.

"I therefore hope that Your Honour's Government will see its way to accept my motion. A few weeks' delay in the passing of this Bill will not be time wasted, if it gives the public an opportunity for considering a measure of this magnitude and importance.

"I do not know that I should be justified in further detaining the Council. His Excellency the Viceroy has expressed the hope that there may now be a truce to all dissension, and he has appealed to our patriotism to vindicate the cause of Local Self Government in the capital of the Indian Empire. An appeal addressed to our patriotism, coming from so exalted an authority and from a Viceroy whose utterances have been so sympathetic, is bound to make a deep impression upon our minds. But a higher patriotism—the love that we owe to our country, the duty that binds us to the Government—demands that we should raise our voices in terms of earnest protest and remonstrance against proposals which are inconsistent with the wisdom and the policy of the Government and will wreck the best prospects of Local Self Government in the capital of the Indian Empire. How can we vindicate Local Self Government, when Local Self Government will be at an end? How can there be any amicable co-operation on our part when a cherished institution is laid low to the ground? We have learnt to value Local Self Government. We love it, we cherish it, the fond devotion of a people clings to it. It has stimulated our public spirit. It has inspired us with a sense of responsibility and that moderation which never fails to follow in the train of responsibility. It is a noble seminary of popular and political education. We have derived from it inestimable benefits and we desire to transmit it, unsullied and unimpaired to our children and our children's children. With such an aspiration the Government of this country must sympathize. I am sure it is from us to wish to exclude our European fellow citizens from their legitimate share in the administration of our municipal affairs. Their interests and our interests are in many respects common. But they cannot wish us to be Utlanders in the city of our birth. We shall indeed be worse than Utlanders, for the Utlanders never had the franchise—we are to be deprived of the franchise that we possessed. It has always been the crowning glory of the British Government never to withdraw a privilege which it has once conferred. There have no doubt been temporary aberrations, like the eccentricities of the planets, but the Government has soon resumed its steady career of beneficence and progress. I trust, Sir, it will be our high privilege to be able to associate Your Honour's administration and that of His Excellency the Viceroy, if not with the expansion, at any rate with the preservation of an institution which while it has contributed to the sanitary improvement of Calcutta, has stimulated the public life of the people and has helped the cause of popular and political education which it is one of the avowed objects of the Government of India to foster and to promote.

The Hon'ble MR MACKENZIE said—"May it please Your Honour,—I rise, Sir, to oppose the amendment proposed by the Hon'ble Babu Surindianath Banerjee on the ground that postponement will make it impossible to pass the Bill this session, and I consider it detrimental to the best interests of Calcutta that legislation should be longer delayed. In the Note of Dissent signed by two Hon'ble Members of the Select Committee, and largely referred to by the Government of India in their recommendations to the Government of Bengal, complaint is made that 'The Bill, as amended, makes little or no change in the constitutional part of the Bill as originally introduced, and that only as regards two matters has any concession been made in this part of the Bill, and the last of these concessions is nullified by the powers reserved to the Government.' From that view, Sir, I differ entirely. I find that very considerable changes have been made by the Select Committee, and, but for the 'powers reserved to the Government,' I have no hesitation in saying that I for one would not be in the position I am in of being able to give my vote in support of the measure Government control, however, is an engine only to be brought into play on great occasions, and cannot be called upon for every day purposes. In my opinion, Sir, the only practical way to increase the 'motive power' in the proceedings of the Corporation would be to largely increase the powers of the Chairman, empowering him to do, and holding him responsible for doing, all the ordinary work of the town, the General Committee acting as an advisory or consultative Board, the main body of the Commissioners being restricted to a quasi legal function. To restore to the Corporation the power of electing the high officers of the city merely opens a door for canvassing and jobbery, which has not been wanting in the past.

"To this extent, Sir, I have to deprecate the action of the Select Committee in their dealings with the Bill. As to the necessity for the introduction of radical changes, there can be no reasonable doubt, but if doubt did exist, perusal of the letter from the Government of Bengal to the Government of India, dated 7th March, 1898, would dispel it. Much capital has been made in various quarters, in which the Bill is opposed, of 'the blow at the root of Local Self Government'. Perusal of the 'precis of opinions' (Papers 2 to 35) will show that this is the universal 'war cry' of the opponents of the Bill at their public meetings in the Town Hall, and in each of the several 'Wards', and more astonishing still it presents itself as the 'bogey' of the Government of India in its recent correspondence with the Local Government regarding the Bill. Speaking of those public meetings, I may say that there is nothing to show that the same set of people were not present at each and all of these meetings whipped up to constitute themselves, for the time being, political agitators to swell the importance of the opposition. In fact, Sir, in Paper No. 7, we find one of the Wards (No. 8) appointing by 'Resolution' delegates to the number of 70 to attend the public meeting held at the Town Hall on 31st August, 1898. But, Sir, be that as it may, this Bill, as its title indicates and as its provisions show, is distinctly a Calcutta Municipal Bill, and for my part, I have never seen or heard any thing quoted to controvert the arguments adduced by Mr. Risley in his speech in this Council Chamber on 4th April, 1898—that the argument as to its being the death blow to Local Self Government in Calcutta is absurd for the reason that one of the chief limitations of the Government of India's Resolutions on the subject of Local Self Government is 'that it does not apply to Presidency towns'. Now, Sir, when I first read the Government of India's letter No. 93, dated Simla, 17th June, 1899, addressed to the Bengal Government and read in page 7 of that letter, the reference to 'the broad principles of Local Self Government already conceded', and again in paragraph 21 of the said letter where it refers to the necessity to 'vindicate the wisdom of the decision that 23 years ago first accorded the privileges of Local Self Government to the Capital of the Indian Empire,' it occurred to me that either the Government of India or this Council had been seriously misled, and I set myself to enquire into the matter, with the result that I find the Government of Bengal never so much as asked for or recommended Local Self Government for the Capital of the Indian Empire, and that its application to that Capital was expressly excluded by the Government of India's own Resolution No. 17, dated 18th May, 1882, paragraph 4, from which I quote as follows—

'Meantime, however, it will be convenient that the Governor General in Council should explain somewhat more fully than he has hitherto done, the general mode in which he would wish to see effect given to the principles of Local Self Government throughout British India outside the Presidency towns.'

"But, Sir, of course the reference to the concession having been made 23 years ago, shows that while the Resolution of the Government of India, dated 18th May, 1882, expressly excludes Presidency towns, we have the somewhat phenomenal position presented to us of what is expressly forbidden in the present having been conceded in the past. To examine the position 23 years ago, one has to go back to the Proceedings in this Council extending from December, 1874, to April, 1876, and from a careful perusal of the record of the debates on the measure at that time before the Council, I have come to the conclusion that, as regards Local Self Government said then to have been conceded, the most ever asked for by the late Hon'ble Babu Kristo Das Pal, to quote his own words, on 3rd April, 1875, was—

'If it was advisable to give the citizens of Calcutta the right of Self Government, they ought to have it fully and unreservedly. But then the question would arise, suppose the elective system be conceded, should the Chairman be elected by the representatives of the town or should his appointment rest with the Government? Now there could be no thorough elective system unless the Chairman's appointment were also made elective &c, &c

"Then on 26th February, 1876, the late Hon'ble Babu Kristo Das Pal spoke as follows —

'The rate payers of Calcutta could not but be grateful to His Honour the President for the liberal announcement he had made in announcing that he was willing to give them the privileges of Self Government but they wanted a reality and the question was whether the Bill, as framed by the majority of the Select Committee, gave a reality. With one voice the rate payers had declared that it was not a reality that it could not be a reality so long as the main spring would be in the hands of Government, and that it could not therefore be looked upon as a boon or a blessing'

"Thus, Sir, by one of the first, if not the first, native gentleman to agitate for Local Self Government, and he recognises (1) the impossibility of conceding the principle, and 2) the fact that it had not been conceded. His Honour the President's answer to the latter quotation was as follows —

'It is perfectly true, as has been stated by three Hon'ble Members, that I never promised to give the Calcutta community an elective system without Government control, and on 27th November last, I promised an elective system on condition of a certain limited Government control'

"The most, Sir, that the then Lieutenant Governor ever suggested conceding, was a restricted principle of election, but no Bill since framed has suggested depriving them of that. Therefore, I submit, Sir, to say that, twenty three years ago the privileges of Local Self Government were first accorded to the Capital of the Indian Empire is an error which it is impossible to conceive the Government of India have fallen into. Then, Sir, as to the meetings held in each of the 'Wards' What are these Wards, and what their importance as representing public opinion? Are they important political divisions, such for example as Westminster, or are they, as I suppose, simply thanas or divisions for police administration purposes and such like? It is a fallacy to suppose that the body of rate payers take any real interest in the present system, or that the present Commissioners truly represent them. This point was brought out by Mr Risley in his able speech in this Council Chamber on the 19th March, 1898, when he showed that on the statistics of the ward elections of 1895 the registered electors amount to only two per cent of the total population of Calcutta, and the figures of the 1898 election show an exactly similar result. Does such a result show that the privilege is as much cherished as the agitators would have it believed to be? The so called 'boon' in reality has been mainly prized by those who sit as Commissioners and by their followers—not by the mass of the people who know or care little or nothing about it. I find the following to be an analysis of opinions 'For' and 'Against' the Bill —

'For (1) Central National Muhammadan Association, (2) Bengal Chamber of Commerce and its allied associations, (3) European and Anglo Indian Defence Association (4) Calcutta Trades Association, (5) Imperial Anglo Indian Association

'Against (1) Bengal National Chamber of Commerce (2) Indian Association, (3) nine so called "public meetings" held between 31st August, 1898, and 15th March, 1899, (4) four "ward" meetings held between same dates'

'What Calcutta requires, Sir, is representation of interests, not racas. Commerce made Calcutta. By commerce, I mean European commerce, and by that Calcutta has existed, and will continue to exist. The history of Calcutta shows it to have been little more than a mud bank until European merchants settled there. The present Bengali population who clamour for the Government of Calcutta are not for the most part natives of the place, but have been attracted to it. As long, therefore, as Calcutta holds a prominent position in relation to the commerce of the world, so long have the representatives of Commerce a right to demand that they shall have a preponderating voice in the Municipal Government This principle is met by the present proposal of the Government of India, and in this view it has the support of the important interests which I have the honour to represent on this Council

"The interests of Government and of Foreign Commerce are more important than all other interests put together, and ought consequently to be at least equally represented It has been a matter of common complaint that Europeans have not hitherto attended and shared in the municipal administration of the city The reply to this has been—and I would now beg to reiterate it—that while European merchants can and will find time to attend business functions, they will not give their time to functions where talk is the order of the day, and in which in the matter of arriving at any practical conclusion they are in a hopeless minority Under the provisions of the new Bill, I honestly believe they will attend and do good work As an indication of this, I may be permitted to say that at the last general meeting of the Chamber, held in February last, special reference was made by the President and other prominent Members, to the Bill now before the Council and of the necessity there would be, and the opportunity which would occur, for members of the mercantile community interesting themselves in the election of representatives of the Chamber on the Municipality under the new Act It was then suggested, and the suggestion has been adopted, that under the new Act the Vice President of the Chamber should generally be nominated to the General Committee The Chamber of Commerce, in common with the other European bodies, are looking to the Bill being passed this session, and I trust, Sir, that you may see fit to direct the Council to see that in this they are not disappointed, and that the amendment favouring further postponement may be negatived "

The Hon'ble MR APCAR said —"I take this opportunity to thank you Sir, for having acceded to my request in part, and adjourned the Council on Saturday last The time gained has been a help to me, at the same time I feel it to be due to myself to say that it has been insufficient to do justice to myself The intervening day being Sunday, I have not been able to utilise it to obtain the papers I have wanted from the Municipal Office I have been wholly occupied, since the adjournment on Saturday, up to the time when I left for the Council Chamber, collecting material for my speech, and putting together papers to which I wish to refer to day I have been hurried to a degree, and I feel conscious that I shall take up more time to day than if I had been allowed more time for consideration I wish very distinctly to say that I am not prepared to make my speech

"Before I enter into any discussion, however, it will be unbecoming on my part not to pay a tribute to the hard work done in this Council by my predecessor, particularly in regard to the present Bill before us I now turn to speak on the Motion moved by my hon'ble friend, which reads as follows —

'That this Bill be referred back to the Select Committee for further consideration, with reference to the correspondence between the Government of India and the Government of Bengal

'The pronouncement by the Supreme Government of their views on the subject of this measure has been waited for with anxiety, for those who are opposed to its principles were not without hope that, coming to the consideration of the question with an open mind, and being intimately acquainted with the conditions of popular and representative institutions, His Excellency would not entirely favour the strange and startling changes that are proposed to be made in the constitution of the Corporation of Calcutta Now that the letter of the Government of India has been published, it forms a notable and eloquent addition to the literature on the subject I heartily support the desire expressed in it that there might be an end to the dissensions that have been created by the Municipal Bill The fair promise that seemed to underlie portions of that letter has not been realised in the suggestions conveyed by it, in such courteous terms, to the Local Government, and while I am thankful for small mercies, I must plainly say that dissatisfaction with regard to the measure is in no degree allayed by the fresh proposals that now are made The main feature of the new recommendations is the reduction of the elected members from 50 to 25, the nominated members being maintained at 25, and the reduction being obtained by having only one member for each ward instead of, as now, two members. I have more than one objection to this proposal. I shall first mention the one which brings into prominence the flaw that, as it seems to me, runs through the Bill in so serious a degree—the omission by the framers of the Bill to consult those with intimate practical experience of the administration. It surely cannot be intended that no Muhammadan shall be elected? Yet the reduction of the members, as proposed, will tend to bring about that result. The Muhammadans will practically be disenfranchised. They will, it is true, continue to have the power to vote, but it will be a vain and useless labour to exercise that power in favour of their co-religionists. All the Muhammadan Commissioners elected at the last election came in second on the poll, with a single exception, who himself has told me that his position on the voting was largely due to Hindu support, for their votes were shared by him with his Hindu colleagues, and he has further expressly asked me to represent in the Council that, if there is to be only one member, the election will assuredly be fought out on class lines, that it is inevitable that in his ward all the Hindu votes will be cast for a Hindu, it will be a Hindu who will be elected over a candidate belonging to any other community, and that the same result will be experienced in every ward now returning a Muhammadan representative. I think that to exclude Muhammadans from election would cause a real hardship to that community, as I shall later endeavour more fully to explain.

“The reason given for reducing the number of elected Commissioners is to make it more in proportion with the number of the voters. In examining the number of representatives with reference to the number of voters, the Municipality cannot be compared with a political body. I urgently ask consideration for what I have to say. In a political assembly you have large issues discussed, which affect not individuals merely, but groups of persons. If for political purposes, votes be given to persons who are capable, or are supposed to be capable of understanding the burning question of the hour, the views held by such persons may comprise the views of all who need be considered, and their votes may give a proper and sufficient representation of a locality. Not so the 50 elected Commissioners. They do not represent their wards in the Parliamentary sense. Not the least important one of a Ward Commissioner's duties is the inspection of his ward. And both Ward Commissioners serve a useful purpose in this respect. But this is by no means all. He is not elected only to represent the views which may be entertained by the voters in his constituency or any group of them. With regard to large issues, your predecessor in office, Sir, as well as his spokesman in this Council, eulogised the Municipality for the manner in which they treat large issues. Sir Alexander Mackenzie, even in his Entally speech, expressly admitted this. He said —

‘The Municipality has, I am afraid, many shortcomings to answer for. But I must say this that I have never been one to agree that it has shown niggardliness, or been backward in sanctioning money for either water supply or drainage.

“Again, Mr. Risley, in his reply, in the debate in Council, said—

‘No one denies that much has been done, and a great deal of money spent. I have every wish to do ample justice, and I admit that it is in their dealings with large issues that we see the Commissioners at their best.

“So that there can be no reason to cut down the number of elected Commissioners because of any party feeling about what is the more important business of their administration. The Administration touches the every day life of each of the inhabitants, and particularly so in the crowded and poorer parts of the town, which lie in the northern quarter and in the suburbs. A Ward Commissioner represents the whole of the inhabitants of his Ward in a special sense, for his duties may lie with any individual among them, and so his representative character may be said to be, in effect, based on universal suffrage, and not only with regard to the voters in his constituency. Those who have votes may have common cause of complaint with those who have no votes. But the sufferings of the poor are widely different often to the experiences of their well-to-do neighbours. While, those who are in good circumstances can make their voices heard independently of the Ward Commissioners, the poorer classes cannot do so. And the Muhammadans are among the poorest of the inhabitants of Calcutta. I do not exaggerate the melancholy truth when I say that the record of the Municipal Executive is detestable. It is the poorer inhabitants who are harassed by them most, it is the poorer inhabitants who need help most. The system of Municipal Administration that the Government have in their wisdom given them, has taught them to go to their Ward Commissioners for assistance. And, further, there can be not a shadow of a doubt that the knowledge that each Ward Commissioner has a voice in the administration of the Municipality is an effective form of protection from the subordinate staff. Permit me to quote Sir Henry Harrison in my support on the question of the usefulness of the elected Commissioners. In enumerating the gain to Municipal Administration on the elective system, he said —

‘Fourthly the elective system has been successful in this, that people know that they have a Commissioner who represents them, and when they have a complaint, if it is not immediately attended to by the Executive they appeal to get the assistance of their Commissioner. This has some beneficial results. It causes some degree of self reliance in the people when they know that they have someone to whom they can go if they do not get immediate redress.

“Sir Henry Harrison was stating facts that were the outcome of his experience so far back as 1888. Ten years have passed, events have developed, and the poor people have learned to rely more and more on the assistance of their Ward Commissioners, and they will feel the withdrawal of the practical support of the Ward Commissioner the more now, and it will cause discontent which need not be raised. In dealing with this particular matter I have touched upon a wider aspect than that affecting the Muhammadans. You, Sir, cannot have failed to observe, I am sure, that my comments have a bearing upon the position of native elected Commissioners generally, and not only about elected Muhammadan Commissioners, and also upon the larger issue of the new constitution that is proposed, which completely deprives the general body of Commissioners from an effective and direct voice in the administration of the Municipality.

‘My hon’ble friend, Babu Surendranath Banerjee, has relieved me of the task of quoting the speech of Mr Colman Macaulay who was Chief Secretary to the Local Government and a Member of the Council when the Act of 1888 was passed. It will be seen how he regarded the reduction of the numbers to 60 as being a contraction of the principles both of election and of representation. Here it is proposed to contract the principle of election only, and to a greater degree than was proposed in the amendment which he opposed. It will also be observed how emphatically he spoke of the success of the elective system.

“The Select Committee who reported on the Act of 1888 advised on the question of the nominated Commissioners, that out of the 25 nominated Commissioners the Chamber of Commerce and other bodies should be given the right to nominate 10 members. The Lieutenant Governor of the day, Sir Stuart Bayley, one of the most experienced of Your Honour’s predecessors, with great knowledge of the Province and of the European non official world of Calcutta, in replying to an amendment of the Muhammadan Member of the Council that the Government should retain the nomination of the whole 25 members in their own hands, said —

‘To come back to this particular point my own position is this. The proposal of the Select Committee will have the effect of whittling away to a certain extent the power of the Local Government in regard to making nominations, and for that reason I shall vote for it. I think that as time goes on, it will probably be found more and more possible to keep down the proportion of nominations left in the hands of the Government, but at the same time I am not insensible of the objections which have been brought forward to the proposals of the Select Committee as to their particular distribution. There is something in what was said that there is no guarantee that these bodies, whatever they may represent to-day, will represent the same interests hereafter. And if you once stereotype the particular distribution you will have to go through a long and disagreeable process to alter it. At the same time the Select Committee have given the subject serious thought, and I am not sure that any better proposal can be made. It would be unseemly for me at least to vote or bringing the whole of the nominations back to the hands of the Government, but I have not the slightest wish to influence any Hon'ble Member from voting as he wishes.

"It will be observed that Sir Stuart Bayley was not so much impressed with the idea of the overwhelming necessity for special representation of commercial interests as something apart from the ordinary and general interest of rate-payers, and I shall show that he had a better appreciation of the situation than has later prevailed. His speech is also notable for the tone of appreciation towards the Corporation, and the progressive development that he foresaw shadowed in holding out the prospect of the Government withdrawing more and more from reserving the powers of nomination.

"I would point out also the result of the adoption of the proposal to cut down election—that is to say, to have only one elected Commissioner for each ward—will be that the number of places available for nomination for other communities will be diminished, because to redress the inequality that will be caused by the exclusion of Muhammadans by election, a larger number of them will have to be nominated. If they are to have a sufficient proportion of members on the Corporation if even the whole number be not allotted to Muhammadans, the opportunity of nominating other interests will be most seriously curtailed, for instance, amongst others, the class of Hindus whom Mr. Risley so much favours—I mean those who will not submit themselves for election, those who would more directly represent Government interest, such as the Commissioner of Police and others, those who could be regarded as sanitary authorities, such as Dr. Sanders, Dr. Charles, Dr. Banks and others, the member for the carters, cow keepers, washermen and bustee wallas, whom Sir Alexander Mackenzie so much fancied as a very useful addition to the Corporation, and that very important class, the European rate payers—will all run the risk of being left insufficiently represented. Practically it will come to this—and it is important, since the Government themselves lay such emphasis on the difference between the representation of the trade interest and that of the rate payers—European interest will be confined to the representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, and I have known this body on one occasion to return one European, who was a journalist, and three Hindus, the Trades Association, the presence of whose members I always welcome, and the Port Commissioners. The interests of the trading communities are identical with, and are inseparably involved in those of the European rate payers. But it can be easily seen, as I shall explain later, that the interests of the mercantile firms are not necessarily identical with those of the rate payers. From my own observation I feel bound to say that I cannot regard representation by nomination for Muhammadans as satisfactory as representation by election, where it can be obtained. It will be enough if I say that my reason is that there can be no doubt that those who are elected are in closer touch with their constituencies, and represent them far better than those who may be nominated. I am sure that my hon'ble colleagues who are Muhammadans will agree with me that the selection by themselves of the men whom they wish to represent them, and the responsibility imposed on the elected Commissioners towards those to whom their election has been due, creates an effect, both on those who vote and on the candidates, that is nothing but for good.

"The point that I make in these comments is this. The Government of India have said in their letter that the first ground for the new Bill is the failure to secure, under the present conditions, adequate representation by the elective system, and this, as is apparent, with special reference to the Muhammadans, for they have added 'even in the native city.' The result of the new proposal—an unexpected result I feel sure—will be to annihilate the chances of Muhammadans for election. We are as much liable to do harm by want of thought as by want of heart. On the other hand, we find that the Government of India have condemned in a manner so clear that we cannot lose the impression of it, that the proportion of 12 on the General Committee is illogical with reference to 75 on the general body. If it is not intended to destroy the elective system, and I take it that it is not, the numbers of the elected Commissioners should not be reduced as is proposed. And to be logical and consistent the numbers on the General Committee must be increased. The Europeans now number 8 elected Commissioners. This number, I think, under the new proposals, will be reduced to 3. They may, however, hold 4 seats. Although the Europeans now number only 8 among the ward or elected Commissioners, my view is that with any organization their number could be raised to 12 or 14. I will speak from my own experience. In the year 1885 the Health Society was started for the sanitary reform of Calcutta. It was started by Europeans, under the auspices of Sir Henry Cunningham, but it comprised some native gentlemen also. One of their plans was to secure the return of Europeans as elected Commissioners. Amongst others, all of whom were successful in their elections I was solicited to stand for election, and it was in this way that I came to join the Municipality. Before then, I had neither any idea nor inclination of doing so. The Health Society is dead, and I fear all such organizations will meet with the same fate in busy Calcutta.

"If it is not to crush the elective system and I do not for a moment believe it is, what is the purpose to be served by reducing the number? I can think of only two that may be intended. I take the first to be to prevent waste of time by speeches. This has been dealt with by my hon'ble friend (Babu Surendra Nath Banerjee), and he again has relieved me greatly, and I need only very briefly refer to that point. It would be as absurd to suppose all the 75 members of the Corporation speak at the meetings held throughout the year as that the 600 and odd members of the House of Commons all speak in a single debate. On an average about 5 speak in one debate. The discussion is confined from year end to year end to only a few of the Commissioners. I think to not more than 14 or 16 in number. Any one outside this group very rarely speaks. I think one could very nearly guess before going to a meeting, the names of those who will speak. The Europeans take a fair share in the discussion. I should guess generally that my hon'ble friend here, Mr. Oldham, would be one of the speakers. He speaks to express his opinion. He would not speak, I am sure, if he thought he was only wasting time by so doing. And if he speaks, I am sure he is fair minded enough to concede to others the right to express their opinions. It is not the number of persons in an assembly that occupies time. It depends on the individuals who may speak, and I again only am supporting Sir Henry Harrison's view when I say that a reduction even to 40 Commissioners would not make any appreciable difference in the time occupied at the meetings.

"The only other purpose I can think of that the reduction in the number of the Corporation is intended to serve is to undermine the Hindu predominance in the Corporation. That the Hindus are in a majority numerically, of course, cannot be denied. I am, however, going to advance a contention that will astonish the Council, since it is diametrically opposed to all that has been so confidently relied upon on the point. I say there is no Hindu predominance in the sense that the term is always used. I say that the other communities are not kept in a hopeless minority at the meetings, because the Hindus do not, as a matter of fact, use their numbers to outvote them. If the Council will test the question of predominance with me I hope it will be made clear. The whole of the business of the administration is, in the first instance, dealt with in Committee and chiefly in the General Committee. We have it from Sir Henry Harrison that in his time only 5 per cent. of the items were challenged.

"I think that it will be an advantage to give Sir Henry Harrison's description of the system of work in his own words. This is what he said in this Council, when the Act of 1888 was passed —

He believed the system of work which had gradually developed itself in the Municipality was eminently advantageous and reasonable. Of course the greater part of the work must be done by the Executive officers but that portion which the members of the Corporation were able to look into was chiefly done by Committees. Committees had no final power of their own, and were entirely subordinate to the Commissioners in meeting. The result was that the whole work of the Corporation was done by these Committees, but any single member of the Corporation and the Chairman especially, who often availed himself of the power, could virtually appeal from the decision of a Committee if he chose, to the great body of the Commissioners. Therefore the Corporation as a whole had practically fallen into the position of a Court of Appeal on every great question of interest. In 19 out of 20 cases the decisions of Committees on minor questions were passed without discussion on the assumption that the work was done well, it was only the twentieth case that was fought out over again.

"My experience tells me that we have decidedly a smaller percentage now in the General Committee, which is by far the most important Committee of all; the Hindus are in an overwhelming majority. The Hon'ble Mr Oldham, the representative of the Chamber, and of the Trades Association—one from each,—my hon'ble friend Pince Bakhtyar Shah with myself, are the only non Hindus out of the 18 members. In actual attendance the Hindus have a still greater advantage. If the Hindus voted all on one side, there would be no waste of time, at least on their part—they would come prepared to support each other and would vote together, and there would be the most happy despatch of all the items of business. But we know that this is not what happens. There are the warmest discussions, and many items are hotly contested, with the Hindus on either side. My hon'ble friend Mr Oldham, who is one of the most hard working and regular attendants of the meetings, has again and again carried his motions with the support of Hindus. Take an instance that occurred only the other day. My hon'ble friend to my right (Babu Surendranath Banerjee), raised a question of Hindu feeling to give strength to his opposition to a resolution moved by myself. But I carried my motion with the support of Hindu votes. Again, in nothing more, to judge from Mr Risley's strong strictures, would Hindu class feeling be more observable than in the appointment of the higher officers of the Corporation, all of them most desirable appointments. Nevertheless, since the establishment of the Corporation, no Hindu has yet been appointed to be the Municipal Engineer—a Hindu has never yet been appointed, in this country of officiating appointments, even to act for the Engineer—or to be the Secretary, or the Health Officer. And it is not as if the matter had not been tested. There have been strong efforts made to secure the election of Hindus for each of the appointments I have referred to, but in not a single instance has it been successful. I have long thought, and I am glad of the present opportunity of publicly declaring after a long experience of the Municipality, that the idea about Hindu predominance is a myth. I was speaking on this very subject to an hon'ble friend, and his observation is so apt that I will, with his permission, use his expression. He replied to my question, with quick Irish wit, that he had observed a predominance of Hindu intelligence, but he had not observed their predominance in any other way. I adopt this observation. Perhaps the predominance of the nature my hon'ble friend mentioned explains the situation.

"I think that the control of the Municipal Administration by the general body of members serves a very useful purpose. It keeps the whole body of them in touch with the work that is being done, and gives many most valuable assistants by reason of the active help, as I in practice have personally found, that the system enables every Commissioner, so minded, to give to the more influential in the Corporation. And what is a very important consideration to those familiar with the working of the administration, it gives recruits to fill the places of any that fall out of the ranks of the General Committee and ready to take up their work.

"I unhesitatingly say—to use one of Sir Alexander Mackenzie's expressions—it is abject nonsense to assert that the system is abused. Mr Risley would have you to believe that 'the young Bengal, or now India, or whatever you may call them,' as he phrases it, holds sway and that the older and wiser heads are ruled by them. It is not so. The contrary is the fact. It is the very Commissioners who have received unstinted praise from Sir Alexander Mackenzie, from Mr Risley, and from our present Rulers, who by their experience and standing are the real leaders in the Corporation, and have held their positions for ten and twenty years to my own personal knowledge. The younger men, to my regret sometimes, and to their chagrin, are thrust aside and are barely listened to, unless they have something of real importance to say. Let me again draw attention to Sir Henry Harrison's very striking picture of the leaders of the Corporation. If it was true in 1889, that which he found most conspicuous ten years ago has matured and has proportionately become more valuable now. He said —

There were some persons excellently intentioned who have fretted and fumed because the wheels of the chariot of progress have at times tarried, but was not any progress at all in such a trial an almost unparalleled success? Was it not still more gratifying to reflect that this experimental system had in sober truth developed in many of the most experienced Commissioners that moderation in judgment, that sense of responsibility in action and discussion, that toleration of opposition, that practical sagacity which is at once the test of the experienced administrator and the best guarantee for the confidence bestowed in him? Was it not a legitimate triumph that, now that the necessity of making more sustained efforts for the improvement of the Suburbs of Calcutta was at last fully realised, no better course suggested itself than to make them over to the same body who had reclaimed the town of Calcutta?

"I will not speak a word of comment to mar the eloquence and the impressive picture of the words that I have quoted. But I will warn the Government that the inevitable consequence of the course which they are pursuing will be to throw away the result of what has been proved to be a wise and statesman like policy, for those whom they most value in the administration will assuredly not remain. It is not unfitting that I should apply to the policy now being adopted, in contrast to the moving eloquence of Sir Henry Harrison my warning in the words of the very homely adage 'It is well to make sure before emptying the bath, that the child is not being thrown out with the suds'.

"I fear that you, Sir, may think me exceedingly unfriendly, owing to the lurid pictures that have been painted of the meetings of the Commissioners, if I were to express a very strong regret, since one learns so much more by seeing than by hearing, that you have never taken part in any of the proceedings of the Municipality. And yet, in legislating on this most important Bill, I venture to say that I have the advantage over you Sir, in being on my part intimately and practically acquainted with my subject. If you, Sir, have not been a Member of the Corporation, you have trusty councillors in this Chamber, in the person of my hon'ble friends Mr Baker and Mr Oldham, who have had sufficient experience to enable me to refer to them. I can give scores of instances of the practical use of the system that requires confirmation of the proceedings in Committees by the General Meeting. I shall refer, however, to only two, and I choose them because of the presence here of my hon'ble friends, the Member in charge of the Bill, and Mr Oldham. The Hon'ble Mr Baker will remember the tramway question, how at the instance of the Chairman of the time, an exceedingly improvident arrangement had been sanctioned by the General Committee, and how my hon'ble friend was one of the strongest supporters of the Commissioner who moved that the resolution of the General Committee should not be confirmed. The Chairman had not a word to say in support of his own motion when the position was explained, and the amendment was carried with his acquiescence. There can be no gainsaying the fact that, by the action of the General Meeting, the Corporation and the rate payers escaped a most improvident arrangement, which included in its terms the taking over by the Corporation after 21 years' use, the property of the Tramway Company at the rate of 140 per cent of the capital stated to be invested, irrespective of depreciation of the property and without any enquiry as to what sum in truth constituted the invested capital. And further, Sir, as was later confirmed by the highest legal opinion, the proposals could not have been supported in law. And all the while the Chamber of Commerce and the Trades Association were intervening to support the proposals on behalf of a new Company that was going to work the Tramway Company's business. Turning to the Hon'ble Mr Oldham, I would ask him, on his part, to recall how a resolution which had been carried on his own motion in General Committee relating to Contract No II of the Suburban Drainage Scheme. There were questions involved which the Acting Engineer, in the absence, on leave, of the Engineer, had referred to in a Note as being of the highest importance, on which the directions of the General Committee should be obtained. These questions had arisen owing to the unbusinesslike proceedings of the Engineer's Department. When the matter came up before the General Committee, the Acting Engineer had given up charge and was not in office, and it is not surprising to me that the Note should not have been placed before the General Committee. In General Meeting, the same Commissioner who had obtained a reference back on the tramway question, pointed out that material considerations had not been before the General Committee. The Chairman who had been absent on leave when the question was before the General Committee, at once agreed with him and said that the matter must go back. My hon'ble friend need not have said anything, because there was no opposition to the motion for a reference back, but he felt it to be incumbent upon himself to explain that he had moved his resolution in Committee under a complete misapprehension. I hear on all sides that 'You must admit'—that 'You cannot deny'—and other such expressions that there is great waste of time in these meetings, because of the constant references back of questions to Committees. I deny that there are constant references back and I ask that when 96 and 97 per cent of the work of Committee is passed without even discussion, is it right to condemn, without knowledge, from preconceived notions, and without stopping to enquire whether there is not reason for references back in say 1 or 2 per cent of the matters that come before the General Meetings?

"We hear much in condemnation of the proceedings of the Commissioners by persons who have never attended a meeting of the Corporation and possibly know nothing of the business of public bodies in this or in any other country. Let me invoke the testimony of a most highly competent critic, well versed in public affairs, whose experiences place him immeasurably above those who have been so ready to belittle the Corporation. At one of our meetings in 1888, I remember we were honoured with a visit from no less a personage than the Viceroy. You, Sir, will see that, after all, I was not so very unfriendly in having wished that you had taken a personal part in the proceedings of the Municipality. Lord Dufferin had been some time in India, and knew many of those who took part in the proceedings on that day. There was a discussion on the budget—a more dry subject it would be hard to find to sit down and listen to. I remember that before His Excellency left the meeting he wrote a note—I saw the writing and I am very sorry that it has not been preserved in the archives of the Corporation—to be read to the Corporation. I am glad to say that his words have been preserved to us, for the Chairman, before the close of that day's meeting, read the note out to the meeting and it forms a part of the records of our Corporation. I will read from the proceedings of the day—28th of March, 1888 —

'The Chairman said that, before passing on to the fixing of the rates and taxes for the ensuing year which was the next item of business he wished to inform the Commissioners that His Excellency the Viceroy had noted the great pleasure he had derived from having had an opportunity to be present at their proceedings. To see so many persons of position and intelligence, representing as they do both the European and the Native element, devoting their time and talents to the improvement of the town of Calcutta, was very satisfactory

"Lord Dufferin gives a refutation to those detractors of the Municipality who speak of its members as being men of no position, who represent none but themselves, mere lawyers and corrupt politicians, and I would draw attention to the ring of the words that follow because they seem to convey the strong impression that had been created in Lord Dufferin's mind —

'He must also add that he had been much struck by the orderly, practical, and dignified manner in which the business of the meeting had been conducted, his best sympathies and good wishes would always accompany the labours of the Municipal Council and the welfare of those whose affairs they administered'

"The object of the changes in the law are, it is said, to induce the European Mercantile community to join the Corporation. I have the fullest sympathy with the desire to obtain them as working members. They have the opportunity now, but they do not use it. If they speak of waste of time in the General Meetings, let them learn that the work of the administration is done in Committees, where speeches are not made, and where they can hold their own, if they only will give the time that is required, and always will be required, whether the present constitution is destroyed or not. My hon'ble friends Mr Baker and Mr Oldham have been able to join the General Committee and attend regularly the representatives of the mercantile and trading community could do the same, if only they would be willing to give the time that unavoidably must be required for the transaction of business. This again is by no means a new question. Sir Stuart Hogg expressed his opinion during the legislation of 1876 that they could never be got to give their time to the work that they were birds of passage and not permanent residents of the city, and as very busy men, they could not be expected to serve as active members of the Corporation. Sir Henry Harrison, another Chairman, speaking after an experience almost as long as that of Sir Stuart Hogg, bore testimony to the same effect. There is no class of persons whom I would welcome more cordially in the Corporation, and to secure whose services I would be more willing to make sacrifices, if only I could think that they would be found to be useful and active members. But I am convinced that it is hopeless to expect it. It is a most important consideration that the working members should give continuous service for a series of years. We have Hindu Commissioners, whose homes are here, who have continuously for 20 or 25 years been active Commissioners. I know no one amongst the leaders of the Corporation who has been for less than 10 years working regularly, and I may say unsparingly. They give the utmost assistance to the Chairman, the incumbent of which office is being constantly changed. With Europeans, the exigencies of their businesses, the climate, absence from their home country, all will operate to cause very short spells of membership. Individuals will think that if they have served one or two years, they have done their turn, and others should undergo the martyrdom that they have had to suffer. The result will be that before they have served their apprenticeship to become serviceable members, they will have left and the same process will be repeated with each successive member. Mr Risley falls foul of Sir Stuart Hogg for having suggested that the European community are birds of passage, and expresses amazement at the idea because forsooth, Europeans are interested in their firms, and their firms continue to carry on business here. That is to say, a business man working here to day, will enter the Corporation because, after he has retired, his firm may or may not be carrying on business here, and he may or may not continue to have an interest in it. We must recognise that the work of the Corporation requires leisure, and the high pressure at which businesses must now be conducted, does not admit of leisure being provided for those engaged in them, for service on the Municipality. Again, the whole idea of a continuing interest is purely speculative, and the force of the reason asserted has no force with me. In the first place the business firms, it is not even suggested, have suffered from any maladministration of the Municipality, and, in the second place, they contribute to the administration only an insignificant amount in their expenses, in the shape of a license tax which is fixed and invariable. They have successfully resisted all attempts to levy octroi duty. Only the other day, when the Building Commission confirmed all that the Corporation have long been saying without being credited, that the whole of their revenue is required for their ordinary administration, that the opening out of the congested parts of the city is of the first importance for its sanitary improvement, and invited the Chamber of Commerce, amongst other bodies, to suggest sources from which money could be obtained for the purpose. The Chamber of Commerce declined to make a single suggestion, for the obvious reason that whatever they might suggest one or other of the businesses carried on by their members would be touched. The members of the various firms are concerned only for their personal comfort and convenience while they reside here, and, circumstanced as they are they undeniably are only birds of passage.

"Then Mr Risley tells us that because they serve on the Port Trust, they will with equal readiness, if only the constitution is changed, serve on the Corporation. I would point out that the two institutions cannot be placed in the same field for the purposes of comparison. The Port Trust deals with the trade of the port. The members of the Board transacting the business of the Trust, are men connected with the trade of the port—imports, exports, shipping, traders, railways, manufacturers, together with whom, the representatives of the Government and the Municipality, give to the Board complete representation of all the interests concerned. The work is congenial to business men, and I suppose not one item out of 100 is not intelligible or interesting, and generally business in which one or the other of the firms to which the representatives belong, are in some way affected. Many of the members serve on the Board as part of the management of their own business concerns. Their interest, while on the Port Trust, centres round their own businesses, in which their capital is invested. The business done in the Port Trust meetings affects the business of the Port with which all are in touch.

The operations of the Port Trust influence the cost of the business of the Port, and they are concerned to watch their own interests. If economy is not practised, and close supervision, their own interests would suffer.

"It is true that fees are paid for attendance in the Port Trust. The members are business men, and if money is offered, they pocket it. But fees do not make the difference in their acceptance of office. The profits of their own businesses are involved in the operations of the Port Trust, and whether fees were paid or not, there would be competitors for office from among the same class who now send members. It is now proposed to give fees for attendance at Committee meetings in the municipality. Payment has never been made before. It was proposed in 1888, and the idea was very decisively rejected. I think that it is a needless expenditure, and ought not to be incurred as a new departure in the administration. If the payment will make a difference in inducing any person to join, I would regard him as not a desirable member in the Corporation, and I fear that the payment of fees will lead to mischievous results.

"There is the greatest difference in the work of the Municipality in contrast with that of the Port Trust. It is not of a congenial kind for the class who join the Port Trust, and not one item of business out of 50 will interest them. It deals in a large measure with conditions of life which is strange to them. The Municipality has to do with the every day lives of the people of this country, but they are not in touch with them, and least of all with the poorer classes for whom the present elected Commissioners, who are natives of the country, have done so much. They cannot show sympathy with classes of whose wants, requirements, and habits, they are wholly ignorant. In the Port Trust they look after not only their own interests, but also of those of the mercantile public in general, with whom they are closely in touch. And most important distinction of all, there will not be the same incentive to economise in the administration. Since they will not feel extravagant expenditure in the Municipality personally or in their business firms, it will be immaterial to them whether the rates are raised to 25 per cent, and we know that the limit of endurance by the poor is 19½ per cent. In the Port Trust they would be careful because the operations of that body affect their own businesses. All this will inevitably lead to the Europeans becoming apathetic and in order to save themselves trouble, gladly leaving the work, so much of which they do not understand, whether by their own inexperience in the administration, or their want of knowledge of the character of the questions that may be under discussion, to be taken up by those whose interest may be to make themselves busy and useful. I firmly believe that we shall not have the administration worked under the influence of the European element, for whom such great sacrifices are being made, but its threads will fall into the hands of a few, and perhaps of an interested few. The prospect of fees will make the impecunious eager to serve on the Committees, and particularly the General Committee, which will be, as now, the Finance Committee of the Corporation. And the very fact that they are impecunious will be a help to them, because the tender hearted, for the sake of making a little provision for one or other of their importunate friends, will support their candidature and vote for their election. And it by no means is impossible that influential contractors will make efforts to obtain admission of friends into the General Committee who, if successful in gaining admission, will represent the interest of the contractors in the Committee. My contention is strengthened by the Government of India, because I cannot be taken as vaguely protesting that these things are possible. The Government of India puts forward as one of the grounds for legislation that there is corruption among the Commissioners. Now when the Government solemnly make a statement of this nature, and base legislation upon it, we must take it that they have good grounds for it."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said — "I am sorry to interrupt the Hon'ble Member, but that is a matter which I must exclude from discussion to day."

The Hon'ble MR APCAR said — "I, of course, bow to the ruling, and I would only explain that the letter is mentioned in the motion before us and is under reference to the Select Committee I merely refer to what I rely upon in my argument "

- The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said — "I cannot allow that statement in the letter to be referred to "

The Hon'ble MR APCAR continued — "I bow to the ruling I will keep myself within the ruling, and I will not rely on the suggestion is one contained in the letter I avow it independently of the letter We must accept the possibility of such a condition of things I do not say that it is possible only in Calcutta The Manchester Police Scandal, and other scandals in various Town Councils and Municipalities in the United Kingdom show that we cannot expect Municipalities to be immaculate And the smaller the body we have, the more real is the danger that we must provide against And when we recall the defunct Metropolitan Board of Works of London, we cannot expect that all small bodies will be immaculate One of the serious defects in a small body is that there may be corrupt persons in it, and if that defect exists now, it will exist later on We have our defence now against any suspicion of wrong doing The 75 Commissioners have been referred to as so many masters of the Executive It shows an utter want of acquaintance with the subject for any suggestion of the kind to be made, for no Commissioner can give any order individually But they may truthfully be regarded as the eyes and ears of the rate payers If there is a rumour of a suspicious transaction which may have escaped the vigilance of the Committee, the Commissioners in the General Meeting come down on it like the leucocytes in the Republic of the Body, and with their silent sensible sanitary vote, and cure it

"The Bill, Sir, was explained to us, when it was introduced, as being on the model of the Bombay Act If we are asked to accept the view that we have, in this Bill, the Bombay constitution transplanted to Calcutta, I shall not express my opinion with sufficient emphasis if I say of the constitution proposed for Calcutta, Diablen't change en route The Bombay Act gives a virile, workable constitution This Bill, if it becomes law, will give a maimed thing, that will be found unworkable and pregnant with hardship and mischief However, Sir, the Government of India have set before themselves the laudable purpose of giving an administration that 'shall secure the adequate representation of the various great interests that have placed and still keep Calcutta in its present position in India and which shall be businesslike, efficient and free from scandal and reproach' If I may say so, our requirements cannot be better described, and the inhabitants of this city are indebted to the Government for a true appreciation of their responsibility in the matter of our municipal administration We must be clear in the first place as to the various great interests that should be represented, and in the next, we should recognise that adequate representation is not the presentation of so many places to make up a certain percentage with relation to the whole body of Commissioners There cannot, I take it, be any difference of opinion that, unless we secure a sufficient number of really representative men, who will fill places in the commercial interests, those places will become so many wasted places, and in consequence the very object for which they have been assigned to them would be defeated There can be no doubt that it will not answer any good purpose unless those returned are truly representative men, who will enter the Corporation to serve the public, and represent the interests which they have been sent there to represent, and for no other purpose Commercial interests, which are so intimately bound up with my own that I almost depend upon them, have placed Calcutta in its present forward state, and the undeniable admission before us that Calcutta is not only in the front rank of places in India, but also keeps her place, shows that these interests have hitherto not been prejudiced by any maladministration of the town Among the many allegations that have been thrown broadcast against the Corporation, I have found no specific one that it is suggested has, in fact, caused injury to the trading interests of this city I shall meet the allegations against the Commissioners that underlie the words I have quoted from the Government letter, and I am glad of the oppor tunity of showing that they cannot stand the test of examination, far less can they then be taken to have been hurtful to the trade of the port

"The Government of India lays stress on the necessity of the administration being businesslike. The urgent necessity of this quality no one has insisted upon with greater emphasis than I. It has been my constant cry as my Hon'ble friends Mr Baker and Mr Oldham will remember, that we were not businesslike, but it is through no fault of the Commissioners. I will give an example of what I refer to."

The Hon'ble Mr BAKER said — "I rise to order. There is no question at all in relation to the past administration of the present Corporation."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said — "The Council came to a conclusion on that point. The question whether the Corporation has or has not done its duty in the past is beyond the pale of the Council."

The Hon'ble Mr AICAR said — "I wish to point out that the Government of India have indicated that the administration is unbusinesslike, and I claimed to be entitled to show to what such charges are due."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT — "Proceed."

The Hon'ble Mr AICAR continued — "The Tramway Company had for more than five years complained of a nuisance, of the most offensive character, in a drain at their Kidderpore Depot. No attention was paid to them. The matter became so serious that it attracted the attention of the Government, and in December of 1896, Mr Risley, the Secretary of the Local Government in the Municipal Department, wrote to the Chairman of the Corporation to draw the attention of the Commissioners to it, and called upon them to abate the nuisance. Even a letter from the Government had not the effect desired. In December, 1897, the District Magistrate, on the report of his Sanitary authority, wrote to threaten proceedings in the Criminal Court. Then the Municipal Executive woke up. The Local Government authority in the person of the Commissioner of the Division, the Engineer, the Health Officer, and the Local Engineer of the Municipality met the Chairman at the spot. The Engineer to the Corporation proposed that the new pumping machinery required for the drainage scheme under construction should be telegraphed for and obtained from England without calling for tenders. The proposal of the subordinate in his department to utilise a portable engine then in the Municipal Stores, and make a short length of brick drain at a small cost, was preferred, and the Engineer was directed to submit estimates without delay. The Chairman again and again urgently called for the estimates that were ordered, and up to the time when he went away on leave, in March following, they had not been submitted. The new Chairman, shortly after entering upon office, at the close of a meeting of the General Committee, when only a few members, myself among the number, were left, without due notice, brought up the proposal that had been rejected, without a word of information that the permanent incumbent of his office had already given his decision in the matter, and without an inkling being given of the past history of the question, asked us to give the Engineer a free hand, to enable him to telegraph to England to purchase the pumping engine at the cost of Rs 60,000. This would have involved a large portion of the drainage under construction being taken over prematurely, which, in the existing circumstances which I do not wish to enter into here, would have been a very undesirable proceeding. The Chairman continued to press for the sanction until formal objection was taken on the ground of want of notice, when he withdrew his proposal, undertaking to bring it up again, with due notice, in the following week. Although he had represented the matter to be of the most urgent character, and although I personally reminded him of it on more than one occasion, the subject was never again brought up. Now, this is a matter about which the aggrieved persons would naturally speak of as being a gross neglect on the part of the Commissioners. When the Secretary to the Local Government wrote officially to draw the attention of the Commissioners to the nuisance, he naturally would be under the impression that the Commissioners had been made acquainted with his letter and had been neglectful. When the District Magistrate threatened prosecution, he would naturally think that it was the Commissioners who had been stirred into action by reason of his threat. The truth is that, from first to last, the Commissioners were kept wholly ignorant of the subject. I was led to enquire into the matter by quite a chance circumstance, and then the whole of the facts were elicited. It seems an incredible story, but I embodied the facts in a Note which was placed formally before the General Committee, when the Commissioners received intimation of the matter for the first time, and not a single statement of fact could be denied. In February last I went down to the spot and found it still a foul nuisance. Nothing had, up to that date been done, although, more than a year before, the Chairman had issued specific orders in the matter. Is it surprising that the Complaints Committee was instituted when we have proceedings such as these occurring? Now it is bad enough that the Engineer should have neglected to carry out the Chairman's orders. It is bad enough that immediately the permanent incumbent goes away on leave his locum tenens should endeavour to entirely reverse his orders, it is bad enough that a Chairman endeavours to get a sanction for such large expenditure in so irregular a manner, it is bad enough that even the complaint of the Local Government should be unheeded and that the Commissioners should be kept in absolute ignorance of it. But worst of all is what we suffer so much from, that the Engineer should disregard the Chairman and dare to act as he did in this matter, and that he should be allowed to do so with impunity. We are blamed for interfering with the Executive where is the interference here? We are blamed for hampering the Chairman with Committees and in other ways in what have we been in fault in this question? You may regard this as a solitary instance, I can give you others. We know how the public attention has been drawn to the Town Hall, and how much blame has been thrown upon the Commissioners. What are the facts?

The Hon'ble MR BAKER said — "The Hon'ble Member is making an attack on the Executive."

The Hon'ble MR AICAR said — "It has been ruled that I can do so. I have given one illustration, and I wish to show that it is by no means an isolated instance."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said — "We have had one illustration, and I think that is sufficient."

The Hon'ble MR AICAR said — "I wish it to be understood that I am prepared to give other instances. If it is accepted that the instance I have given is only one instance out of many, I have no desire to take the trouble of quoting others, or to occupy the time of the Council further. I am content to leave the point on that footing. With the rulings from the Chair in respect of the letter of the Government, I am embarrassed as to how I should proceed. I have no wish to contravene any order, and if I may ask it, I would enquire whether I may refer to an expression of Sir Henry Harrison that the Commissioners were lacking in driving or motive power, which has been quoted by the Government of India as an opinion which is relied upon by the Local Government to show the necessity of an influx of Europeans."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said — "Proceed."

The Hon'ble MR APCAR said — "I am glad of the opportunities of referring to this point now. The quotation is an isolated extract from a speech which, if read in its entirety, would be found not to bear out the view in support of which it is quoted. But it will suffice if I answer by showing that, as a matter of fact, Sir Henry Harrison in the very speech that is quoted from, opposed the proposal of making the proportions of the bodies of Commissioners equal, by reducing the number of elected Commissioners, and increasing that of the nominated Commissioners, and the debate on the two amendments being taken together, he also opposed the proposal to increase the number of elected Commissioners to three fourths, and decrease that of the nominated to one fourth. It is obvious, in such circumstances, that a carefully selected sentence might mislead. He supported in the same speech the proportion that then was existing, which was the view of the Government, and was carried, that is, to the proportion of two thirds elected to one third nominated which the Government now wish to change. If Sir Henry Harrison desired to have more nominated Commissioners, in other words the opportunity of having more Europeans in the Corporation, he would have supported the amendment for equal proportions which he declined to do. The whole mischief in the present proceedings is that they are being conducted by those who are ignorant of the past history of the questions that are raised. To me, it is very apparent that Sir Henry Harrison had the question of the road now named after him and called Harrison Road, in his mind. He had made the question his own and pressed it with great urgency. His opinion was that owing to the betterment clauses, the whole cost of the project would be covered. Some of the leading Hindu Commissioners were of opinion that his estimate was an impossible one. The net cost in the result proved to be nearly 28 lakhs. Now, when a project is recommended by its promoter as one the cost of which would be nil, and the cost is found to amount to comparatively such an enormous sum, it must be admitted that the opposition was not without reason. An isolated phrase used in 1888 is raked up as a ground for a change to day. Has there been any enquiry to show whether the idea, even if true in years past is true now, and even if the meaning of the words is that which is now attempted to be put upon it? If any enquiry were instituted, it would be found that the Commissioners have by no means been lacking in initiative. It would be shown whether we have seen any project from the Chairman since Sir Henry Harrison left us, and to take one instance only, how I have had to struggle for 6 years against the stolid opposition of a Chairman against me before sanction was gained for the construction of a road that eased the overcrowded traffic of Russa Road, gave a convenient approach to Kalighat and filled up 18 or 19 highly insanitary tanks, and I would also mention that with reference to roads which the Building Commission recommended to open out the congested quarters of the town, I carried a motion unanimously, asking the Government to commence action by taking steps to consider the alignments of the roads, the cost of them, and how the money for them should be obtained. A letter was written by the Corporation in May last year. Up to to day not even an acknowledgment of the letter has been received from the Government.

"Sir, in my opinion, the controversy hinges on the question whether the general body shall hold in their hands, for exercise directly or indirectly, the authority to control the general administration of the Municipality, acting openly, and with full responsibility. This is the system of municipal government that prevails in civilized countries, and was extended to Calcutta 36 years ago. Three and twenty years ago the elective system was introduced, after an open enquiry at which Counsel were heard, and in view of the mixed communities in Calcutta, among whom it was thought that the Hindus must be in a permanent majority at the polls, a constitution on the principle of election and of representation by nomination was established in the proportions of two thirds to one third, and this constitution was re-enacted on the progressive lines, in the Act of 1888, which it is the object of the present Bill to repeal. The proceedings of 1876 and those of 1888 were severally in charge of Sir Stuart Hogg and Sir Henry Harrison, who had respectively been the Chairmen of the Corporation for nine and eight years. In the interval before 1888 there had been a suggestion to alter the constitution, but the Government set their face against any such idea. Sir Henry Cunningham, who in 1884 led the agitation on sanitary questions that resulted in the Beverly Commission, of which we have heard so much during these proceedings, who had founded the Health Society which I have before mentioned, and had also led the agitation which resulted in the amalgamation of the suburbs with the town area, ventilated the idea of a Municipal Board of Control on the lines of the Port Trust, but on reconsideration he abandoned it. The reception that he met with at the hands of Sir Rivers Thompson, who was Lieutenant Governor at the time, was such that he even
